BOROUGH SCHOOL MEETING

Board of Education Discusses Outside Tuition Fees and Other Matters.

NEW TEACHER ENGAGED

Miss Annie Perry, of Saratoga Springs, Will Succeed Miss Hill In Grammar Department.

Anticipating the entrance of several pupils from the outlying districts near North Plainfield into the High School department of the borough schools, the question of the tuition for such pupils as provided for under the new State law was dealt with at some length at the meeting of the North Plainfield Board of Education last night. In accordance with a recent ruling of the State Board of Education regarding the tuition of out of town pupils, it has been decreed that the district committee may transfer pupils to a high school in the same county after certain examinations have been passed. The State board pays $25 a year for the tuition of such pupils under the new ruling. This is a reduction of the tuition charged at present for out of town pupils who attend the borough schools. After a discussion by the members of the board, it was decided to put the matter into the hands of the finance committee to decide upon. This committee consists of Nelson A. Miller, chairman, Allen B. Laing and Samuel Townsend, who have been empowered, upon motion of Dr. Cooley, to arrange the rates of tuition for the pupils transferred to the Somerset school from other districts.

In connection with a report of the teachers' committee, President Joy reported that Miss Ruth C. Hill, of the grammar department, had tendered her resignation in July. Miss Hill has been teacher in the Fifth grade for the past five years, and is leaving to fill a similar position elsewhere. Upon the recommendation of the committee a motion made by Dr. Cooley that Miss Annie C. Perry, of Saratoga Springs, N. Y., be appointed to fill the position, was passed. Miss Perry has been teaching for the past ten years at Corinth, N. Y. She is a graduate of the Plattsburg Normal School, having secured preparatory training at Lansingburg Academy.

On motion of Nelson A. Miller, of the finance committee, warrants for the payment of $5,167.88 in bills were ordered signed. He reported a balance of slightly more than $4,000 on hand and it was ordered that the Board of Education arrange for a note of $1,500 to be drawn for the payment of these bills. This will leave a balance of about $400 which is to be used for the payment of other bills which will come in next month.

As chairman of the committee on buildings and grounds, A. B. Laing reported that men from the New York firm which installed the clock in the school tower had been in town and had adjusted the clock so that it would cause no further trouble. The trouble has been that the motor which turned the hands was not powerful enough for its work. Mr. Laing also reported that the fire hose connected with building fire plugs was in an uncertain state of efficiency and that there was trouble with the pipes for the supply of water at the fire stations on account of the liability of freezing during the winter. He was ordered that examination be made and that the apparatus be put in repair. Such fire protection in the building is not, however, required by law.

Mr. Laing reported favorably upon the numerous minor repairs and the carpenter and mason work which has been done during the summer vacation. The concrete walk at the building has been completed and the contractors have nearly finished the work of painting the building and putting up the iron picket fence entirely around the grounds. He called attention to the fact that the arrangement of seats in the assembly room has been changed and that the size of the platform has been lessened. There was discussion about the installation of more seats in space left vacant by this improvement.

The meeting, which was adjourned from Monday evening, when there was no quorum present, adjourned after a session of about half an hour. Those present were James R. Joy, Nelson A. Miller, Dr. Justus H. Cooley, A. B. Laing and H. A. Woodruff.

For Library Users.

The reading room of the Public Library will be open on Labor Day from 2 until 6 p. m. This being a legal holiday there will be no book circulation.

—Neuman Brothers, the Watchung avenue grocers, will have their store closed all days Monday, Labor Day. Store open this evening with a line of special prices on fruits and vegetables until 10 o'clock.

PHIL SMITH CONSIDERING.

Withholds His Signature to Giants' Contract Until Spring.

Phil Smith says he hasn't formally signed a contract with the Giants. He has the paper, which Secretary Knowles, of the New York Club, sent him with a persuasive note, but he has withheld his signature for a careful consideration of the step and what it means.

Phil says he will take no action in regard to joining the Giants until spring. It is known that his parents are not enthusiastic over the idea of his going into big league company, and as far south as the training camp. They feel that Phil is too young to go into professional baseball.

Today he will pitch for the Garwood team in a game with New Brunswick.

CROWD WAS "TIGHT."

As a Result Ben LaVere Lost On Last Night's Concert.

It was another case of "I'd Rather Be On the Outside A-Lookin' In Than On the Inside A-Lookin' Out" at the weekly band concert by La Vere's band at Concert Park last night. There was a good crowd in the grounds, but scarcely more than 200 people on the grandstand. The collection from the outsiders amounted to $3.50, an average of about ten for a cent; but the music must have been appreciated at that price.

The soloists made the hit of the evening. Ernest R. Ball and Dave Reed, authors and composers of "Will You Love Me In December As You Do In May?" and "Love Me and the World Is Mine," sang these songs. Mr. La Vere announced this morning that he had lost $25 by the concert last evening, thus running further in the hole on the season's concerts. Local Italians, through Salve Velard have come to LaVere with an offer to put on fireworks during the remaining concerts of the season to help out the financial difficulty. Ben has accepted their offer and thinks that it may help some.

To Review Season's Work.

A brief summary of the season's work will be given by members of the various committees at the closing service at the Netherwood Fresh Air Home to be held tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock. George E. Hall, of the devotional committee, will be in charge of the meeting and Miss Sara Curry, matron of the home, is to give a talk on what the home has accomplished. There will be several solos by Mrs. William H. Sebring, of Brooklyn, and chorus singing of gospel hymns by the children at the home.

Annual Church Picnic a Success.

The annual picnic of the German Lutheran church, of Grove street, was held at Johnston's Drive, at the end of the Somerset street trolley, Thursday from 9 o'clock in the morning until 8 o'clock at night. There was a large attendance of members and friends of the church and all enjoyed the good time provided by those in charge. There was an abundance of refreshments and an informal programme helped to pass the time pleasantly. The net proceeds from the picnic will be about $75.

Opening of Warehouse Delayed.

The handsome storage warehouse of the Mono Investment Company, in course of construction in the East End, will not be opened today for business as expected. There has been a delay in getting iron and in the completion of the elevator and it will probably be another month before the structure is completed. The work is being rushed with all possible speed and the company is doing its best to get ready for business.

Petit Jurors Drawn.

Sheriff Cooper has drawn the following North Plainfielders to serve on the petit jury during the fall term of court: Frederick C. Gibbs, Silas Winans, Alex. Stites, William J. Ricket, James R. Blair, Charles Meyers, William L. Smalley, Jr., George H. Melick, Melvin H. Cleaves and Amos E. Giddis. Those from Warren township are William Miller, Edward H. Cooper, Henry L. Kline, George S. Adams.

Special Sermon for Laboring Men.

Rev. L. R. Howard, pastor of Hope chapel, has returned from his vacation and will occupy his pulpit tomorrow. In the evening he will preach a special sermon to laboring men and all such are given a cordial invitation to attend the service.

John DeMeza Resigns His Position.

John DeMeza, who has been chief clerk to Manager C. W. Runyon, of the New York and New Jersey Telephone Company at the local office, has resigned his position on account of poor health. He has no definite plans for the future.

—This is the height of the peach season and the fruit is perfect and of fine flavor. Neuman Brothers will have a consignment of 250 baskets of white and yellow peaches on sale Tuesday morning. Especially choice fruit for canning.

WILL USE OLD SPELLING

Superintendent Krebs, of Borough Schools, Does Not Favor Carnegie Method.

UNFAIR TO THE PUPILS

Might Serve to Hamper Them in Securing Employment With Men Holding to Prevailing Style.

The Roosevelt-Carnegie system of spelling will not be introduced in the borough schools when they open a week from Tuesday, according to the announcement made by Superintendent James R. Joy and Principal Henry C. Krebs, of the Somerset school last evening. In speaking to a Daily Press reporter about the matter Mr. Krebs said:

"We will not introduce the list of 300 words in the new spelling in our English department this year. There are about twelve of the words which we have been using according to the new spelling in the school and of course these will be kept up. These include such words as "thru," "tho," "program," "catalog," "honor," "parlor" and others of similar character, including some words where the oe and ae dipthong have been changed to a single letter.

"Though this reform may in time gain such ground that we will be obliged to teach it in the schools, we will not hurry to push the reformed spelling until it becomes more universal. I feel that we cannot at this time discard the spelling of St. James Bible and Webster's dictionary in the school here, for it would be in a way unfair to the pupils. In securing positions after graduation, they might get employment with an 'old school' man, who would be against the Roosevelt-Carnegie system and 'the way I was taught in the High School' wouldn't go at all with him.

"I think that the new spelling will gain ground slowly, and when one considers the fact that it took several generations for the King James spelling to come into universal use, it is evident that these new reforms, though of course by no means of such predominance in the language, will come in slowly. The changes in the spelling which we have been permitting in the school work here during the past year are such as have gradually crept into the language and which are recognized by the leading dictionaries and cyclopedias of the times as good English."

Superintendent Maxson, of the city schools, and Principal Travell, of the Plainfield High School, are both out of town, and it is not known how they view the spelling reform. It is probable their course will be shaped the same as Superintendent H. C. Krebs.

"Foxy Grandpa" at Netherwood.

A stereopticon entertainment, including a series of "Foxy Grandpa" pictures, was given at the Netherwood Fresh Air Home last evening by George E. Hall. This was the last entertainment at the camp for the summer, for the children return to their homes in New York city next week. Last night's entertainment was very much enjoyed, for the views were all first class. After the views had been shown, candy was distributed by Mr. Hall to the mothers and children at the Home.

New Rules for R. F. D.

According to a new ruling by the postal authorities in the future carriers on free delivery routes will not be permitted to carry as express matter for hire or favor any article or package that weighs four pounds or under. The postal laws require that they can only carry them when the required postage has been affixed.

Juliet D. Man.

Mrs. Juliet D. Man, widow of the late Walter Man, died yesterday at her home in Scotch Plains. She was the daughter of Richard B. and the late Eliza D. Duyckinck, formerly of Brooklyn. The funeral will be from her home in Scotch Plains Monday morning at 11:30, and the interment will be in Greenwood cemetery.

Hugh F. Fox a Delegate.

Hugh F. Fox, of this city, president of the State Charities Aid Association, is among the New Jersey delegates appointed by Governor Stokes to attend the National Prison Association conference to be held at Albany, N. Y., from September 15 to 20. The delegation from New Jersey will be a large one.

Knights Templar Field Day.

Daily Press readers are again reminded that Thursday, September 5, is the day set for Trinity Commandery's excursion to Asbury Park. Tickets may be procured of F. W. Butler and W. A. Pinto, of this city, or N. Y. Dungan, Somerville. Ryer's Band, of Jersey City, will accompany the excursion.

FULL PROGRAMME OF LABOR DAY ATTRACTIONS

LOTS TO ENTERTAIN PLAINFIELDERS ON THE COMING HOLIDAY.

There will a full programme of attractions for Labor Day to interest everybody and Plainfielders will have the opportunity of spending the day in any way to suit themselves, whether they want to engage in outdoor sports, on an excursion or at the theatre.

Sports will probably interest the greatest number in this city. There will be plenty of golf at the Plainfield Country Club and the Park Golf Club, where special events have been scheduled for all day. In the morning there will be a baseball game on Crescent Oval between the Clinton Avenue and the Raritans, of Raritan, not Perth Amboy. In the afternoon the Clinton Avenue will play the Laurel A. C. at Bound Brook.

In addition to the events on the course at the Plainfield Country Club, there will be music in the afternoon from 4 to 6 at the clubhouse and dancing in the evening from 8 to 11:30. Members wishing dinners served that day must notify the steward not later than today. There will be the usual dinner-dance at the clubhouse tonight and the following Saturday nights during September.

For those who wish to spend the day out of town the Plainfield Grocers Association will run its annual excursion to Coney Island. A special train will take the excursionists to Jersey City, where one of the iron steamboats will take them to the island. The committee in charge has completed details for an enjoyable day.

One of the strong attractions for the afternoon and evening will be the performance of "The Rollicking Girl," at the New Plainfield theatre. There will be the usual holiday matinee and the evening performance. This will be one of the best attractions of the season.

The Saengerbunds, of North Plainfield, will hold their annual "King Shoot," which will attract many people, and the Independent Gun Club has arranged to hold a shoot on its grounds on East Second street.

In addition to the city attractions there will be baseball games at Scotch Plains, where the Berkeley Heights team will meet the 'Plains aggregation. There is bitter rivalry between these clubs and the contest is sure to be a lively one.

Celebrated Cotton Wedding.

Mr. and Mrs. William G. Tunison, of 403 East Fifth street, celebrated their first wedding anniversary on Thursday evening, when they entertained about thirty relatives and friends. The first anniversary being a cotton one, the home was attractively decorated with cotton and pink carnations. The evening was spent in a pleasant social way, and Mr. and Mrs. Tunison were the recipient of congratulations from all. They received a number of useful and handsome gifts. Mrs. Tunison was formerly Miss Mabel Leek, and is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Leek, of East Fifth street.

Negro Dandy Gets 60 Days.

Louis Rogers, a dandified, eighteen-year-old negro, was sentenced to sixty days in the county jail by Judge Runyon this morning, for disorderly conduct. Rogers is sissified, as well as dandified, and he wept as the magistrate pronounced sentence. The magistrate added to his woe by telling him that he would be rearrested and sent back if he returned to the city after leaving Elizabeth.

Telegrapher Becomes Reporter.

John Gaffney has given up the key for the pencil. That is John, who has been telegraph operator all his grown-up days, has resigned from the Central Railroad's service to become a reporter on the Courier-News. Gaffney lives in Somerville but he knows Plainfield as well as a native and is as well known here as in his own town. He will start in his new role Tuesday.

Physical Department Opening.

The Physical Department of the Y. M. C. A. will be reopened, renovated, repainted and restocked with several new pieces of apparatus on Tuesday. It was thought the department might be in shape for reopening today, but the work has not progressed sufficiently. The formal opening of the department will take place later in the month.

Day Nursery to Open This Month.

The King's Daughters' Day Nursery in West Third street will be reopened early this month, after being closed during August to give the matron, Mrs. Bird, a needed rest. The baby camp on the mountain will remain open as long as the weather remains favorable.

Big Chief Is Bigger.

Chief Kiely returned from a two weeks' stay at Atlantic City this morning. The head sleuth was bronzed and smiling and confessed to ten more pounds.

CRACKSMEN AT LINCOLN

NOISE DROVE THEM OFF

Robbers Exchanged Shots With Groceryman Bernstein—Escaped to Mountains in the Excitement.

Another attempt was made to rob the Lincoln postoffice early this morning, when two men broke into the building and dynamited the safe. The use of the explosive was unsuccessful, however, for the heavy door was not broken. The noise caused the burglars to fear interruption and take to flight, without making another attempt. As far as is known, they got nothing.

M. S. Bernstein, who keeps a grocery store across the street from the post office, was aroused at 1 o'clock this morning by the sound of a heavy report. He ran to a front window just in time to see two men come out of the building. He fired on them with his revolver and they returned the shots, hitting the house and shattering a window pane. Eleven shots were fired in all, Bernstein emptying the five chambers of his revolver and the burglars firing six shots. From the way the men ran after the shooting, it is evident that no one was hit.

Bernstein telephoned to Postmaster Silas D. Drake at Beechwood Heights and the two men, with other Lincolnites who had been aroused by the shooting, made an examination of the building. The investigation showed that an attempt had been made to break open the safe with dynamite, but the robbers had been unsuccessful, for the door did not open. The men had made an entrance to the office through a side window. The dynamite had been used in a large charge, and the explosion had been muffled by the use of feed bags with which the safe had been covered. While but little injury was done to the safe, the office was badly damaged by the dynamite, which tore a large hole in the ceiling. In the safe was about $800 in money and stamps.

In the excitement of the shooting no one pursued the robbers, who ran toward the mountain. Postmaster Drake immediately notified the police at Plainfield, Dunellen and Bound Brook of the robbery, and this morning a man was arrested in Dunellen on suspicion. Constable Robert L. Pierce got him, but he gave a connected account of himself and his actions during the night and there was no evidence on which to hold him. He was let go shortly after his arrest.

On July 13, of last year, burglars broke into the postoffice at Lincoln and secured about $300 in stamps and money, with papers from Postmaster Drake's office. The building was badly damaged at that time.

A general description of the men was furnished by the Lincoln police. The pair were recognized by Bernstein as the men who had come into the village early in the evening. They posed as real estate investors. One was short and stocky built, about five feet eight inches in height, with a heavy black mustache. He wore dark clothes and a black derby. The other man was taller, and wore dark clothes and a flat straw hat. They both carried satchels. The shorter one talked like a Canadian.

Patrolman Messler reported at headquarters at 3:20 o'clock that two men rode through here on a freight going East. Desk Officer McCarthy discovered that the train was No. 70, which went through Lincoln at 3:14. McCarthy wired to Elizabeth, but the police there reported back, after the train had been stopped and searched, that no one but the crew could be found on it.

NEW JERSEY FOURTH.

Captain Semon Wins the Wimbleton Trophy.

New Jersey got fourth honors with Captain H. M. Bells, 45, in the shoot for the Wimbleton trophy at Sea Girt, yesterday. Massachusetts and Ohio divided the honors, the Sixth Massachusetts capturing the regiment team match and Captain Semon, of Ohio, won the Wimbleton cup, presented by the National Rifle Association of Great Britain.

In the regimental team match the Bay State team scored 772, while the Second Ohio got 738 and the First Marine 732, and the 71st New York 730. The match brought out a field of 40 teams of six men each. The New Jersey regiments scored as follows: Fourth, 710; Second, 704; Fifth, 657.

Mr. and Mrs. William E. MacClymont and children, of Grove street, have returned from their vacation spent at Norristown, Pa. Mr. MacClymont made the trip in an automobile.

FOURTH WARD MEETING.

Municipal Candidates to Be Discussed by Colbyites Next Thursday.

A rally meeting at which candidates for municipal offices will be discussed, is to be held by the Fourth Ward Colbyites, at Reform Hall, next Thursday night. Judge Runyon, the Assembly candidate, will be present and other eloquent advocates of the New Idea will speak.

The meeting is expected to be a large one. The evenings are becoming cooler every day, and with the lassitude of hot weather removed, the ward leaders believe the friends of reform will come out in force to cheer them on.

VOLUNTEERS TO PARADE.

Local Organization Will Have a Celebration Labor Day.

A feature of the Labor Day "doings" in this city will be the big celebration and parade of the local Irish Volunteers. There will be nearly a hundred Plainfield men in line, and visiting delegations from New York and various cities in this part of the State.

The line of march will include the principal streets of the city and borough and the parade will start from Saengerbund Hall, where the volunteers will have their headquarters for the day, early in the afternoon. Music will be furnished by the Plainfield band, which has been secured for the occasion. In the evening, the members of the local association will entertain the visiting delegations at Sangerbund Hall, where there will be a reception and dance.

Steel and Concrete Shop.

The actual work of erecting the new building of the Ransome Concrete Machinery Co. at Rock avenue and South Second street was begun Thursday. The plant will be for the manufacture of concrete mixing machinery. The main building of the factory is 105 feet long and 54 feet feep in depth. It is constructed of concrete, on steel frame girders and beams. A big crane will travel the entire length of the building on tracks set in the walls. Departments in the shop will include a room for the rough stores, a machine shop, sheet iron shop, room for finished stores, assembling shop and shipping rooms, on the Rock avenue end. About 150 feet of the building are within the city limits, but the construction is under the supervision and approval of Building Inspector T. O. Doane.

Careless Blasting at Quarry.

Residents on upper Somerset street at Smalley's stone crusher are complaining about the carelessness in management of the blasting there. On Wednesday rocks and stones were hurled for a considerable distance by a heavy blast at the quarry. One jagged piece struck a horse which was passing at the time and several hit Hermann's mill, breaking holes in the roof. A good sized stone crashed through the window of James Sutton's house on Somerset street. It was the window where Mrs. Sutton generally sits at her sewing machine, and it struck the chair where she had been sitting but a short time before.

Drunk Was Born at Cold Water.

Isabel Weeks, 49 years old, a domestic with no particular abiding place, was arrested at the trolley station last night by Patrolman McDonald, with a jag and a half-filled bottle of whiskey in her possession. Isabel told Officer McCarthy that she was born in Cold Water, Mich., and insisted that she was not joking. Isabel had a faded hydrangia in her hand when arrested, and she clung to it all night. She still held fast to the flower when she faced Judge Runyon this morning, and it blended with the chic effect of her straggling hair and slanted bonnet. The judge preached a short sermon and suspended sentence.

Superintendent Krebs Returns.

Superintendent Henry C. Krebs, of the borough schools, returned yesterday after a summer sojourn in the south and in Pennsylvania. For a time he attended summer school at the University of Tennessee, at Knoxville, where he took courses in pedagogy and a Shakespeare reading course. For the past few weeks he has been at his home near Shenandoah, Pa.

Will Grant Naturalization Papers.

Judge Edward S. Atwater, of the Court of Common Pleas, has announced that commencing on Monday, September 10, and continuing every morning for that week, he will sit to grant naturalization papers to those who have already made application for them to County Clerk James C. Calvert.

Caught Western Bad Man.

John Cecil Oswin, alias John Oswald, an escaped convict and horse thief from Montana, was captured at Chatham this morning by County Detective Gallatian. He was known to be in this section and the police all about here were on the look-out for him. He broke out of Deer Lodge penitentiary.

PRISONER ENDS SILENCE

Hold-Up Man Acknowledges He Is An Ex-Convict.

HIS NAME IS MONAHAN

Romantically Inclined Store Girls Make a Hero of Him—Gifts of Fruit and a Clean Shirt.

Chief of Police Kiely returned from his vacation this morning, and he turned the stored-up energy accumulated in two weeks at Atlantic City into an examination of Joseph Collins, the hold-up man. The prisoner's reticent and evasions broke down before the onslaught, and he told enough about himself to remove the doubt as to his status in the criminal world and the name he ought to go by.

He acknowledged, to begin with, that he was an ex-convict. Having relieved his mind of that important bit of information, he confessed that his name was not Collins, but Monahan—Thomas Francis Monahan. He was arrested four years ago for obtaining money under false pretenses in Jersey City, he said, and served three years in State prison for the crime.

According to the formal statement Monohan finally made, he belongs in Jersey City, where several brothers and sisters now live. His parents are dead. He was arrested there while in the employ of the Pennsylvania Railroad, for demanding money from a woman who was supposed to have been stealing coal from the road. She exposed him, and arrest, conviction and imprisonment followed. He left prison last March, and had been hoboing from that time until he fell into the hands of Patrolman Dobson after the hold-up at Leland avenue.

Until Chief Kiely got at him, Monohan refused to make any statement regarding himself. He kept asking for immediate commitment to the county jail, and said he was willing to take his chances as his case stood. Chief Kiely was apprised of Monohan's arrest the day after the hold-up and he and his men made inquiries and observations that gave him something to work on when the actual examination of the prisoner took place this morning, and the young man decided that he wouldn't help his case any by maintaining his stubborn silence.

Monahan's statement brought an end to the necessity for daily remandments. He will be sent to the county jail to await action by the Grand Jury today.

Of late Monahan has ceased to long for a hurry-up transfer to the county jail. He has discovered that a bold, bad man in a cell has something coming to him that hardworking citizens on the outside of the calaboose can't enjoy, if romantic girls take an interest in him.

The girls in a store near the city jail, have been won by the glamor that surrounds a pinched outlaw, and they are lavishing care and solicitude upon the unfortunate young man who was caught with the goods on.

The girls became interested in Monahan when they first saw him led into the jail through the alley just above Headquarters the day Patrolman Dobson—hateful creature—made the Terror of Netherwood stop eating a handout on the New Providence road and come and be arrested. For days they discussed the dark-haired prisoner languishing in his dungeon, breaking his heart over the wild, free days on the plains about the Central Railroad and the Bowery, cut short so crushingly by a prosaic, humdrum cop with a Colt .38. They felt that something must be done to cheer the captive up, and Tuesday morning they plucked up courage to send him fruit and a maidenly message of hope.

Next morning he asked permission to leave his cell and wash himself. He was painstaking in his toilet, and Acting-Chief Frederickson, who is remarkably unsuspicious for a sleuth, looked approvingly on Monahan ablutions, and credited him with the virtues of the innately clean. It wasn't until a committee of the girls tripped into Police Headquarters that noon with more frilled eatables that the Acting-Chief awoke to the raison d'etre for Monahan's sudden interest in soap and water and hair brushes. Every day since has witnessed a careful morning grooming by the captive and messages of cheer and sufferings of substantials from the sympathetic maidens. Yesterday Monahan received a big bouquet. This morning the girls gave their gifts a practical and womanly turn. They delicately provided the languishing, but slicked-up captive, with a clean shirt. All of them had a share in purchasing it, and never was any shirt wrapped up more tenderly, or with more romance tied with the string.

Monahan says he doesn't care now how often the court remands him.

NEWS IN THE SUBURBS.

DUNELLEN AND VICINITY

Labor Day will be celebrated as a general holiday through town Monday. The stores will all be closed and the postoffice will be open only at the hours for legal holidays and Sundays. Aside from baseball, the principal feature of the day will be the presentation of an American flag to the Whittier School by the William G. Holton Council, Jr. O. U. A. M., in the afternoon. Harry C. Runyon, of Plainfield, will speak on this occasion and there will be a delegation from the Plainfield Juniors present at the ceremony. About a score of school children will take part in the exercises, which will be at the school building, and are to meet there at 2 o'clock. The members of William G. Holton Council, and the visiting Juniors will march to the school in a body, meeting at Apgar's Hall at 2:30. In connection with the presentation exercises will be the reading of the superintendent's report. The programme will include the singing of songs by the school children.

The Dunellen nine went to High Bridge this afternoon to play the High Bridge nine in a game arranged on Wednesday . About a dozen local rooters accompanied the team. Captain Fletcher announced this afternoon that the boys will bat as follows in today's game: Will Giles, ss; Fletcher, 2b; Piddington, 1b; Nelson, 3b; H. Giles, c; Peacock, lf; Brakeley, cf; Lake, rf; Randolph, p. Manager Bob Gardner has arranged for a game to be played with the Somerset A. C. at Dunellen Labor Day morning and is trying to close a date with the ex-Clinton Avenue nine for the afternoon, when he wants them to come to Dunellen.

New members will be received at the Presbyterian church in connection with the celebration of the Holy Communion to be held there tomorrow at the morning service. Rev. W. W. Casselberry, pastor of the church, has returned from a sojourn at Northfield, Conn., and Dover, will be in charge of the day's services. Holy Communion will also be celebrated at the Methodist church, where the pastor, Rev. E. C. Dutcher, will be in charge of the morning service. At this time also, new members will be admitted to the church.

Several new faces will appear among the teaching staff of the borough schools when juvenile education again recommences on Tuesday. Miss Daisy M. Brouard, a graduate of the Plainfield High School in the class of 1901, will teach the fourth grade, in place of Miss King; Miss Aimee Minturn, of Warwick, N. Y., will be in charge of the second grade, in place of Miss Dodd, and Miss Ethel C. Rogers, of New Market, has been appointed as assistant in the first grade

R. M. Fraunfelter, the new principal at the New Market school, will assume his duties Tuesday morning, and Miss Hannah Hall, of Wrightstown, Pa., will be a new teacher at the school, taking the place of Miss Haelig. At the Union School, Miss Eva Woodhull, of Patchogue, L. I., will teach in place of Mr. Wilson and at South Plainfield, Miss Ethel Rogers' place will be taken by Miss Clara B. Steele, of Tioga, Pa.

Miss Mary Griscom, of New Market, has returned home after a two weeks' sojourn at Atlantic City.

PLAINS AND FANWOOD

Monday being Labor Day, the residents in general will take a holiday. The only local attractions for the day are the two ball games. A number have arranged to spend the two days out of town, while a number will attend the grocers' excursion to Coney Island if the weather is pleasant.

The local ball team has two games scheduled for Monday. In the morning at 10:30 the Berkeley Heights team will be the visitors. In the afternoon at 3:30 the strong Bellevilles, of Newark, play. If the weather is pleasant both games will be well attended.

Rev. J. A. Cubberley, of Plainfield, will occupy the pulpit tomorrow at the Baptist church. Services will be held at the usual hour: Morning preaching, 10:45; monthly communion will be held at the close of the sermon; B. Y. P. U. meeting, 7:15 p. m.

The cutting down of the high weeds on Park avenue, from the Meadow Brook bridge to the borough line, has made a decided improvement on that avenue.

Rev. A. H. Cook, who has been attending the camp meeting services at Ocean Grove, has returned, and will occupy his pulpit as usual tomorrow at the Methodist church.

Mrs. Simon Schlesinger and children, who have been spending two weeks with Miss Susie L. Parse, have returned to their home in New York.

Only the regular routine township business was transacted at the meeting of the Township Committee held last night in the town rooms.

James Fitzgerald and Richard Peniston have been appointed as the Democratic representatives on the election board.

Miss Isabella Hyams, who has been visiting friends in town, has returned to her home in New York.

The local ball team has a good game on this afternoon, the visitors being the Bloomfield A. C. team.

Mr. and Mrs. H. C. VanEmburgh and daughter, of East Second street, have returned from their summer outing at Culver's Lake, Sussex county.

PERSONAL.

Frank Eick, of East Third street, has returned from a visit with relatives at Princeton.

Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Laing, of North Plainfield, who have been sojourning in Maine, have returned.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles King, of Watchung avenue, have returned from their summer outing.

Miss Stella Good, of North Branch, has been entertaining her cousin, Miss Florence King, of this city.

H. O. Newman, of West Fifth street, who has been spending his vacation in Maine, returned home yesterday.

Miss Margaret Yeager, of Webster place, who has been spending her vacation at Mt. Pocono, Pa., has returned home.

Mrs. Randolph Marsh, Jr., and daughter, Edith, of John street, are visiting relatives at Sunnyside, Hunterdon county.

Mrs. Helena B. Updyke and George S. Whitlock, of West Front street, have been visiting the Misses Whitlock, of Rocky Hill.

Miss Ethel Bonner, who has been visiting Miss Alice Higgins, of West Front street, has returned to her home in Hartford, Conn.

Miss Jennie Saunders, and her cousin, Miss Pickney, of Philadelphia, are visiting former Mayor W. L. Saunders, of North Plainfield.

Mr. A. V. Lunger, of Watchung avenue, has returned home after spending a pleasant week with relatives at Sunnyside, Hunterdon county.

Rev. Asa R. Dilts, formerly pastor of the Park Avenue Baptist church, but now of Massachusetts, has been visiting friends in this city and Somerville.

Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Runkle are expected home early this month from their summer outing at Lake Champlain, when they will occupy their newly-purchased home in Netherwood.

AUTOS GO UP IN SMOKE.

Four Horses Rescued from Garage at Risk of Saver's Life.

Frank P. Freeman's garage, on Irving street, Rahway, was destroyed by fire Thursday. Two big cars belonging to the East Jersey Transportation Company were destroyed. Freeman also lost a runabout machine of his own. The loss on the two big machines is estimated at $5,000. They are insured for $3,000. The loss on the building and other contents will reach about $2,000 more.

The origin of the fire is uncertain, but it is said an electric bulb burst and a spark flew into a gasoline tank. George Harvey, manager of the auto company, was badly burned in trying to get the cars out of the building.

John Ropkie rescued four horses from the building at the risk of his life. His clothing was kept saturated with water while he took them out.

ATTENDANT NEARLY KILLED BY A MADMAN.

Man Would Have Been Strangled But for Timely Arrival of Assistance.

Summit, Sept. 1.—An insane man from Dr. Elliot W. Gorton's sanitarium, whose name has been withheld, but who is supposed to be the son of a wealthy Steel Trust director, caused considerable excitement here yesterday by making his escape from his keepers, and then attempting to strangle to death one of them, who traced him to the lawn of public school No. 1. The keeper's life was saved by John Duffy, a young man employed by James Martin a liveryman.

Martin and Duffy were working in the stable near the public school, when they were attracted by the screams of some children outside. They ran out to see what the trouble was, and one of the children cried out:

"A crazy man is trying to kill his keeper! He's choking him! See! Help him, quick, before he kills him!" And the child's fears were not unfounded. The insane man was trying to kill his keeper. He had him down and was strangling him.

The keeper's face was blue, and he could do nothing but look into the distorted face of the lunatic and grasp for breath. Duffy says that the insane man's face was the most awful and fiendish sight he had ever seen. Duffy did not devote much time to watching the men, however, but pounced on the insane man's back and secured the "full Nelson" hold. With this grip he held the man until the keeper again recovered his breath.

It took the two of them fully twenty minutes to conquer the maniac and induce him to start toward the asylum. They had several more struggles on the way. This is the third time the young man, who is possessed with a mania to kill every one he meets, has escaped, and the city is in dread of him. He is a well built fellow, about six feet one in height, and is dressed in the height of fashion.

WILL TRY TO COLLECT FOR RIGHTS GIVEN BY RECORD.

Riparian Commission Requests Attorney General to Begin Suits Against Grantees.

Trenton, Sept. 1.—The Riparian Commission, which met yesterday with Gov. Stokes, took the first step toward compelling the payment of riparian rights by persons holding free grants under the misinterpretation of the law by George L. Record. The board passed a resolution requesting Attorney General McCarter to commence proceedings against all persons or corporations holding such rights.

This action is the result of the evidence brought out at the meetings of the committee investigating the actions of the board. It was testified that while Mr. Record was counsel for the board he held that abutting upland had a legislative grant covering the lands under water. The validity of that legislative grant is now denied.

It is expected that the Attorney General, proceeding under the suggestion of the Riparian Board, will recover for the State $27,000.

"BLACK HAND" LETTERS SENT TO RICH ITALIANS.

Two Raritan Residents Receive Epistles Containing Threats of Punishment.

Somerville, Sept. 1. — "Black Hand" letters sent through the mails from New York have terrorized a number of wealthy Italian residents of Raritan. John Cagnassato, who was recently elected a town councilman of Raritan and a director of the People's Building and Loan Association of Somerville, has received one of the "Black Hand" letters. Cagnassato recently sold his hotel for $8,000 and still owns several houses in Raritan. The letter, which purports to come from the leader of the New York branch of the "Black Hand Society," informs Cagnassato that the "Black Hand" is aware that he is a rich man who will not miss $500, which the society needs badly.

Cagnassato is then instructed to leave the Somerville railroad station at 7 o'clock on the morning of September 17 and to walk along the railroad track in the direction of Bound Brook until he meets a man who will relieve him of the $500. Cagnassato is told to carry a white handkerchief protruding from his coat pocket as a means of identification. He is warned that his houses will be burned if he fails to comply with the demand and that to divulge the contents of the letter to the authorities means death.

Cagnassato is defiant and says he will assist the authorities in running down the "Black Hand." Antoni Langordo, the proprietor of a bakery and a wealthy resident of Raritan, has also received a letter demanding money. The letter is of such a threatening nature that Langordo is greatly frightened and will not divulge its contents for fear that he will be visited with the vengeance of the "Black Hand." He has applied to the authorities today for protection.

Leslie Backer and Miss Mildred Stiles, of East Sixth street, have been visiting G. H. Dailey, of Whitehouse.

Miss Stephanie Krom, of this city, who has been spending the summer near Bound Brook, has returned home.

LOCAL AMUSEMENTS

One of the striking scenes in "York State Folks" which comes to the New Plainfield theatre this afternoon and evening, is laid in the wood-working shop of a wagon factory. This setting shows the black-

his famous character of "Schmaltz" the wigmaker. Mr. Bernard is one of those irrestible fun-makers that never fail to keep an audience in good humor and laughter, and as the German wigmaker in "The Rollicking Girl" he is afforded so much opportunity, that a wooden Indian would almost have to change his features at some of his antics, sayings and doings. There are three hours of solid fun, music and song in this bright and effervescent musical oddity which accounts for its phenomenal run of two hundred and fifty nights at the Herald Square theatre, New York city, last season. Outside of Mr. Bernard and the supporting cast, the beauty chorus, vivacious dancers, handsome stage settings and accessories, including the galaxy of popular song hits, are features that are seldom combined to such an extent and so well handled in a musical comedy. "The Rollicking Girl" and her supporting small army of seventy odd fun-makers will visit us at the New Plainfield theatre Labor Day.

There will certainly be a long line of ticket buyers at the box office of the New Plainfield theatre until Wednesday, on which date Henry B. Harris will present the now famous comedy drama, "The Lion and the Mouse." Perhaps not in the past ten years and certainly in the last five has there been any play which scored the extraordinary success with which the Charles Klein piece has met. Since the premiere of the play which took place the first of last October, 1905, audiences at the Lyceum theatre in New York have almost lost control of themselves in enthusiasm over the great third act scene. Not only has the play been running in New York to capacity business for several months but a second company was organized by Mr. Harris some months ago, and after a short Western tour it went into Chicago and has been running there ever since at the Illinois theatre and despite the fact of this long run which is an unprecedented one in a Western city, Mr. Harris is presenting this play to the fire limits of the theatre. The announcement of this dramatic production here is causing widespread interest and will likely prove the dramatic as well as social event of the season.

The Ritchie London Comedy Company, these formidable performers from across the sea who demonstrated that there is something new under the sun even in vaudeville when they introduced that great travesty,

A Picturesque and Reasonable Outing.

The most picturesque town in America is only a hundred and twenty miles from New York. Mauch Chunk, in a narrow pass between the Lehigh River and the overhanging mountains, rises on the slopes like a quaint Swiss village. Historically the locality is known in connection with the discovery of anthracite coal. This discovery led to the construction of a bit of railroad which is the oldest in the country. Originally the track was laid to convey coal to the river, but now it is maintained solely for recreation purposes. The cars are first hauled up a high hill, and from that point they travel by their own gravity around a circuit of nearly eighteen miles. As one ascends the steep slope the buildings below, the town and the nearer landmarks drop away in perspective with kaleidescopic suddenness, and the doubling valley of the Lehigh spreads out in a thrilling panorama. Sights of great interest abound along the route. Old Indian trails over the hills are pointed out, the primeval forest envelopes the track for long stretches, and glimpses of old mining settlements are caught in the valleys. At Summit Mountain a halt is made and opportunity is given to visit the mines. The burning mine which is situated here has been smouldering since 1832 in spite of elaborate and costly undertakings to extinguish the fire. Returning from Summit Mountain the car attains great speed, and, as the visitor always thinks, the inspiring ride is over all to soon. The New Jersey Central will operate one of its popular excursions to Mauch Chunk on September 3, 1906. Round trip $1.50, and special train leaves Plainfield at 9:20 a. m. 8-27-td

Lake Excursion.

The beauty spot of New Jersey is Lake Hopatcong and one who visits the place is charmed with the diversified entertainment afforded. The surroundings are delightful in every respect and a day spent in the rarified mountain air of the Jersey foothills will do wonders for the tourist. There are ample facilities for fishing and boating and one who enjoys the rambles in wooded paths and the quietness of the natural pines, to him Lake Hopatcong is the gem of places. On September 2, 1906, the New Jersey Central is going to run one of its famous low priced and popular excursions to the Lake. Round trip $1.00, and special train leaves Plainfield at 9:20 a. m. 8-27-td

The exact measurement of your face taken and every frame made to order, so the frame will set correctly and not hurt your face.

Any style we manufacture, either Rims or Rimless.

Your Eyes will be examined by THE DAMMERS SCIENTIFIC METHOD, positively the only absolutely correct way to fit glasses.

(NO DROPS USED). Those who have been examined for GLASSES by men who claim to examine eyes by the old, incorrect way, which is done by everyone who supplies glasses but us, will be agreeably surprised by our scientific and wonderful methods of Examining Eyes, and fitting glasses.

We correct your eye defects by looking in the eyes, taking the exact scientific measurements of the focus and shape of the eyes.

NO QUESTIONS ASKED, no trying glasses on your face, until we have determined your exact optical error.

The old tedious, and tiresome way of trying to fit glasses is either putting drops in the eyes, which often causes BLINDNESS, or by trying on a lot of glasses, and asking you "Can you see these letters?" or "Do these glasses make you see better?"

After your Optician does a lot of guessing, and has your eyes all out of shape, you think you have been examined.

Think this over, and you can readily see that you have been doing your own examining, and that is no doubt the reason you have had trouble to get glasses correct.

We have produced astonishing results from brain fag, nervous debility, insomnia, dizziness, nausea, WATERY EYES, blurry vision, and other troubles caused by EYE STRAIN. We have corrected by the use of glasses cross eyes and Astigmatism, by our scientific methods of Examining.

An experience covering every detail of the Optical Business for over a quarter of a century is the continuous record of the great Dammers concern.

Our position in Newark, N. J., and Providence, R. I., as the LEADING EYESIGHT SPECIALISTS is proof of the high confidence in our responsibility, and the reliability of our representations.

Scene in "The Lion and the Mouse," at New Plainfield Theatre, Wednesday, September 5.

"A Night in a London Music Hall," one of the star acts at the variety houses last season, are coming to town and will appear in the latest and greatest of all musical comedies, "Around The Clock," at the New Plainfield theatre. Mr. Ritchie is known to fame as one of the best impersonators of all delicate characters, that of a person under the influence of strong drink, is at the helm of his band of incomparable players. He will again assume his famous role of the "drunk" who gets into a lot of trouble because of his muddled faculties. The Music Hall scene where all the frolic was centered in the travesty will be retained, and will form the better part of the third act. However, new ideas will be introduced, the time limit extended from twenty minutes to forty minutes and the action will be punctuated with side-splitting specialties and novelties. Mirth, music, pantomime and vaudeville of the sort that edifies the mind and gladdens the heart will be most dexteriously combined in this new comedy. Three hours of solid fun and laughter are guaranteed and you won't want any more.

"The Black Crook," the old time spectacle, has been revived this season and will be the attraction at the New Plainfield theatre next Thursday night. "The Black Crook" was first produced in 1866, forty years ago and with brief intervals has been before the American public ever since. Its history has been an interesting one indeed. It has had unprecedented "runs," has been the cause of endless lawsuits and litigations, has been condemned by some as immoral, and lauded by others as the very antithesis of immorality and a teacher of good. The present managers promise an elaborate production of "The Black Crook," one that will compare favorably with its predecessors.

Theatre-goers of this city will soon have an opportunity to witness the bright comic opera success "Sergeant Kitty," with the winsome Helen Byron in the title role. This piece holds record runs at the Casino and Daly's theatre in New York as well as in the other large cities, it is considered the most tuneful and funny comic opera of the season. The balance of the cast is first class in every particular and comes highly recommended by press and public.

NO MORE FINES FOR POSTAL EMPLOYES.

Uncle Sam Will Establish Credit System As Basis for Increases Or Reductions.

Washington, Sept. 1.—Fining of employes as a means of enforcing discipline in the postal service, a system that has been in operation for many years, is to be abolished.

First Assistant Postmaster General Hitchcock, who has jurisdiction over all postoffice employes, after a year's observation of this means of disciplining has reached the conclusion that it is detrimental rather than helpful. He proposes to establish in its place a uniform system of efficiency records, which will be put into operation as soon as perfected. To that end he has started Assistant Superintendent John A. Holmes of his bureau on a tour of inspection of the larger postoffices of the United States. Dr. Holmes will confer with the postmasters and their assistants regarding the introduction of the proposed change.

The existing practice of subjecting 250,000 or more employes to the liability of being fined for making errors in handling mail, or for misconduct, is believed by Mr. Hitchcock to be a type of punishment rightly termed humiliating and degrading and which should not be imposed on men and women. Mr. Hitchcock says that in the absence of an efficiency record that enables the clerk to receive full credit for the amount and character of the work done, the plan of fining for errors is likely to discourage rapid work because of the increased liability of mistakes. Under Mr. Hitchcock's new plan, which will be used as a basis for all increases and reductions in salary, employes will be given to understand that when they become generally careless or inefficient, a reduction in salary will follow.

The periodical promotions that are made at the beginning of each fiscal year will go only to employes who merit advancement on their efficiency records. The amount of reduction in the salary of an efficient or delinquent clerk will not be lost to the department, as in the case of fines, but will be utilized in the promotion of the more deserving.

SEASHORE BROKER ARRESTED.

Wm. H. Gormley Held in $1,000 Bail in Atlantic City.

New York, Sept. 1.—William H. Gormley, senior member of the firm of Gormley & Meehan, stock brokers, of Atlantic City, N. J., was arrested here today on complaint of Alexander J. Miller, of Atlantic City. Later he was held in $1,000 bail on the charge of being a fugitive from justice. Miller alleges that on August 21 last he gave Gormley & Meehan $100 with which to purchase National Lead shares. On the 25th of August, Miller alleges, the firm went out of business and since then Miller has been looking for the members of the firm. He found Gormley today and caused his arrest.

John McCarty, of Orchard place, has returned from Asbury Park, where he spent his vacation.

LITERARY.

The handsome football cover in colors that adorns the September number of The American Boy marks a further step in the very successful effort of the publishers of this magazine to produce what they claim to be "the best boys' paper in the world." The text and illustrations of this number are of the most interesting character. The continued stories by Tomlinson, Stratemeyer, and Alger are the chief features around which the boys' interest will center this month. Other headliners are "The Runaway Rup," an animal story; "The Undertow," the story of a boy's daring; "The Captain's Grit," a baseball story; 'A Boy Hero and His Medal," a war story; "Our Pursuit of Old Golden," a hunting story; "The Two Admirals," a story of the ambition of two boys; "The Chase of the Rambler," a sea story; "Mike's Lucky Season," a story of the hunt. Other interesting titltes are: "The Boy Aeronaut,' "Boys as Poets," "My Young Sportsman," "The Shack in the Woods," "Hunting His First Job," "New Football Rules," "How to Make a Wooden Necklace," Biographical Sketch of Daniel Webster, "Catching a Crocodile," and many short items too numerous to mention. The various regular departments of the paper are full of good things: "The Boy Mechanic and Electrician," "The Boy Photographer," "The Amateur Journalist" and "Tangles" The efforts of the publishers to organize boys into bands for literary and athletic pursuits, their efforts to get the paper into the hands of shut-in boys, and their scheme for rewarding boy heroes and boy prize winners in school as set forth in this paper, will not be overlooked by its many readers. 72 illustrations. Subscription price, $1.00 a year. The Sprague Publishing Co., Detroit, Mich.

Musical America has just received word that Jan Sickesz, the noted Dutch pianist who visited America this spring on a pleasure tour, appeared at Scheveningen, Holland, on August 14, playing there with the Berlin Philharmonic Orchestra, under August Scharrar. Sickesz was known as one of the most brilliant of the younger pianists now before the public, but even those who had heard him before were not prepared for such an astounding display of virtuosity as he gave on this occasion.

Much has been said about the coal tar compounds and but little to their credit, writes Agnes Spaulding in Good Housekeeping. To many persons they seem but new poisons capable only of doing harm. Yet their discovery fifty years ago was and is one of the marvels of science, changing chemistry from a narrow interest in minerals to the present broadening conception of life compounds. From coal tar the chemist is able to imitate some of nature's most intricate compounds. But at best the coal tar products are still imitations, and because they too often masquerate as something better than themselves they defraud the public. Many of them are wholesome and have a legitimate place upon the dealers' shelves. Vanillin is good, vanilla is better, but both should be available to the possible purchaser and under their own names.

It is the speculative side of Wall street that most appeals to the imagination. If we were dealing with that side of Wall street we should not lack for authenticated cases of high dramatic flavor, as, for example, that of a youth of eighteen who ran two dollars into a fortune of $200,000 in a few months, and was last heard of trying to pawn his wife's engagement ring for twenty-five dollars; or that of the farmer who made several millions of dollars from a very modest beginning, slipped a check for $300,000 under the breakfast plate of each member of his family one morning, tore the checks up because within an hour the riches had become a matter of domestic strife, and was last heard of when one day he brought a load of hay across the ferry from Staten Island to New York and begged his brokers to take it in lieu of margins for one more "trade."—"Success Magazine."

BRIDE'S BROTHER DIES AFTER SHE IS WEDDED.

Had Been Fatally Injured a Few Hours Before Ceremony Took Place in New Brunswick.

New Brunswick, Sept. 1.—The shadow of impending developments hung over the wedding of Miss Katharine Sebolt and Edwin Hornby, at 16 Richmond street, last night. John Sebolt, brother of the bride-elect, had been fatally injured a few hours before in a trolley accident, and was at the point of death in the local hospital.

At first it was planned to postpone the wedding, but Miss Sebolt and Mr. Hornby went to the parsonage of the Pitman Methodist church with their attendants, and were made man and wife. John Sebolt died this morning.

He was knocked down from his truck by a trolley car, on Burnett street, yesterday afternoon. He had but recently recovered from terrible injuries received in a similar accident. He leaves a widow and one son. It is a curious coincidence that his father met his death several years ago in an accident similar to that which cost the younger man his life.

NIP IT IN THE BUD.

First Appearance of Dandruff a Forerunner of Future Baldness.

That such is the case has been conclusively proven by scientific research. Prof. Unna, the noted European skin specialist, declares that dandruff is the burrowed-up cuticle of the scalp, caused by parasites destroying the vitality in the hair bulb. The hair becomes lifeless, and, in time, falls out. This can be prevented.

Newbro's Herpicide kills this dandruff germ, and restores the hair to its natural softness and abundancy.

Herpicide is now used by thousands of people—all satisfied that it is the most wonderful hair preparation on the market to-day.

FAVORS BRIDGES FOR THE NORTH RIVER.

The Interstate Commission Makes a Survey of the Shore on Both Sides.

A committee of the Interstate Bridge Commission, consisting of Commissioners Schamberg, Mintern and Hawkes, recently made a thorough inspection of the water fronts of New York and New Jersey, from Twenty-third streeet as far north as One Hundred and Thirtieth street.

The trip was made by automobile, starting from the ferry at Fourteenth street, Hoboken, and following the water front to the south line of the King property, below Weehawken. From that point the trip was continued on the higher level and embraced a thorough study of the topography of the entire ridge between the Hudson River and the meadows so far up as Palisade. The return to New York city was made by the Edgewater ferry.

The commissioners were greatly impressed with the enormous benefits that must inevitably accrue to New Jersey through the carrying out of a comprehensive scheme of connecting bridges. They were particularly struck with the number and size of the wholly undeveloped areas lying at the very threshold of the metropolis, the values of which cannot fail to be advanced many fold by such improvements.

An immediate and important result of the trip will be the appointment of a resident engineer to make a careful study of the conditions on the New Jersey side.

The commissioners feel that the necessary appropriations for the construction of one or more bridges can be procured only in response to a clearly expressed public demand, and they appeal to the press, to improvement and taxpayers' associations to develop an adequate expression of this demand.

SALOON-KEEPERS MUSTN'T SELL SOFT DRINKS SUNDAY.

Important Ruling in Test Case by a Justice of Jersey City.

Hugh Meehan, whose saloon at Washington and Sussex streets, Jersey City, was raided by the police last Sunday, was held yesterday for the Grand Jury by Judge Frank J. Higgins, in the First Criminal Court, on a charge of exposing liquor for sale on Sunday.

Meehan is an active member and former President of the Hudson County Liquor Dealers' Association. His lawyer, Joseph Tumulty, set up that it was not a crime to sell soft drinks Sunday in a saloon. The case was understood to be a test which liquor dealers had decided to make.

Judge Higgins held that a saloonkeeper has no right to open his place for the sale of non-intoxicating drinks if the liquors usually sold are exposed. Meehan was released on his own recognizance. Fourteen men who were arrested in Meehan's saloon were discharged last Monday. The Court said it was no crime to be in a saloon Sunday.

FINAL DECISION IN THE JR. O. U. A. M. CASE.

National Body Restrained From Interference with State Council.

Trenton, Sept. 1.—The final injunction in favor of the State Council, Junior Order of United American Mechanics, restraining the national order from exercising further jurisdiction in this State was issued in the Court of Chancery yesterday. This action followed the recent decision of Vice Chancellor Pitney upholding the Sate Council as the legal body in this State.

Three years ago the legal contest begun when the State Council seceded from the National Council because of a fight over rates. Then the National Council sought to establish in New Jersey a new State Council which would be loyal to the national body. The proceedings were then brought in the Court of Chancery by the State Council.

By OLIVIA B. STROHM

(Copyright, 1905, by Olivia B. Strohm).

Down, he would have had to row against the current, and past the village, with more show of detention. Nevertheless, Winslow thought it more likely that he had taken that course. Westward, was ever the Indian's watch-cry, and against the wave, Owatoga's giant strength would have less chance of being overtaken. The possibility of observation was small; it had been a Sabbath day, and in the heat of noon, when all would avoid the river.

All this Owatoga had doubtless considered, thought Winslow, as he tramped the water's edge up and down, peering into every clump and shade. His steps had led him well to the east, when, suddenly, half-way between the water and a ferny coppice, he spied something small and dark lying on the sand. Mechanically he went to examine it, and his heart beat like a forge as he recognized the black bag—the silk trifle she had worn at church the previous day. He stood still for a moment, overcome by the feelings of relief and tenderness roused in him by this inanimate thing—this bit of silk that had dangled from her waist.

He raised it from the damp, sandy bed as though it were sacred, fondling it with reverent care. Then, with the touch of it, rushed over him, too, a sense of its practical value! Here was proof of her presence on this spot; then Owatoga had brought her here—he was on the right track at last!

Folding the bag, he was about to stow it in his pocket, when from it dropped a yellow envelope; he stooped to regain it—it was his own. In her possession; this note, which causing his presence in the forest on that fatal night, had caused all the tangle of distrust and suffering and apprehension—all the wretched coil. The sight of the yellow paper filled him with disgust, and to find the reminder of that night in something of hers—to see it in this dainty pocket which should hold only delicate, clean and beautiful things—he shivered, hurt in all his finer feelings.

Replacing the letter, he put the bag in his knapsack, with a little sigh, then, as if throwing aside sentiment for practical things, he looked carefully about. She had been here—of that there was proof; but Owatoga had mentioned two boats—where could the other be?

His gaze fell upon a something which looked like two ends of boards joined together in a way that proved man's handiwork. The boat! He made a dash into the coppice, and from it pulled a light canoe. For one moment he stood surveying it, in thankful, silent ecstasy; then he pushed it from shore and was out on the broad breast of the Missouri.

For an idle moment the boat swung with the current; the man at the oars let it drift—up or down? While he hesitated, the sun rose from a grove of trees beyond the bend of the river. It pointed long fingers of light straight up the stream, and motes dancing in its rays, beckoned him to follow.

"An omen!" he exclaimed, in sudden burst of boyish enthusiasm, and straight against the current he headed the boat.

"Westward we go," he said, playfully, giving rein to the new buoyancy. "Follow at your leisure," and he waved his hand to the sun, which now burnt a huge copper globe on the horizon.

It was yet early day when he rowed past the village—drowsy still with the sloth of the previous Sabbath. The few who were stirring, took no care to blink through the fog at the solitary figure in the boat toiling up stream.

And hard work it was! Even the Indian's strength had felt the strain, and to this man, weakened by illness, whose powers of endurance were rather of nerve than brawn, it was effort indeed. Yet, buoyed by the hope that had sprung in his heart at sight of the gracious souvenir of her presence, he toiled on, scanning each change in the outline of shore, anxious for the first sight of swamp and grove of tamaracks. He felt almost sure it would be on the northern bank; Owatoga had given no hint to cross the river. Besides, many of the Osage tribe were scattered to the north, and it was likely he would choose the hunting grounds of his own people.

An hour or two at noon, he put ashore at the foot of a poplar-crowned bluff, then on—until, with the fiercest blaze of the afternoon sun scorching his tired back, the grove of tamaracks came in sight. Its dense, swampy shade lured him with promises of delicious coolness—here, too, was another link in the chain which was leading him to her. At the thought his flagging strength revived; his aching arms felt new vigor, and with a dozen stout sweeps of the oar, he landed at a little point where one withered tamarack stood apart; the dead brown needles at its crest a crown of thorns uplifted to the sky.

On the edge of the forest stood a scrub-oak tree, one branch of which had been bent over and rooted again, giving a curious hump-backed effect. Winslow noted this with a start of pleasure. "Another landmark! It is well I have before witnessed Owatoga's forest-craft," he thought.

Hiding the boat, he rested in the shade, but only for a little space. For, with the end of his search so near, he could not dally, though the grass was soft and yielding—the turf as a feathered couch; the sky a marvelous turquoise canopy, pierced with a thousand emerald spires.

Rising, he studied carefully every spot to discover further signs of the presence of those he sought. "Ah!" and he laughed aloud, triumphantly. On the ground he spied scraps of cornbread and an empty bottle. Winslow sniffed at the latter, and made a wry face. "Poor little girl," he said, smiling, with a pitying shake of the head. One little crust he picked up and slipped into his pocket, glancing shamefacedly at a squirrel, which, perched on a near-by limb, seemed to note the action with a teasing tilt of its head and a mocking chatter.

Unlike Owatoga's direct course through the swampy undergrowth, Winslow's unfamiliar feet led him by a circuitous path to the base of a hill on the opposite side from which the Indian and Lavender had emerged the night before.

Here he paused, and taking the diagram from his pocket, studied it again. "'The swamp of tamarack lies here, and just beyond is the hut of the old man of the woods.'" Just beyond! Where? Beyond this hill? He glanced wearily at the slope; it was beautiful with its carpet of flowers and festoons of ivy looped from tree and shrub. It was inviting—but it was steep; he was tired—"just beyond" was vague, tantalizing.

Obedient to the impulse of fatigue, he sat down to rest against the trunk of a sycamore whose roots coiled about him like protecting arms. Not far away lay the stretch of swampy undergrowth; a few paces to his right loomed the hill like a mound made with giant hands—steep, sharp, without purpose in the landscape.

He was pondering whether to ascend or skirt its base, when his attention was held by the figure of a man coming slowly down. His step was firm and light as an Indian brave's, though from under the cap of skins flowed hair whiter than the aspen's silver lining.

DOING THEIR DUTY.

Scores of Plainfield Readers Are Learning the Duty of the Kidneys.

To filter the blood is the kidneys' duty.

Backache and many dinkney ills follow;

Urinary trouble, diabetes.

Doan's Kidney Pills cure them all.

Plainfield people endorse our claim.

Mrs. W. W. Mills, of 86 Summit avenue, Plainfield, N. J., says: "I am willing to reiterate my former statement given in behalf of Doan's Kidney Pills, feeling that some other person may be benefited thereby. I had suffered with a severe pain in the small of my back and across the hips, and if I did any lifting or stooping my back became lame and sore. I used plasters but they only helped me for the time being. I was feeling unusually bad when my attention was called to Doan's Kidney Pills and they were so highly recommended for troubles like mine that I procured a box at L. W. Randolph's drug store. In a few days I felt their good effect, and when I had finished taking them I was relieved in every way. I am glad to recommend this reliable remedy."

FOR THE GENTLER SEX

FOR THE HOSTESS.

Banana Dessert—A delicious dessert of bananas is made by splitting the bananas in two lengthwise; spread each inside strip with orange marmalade, put together with a thin slice of sponge. Lay the sandwiches on a pretty glass dish and cover them with whipped cream, which has been sweetened and flavored with almond extract. A few blanched and chopped almonds mixed with the cream are no detriment to this dessert.

A Dainty Dessert—First a slice of fresh pineapple, then a slice of orange, and on top of this a mold of wine jelly. This is surmounted by a dab of whipped cream and the whole surrounded by tutti frutti sauce. Small squares of unfrosted sponge cake should be served with this.

Johnny Cake—Sift one-half cup each of corn meal, flour and sugar, one-half teaspoonful of soda, and one-half teaspoonful of salt, thoroughly together. Add one and one-fourth cups of sour milk. Use buttermilk if you have it. Beat thoroughly, pour into cake pan and bake in a hot oven.

Sponge Cake—Take four eggs, one cup of powdered sugar, three-fourths of a cup of bread flour, one-half teaspoonful of salt, one and one-half teaspoonfuls of baking powder and the rind and juice of a half lemon. Beat eggs separately, very light. To the yolks add the sugar and lemon, sift in carefully the flour and beat about five minutes. Then fold in the whites. Bake in a moderate oven. Cake is done if when tested with a straw it comes out clear, or when the cake shrinks from the pan.

Boston Brown Bread—One cup of granulated Indian meal, one cup of rye flour, one cup of graham flour, one teaspoonful of salt, two cups of sour milk, two teaspoonfuls of soda and three-fourths of a cup of molasses. Mix dry ingredients (except soda) together; dissolve the soda in sour milk and add, then molasses. Pour into buttered tins and steam for three or four hours.

THE PLAIN GIRL.

The plain girl was "tired to death" of being mentioned as "that plain girl over there," and looked long and scrutinizingly at her figure one day in the glass. After this scrutinizing process she determined to kill the faults of "plain Mary Brown." First of all she began some exercises for rounding out her figure. The one she used most frequently was this:

Stand erect, with the head held easily, arms at the side. Taking in a full breath very slowly, lift the arms shoulder high, at the same time rising on the toes; now bend the knees very slowly, keeping the body in a well-poised position; then rise very slowly, still on the toes—then sing back to position.

This exercise she found developed a habit of walking, standing, sitting and rising correctly, straightened the shoulders and rounded out the hollows. Bending the knees did away with the stiffness and with that the awkwardness disappeared.

Her face, neck and arms she bathed in very hot water every night, rubbed in a good cold cream or rubbed out every suggestion of a line or wrinkle. In the morning she washed her face with hot water, making a lather of soap on her hands, not touching a cloth to her skin; this was followed by a good dashing of clear hot water, and that in turn by a vigorous spatting with the fingers dipped in cold water.

She practised smiling to make the corners of her mouth turn up, and soon she found the forced smile had become a natural one, that the contented spirit within generated by the "smiling habit" was beginning to show itself in a happy expression, brightened eyes and an utter routing of all the old lines that erstwhile marked her face.—Woman's Life.

Care of Umbrellas.

When coming in out of the rain, let the umbrella down and stand it on its handle that it may dry in this position, as the water will thus drip from the frame and the cover dry uniformly. If placed with the handle upward, as is often the case, the water runs to the top of the umbrella and the moisture is retained in the lining underneath the ring, causing the silk or other fabric to become tender and soon rot, says Home Notes. A silk umbrella, especially, is much injured by being left open to dry; the silk becomes stretched and stiff, and if thus treated will soon split.

Baseball and General Sports

DIAMOND DUST.

Just now the West Ends, of Somerville, are enjoying a fine article of baseball. Today they will meet the strong Flemington aggregation, one of the best of its class in the State, and on Labor Day afternoon the Penningtons will play at Somerville. This team defeated Somerville last Sunday, 5 to 0.

It is to be regretted that a good baseball game has not been arranged for Labor Day afternoon on Cresvent Oval. Good attractions in the national game will be played all around Plainfield, but with a city the size of this one it has been impossible to schedule a contest between a Plainfield team and an out-of-town aggregation.

Many of the local fans will go to Somerville this afternoon and Labor Day afternoon to see the ball games arranged by the West Ends with the Flemingtons and Penningtons.

The baseball programme at Scotch Plains on Labor Day, includes a game in the morning with the Berkeley Heights team and the Mutual A. A., of Bellville, in the afternoon. The Mutuals have defeated such teams as Passaic A. C., Watsessing Y. M. C. A., Chatham and Madison.

The September series of the Blimmites and Nashites will open September 8. A Pedefious dinner will hang on the contest.

Perc Phillips is getting a team together to play in Dunellen Monday morning.

GOLF.

Today really marks the opening of the fall season in golf and from now on there will be plenty doing in the ancient game. There will be a renewal of activities at the Plainfield Country Club, the Park Golf Club and the Westfield Golf Club when the returning members will engage in the many events scheduled. After all the fall season is ideal for the game, for with the cool September and October days the players find that the exercise is bracing and helpful.

Besides the events scheduled on the local golf courses this fall, there promises to be a busy social season. The Plainfield Country Club is planning many social events that will attract the members and their friends. During September there will be a dinner dance every Saturday night and society will also resume its custom of giving dinners at the attractive clubhouse.

While other golf clubs have had more or less trouble with caddies, this cannot be said of the Plainfield Country Club, where an excellent system is in force governing the boys. Players in selecting caddies are obliged to take them in their turn and "Marty" O'Loughlin, the "pro," who has charge of them, has excellent control over the boys and they give good service

Special events have been scheduled for the Middlebrook Country Club course at Findern on Monday, including a championship match to lower the course record.

A. W. Tillinghast, of the Philadelphia Cricket Club, was the winner of the Stevens trophy in the eighth annual tournament of the Lake Placid Golf Club, which closed Thursday afternoon on the Stevens House links. Tillinghast played Irving Braun, of the Harvard Golf Club, in the finals, defeating him 6 up and 5 to play. Braun put up a strong game, especially in the first round, and the match was full of snappy playing.

In the third day's play in the annual open Stockbridge golf tournament on Thursday for the open handicap cup, F. D. Stilson, of New Bedford, H. K. Sutphin, of Arundel, and W. B. Bryan, of Waterbury, were tied for the cup with net totals of 69 strokes each. This was a selected eighteen hole handicap, with thirty-six holes played. The feature of the day was T. M. Sherman's drive of 175 yards into the seventeenth hole. There was a large gallery of prominent society women on the field.

TENNIS.

The West End Tennis Club nas arranged a series of match games with the tennis club of Orange, on the Metropolitan grounds on West Fourth street. The first game of the series will be played Monday afternoon, beginning at 2:30.

Difficulties of Christian Assurance.

Under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A. a conference will be held in the upper hall of the building tomorrow afternoon from 4 to 4:45, the subject being "Difficulties of Christian Assurance." There will be the usual opportunity for questions and answers.

MARTINE ESCORTS BRYAN

"Farmer Orator" Accompanies "Peerless One" on His Visit to Jersey.

HEARTY RECEPTIONS

Both Defeated Candidates Address Big Audiences and Get Enthusiastic Ovations.

Although his visit lasted in all but about two hours, William Jennings Bryans appearance in Newark, Saturday afternoon, was greeted with the utmost enthusiasm and he was cheered to the echo from the time he entered the city until he left. Crowds lined the streets all the way from the Market street depot to Military Park where he spoke to 10,000 people for about fifty minutes. It was a Bryan crowd, at least for the time being, and his sentiments were applauded repeatedly.

In response to a telegram, "Farmer Orator" James E. Martine, of this city, was brought about the "Peerless One's" visit to the State metropolis, met Mr. Bryan at the Victoria Hotel, New York, Saturday afternoon, to make ready for the trip. The party consisted of these two, ex-Governor Jennings, of Florida; Congressman Sulzer and Senator James Smith. They were first driven to the Democratic Club on Fifth avenue, where an informal reception was held, Mr. Bryan making an address to the gathering which numbered about 150. A light lunch was served and beautiful souvenirs were given the visiting guests.

From the Democratic Club, the party was driven to the Twenty-third street ferry, taking a train for Newark at the Jersey City side. They were joined there by "Bob" Davis. After the stay at Newark, return was made to Jersey City where another demonstration equalling, if not surpassing, Newark's, was given the party. Mr. Bryan, ex-Governor Jennings, Mr. Davis and Mr. Martine were guests at a dinner given by the Carteret Club. At its conclusion, Mr. Bryan spoke to a crowd of 5,000 people opposite VanVorst Park, reviewed a big parade in his honor and then made another speech to a crowd that packed Elks' Hall to the doors. At the hall Mr. Jennings and Mr. Martine also spoke, the latter holding the attention of the gathering until the arrival of "Peerless One." Even this second address did not satisfy the Jersey City Bryanites and another meeting was held at Peters' hall. There Mr. Martine spoke again and when he concluded Bryan was announced. He made a short speech and then with the party journeyed back to New York.

Mr. Bryan and the members of his family and the Nebraska delegation that came to New York to welcome him back from Europe, left for Lincoln, Neb., yesterday morning.

INJURED BY AUTO CRASH.

Small Bone of L. K. Hyde's Wrist Broken In Peculiar Accident.

Louis K. Hyde, president of the City National Bank, was injured in a peculiar auto accident Saturday afternoon, in front of W. W. Dunn's grocery at Duer street and Lincoln place. In turning the crank on his Pierce car to start it, the handle slipped, flew back, and struck him on the wrist.

The blow caused excruciating pain, putting the hand and wrist out of use entirely. Mr. Hyde went into the grocery, where neighbors provided liniment and bandages, affording temporary relief. Dr. Fred Hughes was called and accompanied Mr. Hyde to his home on Mountain avenue, when Dr. B. VanD. Hedges, the family physician, took over the case. An examination of the wrist was made with the X-ray and Dr. Hedges found that a small bone was fractured.

Invited to a "Corn Roast."

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Ellis, of Mt. Top," near Warrenville, will entertain the Christian Endeavor Society of the Seventh-Day Baptist church, at a "corn roast," tomorrow night. The Endeavorers will take the trolley car to the end of the Somerset street line where they will be met by carriages and taken to "Mt. Top." The society will also hold its regular business meeting in connection with the outing.

Killed on the Track.

Jacob Suydam, a butcher of Whitehouse, and a brother of the late Mrs. J. T. Fritts, of Park avenue, was killed at the Whitehouse Station, Saturday. He drove to the station to get a load of meat and got in front of a train backing down to the station, which he did not see approaching, and was run down.

Sentence Suspended.

Charles Mesler, 54 years old, was arrested yesterday for drunkenness. He promised to swear off and sentence was suspended.

ELIZABETH POLICE ARREST BOROUGHITE.

Joseph Ryerson Charged With Burglary; Stranger In This Locality, Police Say.

Joseph Ryerson, thirty-fice years old, of Pearl street, North Plainfield, was arrested in Elizabeth yesterday, charged with burglary. Chief Kiely was notified of the arrest and asked to look up the man's record here.

The Chief said this morning that little was known of Ryerson here. He is said to have come to Plainfield, with his wife, from New York a few months ago, to work at McVey's hotel on West Front street.

According to the Elizabeth police, Ryerson robbed the home of Henry R. Cannon on East Jersey street, the owner being away on his vacation. Ryerson effected an entrance to the cellar through a window and forced the door leading to the kitchen, where he found about $100 worth of clothing all wrapped in paper. He did not continue his search, but made an escape with the clothing, intending to return the next day and finish the job.

Ryerson took the clothing to Newark and disposed of them to a clothing dealer in Canal street . It so happened that Mr. Cannon, employed Henry Kelleran, a young man living nearby, to watch his home during his absence, and he saw Ryerson enter and leave the place. He reported the fact to Chief of Police Tenney.

On Saturday Chief Tenney went to the house and caught Ryerson there. In answer to his question as to what he was doing, Ryerson said that he was a detective and had been sent there to investigate a robbery committed the day before. The Chief then took him in charge and escorted him to police headquarters, where he is now being held.

Mr. Cannon, whose home was robbed, is one of the oldest citizens of Elizabeth, and the oldest Mason in this vicinity, being one of the first masters of Jerusalem Lodge, No. 26, F. and A. M., of this city.

NEW JERSEY MARKSMEN WIN THE DRYDEN TROPHY.

Captain W. B. Martin, of Company K, Among the Successful Contestants.

New Jersey's marksmen covered themselves with glory in the annual shooting tournament of the National Rifle Association at Sea Girt, on Saturday, when they recaptured the famous Dryden trophy, finishing first out of a field of twenty-three teams, representing sixteen States, the District of Columbia, the United States infantry, calvary, the navy and the marine corps.

New Jersey's grand total was 991 points out of a possible 1,000. Thirty-two points behind came the District of Columbia team. Thus the trophy, donated by Senator John F. Dryden, and emblematic of the championship at 200, 600 and 1,000 yards, comes back to its native State. The score of the New Jersey marksmen was twelve points better than the record made last year by the Ohio team, and they improved their own score of last year by thirty-five points. Next to the Nation, the Dryden trophy match is the most important team competition in the tournament. By virtue of its victory the New Jersey team retains the trophy for one year and received in addition a cash prize of $150.

The individual honors on the New Jersey team were well divided. Captain W. B. Martin, of Co. K, this city, led the team at the 200-yard range with a score of 44 out of a possible 50. Captain Martin scored 44 on the 200-yard range, 40 on the 600-yard range and 43 on the 1,000-yard range for a total score of 127.

SAFE MEN'S CLAM BAKE.

Participants Afterward Listen to and Applaud "New Idea" Addresses.

Employees of the Manganese Steel Safe Company conducted a clam bake and outing at "The Pines," beyond Metuchen, Saturday afternoon, which will be the forerunner of several similar events. About seventy-five men in all were in attendance and the bake as prepared by "Pete" Feller was greatly enjoyed.

Following the disposal of the last course, an impromptu political gathering was held at which addresses in favor of the Colby movement were made by gifted speakers. It was intended to have Judge Runyon present to speak to the men on the progress of the "New Idea" but another engagement prevented. Those who spoke were enthusiastically applauded.

What Is a Legal Tender?

Decision in the contract case of Horace J. Martin against John Keely, who was sued for a horseshoeing bill, was reserved by Judge Newcorn in the District Court this morning. The court withheld decision to decide whether an offer to pay the bill by defendant was a legal tender in the eyes of the law or not. V. W. Nash, counsel for the plaintiff, contended that only the actual proffer of money is a legal tender.

INDEPENDENTS HAVE GREAT DAY WITH GUN

MERCHANDISE EVENTS AT TRAP—RANGE; YEARLY PRIZES.

Special events and the award of prizes marked the annual King and holiday shoot of the Independent Gun Club yesterday, on the Maple avenue grounds. The shooting began at 10 o'clock in the morning and lasted until dark. There was a large attendance.

The King shoot was won by Edward Sebring, who made the best center shot on a German ring target. He received a medal, and after the shooting, was invested with floral crown and sceptre as the King of riflemen. Capt. Henry Haurand made the presentation and crowned the King.

In the merchandise event at the rifle range, D. E. Gavin was first and got a cigar case; C. W. Leonard was second, prize, gold club badge; Henry Haurand, third, marble sporting hatchet; B. F. Leonard, fourth, hunting coat; C. W. Krausse, fifth, recapping tool; F. S. Sabocher, sixth, wine set; T. H. Laury, seventh, rifle cleansing rod. In the trap merchandise event, C. W. Krausse won first prize, gold badge; F. S. Sabocher, second, leather shell case; H. P. Vosseler, third, wine set; B. F. Leonard, fourth, gun case; D. E. Davin, fifth, loading tool; Henry Haurand, sixth, gun protector; Edward Sebring and Harry Dreier, seventh, two and one box of cartridges respectively. C. W. Leonard's special rifle event was as follows: B. F. Leonard, D. E. Gavin, Henry Haurand, T. H. Laury.

Medals won in the yearly shoot were presented by Capt. Haurand.

In the yearly contest, rifle shooting, the first prize was won by B. F. Leonard, who will receive a gold medal. This shooting was at a German ring target, with inch and a half bulls-eye. It was a ten score shoot, with a handicap for each score. Leonard, with a handicap of 36, made a net score of 1902 points in the ten scores. F. S. Sabocher, with a handicap of 36, won second prize—a gold medal—with a total of 1754. Dr. S. Daudt, handicap, 45, got third prize, a gold club bacge, with a score of 1706, and Henry Haurand, handicap 30, total 1574, won a silver medal as fourth prize. The fifth prize was awarded for improvement in shooting during the year. It was won by Edward Sebring, and is a beautifully made windgauge rifle sight.

Capt. Haurand's prize of a medal for the five highest scores during the year was presented to C. W. Leonard.

"ROLLICKING GIRL" TO RETURN.

Performances Yesterday So Pleasing Manager Secures Another Date.

Sam Bernard and Hattie Williams' former starring vehicle, "The Rollicking Girl," held the boards at the New Plainfield theatre, yesterday afternoon and evening, and made a lasting impression on two critical holiday audiences. Barney Bernard, Sam's brother, and Miss Julia West, were in the leading roles and they were ably supported by Paul Decker and Miss Pearl Charlton Seward, the latter taking care of the difficult role of "Fanchette" in a very able manner. The costumes and scenic effects were splendid.

Manager Counihan was so well pleased with the performances and believing that many other Plainfielders who were out of town yesterday would be glad or an opportunity to see the production that he arranged for a return date on October 15.

Accepts Pacific Coast Charge.

Rev. Charles F. Loofboro, formerly pastor of the Seventh-Day Baptist church, New York, but who has accepted the pastorate of the denomination's church at Riverside, California, is spending a few days with Rev. G. B. Shaw, of Central avenue, prior to going to California. He will have charge of the Seventh-Day Baptist church's interest on the Pacific Coast.

Missionary Address.

Dr. Anna Degenring, who will go to India this month as a medical missionary, will address the quarterly meeting of the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society of the First Baptist church on Tuesday afternoon, September 4, at 3 o'clock in the lecture room of the church. All are cordially invited.

A Slight Chimney Fire.

A chimney at the home of Rev. H. H. Baker on East Fifth street caught fire Sunday afternoon. Fire headquarters was notified by 'phone and Chief Doane and a hose wagon responded. The flames were put out with one extinguisher.

Miss Weiss, If You Please.

A bouncing baby daughter is now the center of attraction at the home of Chief Marshal Weiss, of the borough. The little lady came Sunday morning.

FRESH AIR HOME CLOSES

Farewell Service Held on the Lawn on Sunday Afternoon.

PURSE FOR MISS CURRY

Gift of the Executive Committee, For Her Personal Use—Interesting Figures From the Secretary's Report.

The Netherwood Fresh Air Home will close for the season this week. Miss Sara Curry, the matron, took most of the mothers and children home yesterday, and the few that remained behind to clean up and prepare the Home for closing will be gone by the middle of the week. It is expected that the Home will be locked up Thursday.

The last of the weekly services on the lawn before the Home, Sunday afternoon, was very largely attended. The service was in the nature of a farewell, and special music marked it.

The service was led by George E. Hall. The musical programme included selections by the Y. M. C. A. string orchestra, of six pieces, under the leadership of G. W. V. Moy; vocal duets by the Misses Nellie and Elsie Tudor and Mrs. W. H. Sebring, of Brooklyn, and Miss Florence G. Hawkins. Miss Mary Miller and Mrs. Sebring sang solos.

David Hand, chairman of the Building and Grounds Committee, delivered the chief address. He spoke of the work about the Home through the season, summing up the record made by Miss Curry, the Executive Committee and their supporters.

On behalf of the Executive Committee, Miss Florence G. Hawkins, the secretary, presented Miss Curry with a purse collected on the grounds. The offering amounted to $76. It is intended for Miss Curry's personal use. Last year the Committee and their friends gave Miss Curry $250, which she refused to keep. They made the offering modest this year, in the hope that she would see her way clear to keeping it. In the modest speech with which she acknowledged the gift, Miss Curry did not say she would repeat her refusal to accept it.

Miss Curry made a brief address regarding her work. She spoke of her labors at the Little Missionary Day Nursery in New York, where she helps her "family" of unfortunates through the months when the Home is closed.

Miss Hawkins read a report of the season's work. The Home opened on July 5, and between then and yesterday, 1,674 children have been kept there. Mothers and fathers to the number of 568 were cared for. Of the inmates, 503 were sick. The meals served reached a total of 62,428. The consumption of milk reached 2,759 quarts, and 8,149 loaves of bread were eaten.

In connection with her report, Miss Hawkins announced that Mrs. E. B. Clare, of North Plainfield, was devoting the proceeds of the sale of flowers she is raising to the support of Blind Jenny, whose pathetic battle with affliction and disease was told in the papers last week.

Mr. Hall announced that the recent carnival at the Netherwood Hotel grounds had netted $111.

Colored Women Fined.

Jennie Wilson, Lillie Cuff, Mary Taylor and William Wilson, all colored, were arrested at Somerset and Front streets late last night, after a row between the Cuff and Taylor women. The latter two were fined $5 or 20 days by Judge Runyon in the city court this morning. Sentence was suspended on their companions.

A Successor to Dr. Boone.

The Board of Governors of Muhlenberg Hospital will hold its next regular meeting on Monday night, September 10, when the business for the month, as well as that left over from last month, will be considered and a successor to Dr. W. C. Boone, as a member of the hospital staff, will be chosen.

Hold-Up Man Transferred.

Thomas Francis Monahan, alias Joe Collins, the hold-up man, was taken to the county jail Saturday afternoon by Sergeant Frederickson. He made no trouble on the way, and semmed relieved when the cell door was closed on him. He will be indicted by the next Grand Jury.

Police Vacation Shifts.

Chief of Police Kiely returned to duty yesterday morning, after his annual vacation. Sergeant Frederickson will return to the night desk tonight, and Detective McCarthy will go back to daylight labors.

Rev. Edward L. Braislin, who occupied the pulpit of the First Baptist church on Sunday, was a guest at the home of Daniel Douglass, of Grove street.

FIX CONGRESSIONAL CONVENTION'S DATE

NOT IMPROBABLE THAT MEETING WILL BE HELD IN THE CITY.

The Republican congressional committee of the Fifth district meets at Elizabeth this afternoon to set a date for the congressional convention. The session will be held in the Dix building and it is more than likely that there wil be some important developments. It is not known as yet whether Representative Charles Newell Fowler will be a candidate to succeed himself and this uncertain state of affairs is affording the knowing ones some speculation.

It is reported that "Uncle Dan" Voorhees, who generally has things his own way over in Morris county, is likely to bring out a candidate for the nomination in the event of Fowler's retirement. The possibility is John McGraw, of Morristown, who takes a lively interest in Republican affairs. Mr. Fowler appears to be a middle-of-the-road man in the present political tangle in Union county. He is not and never has been classed as a particularly warm friend of Senator Kean, who is looked up to as the leader of the Union county Republicans, and yet he has studiously avoided mixing himself up with the Colbyites.

It is not improbable that the next congressional convention will be held in this city. Among those who are attending the meeting today are County Chairman Frank H. Smith and City Chairman Charles J. Fisk.

ONTARIO MAN'S QUICK PLUNGE INTO MATRIMONY.

Young Woman He Met On Friday Became His Bride the Following Sunday.

Charles W. Henderson, who formerly resided in Plainfield, but lately has been employed in Coallingwood, Ont., came to this city last Friday to visit his friends, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ramberger, of Essex street. While there he was introduced to Miss Margaret Hauser, who has been stopping with the family and in a short time they were fast friends.

Sunday morning, Henderson called to escort Miss Hauser to St. Mary's church and after the early mass they informed Father Bogan that they wished to be married. The necessary witnesses were procured at once and the knot was tied. Mr. and Mrs. Henderson returned to the home of their friends where, after the first surprise of the announcement was over, they were tendered an informal reception.

They left yesterday for Niagara Falls and from there will proceed to Coallingwood, where Mr. Henderson will furnish a home.

COLBYITES PLAN TO HOLD NOON-DAY MASS MEETINGS.

"New Idea" Speakers to Address Machinists on the Issues of the Campaign.

Noon-day meetings are to be held by the Colbyites in Elizabeth, and other parts of Union county including this city. The plan to have leaders in the "new idea" movement address the machinists on the issues of the campaign was agreed upon at a conference of some of the active spirits at Elizabeth yesterday. Among those who had a voice in the proceedings was R. Henry Depew, president of the Plainfield Protective Association, and probable candidate of the Colbyites for mayor.

The idea is to have mass meetings at the Singer shops at Elizabethport and at other large factories at the county seat. These meetings it is said will be held daily. Before primary election day, noon-day meetings will also be held near the large shops in the west end of this city.

Mrs. Wells Gets Horse.

Mrs. Fannie Wells' suit against Edward Vanderhoff to replevin her horse, held after a horse trade which she claimed was not conclusive, was decided in her favor by Judge Newcorn in the District Court this morning. She was awarded six cents damages for the detention of the horse, and the verdict carried costs with it. The story of the horse trade out of which the suit grew was told at length in the papers last week. V. W. Nash, Jr., appeared for the plaintiff.

Sandwich Cost $5.

Powell Price, a young negro, was arraigned in the city court this morning, charged with disorderly conduct by Joe Meyer, the lunch wagon man. He wanted to pay five cents for a ten-cent sandwich last night, and raised a fuss when Joe took the sandwich back. Officer Martin heard the row and arrested him. Judge Runyon fined him $5.

Robin Hamilton, of Verdon street, has returned home after spending two weeks at Asbury Park. He was registered at the St. Charles.

LOADING THEIR GUNS FOR THE POLITICAL BATTLE

Colbyites to Pick Municipal Nominees Thursday Night at Reform Hall.

REGULARS AGGRESSIVE

Republican City Committee Meets Tonight to Perfect Its Plans For Campaign Which Ends September 25.

From now on until September 25, the date for the primaries, a vigorous campaign will be waged by both the regular Republican organization and the Colbyites in Union county and particularly in this city where the anti-organization men appear to be quite active. It is reported that the regulars are planning to take the offensive at an early date and will push the fight in every district of the four wards.

Tonight the party's city committee will meet to outline its plans and to decide upon the mode of campaign. It is not unlikely that some communication will be received from former Mayor Gilbert, chairman of the city advisory committee, concerned what steps have been taken towards the organization of that body. It is understood that the advisory committee will select the candidates for local offices.

A joint meeting of the four ward branches of the league in this city for the selection of candidates for municipal offices, other than ward and county offices, will be held Thursday night at 8 oclock. The meeting will take place in Reform hall. A special meeting of the various ward branches will be held just prior to the joint meeting at the same hall. The purpose of the ward branch meetings is to select candidates for municipal ward offices and delegates to the congressional, county and city conventions.

Neither the regulars nor the Colbyites have definitely decided upon candidates for municipal office. The regulars, it is said, feel confident that former Mayor Charles Joel Fisk will consent to be named by them as Mayor Buckle's successor. R. Henry Depew is still looked upon as the probable choice of the Colbyites.

JUNIORS GIVE FLAG TO DUNELLEN SCHOOL.

Audience Cheers as Old Glory Is Run Up the Flagpole.

William G. Holton Council, Jr. O. U. O. A. M., of Dunellen, presented the Dunellen Board of Education with a large American flag for the Whittier school house, yesterday afternoon. The presentation exercises were held in the Whittier school assembly hall. Over 200 citizens and pupils attended them.

The members of the order met in their rooms in Apgar's hall before the exercises and marched, with the flag, in a body from there to the school. Rev. A. F. Todd opened the exercises with a prayer. Harry C. Runyon, past councilor of Benevolent Council, this city, made the formal presentation. The flag was received for the Board by Superintendent Lester Meseroll, who acted in place of President A. F. Todd, Jr., who was out of town.

The exercises closed with the raising of the flag over the school by Lewis Schneider, vice-president of the Board. The audience broke into cheers as Old Glory broke to the wind. The flag will fly every day of the school year, which opened this morning.

DIETRICH FAMILY REUNION.

Plainfield Resident Among Those Taking a Prominent Part.

Col. John F. Dietrich, of Arlington avenue, was among the 5,000 persons who attended the third annual reunion of the Dietrich family at Kutztown, Pa., on Saturday, and if tradition be true, there was plenty of royal blood in the crowd. It was one of the largest family reunions ever held in Pennsylvania, Dietrichs from twenty-five States and the Dominion of Canada being present. Of the sixty-seven counties of Pennsylvania, fifty were represented.

According to the old chronicles, these Dietrichs are descended from Dietrich von Bern, who was King of the Ostrogoths in Southern Europe from 454 to 526 A. D. The American branch is more immediately descended from Adam Dietrich and his brothers, who emigrated here from the Rhenish Palatinate in 1767.

At the reunion Col. Dietrich dilated on the family achievements. He is almost 86 years old, and was a personal friend of Presidents Lincoln and Grant. At the latter's request he took command of the First Mississippi Regiment after the fall of Vicksburg. He also served as collector of the port of Galveston.

GIRL CYCLIST HURT.

Losing Control of Her Wheel, Is Thrown Against Railroad Bridge.

Miss Edith Ayers, of Lafayette place, met with a painful accident Saturday afternoon, while riding her bicycle. She started down the hill at Clinton avenue, from West Front street, when her feet got off the pedals, causing her to lose control of the bicycle. At the foot of the hill the wheel crashed into an iron girder of the railroad bridge, throwing the rider into the net work of iron. Her right arm was fractured in two places and she received a deep cut in the forehead.

Patrolman Kelly was in the vicinity at the time and he hastened to the girl's rescue. Although suffering intense pain, Miss Ayers was very brave and insisted that she was not injured much. The officer could see otherwise and he summoned the patrol wagon and at the girl's request she was taken to Dr. Clawson's office, where the broken bones were set and the gash in the forehead attended to. She was then taken home.

COUNTER CHARGES.

Trimmer and Wright Charge Each Other With Disorderly Conduct.

James Trimmer, charged with assault and battery by J. H. Wright, was held for the grand jury by Justice Mosher, this morning, in $150 bail. It was held that he used undue force in ejecting the plaintiff from his porch, after hot words had been passed.

There has been ill-feeling between Trimmer and Wright for some time. The former has sworn out a warrant for drunkenness and disorder against Wright, and charges him with making a nuisance of himself about the neighborhood. G. W. V. Moy appeared for Wright in the action this morning.

Board of Education in Session.

The Union County Board of Education met at Elizabeth this afternoon to ascertain whether the election boards throughout the county are complete and if not all vacancies will be filled. Two Democratic members from Plainfield failed to qualify at the last meeting and that matter will be attended to today.

Alexander Gilbert returned home yesterday after spending the month of August out of town.

GROCERS' BIG EXCURSION.

Over 700 Plainfielders Enjoy Labor Day at Coney Island.

The annual excursion under the auspices of the Plainfield Grocers' Association to Coney Island, yesterday, was a success. There was only one incident that marred the pleasure of the day and that was a delay of one hour at Jersey City in the morning waiting for the steamboat to arrive at the pier. There was some misunderstanding which has not been explained, but it is presumed that the heavy travel on a holiday had something to do with it.

The train left Plainfield at 8 o'clock in the morning with 700 excursionists aboard and it was nearly noon when they arrived at Coney Island. Soon afterwards there was a shower which lasted but a short time and the rest of the afternoon and evening was delightful. It was about 12 o'clock last night when the crowd reached home, tired but well pleased with the day's programme. F. W. Dunn was chairman of the general committee of arrangements.

Enjoyed Superintendent's Hospitality

According to his annual custom, Superintendent Charles E. Ball, of the Prudential Insurance Company's Plainfield district, gave his fifty employes an outing to Mauch Chunk, yesterday. The trip was made in a special car attached to the Central's excursion train and was greatly enjoyed both ways. While at Mauch Chunk Mr. Ball guided the men over the famous switchback railroad and presided at an elaborate lunch served in the afternoon.

A Rooseveltian Family.

The infant son of Mr. and Mrs. William Flatley, of West Fifth street, was christened at St. Mary's church yesterday. The child was named Thomas Patrick. A christening party at the home marked the event. Thomas Patrick is the eleventh child of Mr. and Mrs. Flatley. Ten of them are living.

Off on a Camping Trip.

A party composed of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Thorn, Miss Marguerite Thorn and Charles Thorn, of West Fourth street; Mr. and Mrs. Olsen and Guy Olsen, of Elizabeth, left Sunday morning for a point near Lake Hopatcong where they will camp for a week.

DUNELLEN AND VICINITY

With scrub line-up on both sides, the Dunellens and a Plainfield team met yesterday morning on the local diamond. The game was checked by the rain after five innings, when the score was 5 to 4 in the visitors' favor. Rulifft Fisher pitched for Dunellen. The home nine scored first, getting one in the first inning. They tallied three more in the second; the visitors scored two in the second and three in the fourth. The line-up: Dunellen—Giddes, ss; Piddington, 1b; Giles, c; Brakeley, 3b; Garretson, 2b; Lake, cf; Titsworth, rf; Dodwell, lf; Fisher, p. Plainfield—Wolf, c and capt; Conover, p; Brokaw, 2b; McVoy, ss; Mehaffey, 3b; Hamilton, lf; Banks, cf; Drucker, rf. Herlick, umpire.

For six innings, Saturday afternoon, Randolph held the padded High Bridge team down to one hit and no runs and it looked as if Dunellen was going to prove victors by the score of 1 to 0, when Randolph's finger, which has been bothering him for the last three or four games, became sore again; so sore that he could not control the ball. His wildness and lack of control in that inning netted the High Bridge team two runs without a hit or error. Ramsey pitched great ball for High Bridge and was well supported. The features of the game were the batting of Lake, the fielding of Mehaffey, Hanover, Brokaw, Brakeley, Miller and Lake and a two bagger by Ramsey.

Football followers will get together Friday night, in Apgar's Hall, to plan the organization of an eleven. A good deal of interest is being manifested in the gridiron game, and a lively season, of the sort that used to mark Dunellen falls, is promised. There is a lot of good, heavy material, and organization will probably be effected without delay. Rob Maltby and Jess Ayers are at the head of the movement.

A big crowd of baseball fans went to Bound Brook yesterday afternoon to see Clinton Avenue and the Laurels play. Harvey Moynihan catches for the Laurels. The latter won.

An unusually large number of strangers were in town yesterday. One old resident said he never saw so many strange faces on the streets.

Archibald Brakeley will wind-up his work with the Asbury Park Press next week. He will spend the rest of his vacation at home.

The game scheduled for yesterday afternoon was called off.

Miss Estelle Sofield spent yesterday at Barnegat.

ONE DAY ONLY

Parlors of Hotel Kensington, Plainfield,

WEDNESDAY, SEPT. 5.

HOURS 9.00 A. M. UNTIL 8:30 P. M.

The exact measurement of your face taken and every frame made to order, so the frame will set correctly and not hurt your face.

Any style we manufacture, either Rims or Rimless.

Your Eyes will be examined by THE DAMMERS SCIENTIFIC METHOD, positively the only absolutely correct way to fit glasses.

(NO DROPS USED). Those who have been examined for GLASSES by men who claim to examine eyes by the old, incorrect way, which is done by everyone who supplies glasses but us, will be agreeably surprised by our scientific and wonderful methods of Examining Eyes, and fitting glasses.

We correct your eye defects by looking in the eyes, taking the exact scientific measurements of the focus and shape of the eyes.

NO QUESTIONS ASKED, no trying glasses on your face, until we have determined your exact optical error.

The old tedious, and tiresome way of trying to fit glasses is either putting drops in the eyes, which often causes BLINDNESS, or by trying on a lot of glasses, and asking you "Can you see these letters?" or "Do these glasses make you see better?"

After your Optician does a lot of guessing, and has your eyes all out of shape, you think you have been examined.

Think this over, and you can readily see that you have been doing your own examining, and that is no doubt the reason you have had trouble to get glasses correct.

We have produced astonishing results from brain fag, nervous debility, insomnia, dizziness, nausea, WATERY EYES, blurry vision, and other troubles caused by EYE STRAIN. We have corrected by the use of glasses cross eyes and Astigmatism, by our scientific methods of Examining.

An experience covering every detail of the Optical Business for over a quarter of a century is the continuous record of the great Dammers concern.

Our position in Newark, N. J., and Providence, R. I., as the LEADING EYESIGHT SPECIALISTS is proof of the high confidence in our responsibility, and the reliability of our representations.

LOCAL AMUSEMENTS

In "The Lion and the Mouse," which Henry B. Harris is to present here at the New Plainfield theatre tomorrow night, Mr. Klein, the author, has not only treated the sociological problem in a forceful, intelligent and convincing manner, but he has written a play of compelling human interest telling a story so brisk in action, so replete in dramatic interest and so admirable in character portraiture that the attention and sympathy of his audiences is constantly retained. It may be said without the least fear of contradiction that "The Lion and the Mouse" as a drama stands paramount today in theatrical annals.

One of the features in the Miller and Plohn production of "The Black Crook," which will be at the New Plainfield theatre Thursday afternoon and night, is the transformation scene, which comes at the finish of the last act and which has been given the title of "From the Tropics to the Land of the Midnight Sun." The idea was suggested to the management by the expedition of Peary to the North Pole, and it is said to realistically depict the constant changes of scene that greet the eye of the Arctic explorer. It is most elaborately conceived and executed, requiring nearly a whole car load of scenery for this one effect alone. It is promised, however, that this feature is but in keeping with the rest of the production, it being complete in every particular.

Nothing more catching than the music of "The Smart Set," it is claimed, has been heard this season. This three act comedy of "The Black Politician," will be sent by its proprietor, manager and producer, to the New Plainfield theatre next Saturday afternoon and night. S. H. Dudley, Hodges and Launchmere, Salem T. Whitney and William Burris are among the headliners of the cast, which is fifty strong and composed of exceedingly clever artists. To say that this colored organization will render a good account of itself would be putting the matter mildly, for the principals are known to be "the hottest" propositions in the "coon show business." This opens a warm prospect for spectators.

"Sergeant Kitty" is to be one of the best amusement offerings of the season at the New Plainfield theatre and its engagement promises to be one of interest to theatre-goers. Dainty Helen Byron is again cast in the title role of "Kitty," and with the exception of one or two changes for the better the cast is the same as when first presented. "Sergeant Kitty" is brimful of catchy airs, and the chorus one of the strongest ever heard both in point of beauty and voices. It will be here next Tuesday night.

Policeman Sues for Back Pay.

New Brunswick, Sept. 4.—Rabdall McCann has brought suit against the city for $600 for salary due as patrolman from March 7 to November 24, 1905. McCann was a roundsman of the local police force, but was dropped when the Republican majority in Common Council repealed the ordinance creating the office of roundsman. The Republicans held that the repeal abolished the office and dropped McCann from the force. McCann insisted that this simply dropped him from the rank of roundsman to that of patrolman, which he had occupied prior to his promotion. This view was sustained by the Supreme Court, which issued a mandamus compelling his reinstatement as patrolman. He was reinstated, but was not paid his salary during the time he was not on duty.

COLONIAL SILVER FOR U. S. S. NEW JERSEY.

Ten Thousand Dollar Set Ready For Delivery—Public Presentation Planned.

Governor Stokes has been notified by Tiffany & Co. that they have completed the $10,000 silver service which will be presented by the State to the battleship New Jersey, recently assigned to the North Atlantic squadron. The service is now ready for delivery to the State authorities whenever desired.

As yet plans for the formal presentation have not been made and it is probable that it will remain in the Tiffany vaults until plans are perfected. Some have suggested that the service be exhibited in some of the principal cities of the State. This suggestion is under consideration.

Once on board the battleship it is not likely that any large number of Jerseymen will get even a glimpse of the silver gift, but considerable trouble and expense would be involved in any general plan for its exhibition. It has been suggested, however, that a special detail from the National Guard might accompany the service if it is thought advisable to display it in a few of the larger cities. This might be done at the armories or other public places.

The complete set consists of 57 pieces and contains about 1,500 ounces of sterling silver, 925.1000 fine. The keynote of the design is colonial, symbolizing the colonial period of the State's history.

MORTGAGES FOR $5,000,000 FILED IN PATERSON.

Part of Plan of Reorganization for the Interstate Telephone Company.

A deed transferring the property of the Interstate Telephone Company of Trenton from Bayard Stockton, trustee in bankruptcy for the Court of Chancery, has been filed in the county clerk's office at Paterson. The consideration mentioned is $575,000.

The deed covers a tract of land at Smith and Union streets, Paterson, on which it was the original intention of the company to erect an exchange building.

The company holds the controlling interest in the Paterson and Passaic Suburban Telephone Company as well as in several other companies in various parts of the State. The deed covers all the company's lines.

Two mortgages covering the properties were filed with the deed. One, a gold bond, first mortgage, bearing 5 per cent. interest, is in the sum of $1,000,000 and is drawn in favor of the Trenton Trust and Safe Deposit Company. The mortgage is given for thirty years.

The second mortgage is drawn in favor of the Mercer Trust Company and secures a loan of $4,000,000. The filing of these mortgages, together with the deed, is a part of the reorganization plans of the company.

AUTOIST FINED $100.

He Displayed Lamp That Had Fictitious Number.

John Radel, a son of the late millionaire trolley magnate of that name, handed yesterday to Justice of the Peace Brower, of Maplewood, a $100 note in payment of a fine that he had imposed on Radel late Thursday night for running his automobile with a fictitious number on one of the lamps.

Radel had broken one of his lamps and had borrowed a lamp to replace it. Brower is the Justice who fined Bird S. Coler a few days ago for an infraction of the auto law.

Alpha Station Again Robbed.

Phillipsburg, Sept. 4.—The Lehigh Valley station at Alpha, near here, was again entered by thieves early yesterday morning and a quantity of cigars, tobacco and clothing stolen. During the past three years the Alpha station has been robbed so many times that the company leaves nothing of any great value in the office at night. Consequently, the thieves secured no cash.

Plainfield, N. J., Sept. 4, 1906.

William Jennings Bryan—he came, he saw, he went away.

By all means let the Republican party renominate Congressman Fowler. The only hope for the country's salvation lies in the speedy enactment of the Fowler bill.

The Colbyites cannot hope to win in the coming municipal fight unless they have some issues. It is up to them to let the people know what fault they have to find with the present municipal government.

With a fine record behind him as a congressman, Ira W. Wood, of Trenton, will be the unanimous choice of the congressional convention to be held in Hunterdon county October 2 next. Mr Wood has served out the unexpired term of United States Judge Lanning as congressman and has already served one year on his first term. He has made a record which older congressmen would be proud of. The Princeton monument appropriation of $100,000 hung fire in congress for many sessions, yet Mr. Wood secured it at once He also made possible the getting of $100,000 for the needed enlargement of the Trenton postoffice, besides helping many a deserving pension case. The Fourth congressional district is composed of Mercer, Hunterdon and Somerset counties.

The unpleasant experience of Mr. and Mrs. Titsworth on a Reading express train a few days ago calls attention to a needed change in the passenger ticket office methods. The couple in question had bought excursion tickets. No questions were asked and no statements made either by the agent or the purchaser of the round trip ticket at the time. On returning, however, the conductor notified Mr. Titsworth that the tickets had expired and they were compelled to pay their fare. No fault can be found with the conductor for the conditions on the tickets in question named a time limit as is frequently the case. Very few persons, however, ever read what is printed on a ticket, relying on the agent to inform them of any unusual conditions. Therein the fault lies. To obviate such troubles, particularly of the kind experienced by Mr. and Mrs. Titsworth, an order from the general passenger agent to all agents to state distinctly the time limit of tickets would be all that is necessary.

LORD'S PRAYER AS TEXT FOR LABOR DAY SERMON.

Rev. L. R. Howard Urges Workers to Think of God.

Taking for his subject the Lord's Prayer, and particularly that sentence, "Give us this day our daily bread," Rev. L. R. Howard, pastor of Hope chapel, preached a strong and impressive sermon Sunday night, appropriate to Labor Day. The discourse was delivered at the request of a member of one of the labor unions in this city, and many members of the local unions attended.

Mr. Howard's two chief points was first, that the life of workers individually would be greatly benefitted if they would carry into their daily lives and occupations the thought of God, and secondly, that the lives of workers would also be benefitted socially if employes and employers alike would join in that part of the Lord's Prayer which speaks of "our daily bread," his idea being that if a person sincerely and honestly joins in that prayer his attitude as well as that of his fellow-workman would be far different toward God and it would tend to obviate many of the troubles which have heretofor existed between employer and employes.

THE FORUM.

Mr. Titsworth's Experience.

Editor Daily Press:

The assault upon my wife and myself by the conductor and train crew of the 6 o'clock train Philadelphia and Reading from Philadelphia last Saturday evening, Conductor Thomas Sands in charge, prompts me to ask you to give this communication a prominent place in tomorrow's edition of your valued paper. The railroad always boasted of its generally courteous and considerate treatment of its patrons, the travelling public, and which formerly seemed to have some realizing sense of the public franchise under which it was operating.

On August 20th, we left Plainfield for Northern Pennsylvania, going by way of Philadelphia on the P. & R. As our stay was to be short, we naturally purchased at our station here return tickets to Philadelphia. The full price ($5.90) asked for two regular return tickets for regular trains was paid, and we started. After the outgong coupons were taken up, the return tickets were placed carefully away, biding our return, which proved to be as indicated above.

We boarded the train feeling secure of agreeably ending a pleasant outing, and while holding our prepaid passport to Plainfield, we settled down for a pleasant ride in the cool of the evening. Conductor Sands refused the tickets, claiming they had run out, being limited to six days, including day of purchase. This was our first intimation of such limitation. We were not so informed when first purchasing the tickets, and inquiry at our ticket offices today by me elicited the statement that passengers are not so notified, nor are notices to that effect posted in either of our stations here, leaving passengers to infer that they are purchasing and paying for unlimited tickets, and opening the way for the road's conductors to practice the extortion visited upon us. Few read their insurance policies through, and as few read all the printed matter on railroad tickets. Busy men have more important use for their time than hunting for snares, and especially so when dealing with supposedly honorable corporations. The conductor demanded two full single fares and forty cents excess, making $4.22. I refused the demand and again offered the tickets.

At Wayne Junction, the first stop, the demand was repeated, and as well was the refusal duplicated. Finally not to delay the train and detain passengers who were as anxious to get home as we were, I offered the difference between the value of the return coupons and the single fares, and even this was refused. "Pay full fare or get off." After this additional rank injustice was perpetrated, we positively refused to pay the full single fares. A half dozen of the train crew forced me to the platform, and Conductor Sands returned for Mrs. Titsworth, who wrenched herself from his rough grasp, and by that time all the passengers were deeply incensed at the dual assault, and fearing more bodily harm might come to my wife through the conductor's persistence I forced myself back to her side, and to end the melee and more serious results from the onslaught, we submitted to the extortion by paying the single fares. We feel very grateful to our fellow passengers for their kind expressions of sympathy and unsolicited bestowal of their cards. Mrs. Titsworth has suffered severely since from nervous shock and bruises, but we are nursing our sprains and mending our clothing, and hope to be ready for next year's outing, by other roads whose policy is to give value received. Were our esteemed former fellow townsman ex-Gen. Pass. Agt. C. M. Burt still here, we should hope to secure through him an order to all ticket agents to notify innocent purchasers of return tickets by the P. & R. of their limitations, and also to have prominently posted in all their stations notices to the same effect. Possibly some one who may read this will assist in securing the order to ticket agents, and the placing of the posters, "pro bono publico," and save thereby some gentleman travelling with his mother, sister, wife or sweetheart from an experience as above related.

Yours very truly,
ARTHUR L. TITSWORTH.

Life In Plainfield 37 Years Ago.

REPRINTED FROM THE CONSTITUTIONALIST OF 1869.

From the issue of February 18:

The recent sudden and unexpected death of Sylvester Denton, the well-known horticulturist of Plainfield, cast a shadow of gloom over our community. The particulars of the sad event are, we believe, as follows: On Friday last Mr. Denton dined with a friend in Brooklyn, N. Y., Rev. Alfred Pinney, and partook heartily of an Indian pudding, as did the members of Mr. P.'s family, some eight or nine in number. After dinner they were all taken violently sick, Mr. Denton especially so. A physician being called in, pronounced the cause of sickness poison, but succeeded in arresting its deadly effects with all except Mr. D., who died next day. It appears that a package of arsenic and meal, used for the destruction of rats, had been left in the kitchen closet, and the cook, without evil intent, had mixed that with the pudding. Hence the sickness and death. Her testimony before the Coroner's inquest was:

"I live in the family of the Rev. Dr. Pinney as a servant. On Friday last I mixed up an Indian pudding for dinner by direction of Mrs. Pinney; after getting it into the boiler I thought it was too small, so I took it out again, and having used all the meal in the bucket, I remembered some white meal in a paper in the closet. This I took, it being about a cupfull, and mixed it with the other."

The jury returned the following verdict:

"We find that the deceased, Sylvester Denton, came to his death by the accidental taking of arsenic poison, mixed with Indian meal, which had been carelessly kept in the kitchen closet, where other ingredients were stored, in packages similar in appearance, and on the same shelf, and further the Jury, from the evidence furnished them, find that Mr. and Mrs. Pinney deserve censure, for having about the house, accessible to servants and others, that potent poison."

Mr. Denton was an industrious and worthy citizen, in the vigor of manhood and ruddy with health. His remains were consigned to the tomb on Tuesday. Again has it been shown that "in the midst of life we are in death."

We understand that the Plainfield Choral Union will give a public rehearsal for the benefit of the Public School, at Assembly Hall, on Tuesday evening, March 2nd. We hope there will be a large audience to hear our home musical talent on that occasion.

A vicious mad dog was shot at Scotch Plains on Thursday of last week, by Mr. Robert Walpole, not, however, until after he had bitten two children, one a son of Mr. Edward Johnson, and the name of the other we did not learn, besides biting several dogs and other animals in the neighborhood. A number of the dogs thus bitten have shown signs of hydrophobia, and have since been killed.

Last Saturday afternoon, our friend James F. G. Frazer, while driving through Main street, had occasion to step into a house, leaving his horse unhitched. When he came out his horse and wagon were missing, the horse having taken fright at something and ran at breakneck pace until he came to Grove street, down which he turned, spilling a lot of cornices and a small stoop, with which the wagon was loaded, on the corner, and finally brought up all standing against the bridge crossing the brook. Some of the cornices were "somewhat bent," but Jimmy being a first class carpenter, soon had them in shape again. His shop is corner of Fourth and Church streets.

The mud by day and the darkness and mud by night, in the streets of Plainfield, the past week, has been terrific. The ladies go unanimously for City Incorporation. Who will go against the ladies? If they cannot vote, in the name of humanity, accord them safety and comfort.

An alarm of fire was given on Saturday night last, caused by the brush burning on the mountains, near the old spring. The firemen promptly answered to the call, but soon found their services were not needed.

Friend Thorn of the Mansion House has introduced a novelty in our town in the shape of a velocipede. We noticed him the other day taking a ride on his "fiery steed," in front of his hotel, and he committed himself creditably. This velocipede is one of the two-wheeled kind, and requires a person of steady nerves to manage it, but "Ed" is equal to the emergency.

A brute in human shape, one day last week, while proceeding along Second street, drew a pistol and deliberately shot dead a small dog belonging to one of our citizens. The dog was a harmless little terrier, highly valued as a pet by its owner, and it was harming no one. A man that is capable of committing such an act would cheat a printer.

We understand that there is to be a change in our Post Master; among the aspirants is our friends William H. Williams, Wallace Vail, T. J. Gillies, S. S. Burr, J. E. Maine. Nearly all of them have their petitions in the field. Let them fight it out. If we are to have a change, may the best man win.

From the next issue:

If any of our subscribers fail to receive their paper this week, we hope they will look over it, as we have changed "Devils" and our new one may miss someone.

Friend Thorn of the Mansion House is getting to be quite an adept in managing his velocipede, and may be seen every day racing along in the front of his hotel, to the amusement of a large audience. He rides rather better than the unlucky wight who got in the way of a tree down Second street the other day. The tree stubbornly refusing to get out of the way of the velocipede and rider, a capsize was the consequence.

Chrystal Wedding—We were one of the fortunates ones who attended the chrystal wedding at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Ryder, at Short Hills on the evening of February 12th, in honor of the fifteenth anniversary of their married life, and we can truthfully say it was one of the most pleasant affairs of the kind we have ever attended. A goodly company were present, and the gifts were many and beautiful, and what with the good music and the good things to eat and drink, together with the kind attention shown the guests by Mr. R. and his amiable little lady, it was out of the question for any one present not to enjoy themselves. "Jumping the broomstick" was ably performed. Long life to friend Steve and his wife, and may we be here to chronicle their "Silver Wedding."

We hope our friends and readers will look over the dearth of locals this week, but the fact is, we attended the supper of Gazelle the other night.

Sales—Mr. George L. Cannon, of Scotch Plains, has sold his farm and residence to a gentleman from New York, for $50,000.

Mr. Frazee has sold fourteen acres of unimproved land to Dr. S. P. Townsend for $8,000.

Mr. John C. Smith has sold his store property in Scotch Plains, at the head of Main street, to Mr. David N. Russell, of Pennsylvania, for $5,500.

Mr. John Cook has been offered $30,000 for his farm, and we learn, too, that W. C. Stanbury, Esq., has had an offer of $40,000 for his farm, but in the language of Sumner to the inimitable Stanton, he was bound to "stick." Sure the spirit of our fathers is yet predominant in that place. The sales of quite a large number of building sites are reported.

MANY NEW MILLS BUILT IN NEW JERSEY.

Remarkable Development of Industrial Construction in the State

Since the first of the year New Jersey has been going through a remarkable industrial development, as evidenced by the unprecedented volume of the building operations in factories and mills in the State. Statistics available from several cities indicate that the building operations of this character throughout the State between January 1 and August 1 of the current year aggregated about $8,000,000. This constructive evidence of industrial growth is not confined to any one section of the State, but is distributed.

This increase in manufacturing plants will further enhance Jersey's manufacturing prestige. Already, according to the last Federal census, Jersey is far ahead of any other State of its population in the amount of money invested in lands and buildings devoted to manufacturing purposes. Alabama, Tennessee, Wisconsin, Minnesota and Iowa, all States of a population about equal to that of New Jersey, averaged about $45,880,000 in lands and buildings so invested. Jersey's figures were about three times this amount.

The new building construction means that Jersey has factory plans in hand that will provide work for 25,000 additional wage-earners, and there is every reason to believe that, while Western States are at their wits' end to get laborers and workers generally, Jersey will have little trouble in getting the necessary quota of operators for its factories and mills. Manufacturers have learned by experience that New Jersey is an excellent State in which to get and keep labor of all kinds for manufacturing enterprises.

Pluckemin Church Extends Call.

North Branch, Sept. 4.—The Presbyterian church at Pluckemin, near here, which has been without the services of a pastor for several months, has extended a unanimous call to Rev. Thomas B. Wesley, of Philadelphia. John A. Powelson, Andrew Compton and Arnold Owens were elected as commissioners to present the call to the Presbytery of Elizabeth at its next regular meeting on October 5. The last pastor of the church was Rev. Samuel Parry, who resigned and is living in Somervillefi

By OLIVIA B. STROHM

(Copyright, 1905, by Olivia B. Strohm).

He was still too far away for Winslow to attract his notice. Interested, the latter watched him as he came, a gun over his shoulder and two hares dangling in the idle hand.

A stir in the swamp at his left made the watcher turn his eyes from the old man to fix them on the thicket near. There were cautious footfalls in its recess, too. Evidently this part of the woods had no lack of tenantry. Mechanically, and without noise, Winslow took firm hold of his rifle, and kept his eyes fastened on the opening whence the rustling sound.

He had not long to wait. An Indian stepped forth, plainly revealed. He wore buckskin clothes like the white pioneer, but with bead and blanket and curious marks on the red skin. His gaze swept past Winslow, fixed in sardonic interest upon the man slowly descending the hill who came steadily on, unconscious of any presence.

Over the face of the savage crept a diabolical smile as he raised his rifle.

But the trigger was not pulled. There was, instead, a flash, a report from Winslow's gun, and with a yell of astonishment, rage and pain, the Indian dropped to his knees.

Quickly Winslow stood over him, with gun again leveled, and the old man in silence joined him.

"Had we not better disarm the fellow while we hold him at our mercy, sir?" Winslow suggested, keeping a watchful gaze on the wounded man.

Daniel Boone bent over him, and took his gun, tomahawk and knife in grim silence.

Then rising, he extended his hand to Winslow with a smile of gratitude that made young the stern old features. "I thank you, sir. It's quickness counts at such a time."

Winslow grasped the proffered hand. "I am thankful that I happened to be here. But what shall we do with this rascal?"

They turned to where the Indian groveled in pain to see blood soaking through the heavy leggings, making a red-brown pool on which a dead leaf floated. And in spite of everything, pity stirred both. Together they bound up his wound and helped him to rise.

To Winslow's astonishment, he spoke in good English gutturals. "Why not kill Osage brave? Bad shot?"

Winslow shook his head. "No, a vital is easy to strike at such short range, but I have a slight prejudice against murder, which, of course, you cannot understand. I did not need to kill you. This gentleman is as safe as though you lay stark dead."

Daniel Boone added, impressively: "Yes, you owe your life to this man. Try to remember that, if you have the one virtue of your race. But now that you are saved, we do not know what to do with you," he added, grimly, surveying the Indian, who, resting on one knee, hugged its wounded fellow.

To his surprise the savage said, while he rose with difficulty: "I go home with you."

"Then you know where I live at present?"

"I know; many others know; take me with you." This the savage said over and over, each time more urgently.

Boone looked puzzled. "My hut is just over the hill," he said to Winslow, "in the thicket at its foot. I have little room, little to offer, but all I have is yours. It was never yet said that Daniel Boone forgot a service."

"So this is Col. Boone? I am honored, indeed, and since I am on a strange and anxious errand, I gladly accept your offer."

There suddenly darted through his mind the thought of Owatoga's message, and of the "old man of the woods." But he would waste no time in vain hope and idle speculation. Aloud he said: "This Indian is something of a nuisance, but—"

He paused, and the other finished the phrase: "But he is wounded, helpless; we can't leave him to die."

To the Indian Boone said: "Come," and slowly they climbed the hill, Winslow and his new-found friend, with the red man staggering between.

Little was said, for the journey was toilsome and slow, over briars and roots, under a sun yet hot, though low in the west.

At the brow of the hill they paused and looked down. "The shed is there, but you cannot see it," Boone said, and to the shade of boasting in his tone the Indian retorted: "But it has been seen! The white man is no match for his red brother—the old man's hut has been seen."

This was said with such telling emphasis that the listeners were filled with a vague apprehension. From this man, alone, and unarmed, they had nothing to fear, but might there not be others?

Each, however, forbore to question, and the Indian relapsed into sullen silence.

They descended the opposite side of the hill, and still no sign of dwelling, when at last the little place came in sight through a break in the thick grove hedging it about.

And then Winslow's heart stood still with a tumult of feeling.

There, at the entrance of the cabin, stood Lavender and the Indian guide together—interested, friendly.

It was all so, then, even as the octoroon had said: "The white maid will be safe with Owatoga."

CHAPTER XXIV.

Lavender was showing Owatoga the use of the gritter. "See, you rub the corn along this rough side, and it comes out meal on the other; it is really magic, Owatoga."

She laughed, and the low music was as sweet to hear as she was fair to see. With arms bare to the elbow, she held a crock between her knees, into which the meal slowly sifted. Now and then she raised a face bright and flushed with exercise, to meet the calm eyes of Owatoga fixed upon her in placid content.

For a moment the newcomers watched them thus, then Boone whispered: "I should have prepared you for the presence of a female, but in the care of this man here, I forgot. I shall go on, and let her know there is a guest with me."

Winslow stayed back in shadow, while Boone went forward. He saw the girl smile and wave a welcome with the corn-cob she held. Then the old pioneer whispered a word to Owatoga, and with long, crouching strides, the latter cleared the vacant space to where his master stood supporting the wounded brave.

"Go to her," was all he said, and slowly Winslow obeyed; he needed time to collect himself and be calm and strong after the first joy of seeing her—alive and well.

Meantime, Boone had told Lavender, in terse words: "I met a youth in the woods, and brought him home with me. You will not object to a stranger by our camp-fire?"

A strong intuition seized her; the youth who was to share their camp-fire—who was he? Her heart gave the answer. All day, from her awakening at early dawn—from the first faint peep of light over the sumach-bordered wood, she had watched the sun's march across the sky, wondering at what point of his pilgrimage he would shine upon the man who was to seek and bring her home.

So when, at last, Winslow came, she felt no surprise—she had known he would come. The devotion of Gonzaga—the apparent neglect of this other—were alike forgotten. "I am so glad you have come," she cried, and went to meet him with both hands outstretched. Taking them in his: "I came as soon as I could," he said, and for a few moments they stood silent, hands clasped, their eyes meeting.

"I AM SO GLAD YOU HAVE COME," SHE CRIED.

FOR THE GENTLER SEX

IN REGARD TO MANNERS

Some persons air their good manners as they do their good clothes, on holidays and other occasions of more than ordinary moment. These manners being assumed for the time, are unnatural and are readily distinguishable from the genuine article. It is too often the case that persons will be churlish and disagreeable to those at home, their nearest and dearest, and yet when they appear among strangers will be courteous in the extreme, winning dolden opinions for their affability and distinguished manners.

There are others whose amiability can be seen at its best in the home circle; these are the ones who can always be relied upon, whose steady cheerfulness in times of trouble endear them to every one with whom they come in contact, says the Boston Traveler.

Good manners are innate with some people with others they are more or less acquired. Where ignorance of prescribed rules exists, tact will often lead them out of social difficulty impending. It is important for the scholar or man of genius not to neglect the minor courtesies of social life.

A proper regard for the feelings of others will often cause a person ignorant of all social usages to hit the proper vein in good manners.

Heedless people bring up topics of conversation regardless of the feelings of a portion of those whom they are addressing. The latter may hold different views on religion and politics, but on goes the heedless one, ruthlessly tramping on the most tender corns of opinion, cherished by some sensitive one among the number, who is too well bred to make any reply.

Those possessed of truly good manners, as distinguished from surface polish, will always and on every occasion have a proper regard for the aged. What more beautiful sign is there than deevotion from youth to the aged around them? On the other hand, to see, as is frequently the case, children allowed to mimic and ridicule tottering age is a shame and disgrace to the age in which we live! It is true that "it is never too late to learn," but those that have the most agreeable manners and who exhibit urbanity under any circumstances, are the ones in whom good manners were instilled in early childhood.

DUTIES OF THE HOME GIRL.

The home girl should be as helpful as possible in the household and should endeavor to make the home as bright and comfortable as she can for the weary ones who are away all day when they return at nightfall. It is well to have certain duties to keep one busy, and there are many things around a house that are not absolutely necessary, and which the busy housewife has not the time to attend to, but which give pleasure and add to the attractiveness of the home.

Who does not love flowers, for instance, and yet you know that it takes considerable time to keep all of the vases and jars filled with fresh blossoms every day. This is an easy matter for the daughter of the house, however, if she makes it a duty and attends to it every day, says the Pictorial Review.

Then there never is a time when the mending basket is quite empty, yet the stay-at-home girl can decrease to a wonderful extent the amount of accumulation in this line by mending one piece of the torn clothes, or table linen, every day.

During the summer there are always salad dressings to be made and berries to be huled, and a thousand and one small errands that willing feet can accomplish in no time, and though none of these duties are arduous, yet they are a wonderful help and take many a care off the mind of the busy mother, besides giving to you the assurance that you are something more than a gay butterfly.

DIAMOND DUST.

Johnny Jacot's Sunday team defeated a pick-up aggregation on the mountain-top diamond yesterday. Mullen pitched rings around the losers.

Manager Churchill, of Dunellen, has unearthed a new nugget in Pitcher Ruliff Fisher. Fisher pitched four innings against the crack Somerset A. C., yesterday, and they could not touch him. Fisher is a broad shouldered chap, has great speed, fine curves, which he always has under control, and has a large head, which he always uses to advantage. He is considered one of the finds of the season. Fisher is the third pitcher that Manager L. T. Churchill has found and developed. The other two are Phil Smith, now with Hoboken, and Randolph. Manager Churchill is looking forward to next year, when he is determined to have a successful season with such pitchers as Fisher and Randolph on his staff. Fisher is the first native Dunellenite to make good.

LOST IN HIGH BRIDGE.

Dunellen Couldn't Hit Ramsey, but Fielded in Fine Shape.

Dunellen's baseball nine got the sour end of a pitching duel in High Bridge Saturday afternoon. They couldn't hit Ramsey, the High Bridge twirler, and lost by a score of 4 to 1.

Dunellen fielded fast, and embellished the contest with two lihtning double plays. Randolph, Dunellen's pitcher, twirled what would ordinarily have been a winning game, but Ramsey met his ait and went him a notch better. Ramsey fanned nine and held the batsmen to two swats, while Randolph had to be satisfied with seven whiffs and allowed one more hit than his opponent. One of them was a two-bagger by Ramsel.

Score by innings:

		R.	H.	E.

MADE NINE ERRORS BUT WON THEIR GAME.

Suburbans Had One Very Fruitful Inning Off Berkeley Heights' Slab Artist.

Counterbalancing bungles with bingles, the Suburbans, of Clinton avenue, tore a near-baseball game from the grasp of the Berkeley Heights team on Crescent Oval Saturday afternoon.

Up to the sixth inning, the Berkeleys had things all their own way. The Suburbans made eight errors in three innings, and by that time the mountaineers were reaching for victory with the score 7 to 2, and nothing to indicate a check to the reach. But something happened to the Suburbans and they tightened up, and at the same time something happened to Exner and he loosened up, and in the sixth inning, the balance of tighten and loosen having been completely reversed, the Suburbans fell on the twirler from the mountain-top and hammered him until his eyes became crossed watching the globule flit hither and yon. They mauled him for six swats and carded seven runs, which was just enough to win the game. Berkeley Heights managed to squeeze in another tally in the seventh, but that was their last bolt. Score, 9 to 8.

Bolmer pitched a heady game for the winners. He had a lot to discourage him in the early innings, but he held his nerve and worked without letting up. He got eight strikeouts and held the visitors to four hits.

Line-up and score by innings:

HOLIDAY ON THE LINKS

Fall Season Opens Auspiciously on Country Club Course.

PLAY FOR TROPHIES

Arthur Murphy and W. D. Riggs Tied for First Honors for Committee Cup.

There was a renewal of activity at the Plainfield Country Club on Saturday, which really marked the opening of the fall season on the links. Arthur Murphy and W. D. Riggs were tied for first honors for the Golf Committee cup and also for a leg on the September cup, each returning a net score of 76, giving them 2½ points a piece, while Dudley H. Barrows got the one remaining point in the weekly competition.

Arthur Murphy, 86, 10—76; W. D. Riggs, 87, 11—76; Dudley H. Barrows, 77, plus 1—78; C. B. Morgan, 83, 3—80; Charles A. Stover, 91, 10—81; Edward J. Patterson, 96, 14—82; Henry D. Hibbard, 87, 5—82.

There was also the first round match play for the semi-scratch cup, with this result:

Frank O. Reinhart beat George F. Schoonmaker 6 up and 4 to play; C. B. Morgan beat Henry D. Hibbard 3 up and 2 to play; W. Lester Glenney beat Julius E. Erickson 6 up and 5 to play; C. A. Stover and Arthur Murphy each drew a bye; Frank C. Talmadge and Robert Abbott defaulted, and Dudley H. Barrows won from Morris J. Dumont by default.

The semi-final play for the semi-scratch cup was one of the interesting events of Labor Day at the Plainfield Country Club and the results afforded some surprises. C. B. Morgan beat Dudley H. Barrows 2 up and 1 to play; W. Lester Glenney beat Charles A. Stover 3 up and 2 to play; Frank O. Reinhart beat Arthur Murphy 5 up and 3 to play; and W. Lester Glenney beat Frank O. Reinhart 3 up and 1 to play. This puts Glenney and Morgan in the finals to be played later.

While there was a large field out to take part in the various events not many posted their scores for one reason or another. C. B. Morgan was the honor man of the day. He won the first three points for the Golf Committee cup with a net score of 78. He also won the Men's Handicap cup, 36 holes, with a scdre of 155 and the Labor Day cup with a net score of 77. He played a very strong game in all of the events, showing that he continues to improve in the finer points of the game.

The leading scores for the Golf Committee cup were as follows:

C. B. Morgan, 81, 3—78; George E. Cathcart, 99, 18—81; Stuart H. Patterson, 94, 9—85; G. F. Earl, 111, 18—93.

The best scores for the Men's Handicap cup follow:

C. B. Morgan, 161, 3—155; George E. Cathcart, 193, 18—157.

During the afternoon there was a clock golf competition for women, Miss Marjorie Fleming winning the event with a score of 24. In the play-off for the August cup, C. B. Morgan was the winner, defeating W. Lester Glenney.

Aside from the events on the course, the social features attracted an unusually large number of members and friends to the clubhouse, which was decorated with American flags and a profusion of flowers. Throughout the afternoon an orchestra rendered a programme of popular selections and later played for the dinner-dance. Many remained for dinner and the dance which was held until 11:30. The attendance indicated the return to town of a host of Plainfielders who have been away for the summer, and from now on social functions will be weekly features at the clubhouse.

All of the tennis courts were also well occupied throughout the day, the devotees of this popular game playing from early in the morning until late in the afternoon.

On account of the heavy shower during the forenoon yesterday many members of the Park Golf Club were kept away from the course. In consequence there was little doing there. When the weather cleared in the afternoon the course was pretty well occupied with enthusiasts, but they failed to return their scores in the scheduled events.

There was a full programme at the Westfield Golf Club on Saturday, the home team defeating the team from the Arsdale Golf Club by 8 points to 3. The summary:

Arsdale—Baker, 0; Woodward, 2; Fayling, 1; Naile, 0; Fullerton, 0. Total, 3.

This was the result of the first round match play for the September handicap cup:

Class A—Joseph Sherman beat Samuel Poor 5 up and 4 to play.

Class B—H. L. VanDyke beat R. F. Middleditch 2 up and 1 to play; Joseph Graham beat William Marsters 2 up and 1 to play; William Taylor won by default. Ray Carroll won the Labor Day competition at the club.

OBITUARY.

GEORGE R. NICHOLL DEAD AFTER LONG ILLNESS.

Passed Away At His Home in Scotch Plains At An Early Hour This Morning.

George R. Nicholl, one of Scotch Plains' oldest residents and widely known throughout this vicinity, died at his home in that place early this morning. He had been seriously ill for several months with a complication of troubles and his death had been expected for the past week.

Mr. Nicholl was in his eightieth year and had been prominently identified with the affairs of Fanwood township for a long time. He held office frequently and was connected with the Scotch Plains library up to the time his last illness began. In politics he was a Democrat and he was ready at all times to advocate the principles of the party, but would not support Bryan. He leaves one son, Thomas J. Nicholl, of Scotch Plains, chairman of the Township Committee, and two daughters, Mrs. George B. Randolph and Miss Lizzie Nicholl.

The funeral will be held at his late home and will be private.

MRS. JOEL D. HEDDEN.

Passed Away at Her Home Yesterday After a Long Illness.

Mrs. Estelle A. Hedden, wife of Joel D. Hedden, died at her home on Summit avenue, yesterday. She had been ill for a long time but bore her suffering with Christian fortitude and patience.

Mrs. Hedden was fifty-two years old and was the daughter of Mary A. and the late Charles E. Stanford. She was a native of Newark but had resided in Plainfield a great many years and was greatly liked by a large circle of acquaintances for her many estimable qualities. She is survived by two sons.

The funeral will be held at her late home Thursday morning at 10:30.

Mrs. Susan E. Wagenhals.

Mrs. Susan E. Wagenhals, mother of Mrs. Harry Hood, of this city, died at her home in East Orange, Sunday, from a general breakdown caused by excessive grief over the death of a favorite daughter several weeks ago. Mrs. Wagenhals was seventy-six years of age and, beside Mrs. Hood leaves another daughter and five sons, one of the latter being Lincoln A. Wahenhals, of the theatrical firm of Wagenhals and Kemper. The funeral was held at her late home this afternoon.

Margaret H. Jackson.

Margaret H. Jackson, the evelen-months-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Jackson, of Manson place, died Sunday. The funeral was conducted at the house today by Rev. E. E. Roberson and interment was made at Hillside cemetery.

Ingrid Augusta Albert.

Ingrid Augusta Albert, the little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Albert, of Berckman street, died Saturday. The funeral was held at the home of the parents yesterday. Interment was made in the Methodist cemetery, six little girls acting as pall bearers.

Death of Infant Daughter.

Mary Mitchell Shellabarger, the infant daughter of Joseph M. and Belle V. H. Shellabarger, died Friday. The interment will be private.

WANT INCREASE IN PAY

Voters to Decide Whether Firemen and Policemen Shall Get More Money.

AT THE NOV. ELECTION

Petitions Presented to the Common Council Last Night—Resolutions At Next Meeting.

Simultaneous action was taken at the September meeting of the Common Council, last night, by Chairman Mellick, of the fire committee, and Chairman Frank Randolph, of the police committee, looking toward an increase in the pay of the men in both departments, under the provisions of two acts of the Legislature passed sometime ago, giving cities of Plianfield's class the rigt to vote on it at a general election. It requires a majority vote of all persons voting to grant the increase, and both Mr. Mellick and Mr. Randolph, who had received petitions from their departments asking that advantage of these laws be taken, reported back the petitions and stated that at the next meeting of the Common Council they would offer a resolution providing that the question be printed on the ballots at the November election.

The law provides that in all cities of this State, other than those known as seaside resorts, are privileged to vote on this question. In the case of the police department the pay or salaries of the officers and patrolmen would be as follows under the new law:

Aids, sergeants and lieutenants, each not less than $1,350 per year; detectives, each not less than $1,300 per year; round-sergeants or roundsmen, each not less than $1,100 per year, and policemen, each not less than $750 for the first year of service, not less than $800 for the second year, not less than $850 for the third year, not less than $1,000 for the fourth year, and not less than $1,000 for the fifth year; provided that each policeman now receiving $1,000 per year, and each policeman who under the provisions of this act shall have served for two years at $1,000 per year, shall receive each year an increase of five per cent. per annum on his salary until such salary shall reach the sum of $1,200, when the increase shall cease.

If a majority of those voting for or against the acceptance of the act shall be in favor of its acceptance, the provisions will be deemed to be accepted by the city, and the city will be bound by the terms of it. The law further provides that there shall be printed upon the official ballots for every election district the word "for" and the word "against" above and immediately preceding the words "the act to increase compensation of police department." If the word "for" be marked off or defaced upon the ballots, it shall be counted as a vote against acceptance of the act; of the word "against" be marked off in a similar manner, it shall be counted as a vote in favor of the acceptance of the act, and in case neither word is marked or defaced, it will not be counted either for or against. In any city in which the act becomes operative in the manner stated, the increase of pay or salaries will go into effect on the first day of the next calendar month, notwithstanding that there may not be any existing appropriation or fund sufficient to permit such increase, and the board or authority having control of the finances of such city shall borrow a sufficient sum to cover such increase for the remainder of the current fiscal year, or may permit the same to be paid out of any money of the city, and shall put such sum in the next tax levy raised.

The law is practically the same in the case of the police department, the only difference being the amounts paid the employees of the two departments, that of the fire department being more than that of the police.

The salaries in the police department at present are as follows: Chief, $1,400; sergeant, $1,000; roundsman and patrolmen, first year, $60; second year, $65; third and fourth years, $70; fifth year, $75, which is the maximum.

In the case of the fire department should the law become operative it would mean a total increase at present of $2,300 a year. Under the present order of things Chief Doane receives $900 a year as chief of the fire department, and Assistant Andrew Jennings receives the same salary, but Chief Doane also receives a salary as building inspector. The regular men receive salaries ranging from $600 to $840, while under the new law men who have been in the service one year or less would receive $480, those less than two years, $600; two years and less than three years, $780; those three years and more $960, which would be the maximum salary. Of course, this increase salary refers to continuous

BOARD OF EDUCATION REFUSES A REQUEST FOR ITS USE.

But for the fact that Howard Tracy had made application for the use of the new High school auditorium in which to hold a "new idea" meeting, the city Board of Education would have had very little to do at its regular meeting, last night. Only three members were present, President Probasco and Secretary Woodhull not appearing.

Charles F. Abbott, who was acting secretary, stated that Mr. Tracy had spoken to him about the auditorium matter and had requested him to make formal application to the board. He was told, Mr. Abbott stated, that the use of the place had been restricted and it was not the intention of the board to allow all manner of gatherings to be held in it; that it had been decided when the school was first completed to devote the hall to the furtherance of education.

In reply Mr. Tracy contended that the Board of Education had no right to decide as to who should or who should not use public property and that furthermore a political gathering was to "educate" voters and that it would come under the trustees own ruling.

The application was discussed at some length but it resulted in the agreement on the part of the members present that the auditorium should not be given over to political meetings. It was stated that a gathering of this sort would be one not inclined to use the place to the best interests of the tax-payers and that Mr. Tracy's request be refused.

It was stated by Mr. Abbott that no provision had been made for a flag and pole for the new High school and the matter was referred to the buildings and grounds committee. The custodian reported a balance of $17,855.96 on hand and the tax collector's report showed that $1,111.54 had been received during the month.

MISS SMITH THE BRIDE OF LOUIS OLSON BARTON.

Plainfield Lawyer Quietly Wedded in New York on Monday.

Miss Mabelle A. Smith and Lawyer Louis Olson Barton, both of this city, were quietly married by the Rev. George C. Houghton, rector of the Church of the Transfiguration, New York, on Monday. After a honeymoon spent among the Shanangunk Mountains, Ulster county, New York, the couple will return to this city and reside on Sandford avenue.

Miss Smith is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Smith, of West Front street, this city, and is known in musical circles, being contralto soloist in the church of the Holy Cross, and a member of the Plainfield Operatic Association. The groom is one of the younger members of the bar of this city, with a wide acquaintance. He is also a member of the Plainfield Operatic Association, tenor of the Church of the Holy Cross and a member of the Plainfield Lodge, No. 44, I. O. O. F.

HEALTH BOARD MEETS.

Little Business at Regular Monthly Meeting.

There was very little business transacted at the September meeting of the Board of Health, yesterday afternoon, Drs. T. S. Davis and B. VanD. Hedges and Charles H. Dunham being the only members present. The reports show the sanitary condition of the city to be very good. During August there was but one case of contagious disease. A case of glanders was reported on August 31. The horse was killed and the stables thoroughly disinfected.

The usual number of milk samples were analyzed, and dairies inspected. Permits were granted to James W. Mitchell to sell milk and Charles Brunjes to collect garbage. The plumbers' bonds of Harry N. Taylor and Louis Goldstein were filed.

WANTS DUNELLEN GIRL

CHANCE FOR 50 LASSES

John Rinacker, of Perry, North Dakota, Hears There Are Many Old Maids In Suburban Borough.

Echoes of the story of Dunellen's beauless maids, which was published two years ago, are still travelling about the West. And the West, with characteristic gallantry and wife-hunger, hastens to the rescue of the manless girls.

The offer of the West to save the old maids of Dunellen from continued single-blessedness came Monday to Mayor Wyckoff from John Rinacker, of Perry, North Dakota. John wrote a letter to the Mayor, offering himself and fifty other strong and able North Dakotans to the old maids of Dunellen.

Rinacker writes that he has just read of Dunellen's population of old maids. He wants Mayor Wyckoff to pick one of them out for him and send her to Perry to be married. Rinacker describes himself as a young man, a rancher and well-to-do. He has a preference for a dark damsel, somewhere in the neighborhood of twenty-five.

He says there are fifty other wifeless men in and about Perry who are yearning for helpmates, and fifty Dunellen lasses would be enfolded to as many manly bosoms, if they came West. He is sure the girls would be happy.

Rinacker evidently is very much in earnest. He authorizes the Mayor to draw on him for $50, to pay expenses and for his time in finding his a wife. The Mayor doesn't know just exactly what to do, but he holds himself ready to consider applications from dark young women who may wish to go on a North Dakota ranch. The commission for fifty other brides he is afraid he cannot fill.

CITIZEN CONWAY TACKLES WIFE BEATER

ESCORTS HIM TO JAIL AND THEN SECURES HIS CONVICTION.

William Conway, a well-known borough citizen, proved that he was made of the right sort of stuff, last evening, when without aid of any sort, he tackled Andrew Monctmorso, a French baker, twice his size, and hustled him to the borough jail for wife beating.

Conway was walking along Harmony street on his way home when he heard calls for help coming from the Monctmorso residence. He ran into the front part of the house and found Monstmorso beating his wife, the woman doing her best to ward him off and emitting piercing screams. Conway's indignation made him forget the odds against him and he gave battle to the husband. The latter immediately beat a cowardly retreat for the back yard and attempted to escape but Conway was after him and quickly made him realize the atempt was useless.

Monctmorso admitted that he was cornered and consented to accompany his captor to the lock-up. When they reached headquarters no one was about and Conway stood guard over his prisoner until a marshal could be secured to put him in a cell. The regular session of court followed a short time afterward and Monctmorso was haled before Mayor Smalley. Conway's evidence was in itself enough to convict him but a dozen neighbors appeared to tell how he abused his wife continually and the prisoner was given twenty days straight.

Plainfield Assessors Meet Today.

The Plainfield Board of Assessors will meet this afternoon to consider matters pertaining to their assessment report which must be sworn to before the County Board of Taxation. Members of the Board visited Elizabeth yesterday and learned that the assesors intend to complete their work on Friday, and the Plainfield assessors want to swear to their assessment lists by that time.

Will Be Held for the Grand Jury.

Joseph Ryerson, of Pearl street, North Plainfield, who was caught robbing the hous of Henry R. Ganno in Elizabeth, on Saturday, is still detained at the county jail. Although he has not been arraigned as yet, he will undoubtedly be held for the Grand Jury.

John H. VanWinkle and wife and John H. VanWinkle, Jr., have returned from Asbury Park, where they spent the month of August.

MAY USE NEW SPELLING

School Pupils Have Choice Between "Archaic" and "Simplified" Forms

MR. TRAVELL'S VIEWS

He Uses Some of the New Forms, But Draws the Line at Others —Takes Broad Stand.

No order establishing the so-called simplified system of spelling will be issued in the schools of this city. Principal Ira W. Travell, who returned from his vacation last night, made a positive statement to that effect this morning.

"Some ime ago," said Mr. Travell, "when the first list of twelve common words was issued by the men at the head of the movement, it was posted at the High school and the pupils were told that they might adopt the new spelling of them if they saw fit. There was no compulsion then, and there will not be any now. The 300 words approved by the Spelling Board have been posted at the school and the privilege of using the system will continue to be offered the pupils. But it will be wholly a matter of choice with the pupil.

"The so-called Carnegie system never had any existence. The scholars who interested themselves in the campaign for simplified spelling were at work long before Carnegie identified himself with the movement; the newspapers called it Carnegie's system when he gave $10,000 a year to those scholars to pursue their work. Now that Roosevelt has come out for the system the papers have taken to calling it his.

"Personally, I am not a spelling reform crank. A few of the 300 words I use, but others are too much for me. I wish the high school pupils to have the same privilege. All I demand of them in the matter is that they spell consistently. If a pupil spells it 'catalog' in one place in a paper he must not spell it 'catalogue' in another and expect to have both passed as correct. I allow pupils who were trained in England to spell honor h-o-n-o-u-r, but they must maintain that system of orthography all through their papers.

"The whole object of the simplified list is to give the people an opportunity to familiarize themselves with the new system. A word here and there is picked out and gradually becomes common and its 'simplified' spelling becomes the everyday form. The Educational Review has been using the new spelling for some time, and a number of magazines and papers have adopted it."

NO BIDS TO BE ASKED FOR SOUTHSIDE SEWERS.

Proposals Received, However, for Macadamizing Several Streets.

It was expected that bids for constructing the proposed Southside sanitary sewer would be received at the September meeting of the Common Council, last night, but to the surprise of the lobby and several bidders present, Mr. Gloak offered a resolution rescinding the action calling for bids.

This was done because the specifications are not completed. It is difficult to get iron pipe and there was an apparent lack of interest among contractors to bid at this time.

A resolution was offered later in the evening fixing Monday night, October 1, as the time when these bids will be received.

Proposals were received for macadamizing several streets in the city. There were two bidders—C. M. Meeker and W. B. Emmons. Their bids per lineal foot are as follows: C. M. Meeker—Park Terrace, $1.10; Berkeley avenue, $1.04; Webster place, 95 cents; Berckman street, 94 cents; Richmond street, 94 cents; Kensington avenue, 92 cents; Division street, 94 cents; John street, 90 cents.

W. B. Emmons—Park Terrace, $1.20; Berkeley avenue, $1.10; Webster place, 98 cents; Berckman street, 98 cents; Richmond street, 98 cents; Kensington avenue, 98 cents; Division street, 98 cents; John street, 98 cents.

The total bids were referred to the street committee for further consideration. Later Mr. Gloak offered a resolution accepting Mr. Meeker's bid, it being the lowest.

No one speaking for or against the ordinance providing for the vacating of Johnston avenue and Hill street, at the public hearing granted, the ordinance was adopted on final reading.

Mrs. Mary Sutphen.

Mrs. Mary Sutphen, widow of Peter Sutphen, died this morning at her home in Central avenue. She was eighty-six years of age. Arrangements for the funeral have not been made.

CONVENTION DATE SET

Congressional Candidate to be Chosen at Elizabeth on Sept. 28.

RENOMINATION LIKELY

Fowler Is Unopposed But He Is In Vermont As Usual and Has Not Announced Himself.

The congressional convention of the Fifth district, which includes Union, Morris and Warren counties, will be held at Elizabeth on Friday, September 28, to nominate a representative and unless he declines to run Charles Newell Fowler, of Elizabeth, will be named. The time and place for holding the convention was agreed upon at a meeting of the congressional committee held in the Dix building, in Elizabeth, yesterday afternoon. Plainfield was the only other place considered, it being suggested by former Mayor C. J. Fisk, of this city, but he waived any claim in favor of the county seat.

Mr. Fisk and C. B. Holmes, of Rahway, were present for Union county, while H. A. VanGilder and George A. Squire, who held the proxy of Jacob W. Welsh, were there for Morris. J. E. Fulper was the sole committeeman from Warren. Mr. Holmes was chosen chairman and Mr. Fulper secretary. After the time and place were agreed upon a committee on arrangements was selected, consisting of one committeeman from each county. They are Mr. Fisk, for Union; Mr. VanGilder, for Morris, and Mr. Fulper for Warren. The next meeting of the congressional committee will be held just prior to the convention on Sept. 28.

Even the closest political friends of Congressman Fowler profess ignorance of his intentions and as he is now in Vermont, where he spends most of his time when outside of New York city, it is impossible to learn whether he will be a candidate. The wiseacres say that he is laying low to see if there will be any opposition from the Kean forces, which would mean his defeat for the nomination. The friends of Senator Kean declare they will raise no hand against him.

MOTORMAN ASSAULTED; HIS CONDITION SERIOUS

DONNELLY'S SKULL FRACTURED AND HE IS NOW IN HOSPITAL.

James Donnelly, a motorman on the trolley running between Bound Brook and Raritan, was assaulted about midnight last night between Raritan and Somerville by a gang of Italians. Donnelly was running his car from Raritan to Somerville, when he heard someone call out as though he wanted to catch the car.

Donnelly stopped his car and looked around. Seeing no one he stepped on the ground to continue his investigation. As he did so several men jumped on him and struck him in the head with a club. Leaving him in the road, the gang made its escape.

There was a new conductor on the car and the assault was made so quickly that he scarcely realized what had happened. After the assailants disappeared he ran to where Donnelly lay in the road and found him unconscious. He placed him on the car and then run the trolley to Bound Brook, where Dr. Fisher was called. The physician found that Donnelly's condition was serious and he called up Dr. Long at the Somerset Hospital. Instructions were given to take the injured man to the hospital and he reached there at 2 o'clock this morning. An examination disclosed a fracture of the skull and up to an early hourt this afternoon Donnelly had not regained consciousness. His condition is considered serious. This afternoon there will be a consultation of physicians.

The police are making efforts to locate the assailants, but as yet have been unsuccessful.

Miss Ohl May Go West.

Miss Adele Ohl, of this city, who was a prominent figure at the Hippodrome last winter, has not yet decided to return there this season, although the management has made her several offers. If she does not go to New York, she will probably accept an engagement in the West.

Bank Buys Building.

The Dime Savings Institution has acquired by purchase the property now occupied by it on East Front street, from the estate of the late Captain J. Frank Hubbard. It is proposed to make extensive improvements in the building within a short time.

REGULARS WILL PICK CANDIDATES MONDAY NIGHT

Advisory Committee, Just Announced, to Meet With Executive Committee.

TO MEET AT CASINO

Complete List of Advisory Committee—All Republicans Are Invited to Attend Meeting.

A joint meeting of the Republican city executive and advisory committees will be held at the Casino Monday night to discuss and agree upon candidates for the various city offices, members of the city and county committees and delegates to the city, county and congressional conventions. Every Republican voter is invited to attend and every opportunity will be afforded for any one to voice his opinions and suggestions.

City Chairman C. J. Fisk explained to a representative of The Daily Press last night that the meeting Tuesday night was agreed upon between himself and former Mayor Alexander Gilbert, chairman of the advisory committee, and that it is to carry out the promise made sometime ago that the voters themselves must choose their candidates without any suggestion from the leaders. The membership of the advisory committee, he added, was made up of voters of all shades of opinion. He and Mr. Gilbert had had several conferences regarding the complexion of the body and now that it was completed he felt much pleased. "There is nothing left to be done now except for the voters to go ahead and tell us whom they desire as their candidates. The city committee will support only those they name and will take no part in picking out the men."

The advisory committee, as announced by Chairman Alexander Gilbert, follows:

PETTY THIEVES AT WORK ON WEST FRONT STREET

FOUR STORES ENTERED AND ATTEMPT MADE ON A FIFTH.

Petty thieves entered four stores and tried to get into another in West Front street last night. In money and other things the value of their loot didn't amount to more than $5.

From the way in which the places were entered it is supposed boys did the trick. The stores of Harry Wener, Druggist Frank Rowley, Sigmund Frucht and The Blue Front were entered. An unsuccessful attempt to get into Putnam & De Graw's was made. All the stores are on the same block.

Entrance was gained through the cellar in each case. A fountain pen and some change was taken from the pocket of an office coat left in Werner's by Harry Rottberg, a clerk, and $2.50 in stamps and money was taken from Rowley's. Nothing was missed from The Blue Front and Frucht's.

The grating leading to Putnam & De Graw's store was found up this morning, but no trace of the thieves was found inside. Mr. De Graw dropped into the store at 11 o'clock last night to see if everything was all right, and he thinks he frightened the thieves away then.

Detective McCarthy was detailed in the case by Chief Kiely this morning. An investigation convinced him that boys committed the thefts.

It was reported that the post office had been tried by thieves, but the police say there is no evidence of that.

P. S. C. TEARS UP STREET WITHOUT ANY PERMISSION.

Common Council Takes Action, It Being Found No Permit Was Granted.

For the purpose of ascertaining if any individual has the right to tear up Park avenue and lay iron pipe without securing the permission of the Common Council, a resolution of Chairman Gloak, of the street committee, was adopted at the September meeting of the Common Council, authorizing the committee to employ counsel.

It is believed that the action of the Common Council is aimed at the Public Service Corporation which is now engaged in digging a treach between this city and Metuchen on Park avenue, and laying a large gas main there. This, it is understood, will be a part of the main gas line which will extend from Camden to this city.

A large steam machine is being used to open this trench, about 2,000 feet being excavated a day. A large force of men is also employed on this work which has been in progress for some time. Mr. Gloak's attention was called to the matter, inasmuch as no request has been made for permission to lay the gas main.

CONSIDERATE DRUNK.

Callahan Stowed Himself Away When Brandy Overcame Him.

Charles Callahan was arraigned in the city court this morning charged with drunkenness. He was arrested back of French's Mill last night.

Callahan meekly confessed. He said he took three drinks of blackberry brandy for a pain in his stomach, he said, and then he felt himself getting drunk. He said he went back of the mill to get out of the way.

He promised to take the pledge, and with that understanding the Magistrate suspended sentence. Callahan was instructed to go to Father Bogan for his pledge and to bring it back for filing at police headquarters.

Board Increasing Valuations.

The Somerset County Board of Assessors met at Somerville yesterday and went over the books of the assessors of Bridgewater Township, increasing the personal valuation $35,000. Some changes were also made in the real estate valuation bringing it nearer the full value. Tomorrow the Somerset County Board of Taxation will make a tour through Montgomery township for the purpose of investigating the assessment. It is expected that the report of the taxation board will be completed by Monday.

New House Physician at Hospital.

Dr. Anthony, who has been house physician at Muhlenberg Hospital during the past six months, will complete his term on October 1, when he will practice outside. Dr. Jacob Hempstead, of Paterson, a recent graduate of the Jefferson Medical College, Philadelphia, will succeed Dr. Anthony and he is now at the hospital, and will assume his duties upon the retirement of Dr. Anthony.

CONSTIPATION CURSE OF MANKIND.

Dr. Oidman's Liv-r-oids never fail to cure Constipation, Billiousness and all Liver Complaints. They destroy the germs and thus remove the cause.

You May Try a Full-Sized Bottle Free.

Constipation is the starting point of all kinds of dangerous and distressing diseases, such as Appendicitis, Piles, Billiousness, Sick Headaches, Dyspepsia Female Troubles and scores of others. If your bowels are strong and healthy they will act properly and disease cannot enter or remain in the system. A sound Stomach means sound lasting health.

The true way to cure constipation, Billiousness, Sick Headache and all those diseases arising from a Torpid Liver, has been discovered by Dr. Oidman, and his prescription is known as Liv-r-oids. We ourselves know that Liv-r-oids will cure the worst forms of constipation and all the dangerous diseases of the Bowels and Liver, which are such a great menace to life. If you have never tried Liv-r-oids before, we will send absolutely free to every one sending name and address, a 25 cent bottle of this great remedy. Liv-r-oids make you feel right, and make you look on the bright side of life.

Liv-r-oids are not a patent medicine but an eminent physicians prescription in tablet form (formula on bottle). There is no element of doubt in the curing power of Liv-r-oids. They are not a miracle, but only science working along on natural lines assisting nature. We want you to try Liv-r-oids to-day, they sell at 25c. a bottle, but if you have not tried them before, send your name and address and you will receive a full sized bottle free—no obligations—nothing to pay—merely recommend them to your friends if they do what we claim. NEWS IN THE SUBURBS.

All the teachers were on hand at the opening of the borough schools yesterday. The new ones are Miss Ethel Rogers, of New Market, who teaches the first year (known as the reception grade); Miss Daisy Brouard, of Plainfield, who teaches the fourth grade; and Miss Aimee Minturn, of Warwick, N. Y., who teaches the second grade.

Paul Brakeley has taught his bright little fox terrier, Happy, to draw a small, four-wheeled cart. Happy pulls the cart, to which he was broken only two days ago, with every appearance of enjoyment. He is as full of tricks as a monkey, and absorbs all the new ones that his master can think of.

The improvements at the Methodist parsonage are being pushed along steadily. The old part of the house will be ready for occupancy by the time the family returns from the shore Friday, work on it being about finished today. The addition is not so far advanced.

The farmer folk of Piscataway are still talking of the twenty-mule team that went through this section last week. They never saw so many mules in a string before, and never expect to see the sight again.

The flag presented to the Whittier School by the Juniors floated proudly over the schoolhouse yesterday, when the new term opened. The standard measures 14 by 8.

Miss Iva Dayton returned to her work in a Plainfield law office yesterday, after a fifteen days' vacation. She spent the last week of the vacation at Ocean Grove.

The tax rate will probably be fixed by the Council at its next meeting. It is expected the rate will be somewhere in the neighborhood of 2 per cent.

The Borough Council will meet next Monday night. Several matters of importance will probably be discussed at the session.

Alvah Gray is able to leave the house and go about with the aid of a stout cane. His sprained foot is slowly recovering.

Miss Estelle Sofield returned to her desk in Judge Newcorn's office, Plainfield, yesterday, after a ten days' vacation.

Mrs. E. S. Dowe, of Bayonne, has returned home after a visit to the home of Mr. and Mrs. I. J. Stites.

All the roadway repair and building work has been completed in Piscataway.

Rev. E. S. Dutcher and family will return from Ocean Grove on Friday.

John Brokaw, of Clinton, has entered the employ of W. G. Runyon.

PLAINS AND FANWOOD

Mr. and Mrs. William B. Noble have returned from a two weeks' outing spent at Old Point Comfort and other places of interest in Virginia.

Mrs. John Robison and daughter, Miss Louise Robison, who have been enjoying a week at the Delaware Water Gap, have returned home.

Edwards Fields, who has been visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Fields, of Front street, has returned to his home in Maine.

The contract cases of Bohren vs. Schwalbach and Kolb vs. Rodgers will be tried in Justice Clark's court this afternoon.

Fanwood Bucket and Engine Company holds its regular monthly meeting tonight in the company rooms.

Mrs. Augusta Miller and daughter, Miss Cora, have returned from a week's stay at Asbury Park.

SOUTH PLAINFIELD.

Friends of Miss Edith Ayers will be sorry to learn of her serious accident while riding a bicycle on West Front street and Clinton avenue, where she crashed into an iron girder of the railroad bridge and fractured her arm in two places.

LOCAL AMUSEMENTS

The magnificent spectacle, "The Black Crook," will be seen at the New Plainfield theatre tomorrow night. In presenting this grand revival of the everlasting success, Managers Miller and Plohn have spared neither time nor expense in making this production an event of the current year. In addition to the dramatic and spectacular attractiveness of "The Black Crook," the management has decided to introduce several novel vaudeville acts. Among the notable engagements in this line may be mentioned The Five Donazettas, the most marvelous acrobats ever seen in an attraction of this class. The eight English girls, who present an act that is both unique and sensational.

Another great emotional drama has been given to the world, and local theatregoers will soon have the opportunity to witness the actor who made it famous, portraying the leading character in it. Creston Clarke, as John Morton, in "The Ragged Messenger," is among the early bookings at the New Plainfield theatre.

"Around the Clock," which is a comedy with real music by L. O. Smith and Sebastian Hiller, is underlined as the attraction at the New Plainfield theatre on Wednesday afternoon and night, September 12. "Around the Clock" introduces or rather further exploits the Ritchie capabilities and those of his London Comedy Company who have been such a success and furore at the vaudeville houses all over the country. Those who raved and laughed over the clever antics of this inimitable band of comedians and comediennes will find endless pleasure in witnessing "Around the Clock." The comedy is in three acts and probably the best effort of Frank Huffman, its gifted author. 'Around the Clock," which was especially written to give further scope and opportunity to the Ritchie London Comedy Company is in three acts and four scenes. Billy Ritchie, whose impersonation as the "drunk" in "A Night at a London Music Hall" won exceptional praise from the press and public, is one of the leading lights in the comedy. His role has been elaborated and he shows further powers and versatility in the part of an inebriate who seeks temporary consolation in the flowing bowl and finds it.

The magnificent Drury Lane spectacle, "The Sleeping Beauty and the Beast," announced to play at the New Plainfield theatre next Monday night, is gaining more popularity with playgoers at every performance and continues to meet with capacity houses everywhere it is presented. Many elaborate productions have been made by various managers, but none of them have approached this present wonderful fairy spectacle. It might be termed a series of spectacles, by reason of its lavish scenic display, its wealth of gorgeous costumes of which one thousand are worn, and its splendid ballets, groupings, and stage pictures, all of which follow swiftly on each other with increasing brilliancy. There are scenes which do not simply show you their magnificence, but fairly hurl their magnificence at you. One is called the "Dream of the Year" in which the ballet of the "four seasons" is introduced and it is doubtful if a more exquisite effect has ever been realized on any stage. Over two hundred persons are in the stupendous cast, besides one hundred mechanics, carpenters, electricians and property men.

To do what is called, commonly, a colored show well enough nowadays to "catch the money," a manager must fill it full of novelties in song, scenery, dance, story, humor, organization and comedians. "The old stuff won't go," wise people will tell you. The public is always asking, like Oliver Twist, for more, but not for more of what you have been giving them. They must have novelties in every direction or the "used to," surely "won't go now." Nobody knows this better than the manager who brings "The Smart Set" to the New Plainfield theatre next Saturday afternoon and night. Consequently he has packed it chock full of features brand new and of the very best types of the schools from which they have been derived. In fact many of them will start new schools.

In the struggle between "Ready Money" Ryder, financial king, and Shirley Rossmore, the daughter of the man whom he has intrigued against and who is in love with Ryder's son, Charles Klein in "The Lion and the Mouse" has brought about complications that furnish excellent dramatic material and that give rise to dramatic scenes of an intensity and appeal such as have not been witnessed on the stage in recent years. For the interpretation of its principal characters Mr. Harris has shown much wisdom in the selection of an especially fine cast to interpret the play which is worthy in every way of the best actors. The date announced for this production is tonight at the New Plainfield theatre.

"Sergeant Kitty," a comic opera new to this section of the country, is the attraction announced to be seen at the New Plainfield theatre next Tuesday night. It comes here with a well earned reputation of success in New York, where it ran for one hundred and fifty nights at the Casino and at Daly's theatre, the two best theatres in the metropolis which are devoted to high class musical attractions, and the piece has also been received alike by critics and the general theatre-going public an all cities visited this year with nothing but the highest and most enthusiastic of praise. There are sixty in the company. The music by A. Baldwin Sloane and the book by R. H. Burnside are of the best in comic opera and the singers and comedians are most of them known and favorably known to lovers of comic opera from their successes in previous seasons.

Patrick Breen, of this city, has returned home after visiting his sister in Jersey City.

Mrs. W. F. Williams, of Somerset street, has returned from a pleasant stay at Asbury Park.

Mrs. Emma Burr, of Scranton, Pa., returned home yesterday after a visit with her father, Dan S. Roberts, of Prospect place.

D. OF A. ANNUAL SESSION TO BE HELD AT TRENTON.

Elaborate Preparations for the Event are Being Made, New Officers Will Be Elected.

Preparations are being made for the convention of the National council of the Daughters of America, which convenes in Trenton Tuesday and Wednesday, October 2 and 3. A large number of delegates from points all over the country will attend and business of much importance is to be transacted.

This is the annual session of the order, which is held for the purpose of auditing the books of the officers, electing new officers, ascertaining the general condition of the order, and for settling on policies tending toward increased growth and efficiency in the attainment of the principles for which the Daughters of America stand.

A full set of officers is to be elected with the exception of treasurer and secretary. The national secretary, Mrs. Max C. Roth, of Columbus, Ohio, and A. M. Vaux, of Washington, D. C., the national treasurer, have been elected for three-year terms.

The Daughters of America is the auxiliary to the Jr. O. U. A. M. and numbers about 36,000 members in the United States. The order is especially strong in Ohio, which has 134 councils and 10,000 members. Maryland comes second with 56 councils and about 7,000 members. Pennsylvania, New York, Kentucky and New Jersey are also strong in the work. Altogether the order is represented by councils in 30 different States. The order was organized in 1891. It pledges its assistance to the Juniors in every good work and has no divided allegiance. It exists for the purpose of advancing the interests of the Jr. O. U. A. M. only.

PARCELS POST BEING FOUGHT.

Merchants' League Formed at Various Cities With Headquarters at New York.

New York, Sept. 5.—A movement has been started by the merchants, jobbers and manufacturers of the large centres of the country to oppose the efforts to induce Congress to establish a parcels post system. The interests opposed to the plan have combined under the name of the Merchants' League of America and headquarters were opened by the league yesterday at 280 Broadway.

In a statement issued yesterday by the officers of the league it was asserted that the agitation for the parcels post was being fostered by the catalogue mail order firms, which were seeking to saddle on the government, by means of a domestic parcels post system, the bulk of the expense of delivering their goods to purchasers.

The league says that the establishment of a domestic parcels post means the multiplying by many times the already enormous annual deficit of the Postoffice Department, a deficit which increased from less than $3,000,000 in 1902 to more than $14,500,000 for the fiscal year 1905. For the fiscal year ending June 30, 1906, it is believed the deficit will exceed $15,000,000, while competent authorities figure that under a domestic parcels post the annual deficit would reach a total of $150,000,000

Such a deficit would have to be made good by the government through the taxation of the whole people. Thus summed up, the campaign of these catalogue mail order houses is to compel the small merchants of the country to pay the cost of their own extermination.

May Die As Result of a Dare.

Paterson, Sept. 5.—Joseph Wisdom, twelve years old, may lose his life as the result of a dare. With his brother, Isaac, who is fifteen years old, and other companions, he was swimming yesterday in the Passaic River, on the outskirts of Paterson, when one the boys dared any one in the party to leap from the upper girders of the Lincoln bridge. Joseph accepted the dare. The boy struck a canoe that was passing under the bridge, and was badly cut.

Joyful News for Women—A Sale of Fine
Taffeta Silk Petticoats
$4.90.
You Can Save $2.50 to $3.75 on a Petticoat.

A maker of fine umbrellas who is accustomed to use nothing but the highest grade silks thought it would be a good scheme to go into the skirt making business, but found after a trial that he could not keep them up to the high standard he desired and sell them at as low price as he wished; so he closed out this branch of his business and we bought the stock he had left—bringing to us, and now to you, one of the best petticoat bargains this or any other store has ever offered.

The skirts are made in many styles with deep plaited, circular or shirred flounces, and a very heavy quality of elegant taffeta is used in the making. All the newest two-toned colors, navy, brown, green, jasper and medium grays, including all the newest solid colors in evening shades, as well as all black, are in the lot. The regular selling price of skirts such as these would be $7.98 to $8.75. We will offer a lot of 500 for one day's selling only at the special price of $4.90

MALE VOTERS IN WESTERN STATES RECOGNIZE WOMEN.

Western voters in the Democratic and Republican parties alike have lately given marked recognition in a political way to women. In Illinois, both parties have nominated women for minor offices, while in Ohio, during the convention of Mahoney county Democrats, a resolution was passed as follows: "We favor complete woman suffrage."

The Republicans of Illinois have nominated Mrs. Carrie A. Alexander, as one of the trustees of the State University. The Democrats of the same State have nominaed Clara P. Bourland, for the same position. The Democrats have nominated Miss Caroline Groute, State Superintendent of Public Instruction. Her nomination aroused greater enthusiasm in the convention than that of any other candidate. When called upon for a speech the band played "Good Morning, Carrie," and the convention went wild.

Woman's ingenuity was exemplified in the way the Iowa suffragists took to bring their question before the recent Rupublican State convention. The weather was intensely hot and the women supplied all the delegates with fans. On the back of each fan were quotations in favor of woman suffrage from prominent Republicans, beginning with President Roosevelt. The perspiring delegates received the fans with delight and during the four hours of waiting for the report of the credentials committee they had plenty of time to read the mottoes.

THE MAN FOR MAYOR.

The Republican party will make no mistake if it nominates for mayor Charles J. Fisk, who has been characterized by an appreciative public as "Plainfield's first citizen." Without any doubt he is the most valuable man this municipality has to muster into service for its chief executiveship and that is saying much for there is any quantity of good men who would fill the office creditably. The existence of a Colbyite movement in local politics shows that there are some dissatisfied members in the party ranks. Therefore for organization expediency, if for no better reason, it is necessary that a man of the highest integrity and ability be chosen as the candidate. What better choice could be made?

REGISTER!

Every voter should see that his name is on the registery list. Next Tuesday is the last day for registering to vote at the primaries on September 25. service in both departments. The new law would give Chief Doane a salary of $1,500 and that of Assistant Jennings $1,200. The total increase in the police department salaries would not be quite as much as that of the fire department.

In the petition presented by Patrolmen Herbert L. Overbaugh, Charles Flynn and W. F. McCarty, it was stated that during the past year the patrolmen have put in 433 2-3 hours overtime for which they received no compensation, that they are obliged to equip themselves when entering the service at an expense of $125 for the first year and $90 for every year thereafter. The petition also stated the salaries now paid to the officers and patrolmen which it is claimed are not adequate for the service rendered.

GYMNASIUM REOPENS.

Guard Rail Built To Save Spectators From Tumbles Downstairs.

The Y. M. C. A. gymnasium reopened last night, with furnishings and equipment renovated and repaired. Twenty-five or thirty members dropped into the gym during the evening, and tried the new punching bag and basketball.

The floor presents a changed appearance at the east end. A guard rail reaching from floor to ceiling has been built to keep the basketball from falling downstairs on a wild throw or a pass. The rail also does away with the risk of accidents from tumbles by "railbirds" at a basketball game.

Wings and Flies

By Tom Muir.

The five Donazettis, who do an acrobatic turn in Miller and Plohn's production of the "Black Crook," which appears in this city tomorrow night, are Italians, but have been in this country for many years. They were the first to use acrobatic work as a climax in melodramatic effect. They conceived the idea of the living bridge in the "Span of Life," a popular offering of a few years ago, over which the heroine used to flee to safety from the "villyun." The idea was new and there was quite a hunt on the part of the management to find a young woman who would take the risk of a bad fall to the stage below. At last a plucky actress was found, and night after night she raced across the men's backs as they hung suspended over the stage chasm and the river that lay below. Generally a set water strip was placed in front of the rocks to represent the river, and behind it was a mattress to break the heroine's fall should she slip. But the night the play appeared in Music Hall some ten years ago, the mattress was forgotten, and of course that was the night she had to fall. She hit the hard stage with a thump that could be heard all over the house but alarmed lest she should be injured, the audience quickly gave way to loud guffaws and applause, when a gallery god yelled, "Great Heavens! the river is frozen."

If the opinions of the critics are to be relied upon, John Drew has made one of the greatest triumphs in his career in "His House in Order," which opened at the Empire theatre, New York, Monday night. The play is by A. W. Pinero, the author of "The Second Mrs. Tanqueray," and has already proven a big success in London. Mr. Drew is supported by Miss Margaret Illington.

Richard Carle has decided to use "The Mayor of Tokio" for the early part of the present season but just before the holidays will appear in a new musical fantasy, "A Spring Chicken." Miss Emma Janvier, who is remembered for her work as "Madame Stitch, the wardrobe mistress," will be a member of the cast, having foregone her proposed starring tour.

A little girl who with her mother was witnessing a performance of "The Lion and the Mouse" at the Lyceum theatre, New York, recently, and who had doubtless read Aesop's fable of that name, sat all through the play with rapt interest until just before the final curtain she asked in a plaintive voice that could be heard all through the lower floor, "Mamma, when does the lion come out?"

WALDRON ARRESTED AGAIN.

His Wife Says He Tried to Drive Her From Home.

John Waldron was arrested yesterday on complaint of his wife, who charged him with putting her out of their house, at 316 McDowell street, Monday night. The case was laid over until Friday in the city court this morning.

This is the second time Waldron has been arrested on complaint of the wife within two months. The couple have had trouble several times before. When arraigned on the first complaint Waldron promised to stop quarreling and care for his wife. Mrs. Waldron has retained W. L. Hetfield, 2d, to prosecute her complaint. Waldron is represented by S. Trimmer's Charge Dismissed.

James Trimmer's complaint against Joseph Wright, on whose charge he was held for the grand jury yesterday, for alleged assault and battery, was dismissed by Judge Runyon in the city court this morning. Trimmer accused Wright of drunkenness and disorder. The charge is part of the quarrel that led to Trimmer's arrest. He ejected Wright from his premises on August 24, and Wright charged him with using undue force. Trimmer claimed Wright came on the porch drunk, and insulted him with profane and abusive language.

PETITION CITY FATHERS

All Sorts of Requests Made to the Common Council Last Night.

FOR A SKATING RINK

After Being Turned Down By North Plainfield, George Cook Asks Permit in Plainfield.

Failing in his efforts to get permission from the borough council to erect a skating rink across the brook, George Cook, of East Front street, petitioned the Common Council last night for a permit to erect a cement block building on the Boice property located off of Elm street near Tier's pond. The petition was referred to the fire and building committee.

E. M. French petitioned for the privilege of extending the sanitary sewer in East Second street from Netherwood to Hillcrest avenue, the work to be done under the direction of Street Commissioner Gavett. The matter was referred to the street committee, and later granted on motion of Mr. Gloak.

A. D. Thompson asked the Common Council to accept Denmark road to Ravine road, also Dixie Lane and to install sanitary sewers there, agreeing to macadamize those thoroughfares within six months after the sewers are put in. The petition was referred to the street committee.

An invitation was received from the League of American Municipalities, asking the Common Council to send a representative to the convention to be held in Chicago, September 26, 27 and 28. The invitation was filed.

A. D. Thompson asked that Ravine road, from Berkeley avenue to Charlotte road, a distance of 1,200 feet, be macadamized. The matter was referred.

On motion of Chairman Daniel, of the finance committee, the petition of S. W. Frucht asking for a proper release on his property located on Plainfield avenue was granted. The petition was accompanied by a statement from Tax Collector J. W. Murray, Jr., setting forth the facts. Mr. Frucht's property was sold in 1903 for taxes and he has since redeemed it.

A petition from B. A. Mumford asking that an electric light be located opposite his factory on Rose street was referred to the light committee.

Joseph A. Hubbard and other residents of West Fifth street, between Park avenue and Plainfield avenue, petitioned the Common Council to establish a building line on that street between the two avenues named, so as to maintain a uniform alignment of buildings. The line asked for varies from twenty-three feet from the curb line near Park avenue to forty-six feet near Plainfield avenue. The matter was referred to the street committee.

C. F. Abbott, representing the trustees of the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian church, and other residents of Crescent avenue, asked the Common Council to cover Crescent avenue with a coating of tar, citing the fact that it is now eight years since the avenue has been repaired. The matter was referred to the street committee.

Clerk Horace G. Adams, of the District Court, presented his regular report, showing that $81.82 had been received in feas, etc., and that there is a balance of $57.92 on hand after paying expenses incurred by the court. The report was filed.

Mr. Daniel offered a resolution providing for the borrowing of $1,200 for sewer improvements, and the resolution was adopted, as was also another one by the same member, borrowing $2,000 for the fire fund and $500 for the poor fund, the same to be secured by four months' notes.

In response to a petition from property-owners, Chairman Mellick, of the fire committee, offered a resolution locating one two-way fire hydrant at Jackson avenue and George street. The resolution was adopted.

On motion of Mr. Mellick, the petition of the Ransom Cement Machinery Company asking for the privilege to substitute concrete in place of brick in constructing the walls for its new factory, was granted. The concrete is to be re-inforced.

Mr. Mellick also offered a motion which was adopted, accepting the resignation of David S. Dunavan, as a member of the call service.

Chairman Gloak, of the street committee, presented the plans for the extension of the Richmond street storm sewer and bids for doing this work will be received at the regular October meeting.

For the purpose of disposing of the city's property at 207, 209 and 211 Plainfield avenue and the property at West Fifth and New streets, acquired under a tax sale, Mr. Daniel offered a resolution which was adopted, authorizing the finance committee to advertise for bids for these properties to be sold to the highest bidder.

In accordance with a resolution offered by Mr. Daniel, the finance committee was given $500 for the purpose of assisting the members in securing an equitable assessment of taxes in Union county, and the committee was authorized to do all in its power to see that an equitable assessment is made.

COLBY MOVEMENT DENOUNCED BY LABOR.

Union County Trades Council to Oppose Spread of "New Idea."

The Union County Trades Council, through its Committee for Political Advancement, has denounced the Colby movement, and advised the members of the various trades connected with the council to have nothing to do with the Colby men.

It is the intention of the Trades Council to make known this fact all through the county, by letter, by publication and by visits in person, so that all laboring men in the county may know that they are advised by the Trades Council to oppose the spread of the Colby movement.

At a recent meeting of the Trades Council Thomas Debevoise, a "new idea" worker, asked to be admitted to speak on Colbyism. A motion to admit him was laid on the table, and Mr. Debevoise went away without having been admitted to the meeting. A meeting of the Committee on Political Advancement, which is to formulate political plans for the council, was set for last night, and it was understood that the question of admitting a Colby man at a future meeting of the Trades Council would then be discussed. There are fifteen men on the committee.

When the matter came up last night several men pointed out that the Colby men in the last Legislature had never voted for any of the labor bills that came up. Colby himself was the only one who voted for any of the labor bills. He voted for the plumbers' license bill, which was defeated. Afterward, it was said, he regretted that he had done so.

The committee of fifteen last night was unanimous in declaring against Colby. They passed a resolution that since there had been considerable agitation among workingmen over the Colby idea, the workingmen were warned not to have anything to do with that party.

This view of the committee will be spread throughout the county. The members of the committee say they have no doubt but that they will be secure in their following in opposing Colby candidates at the primaries.

The committee declares that it had nothing against Assemblymen Perkins and Tillman, as they had voted for labor measures. But they wanted it under stood that if the Republican party is to get the support of the Republicans among them, a third man would have to be nominated who sympathized with labor. The same would be true of the Democrats.

In each polling district it is the intention of the committee to have men instruct the workingmen of both parties as to primaries and to spread the idea of picking out men who stand in a satisfactory relation with the unions.

A committee of five will come to Plainfield to explain the stand of the Trades Council. Letters will be sent to other towns in the county.

It was decided that the secretary of the committee should write to the secretary of the American Federation of Labor and obtain the record of Charles N. Fowler on labor measures that came up in Congress.

Extension of Underground Work.

A large gang of Italians were put to work this morning on West Front street opening up a trench for the underground telephone conduits. The work will be extended from Madison avenue to Grant avenue, and is a part of the extensive work being carried on here by the New York and New Jersey Telephone Company.

Caught Foot Between Pickets.

Arthur Mitchell, of West Third street, fell as he was descending the steps in front of the Mount Olive Baptist church, last night. His right foot caught between the pickets of a fence and it was so severely sprained he had to be removed to his home in a carriage. He will be confined for several days.

Must Remove Screens on Sunday.

Judge Edward S. Atwater, of the Court of Common Pleas, has decided that in the case of all places receiving liquor license from his court screens must be removed from the windows and doors on Sundays.

MISSIONARIES TALK.

Miss Shinn and Dr. Degenring Address First Baptists.

An unusually large number attended the quarterly meeting of the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society of the First Baptist church, held yesterday afternoon in the church lecture room. Miss Julia G. Shinn, of Lakewood, who has been for seven years a successful teacher in the Kemenlim Girls' school, Rangoon, Burmah, gave an address of deep interest telling of her work and the great good accomplished by the native christian teachers who went from their school to teach the villages of Burmah.

Dr. Anna Degenring, of Elizabeth, who will sail September 19 for India as a medical missionary, spoke most impressively of the need of medical missionaries the ability of women alone to enter the zenanal, and argued from Christ's example and that of his disciples that healing the sick was a fit accompaniment for the preaching of the gospel story. Tea was served at the conclusion of the exercises.

P. S. C. Improvements.

The latter part of the week the Public Service Corporation will commence the work of laying new rails and ties on West Front street, between New street and Grant avenue. The rails now in use have been in the service since the road was opened in that part of the town and are very much worn.

Outdoor Meeting.

Another outdoor meeting will be held by the Y. M. C. A. at Concert Park next Sunday afternoon. Rev. E. E. Roberson, of the Monroe Avenue M. E. church, will speak.

GOTHAM'S AMUSEMENTS

Blanche Walsh has achieved a sensational triumph, and the "Kreutzer Sonata" a wonderful ovation, as produced by Managers Wagenhals & Kemper at the Manhattan theatre. The audience crowds the playhouse to the doors every night and is wildly enthusiastic. At the conclusion of the play, with its terrific catastrophe, Miss Walsh rises to a tragic height that electrifies the audience. She is forced to respond to curtain calls. There is no question but that Miss Walsh and the "Kreutzer Sonata" will remain the popular and sensational success of this season. Despite the heat, the house has been crowded to the doors since the opening, and advance sales prophesy that the play has caught the town. The purpose of the play is to illustrate the possible crimes that may be attributed to racial prejudice and the tendency of domestic ties to degenerate when the younger generation is suddenly bereft of the conditions which surrounded its childhood. There are noticeable more tragedies among the families which have migrated here from foreign countries than among those who have been here for more than a generation, and the "Kreutzer Sonata" is illustrative of why this is so. Jacob Gordin, author of the "Kreutzer Sonata," has been called the Yiddish Shakespeare. He has written more than seventy plays during the past fifteen years, all of which have been acted in the Yiddish language. Although such a prolific writer, the "Kreutzer Sonata" is the first of his plays to be heard in English.

The first new attraction Col. Henry W. Savage offers in New York this season is presented at the New Amsterdam theatre, Harry Bulger in the new music play, "The Man From Now," which exploits a very novel and interesting idea conceived by John Kendrick Bangs and Vincent Bryan, with music by Manuel Klein. The story is told in two acts, preceded by a brief prologue. Prof. Forcasta, a learned scientist, has endeavored to discover a magic fluid which will project present-day dwellers on earth to a perfect land in the far future His quest is not successful until a wandering mendicant called "Steve Waffles" appears in his laboratory with a bottle of a secret concoction of his own make. One drop of this mixed with the fluid compounded by Prof. Forcasta perfects the latter's research. Forcasta, Waffles, Pennypacker, a billionaire, and a bucolic Sherlock Holmes called Beasley, partake of the fluid, and, in an instant, are whirled from the laboratory to the campus of "Gassar College" in "Screamland" in the year 2906. Here many queer customs are in vogue. The possession of more money than one can legitimately spend is a crime and women rule everywhere. Athletics comprise the entire curriculum of the college, presided over by "Matricula." The advent of the quartette from the present day becomes a great event in this future time, as it brings about the introduction of another figure into that era, called "Jack," a man who

Is Rivaled by Human Hair Where Dandruff is Eradicated.
Sealskin is admired the world over for its softness and glossiness; and yet the human hair is equally as soft and glossy when healthy; and the radical cause of all hair trouble is dandruff, which is caused by a pestiferous parasite that saps the vitality of the hair at its root. Newbro's Herpicide is the only preparation that is fatal to the dandruff germ. Without dandruff there is no falling hair, but a luxuriant growth of glossy, soft hair is certain. Scouring the scalp won't cure dandruff. Kill the dandruff germ. Thousands of women owe their beautiful suits of hair to Newbro's Herpicide. Sold by leading druggists. DEATH OF MRS. MARY E. BOWNE.

Mrs. Mary E. Bowne, widow of the late Samuel Bowne, died at her home, 1 Arlington avenue, Brooklyn, on Monday, aged 77 years. She was a daughter of the late Thomas Titus, of Flushing, L. I., and was born in the house in which she died. She was a member of the Flushing Monthly Meeting of Friends. Her husband died in 1894. Mrs. Bowne is survived by two sons, Samuel Bowne, Jr., and Thomas T. Bowne, and a daughter, Miss Mary E. Bowne. Funeral services will be held at the house on Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Interment will be in Flushing.

SEA GIRT TO LOSE BIG TOURNAMENTS.

That's What the Opposition to Gen. Spencer Means.

Sea Girt, Sept. 5.—At a stormy five-hour meeting the National Rifle Association elected a board of directors that is pledged to oust the president, General Bird W. Spencer, of New Jersey, inspector-general of rifle practice, who has held office ever since the association was reorganized six years ago.

The association also voted to request that the national matches be held next year in Ohio, a request which practically amounts to a decision of the national board for the promotion of rifle practice, which decides the matter.

Furthermore the association voted that hereafter the matches of the National Rifle Association which have for years been held here, be held in connection with the national matches.

The effect of this is practically to kill the tournament at Sea Girt, where the State of New Jersey has expended $250,000 in the range to equip it for the national and the association matches. The vote to take away the national rifle association matches was the effect of a combination of heavy delegations of members from the West which wants the big shoot at a more central point, and certain opposition to General Spencer.

Smallpox Stamped Out.

Newton, Sept. 5.—The outbreak of smallpox, which started here on July 15, when several persons were found suffering from a mild type of the disease, which had previously been styled chickenpox, was finally stamped out Friday, when the last patient was discharged from quarantine. The Board of Health and local physicians have worked together throughout and prompt and rigid measures proved successful in confining the trouble to the part of town where the disease first was located and a general spread of the trouble prevented, in spite of the fact that it had existed for several weeks prior to July 15 and some of the earlier patients had recovered.

Ball Player Killed by Train.

Stanhope, Sept. 5.—While attempting to board a train here Saturday, Joseph Fleming, twenty-two years old, of this place, slipped under the wheels and was instantly killed. He was on his way to play a game of baseball at Andover. He leaves his mother and two sisters and was engaged to Miss Alice Grogen, of Netcong.

By OLIVIA B. STROHM

(Copyright, 1905, by Olivia B. Strohm).

"Heyday, heyday!" exclaimed their host, "am I the victim of a conspiracy? This is what comes of an old fool's meddling!" But there was a twinkle in his eye, and the frown was a failure. While Lavender went cajolingly up to him, and stroked his arm in a gentle caress. Winslow said: "Call it 'an old fool's meddling,' if you like, Col. Boone, but to me you are an agent of Providence. As you see, sir, I have the honor to be acquainted with this young lady, and am come in search of her. A crude hint left by Owatoga brought me here; you guided me the rest of the way; my story is told—it is I who have all to learn."

"Women are better talkers than men—even old men," Boone retorted, with mock gruffness. "I refer you to the young woman herself. I'll just step down to the spring and dress these rabbits for supper. Folks can't live on talk—nor love, either."

With this parting shot, delivered over his shoulder between nods and knowing winks, the old man slipped into the thicket.

After a moment's silence, made awkward by the pioneer's significant words and manner, Lavender said: "Did you see mother? Is she"—her eager eyes supplied the question.

"She is well, or, at least, no worse. I saw her yesterday afternoon."

Then rapidly he detailed what had happened since her absence. "Your mother is reassured as far as it lay in my power, but, of course, we must return as soon as possible."

"Oh, if we only can! Every moment is precious." Lavender urged, then reproachfully: "I couldn't make Owatoga take me back. He insisted upon waiting over to-day, at least. When I appealed to Col. Boone, he said I must be patient until sunrise to-morrow. If nobody came in search for me by that time he would himself take me home."

"So I am superfluous; shall I go back—alone?"

She shook her head in smiling dissent, and he went on: "But I am not altogether useless, since I have brought you this," and he produced the bundle which the slave had given him.

"America! The dear, thoughtful soul!"

Lavender's lip quivered between a smile and tear at sight of the package with its careful wrapping.

"And this." Winslow drew from his knapsack the small silk bag he had picked up on the beach.

"Thank you." Then, as she took the bag, and came a step closer: "And thank you for coming for me," she said, sweetly. Then, drawing back with a petulant sigh: "But, indeed, it seems I shall never have done with thanking you."

"Is it, then, so hard to thank me?" His eyes demanded a reply.

It came with reluctant grace: "It is never comfortable to be placed under obligations."

"Pardon me," he asked, meekly; "but are those really your reasons in the abstract, or only in my own unfortunate case?"

She half-turned from him, idly poking the fire with a stalk of sugar cane. "An obligation is a bond—a fetter," she said.

"Sometimes," he admitted. "It is also a tie."

Then unconsciously his voice softened, and he stepped very near: "I can imagine that obligation might be happiness."

He was emboldened by her yielding manner, and, too, the words of her mother rang in his ears like the refrain of a harp: "You, whom she loves!"

He had refused to accept the words as sober, serious truth; and had said over and over again to himself that he had mistaken their import, but in spite of judgment, the memory of them gave him courage.

"The heaviest obligation in the world," he said, "brings the most happiness."

She looked up quickly, with a sidewise turn of the head. Then, irrelevantly: "There, I had forgotten the meal, and Col. Boone wants hoecake for supper." Resuming her task, she applied herself to the gritter.

She sat on the ground. The once stiff folds of her muslin gown now draggling limply about her, were stained with berry juice and looped here and there with cockle burrs. She shivered a little in the night wind, and without a word Winslow put the cape of his coat around her.

Boone promptly returned, and together he and Lavender set about preparations for supper. Winslow looked on in lazy, satisfied silence.

The meal was spread on the ground in the most primitive style.

"If you want to be useful while you sit there, Mr. Winslow, sir, suppose you sharpen these twigs for forks? That rabbit will be too hot for any fingers but mine."

Winslow assumed the work with a show of earnestness, but looked up often to watch Lavender. In the weird light that was neither sun, nor moon, nor fire, but a blending of all three, she flitted about like a wraith of sunbeams entombed in the forest shades. It was one aspect of her charm for him—this entire gratification of his artistic sense. It was not her beauty alone that pleased him; it was the element of the picturesque, the dramatic which that beauty never lacked.

He watched her now, as she waited upon Daniel Boone, whose wishes she seemed ever to anticipate. A gourd of water for the part of the fire that was too hot; more salt for the meat, or a deft turn of the hoe-cake when needed.

To this primitive cooking she brought an alert interest that vastly pleased the old pioneer. She toasted bits of venison on the end of a bayonet held over the coals, and, shielding with the free hand her cheek from the firelight's glow, she hid, too, the blush that covered it at the old man's words of praise.

"She'll be a fine housekeeper some day; I envy the lucky fellow she's to cook for;" and to this simple soul, praise of woman could no further go.

At last the game was done to a turn, the hoe-cake ready, and these, with jelly and rice pies from America's bundle, completed the feast. There was a moment's wait, while Boone said a short, quaint grace. To the closing words "for the preservation of our lives," he added an unctuous "Amen," exchanging glances with Winslow. The young man bowed lower, his thoughts thus solemnly recalled to the danger of the afternoon, safely passed.

Then he changed the subject lightly. "I am glad I came, even though—" he added, reproachfully, "our lady here has broadly hinted that I am unnecessary — if not an unwelcome guest. She tells me that I did not need to come, for you were going to take her home to-morrow. What do you think of that for hospitality, sir?"

Lavender shook her head at this teasing distortion of her words, but before she could speak, Boone interposed with gravity: "And did you tell her that but for you there would have been no Dan Boone to escort her—or anybody else—to-morrow?"

Lavender uttered a little scream of dismay, looking from one to the other fearfully.

Boone continued: "He could, had he chosen, come out best in that argument, child. If it hadn't been for his quick eye and hand, the woods would never again have echoed to this gun, and that red devil yonder would have had another scalp at his belt—another life on his soul."

Lavender was silent, awe-struck, and for a space nobody spoke.

To break the spell which threatened to mar the time, Boone said: "See the new moon! Let's made a wish."

And all three turned from the firelight to see the crescent moon that, like a silver cradle rocked a star.

THE PLAIN TRUTH.

What More Can Plainfield People Ask?

When well-known residents and highly-respected people of Plainfield make such statements as the following, it must carry conviction to every reader:

Mrs. Martha Snedeker, of 244 East Third street, Plainfield, N. J., says: "Some six weeks ago I began using Doan's Kidney Pills for an attack of kidney trouble that had been annoying me for a long time, procuring the remedy at Randolph's drug store. My main symptoms were severe backaches and pains in the top and back of my head, a stiffness in the limbs—especially my arms, and a sediment in the urine that looked like brick-dust. I had a languid feeling of weakness and depression and physicians did not help me. Doan's Kidney Pills did seem to reach the cause of my trouble, however, and that very quickly and now all those aches and pains I have described have disappeared and the kidney secretions are perfectly normal, all of which is due to the healing virtues of Doan's Kidney Pills and their direct action on the kidneys."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Car Breaks; Many Get Free Coal.

Rahway, Sept. 5.—An eastbound Pennsylvania Railroad coal train, moving at a lively rate, made a special free delivery of coal through Rahway yesterday afternoon, when the fastening of a hopper at the bottom of a car distributed over the tracks for a distance of two blocks sixty tons of stove coal. In less than an hour many men, women, boys and girls had carried home most of the coal.

MORE "AIR LINE" TALK IN THE AIR.

Another Project Aired by a Judge from the Breezy West.

New York, Sept. 5.—Air line rumors and air line projects fill the air around the financial district. Only a few days ago Joseph Ramsey, Jr., erstwhile president of the Wabash, verbally gave to the more or less expectant world his outline of his project of an electric road from New York to Chicago. This he did with an air no doubt calculated to carry conviction and clear the air of all doubts as to the feasibility of his air line plan cast upon it by critics and carpers.

Now from out of the wind-swept prairies of Iowa comes one Judge A. H. McVey, of the District Court of Des Moines. With him he brings the air of a typical Kentucky colonel and incidentally another air line to run from New York and Boston to Chicago, thereby outdoing the Ramsey airline-by-the-air project from Boston to New York. This can be covered in a breath, some financial men say.

The judge from the airy wastes of Iowa, who, by the way, is the temporary vice-president and general counsel of the New York, Boston and Chicago Electric Railway, the air line last referred to, is not a bit averse to launching upon the circumambient air his views as to the ultimate success of the particular air line whose advantages and attractions he is at the present time engaged in airing in the expensive offices of the air line, in the annex of 20 Broad street.

That the judge is serious should not be doubted notwithstanding the light and airy manner in which he skims over the difficulties confronting his air line in the way of procuring substantial steel and stone terminals in the terminal cities. "Our engineers are now considering this question," says the judge. "We have no terminal facilities in New York, but hope to get them when we need them. When the people realize that we are going to run trains with the speed of the wind, carrying people East to West on our air line in ten hours, they will rise up and demand that our air line be afforded terminal facilities. We expect some little trouble in Boston, but the Windy City problem is the easiest of the lot."

When asked about the right of way from Boston to Chicago, the judge replied that none had so far been acquired, but the engineers were engaged in making their lines. Still in the air, as it were. In conclusion, and with a most serious air the Judge made it plain that his air line company has no connection with the Chicago-New York Electric Air Line Railroad Company. This latter company advertises to construct an electric railroad over a direct route from Chicago to New York, cutting off many miles over the routes of the railroads now operating between these cities and covering the distance in ten hours.

Mishap Follows Mishap.

Rockaway, Sept. 5.—Three men arrived here yesterday in a top wagon, drawn by two horses. One of the men who gave his name as James Brown, which is supposed to be fictitious, had a big gash in one leg and had the wound dressed in the drug store. He said that they drove from Mendham to Mt. Tabor, where his leg was caught in the whiffletree. They came to Rockaway to get surgical assistance. When the three started to drive away the front wheels of their wagon stuck fast in the trolley track in Main street and both were wrecked.

Ricks His Life to Save Boy.

Rahway, Sept. 5.—As a train on the Pennsylvania Railroad was waiting on the track here today for some paraders to get on board a crowd gathered to hear the band. T. W. Robinson, looking down the track, saw an express coming at full speed. A colored lad was standing in the middle of the track, and at the risk of his own life Mr. Robinson sprang for the boy, caught him by the collar and fell backward with him on the platform as the flier sped by. The rescued boy was so scared that he dashed down Cherry street and was running when last seen.

The Y. M. C. A. directors will meet Thursday night.

COPS DEFEAT NEWARK NEWSPAPER MEN EASILY

BUNDLE OF ERRORS UNDOES THE VISITORS IN THE SECOND INNING.

Rehearsing for their performance against the Trenton police nine Friday, the cops trimmed the Newark News team yesterday afternoon on Crescent Oval. The News bunch had an easy time here with the Newspaper Men, but the Cops took large and ample vengeance for their friends, the Scribes. Score 10 to 4.

The News line was perked up and new in spots. The chief exhibit was Duffy, back of the bat. Duffy disported his manly form in a real and war-worn uniform, bearing the marks of fearful frays in the Lackawanna League. What Duffy did to Willie Mullen's delivery gave Willie a pain and caused him to murmur "Ringer."

The Cops had something to balance the bush league star in the shape of Hon. J. Scott, slab star of the Clinton Avenues. Scotty waltzed with professional aplomb in and about centerfield, and clouted one of Harry Hughes' chucks real hard and sassylike.

The downfall of the News came in the second. Blind staggers seized the nine, and every appearance of a round, leather-covered object brought on a paroxysm more fearsome than anything ever seen on the Oval before. The Cops carded seven runs in that session, and put the game away for keeps right there.

Mullen pitched a good game. He had speed, and except for one inning, unshaken control. Willie worked for a shut-out until Hacquer drew a walk and Brother Tommy slung the ball over second, allowing the runner to kick over the whitewash bucket. Thereafter Willie was not so ferocious, and a bingle or two slipped in.

The Newark athletes will be the guests of the Cops at the supper following the game against Trenton Friday afternoon. They will play the Elizabeth Times nine that day, and come up here after the contest.

DIAMOND DUST.

The Clinton Avenues will meet the All-Americans at Crescent Oval Saturday afternoon. The nines have met before; the All-Americans have a defeat to wipe out, but John Kriney's colts cannot see how they are to do it. Capt. Carter's men will line-up as follows: Warwick, ss; Coleman, rf; Brown, 3b; Carter, cf; Hatchett, lf; Joe Garner, 2b; McLane, c; Hammond, 1b; John Garner, p. Brown is a Rahway high school lad.

The Orange Field Club football squad will turn out for practice at Concert Park Thursday night. They will setart at 8:30.

Health Inspector William Addis returned yesterday from his vacation spent in and near Boston. Last Saturday he witnessed the baseball game at Boston between the Philadelphia Athletics and the Bostons, when twenty-four innings were played to determine the winner.

GOLF.

In a special medal play match arranged by the Middlebrook Country Club, of Bound Brook, on Labor Day, Devereaux Lord, of the Forest Park Golf Club, defeated Tracy Smith, champion of the New Brunswick Golf Club, by two strokes, 78 to 80. It was nip and tuck to the eighth hole, each scoring 37. Smith lost a stroke on the ninth, but gained one on each of the next three. Lord made the next two holes in 3s to Smith's 5s, giving him a lead of two, which he held to the end. Lord's score of 78 established a new record for the course, the old one being 80.

J. H. P. Wharton, a former well-known player at the Plainfield Country Club, is now devoting his spare time on the Baltusrol Golf Club course, where he frequently returns low scores.

Three excellent pictures and an interesting story about "Marty" O'Loughlin, the Plainfield Country Club "pro," were published in last Sunday's New York Sun. The pictures show the young home-bred driving, approaching and putting. They were taken at the Hollywood Golf Club during the recent tournament. The writer of the article credits "Marty" with being about the best American professional.

Robert Abbott and Frank C. Talmadge were among the players missed at the Plainfield Country Club on Monday. They usually engage in the holiday events. Abbott has been playing in the New England States recently and has not returned.

The work of C. B. Morgan at the Plainfield Country Club on Monday was remarkable. He practically won all the honors for the day. During the season Morgan has devoted a great deal of time to the game and he is considered one of the strongest players in the club.

It is seldom that the course at the Plainfield Country Club presents such an attractive appearance as just now. The whole course and the greens are in perfect condition, making it a real pleasure to play the game. A cinder path has been laid from the entrance to the grounds near the trolley to the clubhouse for persons who care to walk to and from the trolley and it is an improvements over the other way of walking over the course and running chances of beng hit with a golf ball.

West End Tennis Matches.

The West End Tennis Club easily disposed the representatives of the Orange Tennis Club, Monday afternoon, on the Fourth street grounds. Miller and Green, of the West Ends, defeated Johnson and Davenport, of Orange, two straights, 6-0, 6-2. In a second match, A. J. Carey and C. T. Henry, of the West Ends, defeated Scudder and Holcomb, of Orange, 6-2, 6-3. In singles, Miller, of Plainfield, tied Davenport, of Orange, and Carey, of Plainfield, beat Bells, of Orange, two straights. The women's team of Orange defeated a scrub Plainfield team.

Bowling for "Besler Bronze."

The police department bowling team of the New Jersey Central now leads in the competition for the "Besler Bronze," offered by W. G. Besler, vice president and general manager of the company. The team has a percentage of 1.000, having won four games and lost none.

Adjourned ouncil to Pass Hat.

Hammonton, Sept. 5.—Angels Ingemie came into the council chamber last Saturday night while council was in session. She brought with her three small children, the youngest sixteen months old, to prove her assertion that she was in needy circumstances. She requested the councilmen to put her on the poor list. President William H. Bernshouse declared a recess while Councilman H. Kirk Spear passed around the hat. Before the poor window realized what was going on $6 was thrust into her hands.

Young Woman Drowned.

Fisher's Point, Sept. 5.—In spite of the heroic work of one of his companions, Frank Bright, a young workman at Cramp's shipyard, was drowned in the Delaware river, off here Monday afternoon. The accident happened with in fifty feet of shore, and lined up on the bank was a large Labor Day picnic party, which saw the tragedy. One of their number put out in a small boat and rescued two of the men. Bright was nineteen years old and lived at 2980 East Thompson street, Philadelphia.

Monument to Labor Leader.

Camden, Sept. 5.—The greatest Labor Day celebration that this city has ever known took place Monday, when trade unionists from all over South Jersey and Philadelphia held an all-day picnic at Electric Park, and unveiled a granite monument to the memory of P. J. Maguire, the founder of the United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners of America and the father of Labor Day. The celebration was held under the auspices of the Central Labor Union of Camden.

James DeCamp a Benedict.

In the presence of only a few friends, Miss Lucy Lathrop, of Grove street, and James DeCamp, of Linden avenue, were married at the rectory of St. Joseph's church, Sunday, by Rev. Father Miller. Miss Jennie DeCamp, a sister of the groom, and Lewis Drake, of West Third street, acted as attendants. Mr. and Mrs. DeCamp left Sunday night for Milwaukee, Wis., the bride's former home, where the groom will engage in the tinning and heating business.

Drowned While on an Outing.

Jersey City, Sept. 5.—James Connelly, twenty-four-years-old, while on the outing of the Hudson County Democratic Association of Jersey City Heights, Monday, fell overboard in Long Island Sound and was drowned. The body was not recovered. This occurrence caused a shadow of gloom to settle over the crowd. Connelly was unmarried. A subscription is now being taken to defray the funeral expenses if the body is recovered.

Jail Saves Him from Crowd.

Atlantic City, Sept. 4.—Rushed to tthe city jail here to prevent his lynching by infuriated farmers, John Bradley, of Dougherty's Mills, was held under $2,000 bail by Justice of the Peace Jagmetty Monday night, charged with attempting to murder Mrs. Annie Mullen, of this city. Posses sought Bradley Sunday afternoon and he was captured Monday by Chief of Police Hutchinson, of Absecon.

Dodges Train; Another Kills Him.

Jersey City, Sept. 5.—Struck by a Jersey Central train Monday John Bonelan, sixty-years old, of 385 York street, this city, was killed instantly. The accident took place near the machine shops in Communipaw. Bonelan was crossing the tracks to the shop and doged out of the way of one train directly into the path of another.

Morphine Kills a Druggist.

Hoboken, Sept. 5.—Adolph Weller, forty-five years old, at one time a prosperous druggist, but lately reduced to the necessity of living in a lodging house in Hudson street, this city, died Monday in St. Mary's Hospital from an overdose of morphine, which he is supposed to have taken with suicidal intent.

CHRISTIAN FIELD.

There will be a business meeting of the W. C. T. U. tomorrow afternoon in the rooms on Madison avenue.

The Ladies' Aid Society of St. Peter's Lutheran church will meet in the Sunday-school room Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

Albert T. Davis, superintendent of the East Orange Public Schools, will preach at the First Baptist church on Sunday, morning and evening.

Preparatory services will be held at the Congregational church tonight and the regular communion service will be held Sunday morning.

Rev. Edward M. Chapman, formerly of St. Johnsbury, Vt., will preach at the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian church Sunday, morning and evening.

Rev. Dr. J. A. Chambliss, of the First Baptist church, is expected to return from his European trip in time to occupy his pulpit on Sunday, September 16.

At the prayer meeting at the First M. E. church tonight, a part of the evening will be devoted to relating vacation experiences. The pastor, Rev. A. C. McCrea, will be in charge.

The annual meeting of the Women's Christian Temperance Union will be held in the rooms on Madison avenue on Wednesday, September 12. The meeting will take up most of the day.

Rev. E. E. Jackson, former pastor of the Mt. Olive Baptist church, but now of New York, has been visiting in town for a short time. The parson is directing a building boom at Westfield, where he is planning to locate fifty colored refugees who lost their possessions in the San Francisco earthquake and fire.

On Sunday, September 16, the communion service will be held at the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian church, Rev. J. O. McKelvey, of Warren chapel, officiating. The evening service will be in charge of Rev. L. R. Howard, of Hope chapel, who will also give the preparatory lecture on the Friday evening preceding.

The Christian Endeavor Society, of Trinity Reformed church, at its monthly business meeting, last night, discussed the advisability of continuing to hold the weekly meetings on Sunday night at 6:45, instead of returning to Monday, the former time for meeting. After consulting the constitution of the society it was learned that any change would require one week's notice and it would have to be brought before all the members. In view of this it was decided to hold the meetings on Sunday night during this month and take a vote at the October business meeting whether to make a change. In the meantime the members will be notified of the proposed change.

CITY JOTTINGS.

Footstools in Fashion.

Footstools are quite fashionable again. Charming drawing-room footstools are made of a slender legged wooden foundation, which is gilt or enameled ivory white, while the stuffed top is composed of a striped or flounce brocade, which reproduces the harmonious colors and designs of the eighteenth century and early empire days, says Woman's Life. Dining-room and library footstools should be handsome and plainly severe, while chintz-covered hassocks are just the thing for the spare room and "den."

Passaic Man a Suicide.

PERKINS ON HIS RECORD

Republican House Leader Makes Answer to Some Colbyite Attacks.

HE IS UNPLEDGED

Will Vote For Best Man For U. S. Senator—Tells What He Has Accomplished.

Assemblyman Randolph Perkins, Republican leader on the floor of the lower house at Trenton, has broken silence after quietly submitting to the attacks of anti-administration Republicans for sometime and states his position on the senatorial fight as well as makes a complete answer to his critics. He declares first and foremost that he is not pledged to John F. Dryden or any other candidate for the office of United States Senator and will vote for the best man.

To a representative of The Daily Press, Assemblyman Perkins said yesterday: "I am not pledged to any candidate for United States Senator. I have not said whom I will favor other than I will give my vote and influence to the man I deem best fitted for the office. There are a number of men who would well represent the State and I shall certainly support the one who seems to me to be the best man."

A request was made by the Westfield candidate for the publication of his answers to various attacks made upon his record. The statement follows:

"The Courier- News in an editorial several weeks ago asked some questions with respect to my actions in the last Legislature. The questions and my answers are as follows:

"The first question is: 'Why did he (Perkins) kill the bill to prohibit the use of coal stoves in passenger coaches operated on the railroads in New Jersey?'

"My answer is, I did not. The bill referred to was known as Assembly Bill No. 15, introduced by Mr. Martin and referred to the Committee on Judiciary, of which committee both Mr. Martin and I were members. At public hearing given on the bill, the only persons who appeared before the committee were railroad attorneys. They pointed out the fact that the bill as drawn would prohibit the use of stoves in dining cars and suggested that it be amended.

"I have refreshed my recollection by communicating with several members of the committee, and they agree that the bill was to have been reported, upon its being amended so as not to interfere with dining cars. Mr. Martin, who introduced the bill, was to have prepared the amendments. He did not submit any amendments to the committee, and the bill took the usual course.

"There were many more important matters demanding my attention as Leader of the House. Among others, Assembly Bill No. 1, known as the Equal Taxation Bill, Bill No. 273, redefining railroad property for purposes of taxation, Bill 274, distributing excess of railroad taxation over one-half of one per cent. to counties for school purposes, Bill 422, known as "Districting Bill," and Bill 456, putting second-class railroad property into local rateables. All of these bills were introduced by me and were popularly known as 'Administration Measures.' Under the circumstances I did what good judgment dictated, namely, moved the measures that I had introduced and permitted Mr. Martin to look after his own measures. The bills that I have referred to were all enacted into law, as will appear by reference to the Session Laws of 1906.

"The second question is: 'Why did he (Perkins) oppose the enactment of a law to adequately tax Gas, Electric Light and Water Companies?'

"The insinuation that I opposed the enactment of a law for the purpose of adequately taxing these quasi public corporations is false. On the contrary, I made the only speech that was made in the House in favor of the amendment to the Voorhees act increasing the taxes on trolley companies by a graduated scale from three to five per cent. of their receipts. Furthermore, I spoke and voted for the bill for a supplement to the act entitled: 'An act to provide for the imposition of State taxes upon certain corporations and for the collection therof,' approved April 18, 1884, which act became a law and is now Chapter 19 of the Session Laws of 1906.

"The third question is: 'Why did he (Perkins) oppose the authorization of an insurance investigation?'

"I did oppose the resolutions introduced by Mr. Martin and others, the object of which was the investigation of banks and trust companies and insurance companies. Moreover, I stated fully upon the floor of the House in the several speeches the reasons why I opposed the resolutions. To state the reasons at length would take more space than I could reasonably expect a newspaper to give.

"The principal reasons were:

"First, the whole subject had been exhausted by the investigation in the State of New York.

"Secondly, from my dealings in the Legislature with the persons who were demanding the investigation I was satisfied that the resolutions were not introduced in good faith for the purpose of investigating the companies in the interest of the policyholders and the public in general, but that they were introduced for the purpose of making political capital. This was evident to practically everybody who appeared at the public hearing on the first resolution, which demanded an investigation of banks and trust companies as well as insurance companies. Representative business men from all over the State came to Trenton and uttered such a violent protest against the investigation sought by the resolution, that before the hearing was over Mr. Martin—the mover of the resolution—asked to amend it by striking out the clause requiring investigation of banks and trust companies. There was no reason why this amendment should have been made at that time, except that those who were behind the resolution were satisfied that they had made an error politically, and they took the earliest opportunity to correct it.

"My judgment as to the purpose of introducing the investigation resolutions, I think, has been fully confirmed by the fact that the members of the Legislature who were clamoring for investigation under the resolution referred to, paid absolutely no attention to the investigation conducted by the Senate Committee. That committee gave notice in the public press that one month would be allowed to all persons desiring to bring matters to its attention which affected the conduct of insurance companies, or which required investigation. I have been informed personally by Senator Hillery, who was a member of that committee, that not one person among all the so-called 'reformers' appeared before the committee, or offered, or attempted to offer, anything for investigation.

"Acting in the belief that these resolutions were not introduced in good faith but entirely for the purposes of making political capital, I opposed them.

"The fourth question is: 'Why did he (Perkins) talk and vote in favor of allowing committee chairmen to be the sole arbiters of the question whether they should report bills referred to their committees?'

"My answer is, I did not. Furthermore, I will give five hundred dollars to be divided by the Courier-News among the hospitals of Union county if it will prove that I ever did.

"The fifth question is: 'Why did he (Perkins) oppose the enactment of a bill intended to provide for a judicial recount of votes in contested election cases?'

"The propounder of this question can hardly be aware that there is an act on the statute books at the present time providing for a judicial recount of votes in contested election cases. I refer to Section 159 of our General Election Law, approved April 8, 1898.

"It will be remembered that there was a judicial recount by Judge Hendrickson of the Supreme Court in the recent contested election for sheriff in Monmouth county.

"The insinuation that I opposed a bill of this character is unwarranted and false.

"The sixth question is: 'Why did he (Perkins) resort to unparliamentary tactics to kill a bill to prevent corrupt practices in politics?'

"Owing to the very indefinite form of this question I have been compelled to read over the 1375 printed pages constituting the minutes of the House of Assembly for 1906. I confess I have been unable to find the unparliamentary tactics referred to.

"It is untrue that I opposed or killed a bill to prevent corrupt practices in politics. On the contrary, the Corrupt Practice Acts, known as House Bills No. 35, No. 70 and No. 226, were carefully gone over and approved by me before they were handed to Mr. Marelli for introduction. I voted for all of these bills as appears on pages 618, 619 and 620 of the minutes of the House of Assembly.

The seventh question is: "Why did he (Perkins) help to prevent the repeal of the notorious Promoters' Liability Act?'

"The act known as the Promoters' Liability Act was passed in 1903 and received the approval of Governor Murphy. By that act any person who makes, or has made, a secret profit out of a corporation is liable to be sued by that corporation for a recovery of the money so made, within four years from the time of making such profit. I believe that promoters making secret profits should be held liable, and therefore did not vote to repeal this act. I also believe that four years is a reasonable time within which suit should be brought. Suits for slander must be brought

STILL AWAIT TAX RATE

County Board of Taxation Has Until Oct. 1 to Complete Its Work.

GOING OVER BOOKS

Local Assessors Make No Changes—Elizabeth's Work Nearly Completed.

Until all of the assessments in the county are completed and the Union County Board of Taxation makes its final report, nothing can be done toward establishing either the local or county rate. The Elizabeth assessors, it is said, will finish tomorrow, and the County Board of Taxation will then have until October to complete its work of revising the books and in doing there are likely to be many changes. The assessors throughout the county cannot do anything toward figuring on the individual rates until it is known what will be required for county and school purposes.

According to the new law the assessors are supposed to assess everything, including gas and water pipe, telephone conduits, wires, telegraph wires, miles of trolley and steam railroad tracks, general equipment, the rolling stock of the trolley company and in fact everything that is assessable.

The Plainfield Board of Assessors met yesterday and went over their books, but no changes were made. The amount to be raised for county and school purposes is sure to affect the local rate, but to what extent is not known. The County Board of Taxation is in session every day and is doing all that is possible to finish its work. No report has as yet been received from the board as to the valuations placed on the local shops. This work was done by experts, men who are competent to assess such property.

The Common Council appropriated $500 Tuesday night for the use of the finance committee in its efforts to have an equitable assessment laid throughout the county. So far as known Plainfield is the first to take such a step, but Chairman Daniel is determined that there shall be no hedging in the work, that a fair and equitable assessment shall be levied in all parts of the county so that Plainfield will not be obliged to pay more than its share.

LIBRARY OFFICERS ELECTED.

Colonel Mason W. Tyler Again Made President of Board of Directors.

Officers were elected and committees appointed at the annual meeting of the Board of Directors of the Plainfield Public Library, Tuesday night. Vice President J. Evarts Tracy was in the chair in the absence of President Mason W. Tyler. A letter was read from Mayor James F. Buckle re-appointing Col. Mason W. Tyler, J. Evarts Tracy and William F. Merrill as members as the board, after which these officers were elected:

President, Col. Mason W. Tyler; vice president, J. Evarts Tracy; treasurer, J. Herbert Case; secretary, William M. Stillman. These committees were appointed: Library—J. Evarts Tracy, William H. Larrabee, Dr. Leonard Waldo; Art—Alex. Gilbert, William F. Merrill, L. V. F. Randolph.

The librarian was authorized to make some changes suggested by her contemplating greater capacity for children's books and better facilities for displaying new books received. The treasurer's recommendation for a list of estimated expenses for the coming year was accepted for the guidance of the board.

Mrs. Hedden's Funeral.

The funeral of Mrs. Joel Hedden was held at her late home on Summit avenue, this morning, a large gathering of relatives and friends being in attendance. Rev. G. A. Warner, rector of Holy Cross church, was the officiating clergyman. Interment was made in Hillside cemetery, the pall bearers being Philip Currin, J. J. Stahl, Frank Krewson, Lemuel Pope, J. W. Conroy and C. H. Rugg.

William B. Phillips.

William B. Phillips, a well known borough resident, died last night at the home of his step-son, John Barry, of Greenbrook road. He had been ill for a long time with a lingering complaint. He was fifty-six years old and was an expert lather. The funeral will be held from the Barry residence Friday afternoon at 2:30. Interment will be at Hillside.

N. J. Road Exhibit at Jamestown.

New Jersey has decided to have an exhibit of its model roads at the Jamestown Exposition next year, similar to that shown at the St. Louis Exposition. State Supervisor of Roads R. A. Meeker, of this city, will have charge of the exhibit.

LA FOLLETTE WILL HELP

Wisconsin Reformer to Speak Here at Colby Mass Meeting.

SEPTEMBER 19 THE DATE

Colbyites To Complete Arrangements For His Coming At Conference of the Four Wards Tonight.

Senator Robert LaFoullette, the New Idea leader of the Middle West, will speak in this city at a big mass meeting of the Colbyites on September 19.

A telegram was received from Senator LaFollette at the headquarters of the State League for Equal Taxation, in Newark, yesterday, promising his presence in the State during the week of September 17, and Secretary William Groves, of the Union County League, notified Judge Runyon this morning that the Wisconsin reformer would be in Plainfield during the fast, sharp campaign.

Who the candidates chosen tonight will be is more or less a matter of conjecture. If the men in the lead of the Colby forces have a shrewd idea as to the nominees, they will not permit themselves to forecast. As was pointed out to a Daily Press reporter by one of them this morning, it is foreign to the very spirit of the movement to go about making positive statements as to what the whole body will or will not do. It is the privilege and the power of every individual ranker in the reform band to have his say as to what action is taken, and no slate-making or sure-thing predictions are in order.

A mayor and four ward councilmen are to be nominated. R. Henry Depew, who is supposed to have vote-drawing powers as the leader of the citizens who made successful stand against the P. S. C. illuminating department, is said to be the favorite for the mayoralty nomination, but whether or not Mr. Depew wants to run or would consent to take the nomination if it was offered to him, is not known with satisfactory positiveness. Wards outside the Second may have favorite sons who will loom larger than Mr. Depew, and one of them might be honored with the nomination easily enough.

Probably choice for the councilmanic nominations is even more a matter of conjecture than that for the mayoralty. It was said this morning that Councilman Hibbard, one of the four city fathers whose terms expire, would probably be tendered the nomination by the Second Ward reformers. Who will be asked to stand under the banners of the other wards cannot even be guessed at with any degree of correctness.

The night of the 19th. He will speak the same night at Elizabeth.

Details of the meeting will be arranged at the Colby conference of the four wards in Reform Hall tonight. Unless the house cannot be secured on the 19th, the meeting will, of course, be held in the theatre. It is not likely that any smaller hall could accommodate the crowd that would be attracted by the presence of "Fighting Bob" LaFollette. If the theatre cannot be hired for that night, the meeting will probably be held outdoors.

Immediate interest among the Colbyites of the city centers in the conference tonight. Candidates for the mayoralty and council are expected to be chosen, and the action taken at the meeting will do much to tighten the fighting line and add impetus to the movement. The conference will probably be presided over by Judge Runyon. Warm weather and its enervating effects have passed, vacations are over or ending, and the reform ranks are settling

The freeholder nominations will not receive much consideration, it was said this morning. They are county nominations, strictly speaking, and at this time the Colbyites are more interested in the city officers proper.

Admits Final Counterproof.

Lawyer F. J. Huff received word today from the Orphans' Court at Freehold that the case of Titus Heckman, executor of the estate of Rebecca Heckman, of which he is counsel, had been admitted to final counterproof.

Drunk Fined.

Arthur Scott was fined $3 in the city court this morning for drunkenness and disorder. He was arrested on West Front street late yesterday afternoon by Patrolman Kelly.

Match Peddler Arrested.

William Rand, a match peddler, was arrested yesterday for plying his trade without a license. Judge Runyon suspended sentence this morning.

At Colby Meeting In Rahway.

Judge Runyon spoke at a Colby meeting in Rahway last night. Record and Colby also spoke. The audience was large.

THE SEASON'S BEST PLAY

Critical Audience So Pronounces Klein's Drama "The Lion and Mouse.

WELL BALANCED CAST

Splendid Interpretation of the Grasping Multi-Millionaire Given by Oliver Doud Byron.

It was a critical audience that viewed "The Lion and the Mouse" at the New Plainfield theatre, last night. It was an audience that understood—one that is conversant with the present day methods of money-getting—and when Charles Klein's vivid picture of the 1906 type of grasping multi-millionaire was unfolded, the work was appreciated. It is a drama that has been talked about for months and, perhaps, will live until corporate control does not signify what it does now. Its wonderful success in the metropolis had preceded it and all the declarations that it would demand absorbing attention locally were fully verified. The playhouse was filled to its capacity and when the curtain had fallen for the last time the verdict was "the best of the season."

The central figure in the play is one of extraordinary interest and the theme is timely. Mr. Klein has taken as his principal character a money baron of today who wants to be supreme leader in monetary affairs—a financial Julius Caesar—an Alexander sighing for more moneyed worlds to conquer. His will is law and anyone crossing him in its exercise has to fall. He simply has his way to carry out his ideas for the advancement of himself and loves power more than he does gold, which to him is only a means of attaining his ambitious ends. Men are to be bought and sold and he is simply the highest bidder for their influence. When he cannot buy men, he plots their downfall as he does to Judge Rossmore of the Supreme Court, who has rendered a decision adverse to corporations in which this multi-millionaire is interested. The author has made the central figure an impressively natural creation; he has all the marks of a man of decision who does not hesitate at adopting any means for carrying out his purpose, short of actual murder. No dishonest method is a sin to him if there is no danger of conviction.

Against this element Mr. Kelin has arrayed another force—that of love. Through the devotion of Jefferson Ryder, son of the money king, "Ready Money Ryder," to Shirley Rossmore, daughter of the judge whose ruin, is sought, the girl procures important documents revealing her father's innocence and humbles the multi-millionaire to begging her for an audience and then going to Washington to stop proceedings against the judge. And before he goes Shirley Rossmore is the promised wife of Jefferson Ryder.

As "Ready Money Ryder," Oliver Doud Byron gave a characterization of the part that was an absolute delight. He "lived" the role and it was almost impossible to conceive that his brusqueness and various moods of anger and contrition were not real. As the heroine, Shirley Rossmore, Miss Flora Juliet Bowley took advantage of the excellent dramatic material and she won the admiration of the audience from the moment she walked before it and declared her determination to fight for her father's honor. The rest of the cast was first-class and showed careful allotment of parts.

Road Work Agitation.

As the representative of dissatisfied residents of the township, Lawyer Fred J. Huff appeared before the Warren Township Committee Tuesday, to argue for the signing of all petitions for roadwork by the committee. The committee had signed a petition for road repairs over a mile and a quarter stretch from Watchung to Warrenville, and the property owners who retained Mr. Huff want a three and one-quarter mile stretch running toward Stirling repaired. The committee refused to grant their request. It is contended that the longer road will be of much more advantage to the township, and that the committee has signed for the other road simply because the committeemen live on it.

MORE ROOM FOR CITY IN SMALLEY BUILDING

TALK OF LEASING ADDITIONAL SPACE FOR OFFICES.

There is a possibility that the city may decide to use some of the offices to be vacated in the Woolston & Buckle building on North avenue. Reed & Coddington, the law firm, will move from its present quarters to the Stirling Building on Park avenue, next week, and Arthur Murphy has leased one of the offices now occupied by Reed & Coddington. The other two offices are vacant.

The Plainfield Board of Assessors has no office room and it is said that arrangements may be made whereby one of the vacant offices will be leased for them.

There has also been some discussion as to the advisability of the city purchasing the building and locating all the departments there, including that of the police. It is argued that it would be cheaper for the city to buy the property instead of paying rent. The city could borrow a sufficient sum on better terms than an individual and those who favor the plan say that it would be a good investment and more advantageous than erecting a city hall. The part of the building occupied by Smalley Brothers would be ample for the police department and the city jail could be located in the rear, with the advantage of a driveway from Second street. There was some talk of moving the offices of the city clerk and collector to the second floor, but this would not be as convenient as the present arrangement. It is likely, however, that he question of purchasing the building will come up soon or later as it is considered one of the best propositions yet offered.

TRINITY COMMANDERY AT ASBURY PARK TODAY.

Plainfield Knights Attending Templars Annual Field Exercises.

Trinity Commandery, No. 17, K. T., and their friends to the number of about fifty left Plainfield at 8 o'clock this morning on a special train for Asbury Park to participate in the annual field day exercises of the Knights Templar, of New Jersey. The train stopped at Westfield and Elizabeth, and at the latter place St. John's Commandery, its friends and Ryer's Band, of Jersey City, joined the Plainfielders. The band furnished music en route and in the parade at the Park escorted the Plainfield and Elizabeth Commanderies.

The excursion from Plainfield was arranged by a committee composed of Frederic W. Butler and W. A. Pinto, of this city, and Nelson Y. Dungan, of Somerville, all members of Trinity Commandery. The Somerville members came to Plainfield on another train and joined the Sir Knights here. The train will leave Asbury Park at 6 o'clock and should arrive home about 7:30.

WEST POINT CADETSHIP.

Plainfield Youths Have a Chance to Secure the Appointment.

A chance for a Plainfield boy to enter West Point is offered by Representative Charles N. Fowler. He announces a competitive examination among the young men of the Fifth Congressional District for the appointment, at the Pingry School, Elizabeth, on September 29. The examination will begin at 10 o'clock a. m.

A Plainfield boy, N. Pendleton Rogers, Jr., is now at the Military Academy. Another young Plainfielder, Fred VanAuken, is at Annapolis.

The examination will be along lines similar to that for admission to the academy, and the candidate who wins it need have no fear of his ability to pass into West Point. It is open only to actual residents of the Fifth District, within the age limits, seventeen to twenty-three years.

BOYS' ELEVEN.

Y. M. C. A. Juniors Getting Ready for Activity on the Gridiron.

The Y. M. C. A. Junior Department is to be represented by an eleven this fall. Nine of the team have already been chosen, and the combination will be ready for games by October 1.

Physical Director Listman will coach the boys. He is an old player and knows the game from start to finish. He played on a professional team at one time.

Louis Slocum and Shields have been picked for ends. Leslie Leland and Richard Hartley, tackles; Mul Darling, centre; William Dorthy and Frank Dorthy, guards; Walter Knowlton, quarterback; Albert Miller, halfback.

A half and a full-back are to be chosen. As soon as the line-up is filled out practice will begin back of the Y. M. C. A.

FISK IS THE LIKELY MAN

Quite Certain That He Will Be Named For Mayor on Monday Night.

OTHER PROBABILITIES

Councilmen Tolles and Randolph to Go Back Again—Doane and Wilbur for Freeholdership.

As chairman of the Republican Advisory Committee, former Mayor Alexander Gilbert will preside at the joint meeting of that committee and the Republican City Executive Committee at the Casino Monday night. It is intended that he meeting be opened by former Mayor Charles J. Fisk, the probable choice of the party for mayor. In addition to a candidate for the mayoralty, two candidate for freeholder and four candidates for Common Council will be selected to be voted for at the primaries on September 28. Moreover various convention delegates and committeemen will be chosen.

The only man mentioned in connection with the mayoralty is C. J. Fisk. The friends of the organization are solid for him and there does not appear to be any opposition except in the Colby camp, which will likely have a candidate of its own. Close personal and political friends of Mr. Fisk have been urging him to accept the nomination but he has not signified his attitude in the matter as yet. It is a pretty safe bet, however, that Mr. Fisk will be the unanimous choice of the joint committees meeting.

The four councilmen whose terms expire are President Ralph I. Tolles, of the First ward; Henry D. Hibbard, of the Second; William S. Tyler, of the Third, and Frank Randolph, of the Fourth. Mr. Tolles has served for ten years and wants to retire, but intimate friends say that he will consent to run again provided Mr. Fisk heads the ticket. It is generally supposed that he will be opposed by the Colbyites. Whether Mr. Hibbard will consent to run again is not known. If he does it is not likely that the administration people will favor him, but the Colbyites are likely to be solid for him. Frank Randolph will receive the support of the administration in the fourth but the Colbyites will be solidly against him.

Samuel P. T. Wilbur and J. Hervey Doane are likely to be the candidates for freeholder. Mr. Doane is teh only man desiring the position held by W. A. Westphal so far as can be learned. In the event of their selection both are likely to be opposed by the Colbyites.

FINAL BAND CONCERT.

Programme for Open Air Production Tomorrow Night.

The last band concert of the season will be given at Concert Park tomorrow night by Ben. LaVere's band, and arrangements have been made for one of the finest displays of fireworks yet seen here. Mr. LaVere states positively that this will be the last concert given by him here. He says that he is through with the enterprise. With the strong attractions offered for tomorrow night there should be an unusually large crowd.

The vocalists will be John J. Nestor and George Offerman, two of the best in the business. This will be Mr. Nestor's first appearance here in two years. Mr. Offerman will sing coon songs.

The concert programme will be as follows:

March, "The Mascot of the Troop," Herbert; "Wonderland," Herbert; intermezzo, "Gleaming Star," Hager; "Nigger in the Barn Yard," Lovenberg; vocal solo, John J. Nestor; "Everybody Works but Father;" "Perlette," from Lucia, Donizette, (by request); "Morse's Melodies," Morse; vocal solo, George Offerman; "America."

DUNELLEN AND VICINITY

With the opening of the schools, the effect of the placing of an extra man at the Washington avenue crossing as a safeguard for the children was tested. The plan has worked as well as was hoped. The harum-scarum rush of the school children across the tracks, regardless of the approach of trains, has been checked. With the tower house levelled to the street, making it easy for the old flagman to guard the south side of the crossing while his colleague stands at the other side, the danger has been practically eliminated.

Not long after the tower house was cut down at Washington avenue the timbers of the discarded portion disappeared. The authorities have been looking about for them in a casual way ever since, but the road has given up interest in them. It is said some of the timbers were recognized in places about town, but no effort has been made to replevin them.

There will be a Colby mass meeting in Firemen's Hall tomorrow night at 8 o'clock. Addresses will be made by Col. Alexander R. Fordyce, Jr., candidate for the State Senatorial nomination; Hon. George J. Corey, former U. S. Consul to Amsterdam, Holland; Charles A. Bloomfield, Rev. W. T. Dorwood, of Stelton, and Charles A. Prickitt.

The nine will play the Suburbans, of Clinton avenue, on the local grounds Saturday afternoon. Randolph will probably pitch, but Fisher may be put in.

PLAINS AND FANWOOD

Everything is in readiness for the opening of the Public School on Wednesday, September 12. The Board of Education has engaged J. T. Hendrickson, of Port Monmouth, as principal, to succeed Henry White, who resigned last year to teach elsewhere. He comes well recommended and is in complete harmony with the Board in its determination to thoroughly instruct the pupils in the rudiments, especially the three Rs. The High School course has been eliminated and arrangements made to send pupils for that course to the Plainfield High School. The school has been regraded, and in this work the Board has received much help from Superintendent H. M. Maxson, of the Plainfield schools. What is known as the eighth grade is practically a new one that will require some review work. The school building has been improved and thoroughly renovated. Two years ago the work of painting the walls and woodwork was started and it is now completed. A new maple floor has been laid in the hallway and through the efforts of School Trustee Alfred D. Beeken the grounds have been made attractive with shrubbery which will show to good advantage in another year. There are thus far about sixteen pupils ready to enter the Plainfield High School and there may be more before the fall term opens. The pupils are much pleased with the new arrangement which gives them every advantage that the Plainfield pupil has. There will be some few changes in the local teaching corps and the school will be stronger in many respects than heretofore, allowing more time for the elementary studies.

While the "new idea" has been pretty generally advertised throughout the State and this county, very little is heard about it in this vicinity. The leaders of the Colby movement have not directed much attention to either Fanwood borough, the township or Scotch Plains, in fact there are no very important issues to fight over here. In Fanwood borough there are several offices to be filled. Freeholder John Robinson, who is now completing his twelve years in that office, will undoubtedly be a candidate for re-election. He has filled the position with general satisfaction, giving his constituents good representation. Thomas S. Young and Charles R. Vincent, who were appointed members of the council to fill unexpired terms of members who moved out of the borough, are talked of as candidates to succeed themselves, while H. G. Young, who was appointed assessor to fill the unexpired term of the late William R. Stanbery, will probably be a candidate for the office. The term of Wright Babcock, as mayor, will not expire until next year, he having been elected last year.

The recent defeats of the 'Plains ball team has not discouraged the management or players. They are more determined than ever to put up a stronger game and the boys are now devoting more time to practice, something that is needed. On Saturday the team will play the Niantics, of Newark, and as the Essex county aggregation is exceptionally strong, a fine game may be expected.

The fall schedule has been resumed at the Baptist church and under the direction of the pastor, Rev. T. Moore-Smith, the work for the fall and winter looks promising.

POINTS FOR THE BUYERS

Don't forget that Boice, Runyon & Co., of Park avenue, still sell the best anthracite at the lowest market prices.

John Winzenreid, of Lee place, is a reliable trucker. He moves goods of every description to all parts of the country.

For anything in the sanitary plumbing line see A. H. Enander, of Watchung avenue. He is an expert and does his work right.

Brokaw's model creamery on East Front street is the place to get fresh eggs, butter, milk and cream at lowest prices. Inspection is invited.

The close of the summer season still shows many bargains at "The White Store," and now is the time to buy, while the prices are so low. Every department in this big store will show you the wisdom of purchasing here instead of going to New York. Trading stamps are a feature and on the third floor of the building you will find a handsome stock of premiums.

LOCAL AMUSEMENTS

Miller & Plohn's big revival of the famous "Black Crook" will be the attraction at the New Plainfield theatre this afternoon and evening. The company includes the Donazettis, the world-famous acrobatic troupe.

There have been all kinds of "coon shows" on the road for the last few years. Some of them have become deservedly popular too; but rumor has it that Gus Hill's "Smart Set" easily "takes the cake" in the theatrical cake walk. It comes to the New Plainfield theatre Saturday afternoon and night to demonstrate that fact and to gather up the local trophy for such achievement. The piece is a well constructed three act comedy worthy a place in any Broadway house in New York. It is magnificently mounted and is full of those features, three or four of which make the fortune of any musical comedy offered. Skilfull artists of national repute in their special lines are in the cast which comprises fifty people with the very best right to be considered first among their competitors for African supremacy here or anywhere else.

Never in spectacular production

has anything greater or grander been attempted for the theatre-goer to witness than the Drury Lane spectacular scenic pantomime, "The Sleeping Beauty and the Beast," which met with phenomenal success in New York city, where it ran an entire season at the Broadway theatre. The beautiful ballets, the massive and multi-colored ensembles, the various specialties, the unceasing drollery of the comedians, keeps everyone on the alert, that nothing might be missed in the kaleidoscopic procession of glitter and spangle of merriment. One of the noteworthy features of "The Sleeping Beauty and the Beast" is the number of scenes involved in the presentation. There are three acts of four scenes each or twelve in all. From the first raising of the curtain until the final fall of the enchanted garden, fully one half of these scenes are full stage, and they introduce hundreds of beautiful women, radiantly costumed. The stage management is something wonderful, and the grouping of the various tableaux, the lavish use of color, with the rich background of scenery, constitutes something to marvel at long after the performance is ended. It will be at the New Plainfield theatre next Monday night.

Bright, catchy music, not too classical to be popular, clever book replete with amusing lines; a plot that deserves the praise and leads in a natural and many funny situations; a long list of principals, singers and comedians, who have already earned excellent reputations in the opera field; a chorus of forty pretty girls who can sing, costumes that are elaborate and scenery that is faithful to the locale of the piece are the component parts of the comic opera called "Sergeant Kitty" that will be seen at the New Plainfield theatre next Tuesday night. In the title role is Miss Helen Byron, who is winsome, pretty and petite and possessed of a voice and personality that has won for her admirers in all parts of the country; Jas. McElhern is the principal fun maker, ably assisted by Tom Hadaway; Miss Virginia Ainsworth, the prima donna; Miss Marion Langdon; Laura Sprague; Joseph Charles, J. J. Clark and a big beauty chorus of forty.

Manager Counihan has secured the big musical comedy, "Around the Clock," for next Wednesday evening with the international favorites, Ritchie's London Comedy and Pantomime Company. As this is an event of more than usual importance, an extra effort will be made to attract an audience in keeping with the great merit of the entertainment. It is expected that a large attendance from the surrounding towns and country will witness this great attraction, which is an effervescent melange of comedy, music, dainty dances, all the latest songs and some very remarkable pantomime. It is in three acts and four scenes and requires a company of over fifty artists to interpret it.

—Michael Griffin, night telegraph operator at the Western Union office, who went to Asbury Park to spend a few days, is detained there with an attack of tonsilitis.

JOURNALISTIC OPINIONS

Colby's Admissions.

Senator Colby's admission in his siderable light upon the psychology of the New Idea and real the motives as well as the remarkable tartics of the Reformers. No one, it is fair to assume, will question Colby's authority to speak for the movement of which he is the acknowledged figurehead.

In reply to questions asked by Senator Hillery Mr. Colby admitted:

That no one had ever offered him money of other consideration in exchanfe for his vote during the four years of his service as a member of the Legislature.

That he had never seen money paid to any member of the Legislature, or known money or other consideration to have been offered to or accepted by any member in exchange for a vote.

That he had no personal knowledge of wrongdoing on the part of any insurance company, bank or trust company in this State that would justify a Legislative investigation, and that he knew of no testimony that could be supplied by others tending to show wrongful acts on the part of such companies.

That the following bills, among others, had been passed by a Republican Legislature in spite of the opposition of so-called bosses and corporations: The equal tax laws, the anti-fee bill, the new primary act, the corrupt practice acts, the limited franchise act and the act preventing the diversion of water to another State.

That a Republican Legislature had refused to pass the Morris Canal abandonment bill, even though the strongest corporate influences demanded it, and although Colby himself had been elected in Essex upon a platform urging canal abandonment.

That the knew of no conditions calling for reform in the government of Morris county, and that, in fact, he knew nothing whatever about the affairs of that county.

That Senator Hillery, both as a man and as a legislaor, was absolutely above suspicion.

That he had importuned his followers in Essex to indorse George L. Record as the New Idea candidate for United States Senator, but that they had rejected Colby's entreaties.

That the Reformers in Essex have no primary candidate for United States Senator, although their declaration of principles requires them to have one, and that a New Idea campaign without a Senatorial candidate this year is of a piece with the play of Hamlet with the title role omitted.

That he had pledged himself to Record without having consulted his followers, and that he would vote for Record in the Legislature unless his followers found some way of recording their opposition; in which event Colby would vote for whomever the Essex Reformers wanted, on condition that Record would release him from his pledge.

In the face of these admissions Colby insisted that New Jersey is without representative government; that the Legislature is controlled by bosses and corporations; that bribery flourishes at Trenton; that the insurance companies, banks and trust companies should be investigated; that Morris county is perishing for New Idea reform; that Hillery is derelict in his duties, in that he does not flop over to Colby and Record and that Record is the most deserving man in New Jersey to be elected United States Senator.

The nearest approach to bribery that Colby ever experienced, it appears, happened one day at the State House. Some one, he said—he was careful to mention no name—had taken him into a back room and had called him a Puritan and told him he would drive the Republican party out of the State, if he failed to vote for the notorious 20 per cent. bill.

Inasmuch as that bill was slaughtered by a Republican Legislature and largely through the efforts of Hillery, who was chairman of the House committee to which it had been referred, Colby's recital of his narrow escape from contamination in the back room did not appeal convincingly to his Morris county hearers. It made them laugh.

On another occasion the audience was told Thomas N. McCarter's brother accosted Colby and said: "We think you have a political future and we don't want to see you throw it away." Colby inferred from that that McCarter could have prevented his nomination. Hillery replied that McCarter must have been "stuffing" Colby, but that in any event McCarter was not the Republican party.

According to Colby's admissions he was fortunate indeed and is to be congratulated upon one fact that the bogie man did not catch him when he was Republican leader on the floor of the House. He should have had a political keeper.

The debate has made it clear if further proof was necessary that the New Idea movement is wholly a crusade for office and that the Reformers hope to secure office by means of the muck rake. Colby admits that he knows of no bribery, corruption or wrong doing in the Republican administration in this State, yet he does not hesitate to declare on the stump and in pamphlets that the Republican party is a sink of iniquity and that only through the New Idea and the election of Record can New Jersey be saved.

The Reformers are privileged to assail the Republican party and to disrupt it, if they are able, but a sense of patriotism, it seems proper to suggest, should restrain them from wontonly blackening the name of their State.

Colby's wild statements were challenged by Hillery, and the Refromer did not even attempt to prove his charges. He goes on repeating them, however, after having publicly admitted that he does not know a single one of them to be true. Were it not that Colby has a number of well meaning followers, who are misled by the audacity of his pretensions, he would not be deserving of serious notice. The showing he made in the Hillery debate was pitiable.—Jersey City Journal.

The Senatorial Question.

Why should the contest for United States Senator be narrowed down to a fight between George L. Record and John F. Dryden, and why should men who believe thoroughly in the principles of the movement headed by Everett Colby be compelled to accept the candidacy of George L. Record as inseparable from that movement? Are there no other men than these in New Jersey who are built of Senatorial timber? Has New Jersey sunk to such a state of hopeless mediocrity that two men only can be found within her borders worthy to wear the toga? Why should it be necessary to elect a man who openly avows his candidacy? Has the maxim, once thought good, that the office should seek the man, been entirely discarded?

Why, for instance, should not Vice-Chancellor Pitney be considered as a fit candidate? Advanced in years, it is true, but still physically and mentally vigorous, he would be heard from to some purpose in the Senate. Vice-Chancellor Pitney is a stalwart Republican, but his opinions are his own. Then there is Supreme Court Justice Francis J. Swayze, a man who has never bent his knee to Baal, a sound lawyer, an upright judge and a man of superior abilities. Or in the insurance world where could a more worthy representative be found than the venerable Amzi Dodd, a life-long enemy of unsound methods in life insurance. A term in the Senate would fitly round out a life of splendid usefulness. Or, if a younger man be desired, there is Mr. Dodd's successor in office, Frederick Frelinghuysen, the worthy son of a sire whose name stands high among New Jersey's greatest. In the ranks of the active reformers are Frank H. Sommer, brilliant and aggressive, and the protagonist of the movement, Everett Colby, himself.

Give the people some latitude of choice. There is no wisdom in staking the future of reform in New Jersey upon the candidacy of one man.—Newark News.

NOVEL ADVERTISING.

How a Firm of Architects Got Its Name On a Building.

Close observation on the part of a newspaper man in Boston several years ago revealed a striking device employed by the firm of McKim, Mead & White, the noted New York architects, of which Stanfard White, who was murdered by Harry K. Thaw in New York recently, was a member. The device, says the Pittsburg Gazette-Times, was an acrostic of names famous in history, literature and art by which the firm's name was to be engraved on the Boston Public library. As may be observed, the arrangement defied literature, history and philosophy in arrangement, and this was the thing that attracted the newspaper man's attention. The names were conglomerated from all nations and ages into a seemingly neat ornamentation for the fine building. Beginning at the top of a space to be devoted to names famous in the world in various lines were the following:

Moses,
Cicero,
Kalidasa,
Isocrates,
Milton.

These names, through their initials, formed the first part of the acrostic, spelling plainly "McKim." A slight space appeared before the next list of names, which was:

Mozart,
Euclid,
Aeschylus,
Dante.

The initials of these names brought out the second name of the firm, "Mead." Another slight space, and the following names appeared:

Wren,
Herrick,
Irving,
Titian,
Erasmus.

Here was the name "White" also engraved, the whole device bringing out the firm name of "McKim, Mead & White" in connection with the world's famed men. It was in 1890, just before the building was completed, that the discovery was made and published. The list of names was changed.

BROAD NEW & HALSEY STREETS

Newark's Richest Display of Oriental RUGS

Our Oriental Rug stock for Fall selling is beyond question the finest we have ever presented. The display we are making in our famous Oriental room, than which there is no handsomer in the United States and which gives our rugs a setting quite appropriate, will be viewed with great pleasure by all who love the beautiful and by home makers who seek the rare and exquisite things in floor coverings.

The use of Oriental Rugs is becoming more general every year, largely because people have found that they are not only more beautiful than anything else that can be employed in ornamenting a floor, but because of their extraordinary wearing qualities and real economy.

Until stores such as this determined to handle Oriental rugs as they handle other merchandise, and priced them fairly, only the wealthy could think of owning Oriental rugs; but since we have taken hold of the business in a thorough manner and carried large and satisfying lines, they have come into general use, and now they may be found in the homes of people of moderate means where good taste predominates.

Our present showing, of which we are very proud, includes beautiful specimens of Persian, Bokhara, Kashmir, Daghestan, Tiflis, Armenian, Egyptian, India, Circassian and other distinctive rugs from the Orient.

The prices begin at $1.98 for the smaller mat sizes and run up to $325 for those as large as 10x15 feet.

There are lots of beautiful rugs for as little as $10, $12.50, $17.50 and $25.00 and some very rare specimens at from $50.00 to $100.00.

We will be glad to have you come in and see the rugs. It will be a treat for you that will be both educational and profitable.

Domestic Rugs In Evidence Also

In conjunction with the Oriental Rug show we are also displaying our full Fall lines of new Domestic Rugs which includeevery size from the diminutive door mat to full room rugs.

In French Wilton Rugs we have the only complete assortment of patterns in all sizes in Royal Wilton Rugs. You will find a collection simply unsurpassed any where.

In Body Brussels, Wilton Velvet and Tapestry Brussels the assortments are large indeed, sufficient to satisfy practically every taste and to meet the requirements of any color scheme you may devise.

Kasmir and Smyrna Rugs, Fiber Rugs, Ingrain Rugs, Crex Matting Rugs are here a-plenty.

PRETTY PORTIERES
First Big Offering of the Season

We are going to open the Fall selling of Portieres with a boom. These 350 pairs at the price we are going to name will certainly make a noise.

They are beautiful Portieres, are richly mercerized, and practically every color is represented in the two lots involved in this sale; all have a heavy fringe top and bottom; they are nicely made; the patterns are immensely pleasing and they are well worth the regular prices we quote.

One lot of Portieres which are worth regularly $5.50 a pair will be sold at $2.98

Another lot of Portieres which are sold regularly at from $12 to $15, will be sold at..... $7.50

USED PIANOS—Very Much Under Price.

The Piano Store never looked healthier than it does today—full to overflowing with bright and beautiful Pianos of the best makes; but the very fact that we have so many new Pianos on the floor necessitates getting rid of the used instruments, some of which we have taken in exchange from purchasers of other makes.

The prices we have placed on these used instruments, though they are in very good shape and will prove worth a great deal more than the prices we ask, should induce immediate purchases.

Here are four of the Pianos we would like to sell at once. Will you have one of them at these prices?

Krakauer Bros., used Upright, for $100.
Lauter & Co., Upright, for $150.
Hardman, Upright, for $225.
Hazelton Bros., Upright, for $250.

Any of these instruments can be bought on the payment of a small amount down and easy terms for the remainder of the purchase price.

MR. PERKINS.

Assemblyman Perkins' answer to the attacks made on his legislative record no doubt will strike the average voter quite favorably. His reasons for opposing an investigation of the insurance companies, however, appear to be a trifle weak. Merely because those who desired the probe to be made were actuated by purely political motives, it does not seem that the Union county man was justified in helping to prevent it.

It would have been the part of wisdom for him to do all in his power to further the object particularly as he believed that any investigation would have been unnecessary. Had the investigation been made and no damaging evidence found, as Mr. Perkins thinks would have been the case, the Colbyites efforts would have acted as a boomerang and at the same time served the purpose of demonstrating to the whole country that the insurance companies in New Jersey are conducted on a sound basis.

Excepting for this single matter, Mr. Perkins has amply demonstrated that he holds a good record as a legislator. Certainly he has been instrumental in accomplishing much for the best interests of the people.

It is gratifying to learn from his own lips that Mr. Perkins is not committed to any candidate for United States Senator. Unfortunately for his own interests he has not gone as far as Judge Runyon who declares that if chosen Assemblyman he will vote for Senator Dryden. But as he says there are many good men for the place and as he positively declares that he will vote for the best man it would be unjust to believe that he will favor the Newark candidate.

Will Mr. Fowler, of Vermont, kindly tell an anxious public whether he believes there is need for reform in the Republican party of Union county? Of course he won't, so what's the use of asking.

The renomination of Charles Newell Fowler will be a confession on the part of the Republican party that has no better candidate to offer for that exalted but much abused office.

THE FORUM.

1331 Prospect Avenue,
Plainfield, N. J.,
Sept. 5, 1906.

Editor The Daily Press:

The account in your issue of today of the meeting of the Board of Education held last evening gives a wrong impression as to my attitude in making application for the use of the new High School auditorium for a political meeting, and one which I do not wish to stand uncorrected.

It is stated in your paper that I "contended that the Board of Education had no right to decide as to who should or who should not use public property." This statement is entirely incorrect. I did not desire or attempt to dictate to the Board. On the contrary I recognize them as the proper costodians of the school property and as rightfully entitled to exercise their judgment as to the uses to which it should be put.

My application was supported by the argument that, the school building being in a sense public property, having been paid for by the people, and being used generally for the public welfare, a political meeting, no preference being shown to any party or faction, would be a reasonable and proper public purpose for which to use it.

The Board having decided to the contrary, I acquiesce in their decision and have no criticism of it to make.

HOWARD C. TRACY.

(In stating that Mr. Tracy "contended that the Board of Education had no right to decide as to who should or who should not use public property," the Daily Press simply repeated the sense of what was told the Board by Mr. Abbott. There was no attempt on the reporter's part to give the impression that the applicant had tried to dictate. The next to the last paragraph in Mr. Tracy's letter, however, is practically a contention that he differs with the school trustees in their restriction of the auditorium. Be that as it may, the Daily Press does not wish to misquote him and cheerfully prints his explanation.—Ed.)

Unjust to Local Agents.

Editor, The Daily Press:

Seeing the account in your paper about the "assault" of Mr. Titsworth and his wife on one of the trains the other night, I think he does the ticket agents of this station a great injustice. Suppose we asked everyone that came to the window how long they were going to stay in Philadelphia? They would simply tell us it was none of our business and I don't think it is necessary for us to tell everybody that the tickets are limited because the ticket reads "Good for six days, day of issue included," and a man who buys tickets and never looks at them is a green horn at travelling. I think the person who sent us marked copies of The Daily Press did a rank piece of work, and I will gladly refund him the money he paid for papers and stamps if he will send me his address. I have been interviewed by several persons in regard to this matter, and they all agree that Mr. Titsworth has made himself the laughing stock of this city, and I agree with them and when we receive notices from the general passenger agent to notify people, then we will do so, and we will not pay any more attention to articles that are put in the papers.

Yours very truly,
A. L. MULFORD,
Ticket Agent C. R. R. of N. J.

By Tom Muir.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Fitzsimmons opened their tour in "A Fight for Love" before a capacity audience at the Asbury Park Casino, last night. The drama was well received and the former pugilistic champion and his talented wife were repeatedly called before the curtain. During one of these appearances, "Fitz" made an extemporaneous speech in which he declared he had "abandoned the bellows and prize ring for a New Jersey farm and that in a short time Fitzsimmons' pumpkins and potatoes would be as well known as his solar plexus blow was in other days." The company goes to Allentown, Pa., tonight, thence to Reading and from there to Detroit for a week's stay. The lanky fellow was in town this morning and stated that it was his hope to close the season in Plainfield.

Jeannette Bageard, whose sprightly and typically Gallic performance of "Sidonie," the French maid, in "The Prince of Pilsen," was a feature in that musical comedy during its first two seasons, has returned to the cast and will assume the role again when the Pixley and Luders' musical comedy comes to the New Plainfield theatre again on September 25. Miss Bageard retired from the stage two seasons ago and has spent a portion of that period in France, where her family connections are of high standing in social and financial orders. Exceptional inducements were made to her by Manager Henry Savage to secure her consent to resume the role of "Sidonie."

Gus Hill's "Around the Clock," which will be seen at the local playhouse next Wednesday, embodies Fred Karno's great vaudeville specialty, "A Night in a London Music Hall." It was brought to this country from England last summer by Oscar Hammerstein and put in the succeeding season in the New York theatres, returning to Hammerstein's, Proctor's and Keith's three or four times. The act shows a stage on a stage and requires a large number of artists.

Rehearsals of "Mrs. Wilson, That's All," the new play by George V. Hobart, which is to be the vehicle for Miss May Irwin's starring tour the present season, begin at the Bijou theatre, New York, on Saturday. The season opens at the New Plainfield theatre on September 21, and after five or six weeks on the road "Mrs. Wilson" goes to the Bijou theatre for an extended engagement, beginning November 5. The new play is of the farcical order, much like "Mrs. Black is Back," and others that Miss Irwin has had, but several novelties are promised.

DIED.

SUTPHIN—On Wednesday, September 5, 1906, Mary S., widow of Peter P. Sutphin, in her 87th year.

Funeral services at her late residence, 402 Central avenue, on Friday, Sept. 7, at 3:30 p. m. Interment at Hillside.

PHILLIPS—In North Plainfield, Wednesday, Sept. 5, 1906, William B. Phillips, aged 56 years.

Funeral services Friday, Sept. 7, from the residence of his step-son, Mr. John Barry, 78 Greenbrook road, at 2:30 p. m. Relatives and friends are respectfully invited. Interment at Hillside.

GEORGE L. RECORD MAKES ANOTHER OF HIS DENIALS.

Attempted No Deal, but Urged Pennsylvania R. R. to Allow Tax Bill.

Corporation Counsel George L. Record of Jersey City gave out a statement yesterday relative to the allegation of State Senator Hillery that Record had tried to make a dicker with a representative of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company to make that corporation an ally of the reformers. The statement is as follows:

"On my return from Maine this morning I am informed that at the joint debates between Senator Colby and Senator Hillery in Morris county, last week, Senator Hillery charged that, after the publication of the Governor's message, I tried to make a deal with Mr. Hulme, who represented the Pennsylvania Railroad at Trenton, whereby the railroads should be brought over to the support of the Colby movement.

"The story in this form is absolutely false. It is true that both before and after the Governor's message I urged upon Mr. Hulme and upon other representatives of the railroads that, in my judgment, the true interests of the railroads required that they should cease attempting to control the Legislature in reference to the matter of an equal tax bill, and that they should allow a final and permanent solution of this business in the shape of a bill based upon the principles of the Arrowsmith bill.

ernor's message I used his statements upon this subject to reinforce my argument. I was then and still am of the opinion that this question can be settled only upon the principle of the local taxation of all real estate, and that it is to the interest of the railroads to submit to this solution of the problem. I shall continue to urge this view of the case upon railroads representatives whenever an opportunity presents itself.

—Mr. and Mrs. James Field, formerly of this city, but late of Somerville, have leased the property at 207 Watchung avenue, the borough, and moved there today. Mr. Field at one time was engaged in the drug business with L. W. Randolph. He now holds a lucrative position with Bruen, Ritchey & Co., of New York.

ROYAL Baking Powder

ABSOLUTELY PURE

Healthful cream of tartar, derived solely from grapes, refined to absolute purity, is the active principle of every pound of Royal Baking Powder.

Hence it is that Royal Baking Powder renders the food remarkable both for its fine flavor and healthfulness.

No alum, no phosphate—which are the principal elements of the so-called cheap baking powders—and which are derived from bones, rock and sulphuric acid.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR.

Prayer Meeting Topic For the Week Beginning Sept. 9.

By REV. S. H. DOYLE.

Topic.—The triumphs of Christianity.—John xii, 32; I Cor. xv, 20-28.

Christianity is a triumphant religion. Every possible power at Satan's command has been arrayed against the power and kingdom of Christ, and yet it goes on, "conquering and to conquer." "The gates of hell shall not prevail against it."

Christianity has triumphed over material opposition. It has ever been opposed by powerful enemies, yet in the end it has come off victorious. It was opposed first of all by Judaism. Paul was constantly followed and persecuted by those among the Jews who rejected Christ and adhered to the Mosaic rites and ceremonies, yet Christianity spread most rapidly under his leadership. The Roman empire bitterly opposed the Christian religion and persecuted Christians in a most cruel manner, yet it was not long until in Constantine a Christian emperor sat upon the throne. All other such opposition has been as fruitless. The heathen have raged, but God has laughed and Christ's kingdom has advanced.

Christianity has triumphed over sin. In Christ man has the power to receive pardon for sin and power to overcome sin. In His conflict with Satan in the wilderness Christ stood the test of all his temptations. "He was tempted in all points as we are, yet without sin." What He did for Himself He is able and willing to do for those who are His. Because of His death our sins may be pardoned, and by His strength we may overcome sin, as He overcame it.

Christianity has triumphed over death and the grave. In the raising of Lazarus Christ demonstrated His power over the grave. And this demonstration was further emphasized when He Himself came forth from the tomb. Death, the greatest enemy of mankind, was thus overcome. Death lost its sting and the grave its victory, for Christ's resurrection is an earnest of the resurrection of all mankind. "Now is Christ risen from the dead and hath become the first fruits of them that slept."

The triumph of Christianity is abundant proof of its divine origin. Nothing else can account for its wonderful growth from the feeblest origin and in spite of all opposition except that it be of God. This fact should cause us to rejoice if we are Christians and to accept Christ if we are not.

BIBLE READINGS.

Ps. ii, 1-12; lxviii, 1-18; lxxii, 1-20; Isa. xxxv, 1-10; Matt. iv, 1-11; ix, 18-26; Acts v, 34-40; II Cor. ii, 14-17; Rev. vi, 1-3; xiv, 13, 14; xxi, 23-27.

A New York State District Secretary.

One of the most energetic, hustling Christian Endeavor district secretaries connected with the New York state union is Amasa J. Teed of Unadilla. Mr. Teed has come up from the ranks and is a striking example of what Christian Endeavor can do in the development of young manhood and the broadening and strengthening of life purposes and resolves.

AMASA J. TEED.

Christian Endeavor Housekeeping.

Shake up all the inactive members and hang them out for an airing. If they show signs of being moth eaten, sprinkle them freely with the spirit of enthusiasm.

Sweep the corners carefully to get rid of the shreds and tatters of worn-out methods. Sell all the threadbare stuff to the ragman. The bargain counters are loaded with bright, new plans. Dust off the roll book with loving assiduity toward each member and you will be surprised to see how some that have appeared very dingy will brighten up. Set the social committee to cleaning your doorstep of the ice of inhospitality, and maybe you will have more visitors.

Make a bonfire in the corner of the back yard of all the petty feuds and misunderstandings and other causes of cliques and coolness.—Rev. John F. Cowan, D.D., in Pine Tree Endeavorer.

Be a Man.

Do not think for a moment that to be a Christian means a melting away of all manliness. Far from it. The Christian ought to be the very highest type of man, and, while we would emulate all the gentleness, all the love and all the forbearance of our blessed Saviour, we would also breathe this prayer to Him and say: "With Thy gentleness give me Thy greatness, and with Thy long suffering give me Thy holy impetuosity for the Father's glory, and with all Thy meekness give me Thy boundless spirit of determined purpose. May I steadfastly set my face toward the path of duty marked out for me, to whatever it may lead."—Rev. Archibald G. Brown.

To Render a Lasting Service.

We often do more good by our sympathy than by our labors and render to the world a more lasting service by absence of jealousy and recognition of merit than we could ever render by the straining efforts of personal ambition.—Dean Farrar.

His Manner.

This is the Lord's manner: If there be but one grain of corn in many heaps of chaff He will never leave winnowing rather than lose it. Send He will, messenger after messenger, until He hath gathered it into His barn.—Thomas Hooker.

HAIR NATURALLY ABUNDANT.

When It Is Free of Dandruff, It Grows Luxuriantly.

Hair preparations and dandruff cures, as a rule, are sticky or irritating affairs that do no earthly good. Hair, when not diseased, grows naturally, luxuriantly. Dandruff is the cause of nine-tenths of all hair trouble, and dandruff is caused by a germ. The only way to cure dandruff is to kill the germ; and, so far, the only hair preparation that will positively destroy the germ is Newbro's Herpicide—absolutely harmless, free from grease, sediment, dye matter or dangerous drugs. It allays itching instantly; makes hair glossy and soft as silk. "Destroy the cause, you remove the effect." Sold by leading druggists. Sept. 9: (For the Prayer Meeting.) "The Power and Blessedness of United Prayer"—Matt. xviii, 19; Mal. iii, 16-18; Jas. v, 16; Acts xii, 12; i, 13, 14.

By REV. WALTER J. YATES, D. D.

We are so constituted that we crave companionship. In no other way is our fraternity more clearly expressed than in our conversation and friendly association. Regard for others finds its natural expression in talking together and companionship. We are social in nature. So it arises that in our religious life we want others to share with us their thoughts, possessions and cares, and we desire to share with others our opinions and hopes and burdens.

Private, personal devotion and secret prayer are most helpful in the Christian life and are indispensable to growth in Christian virtues and graces. But whoever neglects public prayer and cultivates only private worship is as if he should never talk except when alone. Yet how many Christians never uttered a syllable of prayer in public and never enter sympathetically into the spirit of devotion when others pray!

This public prayer, what should it be and of what value is it?

We have blessings and benefits as communities, as a country, a nation, a church, a league chapter. It is well to clearly recognize what these are. What have I as an American to be thankful for more than as if I were a citizen of some other country? What have I as a member of this chapter to bless God for which I get from companionship with these other members? What is my church home worth to me? What does it stand for? Am I thankful for all benefits I have? If so, why should I not say so to God in the presence of my fellow members?

The consolations and sense of strength which come to one in public prayer are different from all other experiences. It is unwise to cut all this out of one's life. What is lost by neglect of this means of growth cannot be realized by the one who omits it and is lost sight of by the one who has once been active and who has relapsed diligence.

The difference in tone between the chapter which has a strong force of praying members and the one which lacks them is apparent to even a casual visitor.

Too much we have been content to have our members rise and repeat a short verse of Scripture, quote a line of a hymn or a verse of poetry or read a short extract picked up at random. Perhaps this is better than nothing, but it is a poor substitute for genuine personal testimony and individual public prayer.

Of course it is not easy to pray in public for most people. Very few people are good public speakers without long practice, just as few ever play the piano acceptably without practice. But to make the excuse of "lack of gift" cover the neglect of prayer in public is a very poor plan.

Better begin, keep at it and conquer diffidence, indolence, pride and all other hindrances. Why should you be absolved from the duty? What right have you to defraud yourself of the possible power and blessing which follow faithful performance of duty?

The Unsaid Prayer.

They were talking of prayer, and the woman who owned that she had not been much used to praying—to carrying everyday needs and wants to God—said: "I did so want something once, something that I thought it would be right to have, that I tried to pray for it. But all at once there came over me a thought of all that God had done for me, how many blessings He had put into my life—so many more than I had ever deserved—that I was ashamed to ask for another thing. I came away and left my prayer unsaid."

She need not have left it unsaid, though the unuttered petition was borne all the same on the wings of her gratitude to the Father's listening ear. But all unconsciously she had offered the truest, most acceptable prayer of all—the thrill of that thanksgiving which, realizing all the tender mercies of the past, grows suddenly content to trust the future and all its needs to the love that has never failed. That, indeed, is the great blessing of constant communion with God, and the carrying to Him of all life's common daily interests and wants. It helps us to remember how He has always "known more of our needs than all our prayers have told," and how fully and unwearyingly He has supplied and anticipated them through all the changing years. It is a poor prayer that does not awaken the soul to fresh faith and loving gratitude.—Forward.

Consecration and Rest.

To step out of self life into Christ life; to lie still and let Him lift you out of it; to fold your hands close and hide your face upon the hem of His garment; to let Him lay His cooling, soothing, healing hands upon your soul and draw all the hurry and fever from its veins; to realize that you are not a mighty messenger, an important worker of His, full of care and responsibility, but only a little child, with a Father's gentle bidding to heed and fulfill; to lay your busy plans and ambitions confidently in His hands, as the child brings its broken toys at its mother's call; to serve Him by waiting; to praise Him by saying, "Holy, holy, holy;" to cease to hurry so that you lose sight of His face; to learn to follow Him and not to run ahead of orders; to cease to live in self and for self and to live in Him and for Him; to love His honor more than your own; to be a clear medium for His life tide to shine and glow through—this is consecration, this is rest.—Christian Worker and Evangelist.

By OLIVIA B. STROHM

(Copyright, 1905, by Olivia B. Strohm).

After a pause, Boone asked: "What did we all wish?"

"I can guess yours, colonel," Lavender said. "It was for good weather, or full traps, or perhaps that the Indians would let us alone."

"No, my girl, no. I am indifferent to weather; I am too old a hunter to set traps this time of year, and as for the Indians, well, Dan Boone has yet to worry about them. No, mine was the old, old story—a wish for my land, my title. For you must know," he added in explanation, "that I have long coveted more of Mother Earth than the bare six feet which all men claim."

This was followed by a hush, which the host broke again: "Yours was something sentimental, no doubt?"

Lavender shook her head. "No, I couldn't think of a trifling wish—something which did not matter—so—so I didn't wish at all. The real heart desires, things I want very much—no, I wouldn't trust them to a goddess so capricious."

Winslow smiled at her fancy—her manner, half serious, half jesting.

"I see you have imbibed some of America's supersititons. Now, I, on the contrary, have trusted to the moon's fickle care a grave responsibility, the desire on which my whole life turns."

His meaning tone made Lavender tremble with an odd, confused joy.

The old man chuckled.

In the embarrassed calm which followed, Owatoga emerged from the hut where he had been caring for the wounded savage, and with a few strides joined the group. In his manner was a suggestion of repressed excitement. There was a glitter in the fathomless eyes.

"Owatoga has something to tell," remarked Winslow. "Let us hear it friend."

But the guide beckoned him mysteriously apart, and they conferred together.

Winslow returned soon, and, with an apology to Lavender, spoke into the private ear of his host.

Boone's first involuntary start betrayed dismay.

"What is the matter? Tell me," demanded the girl.

The three men exchanged glances. "Tell her," said Owatoga. "The white maid is no papoose to fear the paint and feathers."

"He is right," Boone agreed. "She may as well know now. It may be only a false alarm. I must see this redskin, and find out the truth — if possible," he added, meaningly. "Indians have lied before." With a cynical smile that was half a frown, he went to the hut where back in the semi-darkness lay the wounded savage, like a wolf in his den, nothing seen but the fierce and glaring eyes.

Meanwhile Owatoga stood at the edge of the small clearing, his eye intent upon the thicket.

Winslow moved close to Lavender as he said: "Owatoga says that a party of Osage Indians have planned to attack Col. Boone's cabin to-night. They do not know of the presence of the rest of us, but are sure they have trapped the old man at last."

"And how did Owatoga learn this?" asked Lavender, and her voice was low and steady.

"Through this wounded man; he was to have been one of the attacking party."

"And why does he betray the design?"

"For two reasons; he has discovered in Owatoga one of his own tribe, and —well, he fancies himself in some sense indebted to me."

Then, seeing that she still looked puzzled: "I might have killed him this afternoon, you know."

Here Boone joined them. "We must lose no time. I am pretty sure he is speaking the truth. There seems no gain to him in warning us. We will leave him here. He says the redskins may come at any time, but it will most likely be after midnight. He will detain them as long as he can to give us a chance to get away."

Before they left, Winslow bent over the wounded Indian with a word of farewell, to which he had for answer: "Yes, Menoka will live, and he will remember that one white breast had a heart in it."

Silently the party stole from the camp.

"To the north," was Boone's whispered command, and soon the forest hid them in friendly gloom.

From Menoka they had learned that the attack would be from the river. Retreat that way, then, was cut off; they would have to make the journey overland.

After some time the noise of rifles echoed faintly in the hollow glen. The attack! It was true, then, what Menoka had said.

Lavender controlled the impulse to cry out, but her nerves, strained and tense as a lute string, snapped, and she was for a moment overcome with a deathly faintness.

Then fright lent her strength, and gave to her feet the speed of wings.

Faster for a space than the men could follow, she dashed blindly on.

Boone overtook her, and laying one hand on her arm, said, kindly, yet with sternness: "What? Will you lose heart and nerve at first sound? You could not continue this pace, and—what then?"

Winslow had come up, and to reassure her further, said: "Owatoga says that with our good start we need not fail. The Osage promised to detain the party, or give them a false trail."

Boone put in grimly: "All the same, we will lose no time."

Lavender gave way to no more paroxysms of fear, but trudged along in patient silence.

To Boone and Owatoga the trail was familiar, and they took the lead.

Winslow ever kept beside her; his hand helping her over the rough places. The underbrush grew so close, it seemed they were piercing blindly what must lead nowhere. But always Owatoga forced a passage, and they would reach an open prairie—its wild-flowers scattered about in the darkness, like drops from the milky way.

The old pioneer kept a rugged silence. No longer host, entertainer, he was now the guide, the woodsman, in a race with the "forest devils." Every trained sense was alert with the extra effort which his years required.

Finally he suggested a halt on the bank of a little creek.

Here, in an abandonment of fatigue, Lavender threw herself on the ground, her head resting on the earth-clogged roots of an old tree.

They dared not light a fire, and the two whom experience warned sat, grave, taciturn, anxious, in spite of the solitude, the seeming security. For Danel Boone and the Indan knew that each tree-trunk might shelter a velvet-footed enemy. And, sobered by the danger, they sat tense and wary, watching.

But to Winslow and Lavender, secure through inexperience, the rest brought only a blessed sense of physical relief. The danger, seeming past, served but as a link to bring them closer together.

Winslow threw himself down upon the gnarled roots against which the girlish head rested, looking down upon her.

The ungainly poke-bonnet had been left behind, "spoil for the Indians," and, less in the way, America's 'kerchief bound the wayward locks. Her dress was torn at the neck, and an ugly scratch below the chin made whiter the white throat. In the dim light he noticed, too, the tired droop of the eyelids, and the pale lips held half open. Every curve of the delicate figure showed listless fatigue.

It was easy to love her thus—easy to tell her so.

He bent closer. "You are tired; try to sleep a little."

"No, I am comfortable now. I don't want to lose this delicious feeling in the oblivion of sleep," she said, and there was drowsy content in her voice.

FOR THE GENTLER SEX

WHAT SHE SHOULD KNOW.

The wish of every bride-to-be is that she shall become a model wife, and before the eventful day arrives when she gives herself to him, "for better, for worse," she should do all she can to prepare herself for her new position, so that, as far as she is concerned, the union shall prove "for better."

When a girl promises to become a wife, the man has every right to suppose that she is competent to fill such a position, and, no matter how old she is, if she is not capable of managing a house she is not old enough to become a wife.

One of the first things to learn to manage is the money.

Many girls, who happen to be the eldest or the stay-at-home daughter of the family, have gained considerable experience in housekeeping, and are quite capable in this respect, but there are others who have no idea of laying out money to the best advantage, says the Philadelphia Bulletin.

It does not matter whether the home be poor or rich, in both economy should be practised and waste avoided.

The girl who is inexperienced in household matters will do well to gain an insight into them before she takes the burden of them on her own shoulders.

She should learn to know a good piece of meat from a bad piece, and not be content just to give the order and let the butcher send what he thinks he will, which often happens to be a joint that he has not been able to sell to the customer who chooses her meat for herself.

A thorough knowledge of cooking and preparing food should be acquired so that the bride-to-be is a capable cook.

Although she may not actually have to do the housework, it is necessary for the future bride to know how to do it. The model housewife will not think that housework is beneath her, and if it is necessary for her to undertake it she will do it with a will, so that the slittle house is indeed a home to the husband when he arrives home tired after perhaps a worrying day.

TO FRESHEN HATS.

Velvet trimmings for hats may be freshened by steaming, for the moist air seems to bring out the nap and makes it look like new. Of course the dust must be thoroughly bruised out and the piece aired before steamed. Even the creases may be taken out by this process if the velvet is stretched tightly between the hands when held over the spout of the teakettle. If convenient attach a knife to the top of the spout of a kettle and pull the smooth side of the velvet across it when steaming. In this way the creases will be quickly removed and the material made to look like new, says the Philadelphia Inquirer.

Tulle trimming on bonnets and hats that have faded should be turned so that he fresh side will be out, and if it has become slimsy some of the crispness may be brought back by sunning it for several hours. Some women steam tulle to freshen it. They do this by wrapping the headgear in a heavy towel and holding it above boiling water from three to five minutes, the hat is then put into the sunshine and out in the fresh air, and left to absorb the brightness and get crisp and fresh.

Cleaning spots from cloth or silk is unusually best accomplished by using gasoline or benzine to cleanse the soiled places, and then wiping off the whole garment with the liquid. Some persons prefer freshening then in water. Black taffeta washed through a weak solution of ammonia and water and then dry-pressed of ammonia and water and then dry-pressed with a warm iron between three or four thickness of brown paper generally comes out fresh, though neither stiff nor shiny.

GOLF.

An effort will be made by the Women's Metropolitan Golf Association to put more life in the one-day tournaments to be resumed this fall at the various nearby cities. Those interested in the success of the Eastern team, which will meet the Western women in the match over the links of the Brae Burn Country Club on Saturday, October 6, realize the necessity for more competitive play. A start will be made at the Hackensack Golf Club on Wednesday, September 12.

Beginning on Saturday, September 8, the Lehigh Valley Railroad will operate a through train service between New York and the Baltusrol station, on the Rahway Valley Railroad, by way of Roselle Park. This train will be run through every Saturday and Sunday. The Rahway Valley station is within 200 yards of the clubhouse.

Gilman P. Tiffany, in a recent visit to the Scarsdale Golf Club, equalled the amateur record for the course, with a score of 80. His card for seventeen holes showed a total of 74 strokes, and the record appeared to be at his mercy, as the last hole is short. He spoiled his chances by getting into trouble on his drive.

At a meeting of the Baltusrol Golf Club on Saturday the members will vote on a proposition to increase the dues of the members of the evening class $10 a year. The dues have always been small, being $20 for Newark members, and there are about 700 members and many applicants waiting for admission. The course is one of the best in the country, and was never finer than it is today.

George Pearson, the professional of the Forest Hill Field Club, and Paul Heller, of the same organization, were beaten at Deal a few days ago in an eighteen-hole match with Willie Norton, the Deal professional, the J. F. Shanley, Jr. A return match will be played at Forest Hill.

On Thursday, Friday and Saturday, September 20, 21 and 22, there will be an invitation tournament on the course of the Morris County Golf Club. None has been held there since 1903.

The qualifying round in the championship tournament of the Yountakah Golf Club will be played on the club's course at Nutley this week. The present champion is F. S. Marsellus.

C. A. STOVER LEADS.

Still Holds First Place in Golf Competition.

Charles A. Stover still leads for the Golf Committee cup, weekly competition, at the Plainfield Country Club, with 10¾ points, and Dudley H. Barrows is rapidly nearing the top with 9½ points, leaving E. A. Stevenson and H. W. Beebe in third place with eight points each. The standing to and including Monday's play is as follows:

C. A. Stover, 10¾; D. H. Barrows, 9½; E. A. Stevenson, 8; H. W. Beebe, 8; S. H. Patterson, 7½; R. Abbott, 7½; F. C. Talmadge, 6½; W. D. Riggs, 6½; E. J. Patterson, 6; G. F. Schoonmaker, 6; L. A. Chase, 4½; H. D. Hibbard, 4½; C. B. Morgan, 4½; F. O. Reinhart, 4; A. Murphy, 4; W. B. Tyler, 3½; T. E. Stockton, 3½; E. E. Iremonger, 3; C. F. Abbott, 3; E. B. Shoemaker, 2½; Arthur Peck, 2; H. S. Rogers, 2; J. A. Hutchinson, 2; Geo. E. Cathcart, 2; W. L. Glenney, 2½; Alex. Gilbert, 1½; J. P. Murray, 1½; J. E. Erickson, 1½; M. J. Dumont, 1½; J. A. Lane, 1; E. T. Willson, ¾; L. L. Tweedy, ¾; D. Junior Golf Championship.

The first round match play for the Junior championship was started on Tuesday at the Plainfield Country Club, with this result: Ogden Rogers beat Parker, 8 up and 6 to play; J. Rex Schoonmaker beat G. L. Carman, 5 up and 4 to play; W. T. Glenney beat W. Gough, 8 up and 7 to play; Percy Brown beat Fleming, by default. In the semi-final round J. Rex Schoonmaker beat Ogden Rogers, 5 up and 3 to play, and W. T. Glenney beat Percy Brown, by default. The finals between Shoemaker and Glenney will be played off on Friday.

CLOSED PORTALS.

Friendship Lodge, No. 4, Daughters of Rebekah, initiated one candidate and received four applications for membership at its meeting Tuesday night. J. B. PERKINS ON HIS RECORD within two years, for assaults, imprisonment, etc., within four years, and that period seems reasonable time for suits to recover secret profits.

"The eighth question is: 'Why did he (Perkins) refuse to support the bill providing that street railway, telephone and telegraph companies should be compelled to pay their employes at least once in every two weeks?'

"I did not refuse to support any such bill. As far as I am aware the 'Act to provide for the payment of wages in lawful money of the United States every two weeks,' approved March 16, 1899, meets with general approval as it stands on the statute books.

"The last question is: 'Why did he (Perkins) oppose the passage of a law compelling legislative lobbyists to register their names and the interests they represent?'

"I voted against this bill, because in my judgment the scheme was wholly ineffectual to remedy the lobby evil.

"As Leader of the House, my attitude on the lobby question must be known to the public. The Courier-News must know that repeatedly during the session I moved that the lobbies be cleared, and that for the first time in years every lobbyist was turned out of the House. Every legislater knows that the lobbyists who hang around the State House are more of a nuisance than anything else.

"If legislators are susceptible to the influences of the lobby, the mere registration of names and interests represented by lobbyists will neither give legislators back-bone nor mend their morals."

JOURNALISTIC OPINIONS

Judge Runyon's Experience.

Judge Runyon, of Plainfield, the "new idea" candidate for Assembly in Union county, is in a position to tell just how the machine works in politics. He was at one time a part of the machine, a cog on one of the wheels, so to speak, but a cog that had eyes and a conscience. He says: "A dozen men make the policies of the State; the United States Senator in this (Union) county, Dickinson in Hudson, Carl Lentz in Essex, Strong in Middlesex, and Baird in Camden. I was a little boss in my ward and did my work like many others. The man above me gave me my orders and I tried to carry them out. About 6:45 on election day some one rounded up the fellows who had not voted, and by some manipulation their votes were cast. I had nothing to do with it, but I felt my hands were soiled. Finally I was the intermediary in a promise which was not kept and I became disgusted." There is nothing in this frank confession that is new to practical politicians. The bosses and their immediate subordinates knew all about such tricks. They have practised them for years. But all the people do not know just how the machine works, and Judge Runyon's brief description will illumine their political understandings. —Newark News.

Corporation Notice.

PROPOSALS FOR SEWERS.

Pursuant to a resolution adopted by the Common Council of the City of Plainfield, New Jersey, at a regular meeting held Tuesday, September 4, 1906, notice is hereby given that the Common Council will meet on Monday, October first, 1906, at 8 o'clock p. m., at the Council Chamber, No. 149 North Avenue, in the City of Plainfield, at which time and place said Common Council will receive sealed proposals for doing the work and furnishing the materials for the construction of the sewers contemplated in the ordinance entitled "An Ordinance to provide separate sewers or drains to carry off the surface water in a portion of Richmond Street," approved August 7, 1906, as provided for in the plans and specifications adopted by the Common Council June 12, 1906, and September 4, 1906, and filed in the office of the City Clerk, No. 151 North Avenue, Plainfield, N. J.

Upon receipt of the bids or proposals, the Common Council will immediately proceed to unseal the same and publicly announce the contents in the presence of the parties bidding or their agents, provided said parties or agents choose to be then and there present, and also make proper record of the prices and terms upon the minutes of the Council.

Each proposal must be accompanied by a certified check for $200, payable to the Treasurer of the City of Plainfield.

The Engineer's approximate estimate of the quantities of material required, and the work to be done is as follows:

280 ft. 33 in. sewer,
54 ft. 15 in. inlet connections,
167 ft. 12 in. inlet connections,
6 Branches,
180 ft. 4 in. cast iron house connections,
1 Manhole, Sec. "C,"
1 Manhole, Sec. "D,"
6 Inlets, Standard,
2 Inlets, Special.

Duplicate plans may be examined, and forms of proposals, specifications, contract and bond, may be obtained at the office of the Engineer, 151 North Avenue, Plainfield, N. J.

The right to reject any or all bids is expressly reserved by the Common Council.

Proposals should be endorsed "Proposals for Sewers."

BRYAN FAVORS MARTINE FOR U. S. SENATOR

NO FACTIONAL MAN

Former Congressman Dunn Adds His Endorsement—Martine Will Not Talk.

William Jennings Bryan favors James E. Martine as the candidate of the Democratic party in New Jersey for United States Senator.

The story was told Wednesday night of a conversation that took place in the Carteret Club, in Jersey City, Saturday evening, when Mr. Bryan was a guest of that organization and where he had dinner. A group of men were discussing the chaotical political situation in this State, when someone turned to the Peerless One and, it is said, asked him who he thought would be the strongest candidate to pit against John F. Dryden.

"What's the matter with that man over there?" Mr. Bryan is alleged to have replied, pointing to Martine, who was some distance away.

"Do you mean Mr. Martine?" asked one of those in the group.

"Why, yes," is the answer attributed to Mr. Bryan, "above all, Mr. Martine is not a factional politician, and I am told factionalism is the trouble here just now. Martine deserves well of his party."

Colonel E. A. Stevens, of Hoboken, has been mentioned as the Democratic choice for United States Senator, but outside of his home city of Hoboken and in a few other places in Hudson county, his boom has aroused no enthusiasm whatsoever.

Martine occupies a peculiar position in Jersey politics, it was pointed out by local Democrats Wednesday night. It was he who brought Bryan to New Jersey after the efforts of the Essex regular Democracy had failed. In this action he was opposed by the True Democracy, but Martine is still persona grata to that band of reformers. While they contend that Martine made a mistake in inducing Bryan to visit Newark, they admit that his efforts in that direction were unselfish and made only with the idea of benefiting the party as a whole. Had Bryan failed to visit Newark, however, it would have been a knockout blow to the leaders who announced his coming several days ahead of his arrival here, and then found that they had a difficult job to make good. The appearance of the Peerless One of Union county on the scene was the only thing that gave those leaders a chance to save their faces.

"Martine is too dead easy," was the way that the True Democracy described him when they found that their wire-pulling had been all undone by his disinterested efforts. Nevertheless, the members of the True Democracy are said to be willing to support Martine for any office for which the rest of the party are willing to back him. Throughout the State he has been given credit for the coming of Bryan, and is now looked upon the Great Unifier as well as the Peerless No. 2.

Local Democrats who have heard of the Martine boom view it with commendation. A member of the Democratic Club said Wednesday night that Martine was the strongest man in sight, and the one man upon whom all factions would have no trouble in uniting.

Former Congressman John T. Dunn, when asked about the Martine boom, said that he would feel like taking off his coat and working for Martine if he was able, in case the Plainfielder was candidate for United States Senator. Dunn believed that Martine was the best man available in the present condition of Democratic politics. Mr. Dunn thinks that the fight within the Republican party gives the Democrats just as good a chance to elect a Senator as their opponents. He promised to have something more definite to say about the Martine boom later.

When Mr. Martine was seen by a reporter he admitted that he had heard about his United States Senatorial boom, but would have nothing to say on the subject. He would not discuss the Bryan incident at the Carteret Club.

Borough Council Tonight.

The regular meeting of the Borough Council will be held tonight. A number of important matters are to come up for discussion and it is possible the sewer committee will render a report.

LA FOLLETTE'S TRIP THROUGH NEW JERSEY

PROVISIONAL PROGRAMME ARRANGED FOR THE REFORMER.

The officers of the Republican State League for Equal Taxation have arranged a provisional programme for the visit of United States Senator Robert M. La Follette, of Wisconsin, to the State in the interests of the Colby movement. The Senator will spend the week of September 17 in New Jersey and will speak in Burlington, Monmouth, Camden, Middlesex, Morris, Union, Bergen and Passaic counties and in Newark and Jersey City. The tour as arranged at present is:

September 17—Afternoon, Mt. Holly and Burlington; evening, Camden (three meetings).

September 18—Afternoon, Freehold and Asbury Park; evening, New Brunswick and Perth Amboy.

September 19—Afternoon, Dover, Boonton and Morristown; evening, Elizabeth and Plainfield.

September 20—Afternoon, Englewood and Rutherford; evening, Paterson, Passaic and Hackensack.

September 21—Three meetings in Essex.

September 22—Jersey City and Hoboken.

It is probable that the Monmouth meetings will be held in Freehold and Long Branch, instead of Freehold and Asbury Park, as at present arranged. In Essex it is probable that one large meeting will be held at night in the Krueger Auditorium in Newark and another in some large hall either in Orange or Montclair, while a third will be held in the afternoon in Newark in some large park or open space.

PLAINFIELD PHYSICIANS TO ATTEND THE CONGRESS.

American Institute of Homeopathy to Meet at Atlantic City.

Drs. T. S. Davis, O. L. Jenkins and Edward Rushmore, of this city, will attend the sixty-second annual meeting of the American Institute of Homeopathy, to be held at Atlantic Sity, September 10-15. This will be one of the most important gatherings of practitioners of homeopathy ever held in this country, as the leading physicians of this and other countries will be present and take part in the programme.

There will be a full programme each day of the congress commencing with Monday night, when the opening session will be held at Young's Pier, at the foot of Tennessee avenue. The meetings will be held in the large ball room, which will comfortably seat 1,800 people. Following the opening meeting there will be a reception and dance, at which time an opportunity will be afforded to meet the officers of the Congress and Institute and the foreign delagates. On Friday night, a banquet will be tendered the Congress and Institute

There will be a practical and educational exhibit of Homeopathy, showing the status of Homeopathy in different parts of the world and the character of the work being done by its educational and philanthropic institutions. Upwards of twenty-five institutions will have exhibits. There will also be held the seventh annual meeting of the Surgical and Gynecological Association of the American Institute of Homeopathy, and prominent physicians and surgeons from all parts of the world will have a part in the programme. In connection with the Congress and Institute a number of societies devoted to certain branches of medicine and surgery will hold sessions.

New Mail Arrangement a Success.

According to the new arrangements at the postoffice, Clerk Elmer Squier is now on duty there all night to receive the 8:50 and 11:26 mails from New York. He assorts this mail, stamps it and has it all ready for the letter-carriers when they report for duty in the morning to deliver. Heretofore, the last mail from New York to Plainfield closed at the New York postoffice at 3 o'clock in the afternoon and not another mail arrived here until the next morning. Now two extra mails arrive here in the evening, insuring an early delivery in the morning. Already the change has proved a benefit and it will continue so as the mails become heavier.

Joseph R. Weaner to Wed.

Invitations have been issued for the marriage of Miss Margaret Clare, of Raritan, and Joseph Raymond Weaner, the well-known ball player. The ceremony will take place at St. Bernards' church, Raritan, Wednesday morning, September 19, at 10:30 o'clock.

DREW REVOLVER ON STRIKERS' PICKETS

RUSHMORE THOUGHT THEY WERE GOING TO WHIP HIM AS STRIKE BREAKER.

Samuel W. Rushmore, of the Rushmore Dynamo Works, had an encounter with two of the pickets of the Krom Manufacturing Company strikers in front of the Krom factory, at North and Berckman streets, yesterday afternoon, in which he drew a revolver. No shots were fired, and the incident melted quietly away.

According to Mr. Rushmore's statement to the police, Herbert Utzinger, one of the pickets, stopped him as he was about to go into the Krom works, and asked him if he was looking for a job. Mr. Rushmore humorously replied that he had one and a good one.

"Well, there is a strike on in this shop," said the picket.

"I don't care if there is," replied Mr. Rushmore. "I'm a professional strike-breaker."

He alleges that Utzinger and another picket closed in on him, and he drew a revolver to stand them off. The factory people called up the police headquarters and Detective McCarthy hustled to the scene.

Both sides wanted the other arrested. McCarthy told them to come to court this morning and prefer complaints. Neither Mr. Rushmore nor the pickets turned up at court.

BUSINESS MEN MUST SERVE AS JURYMEN.

District Court Judge Newcorn Makes a New Rule.

Judge Newcorn, of the district court, has made up his mind that in the future in all cases requiring a jury there shall be a sufficient number of men in court to serve as jurors without causing any delay. He has instructed Sergeant Hand to do his duty. Sergeant Hand says that he will in the future call on business men to serve on juries and according to the law they must attend court. If they fail Judge Newcorn will impose the penalty provided for in such cases.

As a rule it is difficult to get a busines man to serve as a juror because he cannot well afford to lose the time required. In consequence men of leisure are usually chosen for this work. It is not always possible to get a sufficient number of this class to try a case and the court meets with difficulty in filling out a jury.

MR. MANNING NOW A Y. M. C. A. DIRECTOR.

Elected to the Board Last Night—Farewell Reception Is Being Arranged.

J. Harry Manning, the retiring secretary of the Y. M. C. A., was made a director of the association last night, at a meeting of the directors. Mr. Manning will retire as secretary on October 1, after twenty years' service and a committee was appointed last night to arrange a reception to him.

The committee is made up of W. D. Murray, Dr. N. H. Probasco, O. S. Rogers, G. M. Rittenhouse and A. B. Beers. No date has been set for the affair.

Another committee was appointed as follows, to arrange for the observance of the association's thirty-ninth anniversary on November 15: G. M. Rittenhouse, G. E. Hall, R. A. Radford, C. M. Thorpe and E. T. Wilson.

Quietly Married at Rectory.

Miss Lydia Primme and Frank Haulenbeck, both of Netherwood, were quietly married at the rectory of St. Stephen's church on Saturday, August 25. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Arthur Searing Peck and was attended only by the necessary witnesses. Mr. and Mrs. Haulenbeck will start housekeeping in the spring.

Dunellen Democrats to Caucus.

The Democrats of Dunellen will nominate municipal candidates at a caucus to be held in the Borough hall the night of September 12. The party forces are harmonized and in good working order. The meeting will be of the old-fashioned sort, and everybody's opinion will be welcomed by the chairman.

Buys $10,000 House.

Mrs. Mary L. Taylor has purchased the property at 723 Central avenue, where she is living, from the Seventh-Day Baptist Memorial Fund. The consideration was $10,000. The papers were passed in William M. Stillman's office yesterday morning.

Century Club Dance.

The Century Club, a local colored organization, conducted an invitation dance in Saengerbund hall, last night. It was attended by 150 young people from this city, Elizabeth and New Brunswick. Another dance is to be held in October.

COLBYITES TO ATTEND REPUBLICAN CAUCUS

AN APPEAL MADE FOR THEIR PRESENCE AT CASINO CONFERENCE MONDAY.

Although they have made complete endorsements for a separate municipal ticket at the primaries, the members of the Plainfield branch of the Union County Republican League for Equal Taxation intend to participate in the joint conference of the City Republican Executive Committee and the Republican Advisory Committee at the Casino Monday night when a ticket will be endorsed. Their decision is a result of the general invitation issued by the executive and advisory committees, respectively.

When Mayor Fisk heard that the Colbyites would attend the conference he expressed his pleasure. An appeal made by Howard Tracy follows:

Editor, The Daily Press:

Inasmuch as the Republican City Executive Committee has called a joint meeting of that committee and the advisory committee recently appointed to be held at the Casino on Monday next, to consider the nominations or endorsement of candidates and delegates to be voted for at the approaching primaries and general election, and has requested every Republican voter to attend and express his views, all members of the Plainfield branch of the Union County Republican League for Equalization of Taxes, and all persons in sympathy with it, are earnestly requested to put aside all other engagements for that evening, and attend the meeting in order that their views and matter which may come up for discussion, and with regard to selection or endorsement of candidates, may be fully and freely expressed.

HOWARD TRACY.

DIRTY SHIRT ROW.

Mrs. Waldron Hung Garment Out of Window and Husband Vexed.

It was a tale of a dirty shirt that John Waldron unfolded in his defense against the charge of drunkenness and disorderly conduct brought by his wife in the city court this morning. Waldron came home Monday night and found one of his soiled shirts, which was very dirty indeed—he acknowledged that it was unusually soiled—hanging in a conspicuous and self-assertive manner from the window. He pulled the shirt in, but Mrs. Waldron hung it back. She said she wanted the neighborhood to see just what sort of a man he was.

The row that started then resulted in his arrest. Mrs. Waldron testified that her husband was drunk and abusive, and other witnesses testified that Waldron had been drinking before he went home.

Judge Runyon found Waldron guilty of disorderly conduct, but held that the incident of the shirt was enough to make any man disorderly. He condemned Mrs. Waldron for not seeking to make a household that has been upset by long-standing disagreements and smoother than she could help. He suspended sentence.

Waldron was defended by S. S. Swackhamer. W. L. Hetfield, 2d, appeared for the complainant.

ELIZABETH EXCISE BOARD REDUCES THE LICENSE FEE.

From $500 to $300 and Saloons Must Close at Twelve Midnight.

While the tendency throughout the State has been to increase the liquor license fee, the Board of Excise in session at Elizabeth, yesterday, voted to reduce the fee in that city from $500 to $300. All the members, except the president, voted for the reduction. A resolution was also adopted compelling the saloonkeepers to close their places at 12 midnight and not to open until 5 o'clock in the morning.

Yesterday's action is generally considered unwise, inasmuch as nearly every city and town in the State is increasing the fee. A majority of the people in Elizabeth feel that in a city of that size the liquor dealers can well afford to pay at least $500.

George Weaver Very Ill.

George H. Weaver, a former resident of this city, and a brother of David Weaver and Deputy Sheriff Peter Weaver, is lying at his home in Somerville, suffering from the effects of a severe paralytic stroke. He was seized with it Monday, and is barely holding his own. He is sixty-nine.

Long Court Calendar.

Judge Newcorn sat in the place of Judge Swift in the Elizabeth District Court yesterday, and found himself facing the longest list he ever saw in any district court. There were seventy-six cases on the calendar. He disposed of about twenty of them, including two jury trials.

LAKE PIGMENT CO. SOLD BY RECEIVER

MILTON KNAPP, OF BOUND BROOK PAYS $16,800 FOR THE PROPERTY.

Milton Knapp, of Bound Brook, formerly president of the company, purchased the Lake Pigment Company plant on West Front street, near Dunellen, yesterday, at a receiver's sale. The consideration was $16,800. It is understood that he purchased the plant for the company. The reason for the sale was a disagreement among the stockholders. A few weeks ago an effort was made to sell the plant, but at the instance of one of the stockholders the court did not confirm the sale.

The troubles were adjusted by the sale held yesterday under the direction of Mayor R. H. Brokaw, of Bound Brook, who was appointed receiver. John H. Bachus, of Trenton, was the lawyer representing the receiver.

The company, which manufactures colors for wall-papers, has been in operation all the time and it is understood that there are plenty of orders ahead that will employ a large force of men for sometime to come.

C. E. A. HEYWOOD RE-ENGAGED BY BIRMINGHAM Y. M. C. A.

Has Charge of Physical Department In Association Having 2,251 Members.

Former Physical Director C. E. A. Heywood, of the local Y. M. C. A., has recently re-engaged himself for a period of two years with the Y. M. C. A., of Birmingham, England. He has held the position since a short time after leaving Plainfield and his work has been satisfactory in every way. On giving his decision as to remaining, the trustees presented him with a purse of $250 in recognition of his efficient service.

The Birmingham association is one of the largest in England, the total membership numbering 2,250. It is conducted by a secretary and a staff of thirty-six men. All athletic clubs are run separately, the swimming club using the public baths. In the building are dining, billiard, chess and smoking rooms, while the bedrooms can accommodate thirty-five men. Mr. Heywood has full charge of the entire physical department.

AN ASSESSMENT LEVIED ON UNION COUNTY PROPERTY.

County Taxation Board Determines Valuation of Court House Land.

The Union County Board of Freeholders at the September meeting in the Court House, Elizabeth, yesterday, received a communication from the County Board of Taxation stating that in its opinion the county property where the court house stands should be assessed by the local assessors, and a valuation of $41,500 was placed on the property. The freeholders then appropriated $1,500 to meet the taxes on the county property, when it is due.

The freeholders decided that a salary of not more than $15 per day should be paid the experts who are engaged to place a proper assessment on factories throughout the county, and the services of a clerk is allowed for one month and his salary is not to exceed $125 for that time.

This is the first time that the county property has been assessed the same as any other. There was recently some discussion as to whether it should be assessed, and the County Board of Taxation, after investigating the matter, has decided that it should be.

Ready For Borough Campaign.

The Republican Good Government Club, of North Plainfield, extend a general invitation to all the members and other Republicans to meet at Justice Mundy's office, Spencer's Hall, on Somerset street, on Tuesday night, September 11, for the purpose of electing delegates to attend the county and congressional conventions and to transact such other business as may come before the meeting. This will mark the opening of the campaign in North Plainfield and a large attendance is requested.

Judge to Take a Vacation.

District Judge Newcorn will go to Niagara Falls tomorrow for a week's pleasure trip. While there he will attend the session of the Great Council of the Red Men, which opens at the Falls Monday morning.

New Mail Boxes Arrive.

The new private mail boxes arrived at the post office this morning and are being put in position today. They are twice the size of the old boxes and are more convenient in every way.

—At Neuman Brothers' tomorrow 300 baskets of white and yellow peaches, suitable for table or canning will be placed on sale. Special price by the basket.

INDEPENDENT REPUBLICANS ENDORSE R. H. DEPEW

SEPARATE CANDIDATES

Gaston and MacDonald for Freeholderships—Tyler and Hibbard for Council—Woodhull for School Director.

R. Henry Depew was endorsed by the Colbyites for the mayoralty nomination at the conference of the four ward organizations in Reform Hall last night. F. T. Woodhull was endorsed for renomination as school trustee, and J. F. MacDonald, of the First Ward, and Dr. Wm. F. Gaston, of the Fourth, were named as candidates for the Freeholder nominations. Councilmen Tyler and Hibbard were endorsed for renominations.

The meeting was attended by about 100 representative workers in the New Idea movement. The Fourth ward had the largest representation, the delegation numbering between forty and forty-five. The First, which has been backward in organization, was the most slimly represented; about a dozen Fird warders were present. Judge Runyon presided over the meeting.

The candidates were named after the ward organizations had met to complete organization, where necessary, and to discuss names in connection with the nominations to be made by the city convention. All the endorsements were unanimous.

F. E. Kinsman, chairman of the Third ward, nominated Mr. Depew. In offering Mr. Depew's name, he said he wished to suggest a man who had done something, who as president of the Plainfield Protective Association had led an organization to accomplish more than any other body since the speaker had lived in Plainfield. He was a man equal in every way to whoever the regulars might put up, and a man against whom the regulars could offer no objection.

Judge Runyon, speaking for the Second ward, expressed ready acquiescence in all that Mr. Kinsman had said of Mr. Depew. The Second ward felt that Mr. Depew had shown a fine spirit of aggressiveness in behalf of the people's rights, which would accomplish much of backed by official power. The city would be thrice blessed to have in office a man like Mr. Depew.

The presentation of Mr. Depew's name was greeted with loud applause, and sustained hand-clapping broke out when he mounted the platform to respond to the nomination.

He thanked the conference for the kindness shown to him and for the heartiness with which the suggestion of his name was responded to. He wished he had Judge Runyon's facility of speech, but lacking it, he could not hope to say much of what he felt.

He had the welfare of Plainfield at heart, he continued, and wanted to do all he could to advance the city and the welfare of the people. He would do everything he could to help win the fight for them, if that was possible, and if they did win he would try to make them feel that they had made no mistake in endorsing him.

Later in the meeting, Mr. Depew, speaking with an editorial in the Daily Press, calling on the Colbyites to make a statement of their criticism of the city government as a text, declared that good roads, good schools, a good fire department and the like were well enough in their way, but there was something back of these things. The purpose of the movement was to relieve the city of the control of the bosses. If boss rule was wrong in the county, it was wrong in the city. How were the people to get rid of control of this sort unless they struck at the very roots of the system. It would be a mistake to leave the machine entrenched in the city. The city must be freed of any suspicion of that kind. It was the aim of the movement to leave the people free to make their choice of candidates.

After a discussion as to the advisability of delaying other nominations in order to give the First ward a chance to catch up with the other wards, it was decided that the best interests of the movement would be conserved by as early a preparation of nominating petitions as possible. In connection with the discussion, a motion to turn over the other nominations to the central committee was voted down as alien to the spirit of the New Idea. While the discus-

TRINITY COMMANDERY IN TEMPLARS' PARADE

PLAINFIELD KNIGHTS MADE A FINE SHOWING AT THE SHORE.

Trinity Commandery, No. 17, K. T., was among the 2,000 Knights Templar, with eight brass bands, including one composed of Indians from the Carlisle School, that paraded through the hotel district and along the boardwalk at Asbury Park, yesterday afternoon, as a finale to the field day exercises of the order. The imposing spectacle was witnessed enjoyed by several thousand spectators.

Representatives of sixteen commanderies were in the parade, which were in charge of Grand Commander William H. Carman, of Metuchen. Atlantic Commandery, of Atlantic City, the "baby" commandery, arrived by special train and more than 100 members paraded.

Trinity Commandery, of this city, and St. John's Commandery, of Elizabeth, accompanied by their friends and Ryer's Band, of Jersey City, made the trip to the Park and back in a special train. The Plainfield and Elizabeth Knights Templar were complimented for their fine showing in the parade. The field day exercises were considered the most successful in the history of the Knights in this State. The Plainfielders reached home last night about 7:30.

EDWARD O'LOUGHLIN WINS CADDIE TOURNAMENT.

Brother of "Marty" Returns a Score of 85 On Local Course.

An interesting event at the Plainfield Country Club, yesterday afternoon, was a caddie match, medal play, for prizes aggregating $20. This was the first match of the kind held at the club in two years and was arranged to stimulate an interest among the caddies. "Marty" O'Loughlin, the club "pro," was in charge of the play and all the details were arranged satisfactorily.

The first prize was won by Edward O'Loughlin, brother of "Marty," who has display much ability in playing the game under the tutoring of his brother. He turned in a score of 85 for the eighteen holes. Edward Connett, colored, finished second with a score of 89, while Michael Comiskey with a 93 and John Duff with a 94 finished third and fourth. Chris. Eckeson returned a card of 104 and Hanse Pollard one of 105, little too high to get in on the prizes. The match was so successful that another one may be arranged later in the season.

Bowling Green at Park Club.

Many improvements have been made at the Park Club during the summer season in preparation for a successful fall and winter season there. The floors have been revarnished and the clubhouse thoroughly renovated. One of the important features of club life during the fall will be the addition of a bowling green back of the clubhouse. A fine green has been laid out and as soon as the members return from their vacation this popular game will be played by the devotees. This is the only bowling green in the city, the nearest one being on the place of the late Christian Scheptlin at Dunellen, where the Middlesex Bowling Green Club used to meet.

Police Net Drawn Tight.

The borough police dragnet was drawn tight, last night, and three D. and D.'s were caught in the meshes. Marshal Pope brought in Frank Liable, Chief Weiss found Mary Stevens in her customary helpless state and Marshal Flack picked up Louis Alberts. All are being held for a hearing tonight.

In Justice Mundy's Court.

The action for non-support brought by Mrs. Augustus Utzinger, of the borough, against her husband, will be heard by Justice S. Clark Mundy tonight. The case has been postponed twice.

NEWS IN THE SUBURBS.

DUNELLEN AND VICINITY

John Fedderman, who is making the concrete porch in front of Paul Kratzel's building on North avenue, is disturbed by the universal curiosity of ordinary folk over cement products. Every second or third passerby pauses to poke a finger in the new-laid steps, "just to see how it feels."

While the political enthusiasts are listening to reform slogans tonight, the football followers will be discussing a strenuous campaign on the gridiron at Apgar's Hall. A strong team is likely to be the outcome of the meeting.

The officers and teachers of the Presbyterian Sunday-school met at the Manse last night for an informal discussion of plans for the new term. Refreshments were served and a delightful social hour was enjoyed.

Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Kuldoshes sailed for Europe on Wednesday, to spend two months visiting relatives of the latter in Austria. They are making the passage on the S. S. Kaiser Wilhelm der Grosse.

There was a large attendance at the meeting of Lakeside Council, D. of L., last night, when the State councillor visited the lodge. Refreshments were served after the session.

The monthly First Friday devotions at St. John's R. C. church, which were suspended during the summer, will be resumed tonight.

Benjamin Dodwell is spending the week with relatives at Manasquan. Mrs. Charles Dodwell, his mother, has returned from a visit there.

The Colbyites will hold another mass meeting in the borough hall tonight. They have flooded the borough and village with circulars.

Mrs. George Snedeker and two sons, of Brooklyn, have been the guests of Mrs. Charles T. Morgan for a few days.

H. L. Hathaway, Robert Craig, William Craig and Fred Haynes have returned from a visit to Red Bank.

The W. F. M. S. of the Baptist church will meet this afternoon at the home of Mrs. Robert Pierce.

George Jenner was one of the visitors at the Richmond County fair, Dongan Hills, L. I., this week.

Mrs. Charles S. Day visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd B. Nelson, at Roselle, yesterday.

James Thornton has returned from a visit to relatives at South Amboy.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Jackson are the happy parents of a small son.

Mrs. Mary Squier is visiting relatives in Monmouth county.

Mrs. Rachel Winckler has been very ill for several days.

PLAINS AND FANWOOD

Judging by recent events the 'Plains will be right on the line of the proposed new line of the Wabash Railroad, which is being planned to extend from Philadelphia to New York. During the past few months surveyors have been busy surveying all through this section and about a week ago completed their work at this place. According to the lines the railroad would run at the foot of the mountains and would pass through the old felt mill and directly at the foot of Glenside Park. Already agents representing the railroad company have been interviewing property-owners at the 'Plains and in every instance have offered good round sums for the property needed to make the improvement. These agents have given property-owners assurances that the road will be built and that there will be a station here. There has also been an effort to secure the Hollingsworth property and that formerly owned by Mrs. Hannah Marsh. Mrs. Marsh, however, recently disposed of her property at the foot of the mountains to Mr. Henderson, a wealthy New York banker, who has purchased considerable property for a summer home. As a result of the efforts of the railroad agents to secure land the prices have naturally taken a jump and in case the line is built and a station is located here there will be a boom such as the 'Plains has never seen before.

There is more than ordinary interest in the ball game scheduled for tomorrow between the home team and the Niantics, of Newark. Frentz and Alberts will be in the points for the home team and they will do their best to hold down the strong Newark team. The boys haven't gotten over the trick played on them by the Berkeley Heights team the other day, when the rain stopped the game in the eighth inning with the score 5 to 4 in favor of the visiting team. The rain lasted but ten minutes, but during the downfall the team from Berkeley Heights got into their stage and started for home. It is possible the two teams may meet again soon.

There is considerable dissatisfaction expressed among property-owners at the 'Plains over the new assessment, especially among those who own considerable property. It is rumored that Dr. J. Ackerman Coles is so much displeased with the big assessment levied on him that he is thinking of disposing of his property and moving to New York. This would be a serious loss to the 'Plains as Dr. Coles is one of the foremost citizens and has done very much to advance the interests of the place.

While there are no more advantages at the 'Plains now than at any time during the past few years there is a decided boom in real estate. Houses are just as hard to find here as in Plainfield and the rents are just as high as in Plainfield. One cannot get a house here with improvements for much less than $25 and they are scare at that price. Recently, a woman who owns a fifteen-acre farm here put a price of $10,000 on her property. This is considered high in view of the location.

The funeral services of the late George R. Nicholl were held from the home yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock, and were private, only the immediate relatives and a few intimate friends being present. Rev. William Mulford, rector of All Saints' Episcopal church, conducted the services and the interment was in the Baptist cemetery. Mr. Nicholl was one of the oldest residents here. He was the father of Town Committeeman Thomas J. Nicholl, and spent the greater part of his life at this place.

Since retiring from the hotel business, Edward Hand has turned his attention to building. He has just completed two handsome houses on Westfield avenue, and intends starting other ones in the near future.

W. R. Buckley has returned from a stay of several days with his wife and daughter, who are spending August and September at Brimfield, Mass.

"Ten" Overbaugh is now manager of "Willie" Deegan's hotel and the well-known hotel is meeting with better success.

Rev. T. Moore-Smith will lead the weekly prayer and praise service at the Baptist church tonight.

The final band concert of the season will be held tonight at Concert Park, Plainfield.

Mrs. Elizabeth Shotwell, of Plainfield, was the guest of friends in town yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Walpole have been entertaining friends from out of town.

The Township Committee meets tonight in the town rooms.

BOYS' SCHOOL SUITS

Extra Trousers With Every Pair, Yet Priced at Lowest Notch.

Buying these suits for boys at our prices is like getting the extra pair of trousers as a gift, for when you examine the materials—the careful stitching, the careful tailoring throughout, and above all the dressy styles, you will find the prices low enough for a single suit and you will wonder how we can afford to put in the extra pair of trousers. And these extra trousers make a suit worth double, almost, because the boys will knock out the pants long before the coat is done for—a fact wise parents have learned long since. See the Suits we sell at

The most stupendous production of its kind in America, "The Sleeping Beauty and the Beast," will be presented at the New Plainfield theatre next Monday night, and from the outlook, large business is assured. This piece hit the popular fancy from the start and its success has more than fulfilled expectations. Its many beautiful scenes presented with a wealth of gorgeous costumes, novel electrical and calcium effects, unique mechanical surprises have proven a revelation in stage triumphs. From the time the curtain rises, until its final fall, the audience is given a glimpse of fairyland, while the everchanging and varied scenes make a panorama of indescribable beauty. The great scene of the piece, and which has created a sensation, is the fourth scene in the second act, entitled "Beauty's Awakening," a "Dream of the Year," in which the ballet of the "Four Seasons" are presented. The flight of these beautiful young girls is bewildering and mystifying and makes a novel finale to this great scene, in which are also introduced the Corps de Ballet and the entire company, numbering over two hundred people. Aside from the spectacular phases, "The Sleeping Beauty and the Beast" is a bright novel and pleasing entertainment, full of surprises, laughable situations, good comedy, sweet and catchy music and excellent specialties. The comedy roles are in the hands of well known artists who are supported by a host of pretty girls.

"Sergeant Kitty," the comic opera success of New York, will be presented at the New Plainfield theatre next Tuesday night. "Sergeant Kitty" when produced at Daly's theatre and the Casino, New York, was pronounced to be the best comic opera offered in many years; it has a plot that can be discovered without the aid of a guide, the music is bright, sprightly and melodious, and of a high class throughout. The book is excellent and the lyrics strictly up to date. The story of the play permits of a large number of amusing situations that fit into each other like the works of a watch. Kitty was a winsome, headstrong and pretty girl who is in love with a lieutenant in the French Hussars. She gets the name of "Sergeant Kitty" when she dons the dress of an orderly to aid in her plans to reach her lover and get married. While in the soldier's uniform she is suspected by the military rulers and forced to tell who she is, at first she claims to be an officer, when pressed says she is a sergeant, then unthinkingly says her name is "Kitty." The soldiers have lots of fun with the supposed boyish officer whom they dub "Sergeant Kitty." In the end, as is usual with the ending of all good comic operas, all complications are straightened out and the lovers duly married.

"Around the Clock," a new musical comedy from the pen of Frank Huffman, which is underlined for an engagement at the New Plainfield theatre next Wednesday afternoon and night, is the vehicle used this season to exploit the talents of the versatile Ritchie London Comedy and Pantomime Company. In this, their latest offering, they have one of the biggest hits of their career. The comedy is a laughable story of complications rivalling in ingenuity the best work of the celebrated French masters. Mr. Ritchie will be seen in his world-famous impersonation of an inebriated youth, and the entanglements into which he manages to get himself are the source of the greatest amusement to his auditors. The company supporting Mr. Ritchie is a large and capable one.

LA FOLLETTE, THE REFORMER.

La Follette, Wisconsin's reformer who "turned the rascals out" to save the State and incidently to enthrone himself as undisputed "boss," will tour New Jersey in the interests of the Colbyite movement. He is coming to talk to the voters of Plainfield on September 19 and possibly someone in his audience may be impertinent enough to ask him to explain why he has been repudiated by his own people. It was only this Wednesday that his candidate for Governor was covered under an avalanche of votes, a majority of 40,000 being piled up against him.

LaFollette, himself, was chosen Governor on a reform platform, and after he enjoyed that office for a time he succeeded in having himself elected to the United States Senate. In this position he had control of the party patronage and it is claimed that he at once attempted to rule with an iron hand. Reform in that State did not appear to differ materially from what it is in some others. It was only a case of turning "the ins out and the outs in," and the people registered their protest against that brand in a most emphatic way. What the Senator will be able to accomplish in New Jersey is not an easy matter to forecast, but if he succeeds no better here than he did in the primaries campaign in his home State the regular Republican organization will have nothing to fear.

COLBY DISCLAIMS CREDIT.

That any credit is due to the Colbyites for the passage of the Bishops' bill is denied by Senator Colby, although he says that he voted for the measure in its original shape and then for its amendments. In addressing an audience of machinists at Newark yesterday, the leader of the "New Idea" movement is quoted as having said:

"So far as this Sunday question is concerned, I want to say that it is not my business whether you men drink your liquor on Sunday. The argument has been put up that I can sit home in my house on Sunday and drink beer if I want it because I have an icechest to keep it in. That is very true. But do not blame the passage of the 'bishops' act' on us. We do not want to deprive you of your rights in any particular. It was the machine that put that bill through."

A SCHOLAR FOR SENATOR.

Dr. Woodrow Wilson, the distinguished president of Princeton University, is mentioned as a Democratic candidate for United States Senator. Conservative men in the party hold that his candidacy would attract the votes of legislators who would not favor George L. Record, John F. Dryden or Edwin A. Stevens. A short time ago, Harper's Weekly suggested the Princeton scholar for the Democratic nomination for President two years hence. It is not at all probable, however, that the doctor will allow his name to be "used" in connection with either nomination. He is too level headed a man for that sort of thing.

THE INDEPENDENT TICKET.

The absence of any sort of a slate or dictation at the conference of the Colbyites last night shows conclusively that the adherents of the "new idea" are living up to the principles they enunciate. The candidates nominated, from mayor down to school director, are all clean men. They enjoy the esteem of their fellow citizens and no matter what the outcome of the primaries, the endorsers will have no reason to feel ashamed of the type of men that they presented as candidates for nomination.

An unfortunate typographical error in last night's paper conveyed the impression that Judge Runyon is pledged to John F. Dryden for senator. An omission of the word "not" caused the trouble and we take the earliest opportunity to state that as an independent Republican candidate for the Assembly, Mr. Runyon is absolutely unpledged. If elected he will vote for the candidate whom he finds is favored by his constituents.

The Daily Press today sent to the treasurer of the King's Daughters' baby camp $83, which represents the balance of a fund donated by friends of the institution through this paper.

By Tom Muir.

An agent for an opery troup' struck town the other day,
And said the burg was pretty small for such a show to play;
That they carried sixty people and two car-loads stuff,
That wouldn't go upon the stage 'cause it wasn't big enough.
He stopped down at the Iroquois, set 'em up for all the boys,
Jollied up the editors and made a lot of noise.
Said they'd broken records everywhere for big receipts,
That speculators follered 'em and bought up all the seats.
He fixed up all his business and was ready to leave when,—
He called me in the office and made a touch for ten.

The Galvin family, of this city, is still touring the county with the farcical comedy, "A Bell Boy," with Johnny Galvin in the title role. They are now carrying fifty people and are travelling in a new car recently purchased from the Pullman company. The show was at Kingston, N. Y., Wednesday night and will play other Hudson river towns for the next two weeks.

In addition to having an ensemble of 150 on the stage, "The Sleeping Beauty and the Beast" carries twenty men to take care or the numerous scenic changes and trick transformations. These are in addition to the regular house force which numbers seven. "The Sleeping Beauty and the Beast" was the first of the big Klaw & Erlanger holiday productions and has outlived its successors, "Mr. Bluebeard," "Mother Goose," "Humpty Dumpty" and "The White Cat."

The Asbury Park officials have induced Arthur Pryor to keep his band at the Casino Pier until September 15, thus lengthening the season two weeks. After that date, the organization will take to the road, appearing in the New Plainfield theatre on October 8. C. B. Sorensen, Jr., of this city, is to manage the tour.

John Daley, the well known Plainfield theatrical man, is to manage the tour of the Four Mortons in "Breaking Into Society" this season. The Four Mortons have been in vaudeville for years and were looked upon as the legitimate successors of the Four Cohans when they branched out through the genius of Georgie.

THE FORUM.

"Six-Day Tickets,"
Editor, The Daily Press:

By expressing in this way my gratitude to A. L. Mulford for stating in his communication in last night's Daily Press that return tickets are "good for six days, day of issue included," the limitation will have been brought to the notice of your readers in three different editions of 'The Daily Press,' and my original purpose of calling public attention to the exacting conditions will have been secured in threefold measure, and possibly may save others from physical injury and extortion. If so, my purpose will have been fully accomplished.

Very truly yours,

sion was going on, Monday night was suggested as the date for the general meeting talked of.

"Monday night we may all want to go to the Casino," said Judge Runyon. "I see by flaring advertisements that all Republican voters are invited to attend the general meeting there of the Advisory and City Committees."

The endorsement of Councilman Hibbard by the Second ward, and of Councilman Tyler by the Third, was not reported to the conference, the action being wholly a ward matter. In addition to selecting councilmanic standard bearers, the two wards selected candidates for delegates to county and city committees and to the coming conventions. The Third ward did not nominate Congressional convention delegates, and neither ward named delegates to the city convention. The apportionment of delegates to that convention is not yet known. The First and Fourth wards were not ready to consider any such nominations.

The delegates chosen by the Second ward are as follows: Congressional convention, R. Henry Depew, L. M. Booth, F. W. Butter, William Runyon, Clifton Wharton and John G. Bicknell; county convention, C. B. Morse, Clarence Goss, Arthur Lovell, Joseph McIntyre, Edward Willis, R. H. McCready; county committee, Robert E. Hall, Arthur Murphy; city committee, Edward E. Iremonger, Howard C. Tracy, F. W. Hanaford.

The Third ward's choice of delegates to conventions and committees was as follows: County convention, Orra S. Rogers, G. B. Fletcher, Edward Cox, William Wherry, Frederick A. Mygatt, Salmon C. Baker; city committee, G. W. V. Moy, J. Stephen Highman; county committee, Duncan W. Taylor, Robert L. Lee.

A central city organization was created by combining the executive committees of the four wards. The make-up of the committee was planned by a committee appointed for the purpose. C. B. Morse and Howard C. Tracy objected to the bulkiness of the body, but the conference endorsed the committee's recommendation after E. E. Iremonger, one of its members, explained that the call for a central committee meeting would stand a better show of drawing a representative gathering if addressed to forty-three members than if sent to half that number or less. The city committee will meet Saturday night for organization. The object of the committee is to solidify the reformers in the city, to form a connecting link between the wards.

In the meeting before the conference, the First ward completed its permanent organization, with the exception of selecting six members of the executive committee. Stephen H. Tugwell was elected chairman; Dr. A. W. Anderson, vice chairman; Clifford A. Braider, secretary, and J. B. Hill, treasurer. The committeemen and ward nominee will be chosen at a meeting to be held Monday night.

The Fourth and Third wards filled vacancies that had arisen since their last meetings. F. E. Kinsman was elected chairman of the Third ward, to succeed D. E. Titsworth, resigned. Councilman W. S. Tyler was made vice chairman. Frank W. Runyon and S. C. Baker were elected to the executive committee in place of E. T. Barrows, Jr., and William M. Stillman. Mr. Titsworth was present and took a prominent part in the conference. Angus Allen was elected chairman of the Fourth ward, in place of Henry Liefke, who declined to serve. J. A. Greene was made vice chairman in Mr. Allen's place.

Judge Runyon made a twenty-minute speech in opening the meeting. After speaking of "the splendid sentiment for the movement in this city" and of the grip the machine was supposed to have on county and city, he said, in part:

"For years I was a sort of cog in the local machine; yet not an intimate cog. The inner circle did me the honor to keep me out of their entire confidence. Yet I knew chicanery and trickery were being practiced behind my back. People were bought to do what they should have done gladly without that.

"Is it right that such people should be kept in power? We should not be called revolutionists for seeking their removal. You are just as straight a Republican after you vote the ticket to reform the existing order of things as before.

"It has been the trouble with reform movements that they did not last. They have been spasmodic. That kind of reform will do no good. We must go to work with enthusiasm, remembering that the truths of this movement are everlasting. While good work has been done here, much remains to be done. Noonday meetings will be held for the shop workers, and on September 19, Senator La Follette, that strong leader of reform in Wisconsin, (applause) will be here.

"The principles of the county league are big enough and broad enough for us to stand upon in this campaign. If reform is necessary in the county, is it not necessary here? If machine domination is bad in the county, is it not bad in the city?

"We believe, with all our hearts and souls, that machine domination must be wiped out, root and branch!" (Sustained applause.)

Just before the meeting closed, Judge Runyon referred to an editorial in The Daily Press yesterday, which by typographical error, made it appear as if he had come out as a supporter of Dryden.

"Of course, that was a typographical error," said Judge Runyon, "but I want to make it plain that I stand for everything diametrically opposed to Mr. Dryden."

"I hope you are not pledged to any man," said Mr. Titsworth.

"I can certainly say that," responded Judge Runyon. "If I go to the Assembly, it will be as an absolutely unpledged representative of the people, and I would vote only for the man I felt convinced the people of Union county favored." (Applause.)

POINTS FOR THE BUYERS

Charles Conover & Co., of Elmwood place, is ready to contract for the best painting and paper-hanging. Get the firm's figures.

There is no better hostelry in any city of Plainfield's size, and some a good deal worse in towns much bigger, than the Kensington, North avenue.

It will soon be time to get a new stove or range and the H. E. Gayle Hardware Company offer a large line to select from. The company also carries a big stock of hardware, kitchen utensils and cutlery, as well as farming implements.

Roth & Co., the East Front street butchers, sell only high grade meats and at very low prices. The firm is constantly increasing its trade for fair dealing and giving customers the best values. Fresh fish is a specialty at this market and prompt deliveries are made to all parts of the city and vicinity.

To those fortunate and wise souls who have accounts at the City National Bank it is unnecessary to say that their money is in the best hands that they can place it for safekeeping and steady growth. The City Bank is the peer of the best institution of its kind, and beter than a good many others. The service is the finest to be enjoyed by bank patrons.

M. Weinberger, the West Front street clothier, is offering an exceptional stock of men's and boys' clothing for fall and winter wear. These clothes are of the best ,material fashionable make and so low in price that everyone can afford to look well. Mr. Weinberger is also showing a superior line of men's furnishings, including shirts, fancy hose and up-to-date neckwear.

PERSONAL.

Mrs. J. S. King, formerly of this city, but now of Passaic, is visiting relatives in town.

Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Slauson, of East Ninth street, have returned from Nova Scotia.

Miss Lulu Randolph, of West Eighth street, has returned from her outing in the mountains.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Sattels, of East Sixth street, have returned from their summer outing in Maine.

Mr. and Mrs. George Wharton Edwards, of Franklin place, are home from their summer outing in Maine.

John Chandler, of East Fifth street, still continues to show signs of improvement from a stroke of paralysis.

Mrs. Voorhees Laing and daughter, Miss Ethel Laing, of East Front street, are home from their sojourn at Asbury Park.

Judge and Mrs. William Newcorn, of West Front street, are planning to spend their vacation at Niagara Falls the latter part of the month.

Harry Messerschmidt, of East Fifth street, will return this week from Oriskany Falls, N. Y., where he has been visiting his sister, Mrs. Ralph Miner.

Mr. and Mrs. V. L. Drellich and daughter, Miss Selma Drellich, of New York, have returned home after a visit with Mr. and Mrs. M. Kahn, of East Sixth street.

Saves Hard Work

6-5-4 is prepared particularly for GAS COOKING RANGES and is also a labor saving substitute for blacking, on the sides of any cook stove burning hard coal. It is better than an enamel for STOVE PIPES or WIRE SCREENS; it covers more surface, is applied easier, dries quicker and wears longer.

TO KILL THE DANDRUFF GERM.
Is the Only Possible Way of Having An Effective Cure.
If you see a woman or a man with luxuriant glossy hair, you may be sure neither has dandruff to amount to anything. In nearly every case where women and men have thin brittle hair, they owe it to dandruff. There are hundreds of preparations that "claim" to cure dandruff, but not one but Newbro's Herpicide tells you that dandruff is the result of a germ burrowing into the scalp, and that permanent cure of dandruff and its consequent falling and baldness, can only be had by killing the germ; and there is no other preparation that will destroy that germ but Newbro's Herpicide. "Destroy the cause, and you remove the effect." Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

By OLIVIA B. STROHM

(Copyright, 1905, by Olivia B. Strohm).

"I, too, am comfortable and happy, but that is because I am with you," he said, and bent lower. His gaze was full of an ardent tenderness, but from his voice he kept all passionate ring lest he alarm her.

To his surprise, she showed no embarrassment, she seemed to feel neither anger nor offense.

They were in the heart of Nature, where all things were in love, and said so in ceaseless, amorous jargon. Truth could not but prevail in her heart as well as Nature's—now. And she was tired in mind and body—her whole moral strength weakened by the stress of flight and danger.

"YOU ARE HAPPY WITH ME, WHY?" SHE ASKED.

So she only turned, half resting upon an arm, and looking into his face over her shoulder.

In the dim light she could see him indistinctly.

"You are happy with me, why?" she asked.

There was a pause, then Winslow said, with apparent irrelevance: "Listen to the river! It is laughing at you."

"Laughing at me?"

"Yes," and her lover chid the darkness that hid the curve of the pouting lips. "Yes, laughing at you for asking such a question. Merely the woman's old, old way of evading the old, old story."

She made no reply, and he heard her sigh gently.

"But you are right," he said; "silence is best, beloved. We need no words; there is none to hear except the stars, and I could tell nothing that they, as well as you, do not know," and he just touched with the tips of his fingers the round elbow which showed through a rent in her sleeve.

Boone sat some paces away in shadow; Owatoga had gone down the river to reconnoiter; it almost seemed, as he had said, there was none beside these two in the whole wide world.

Winslow felt a hot tear on his hand which yet lay, unrebuked, on her arm. "You are crying? I am too bold; my tale of love must wait still longer—forgive me," and he sat upright, away from her.

"No," she said, "if there is anything to forgive, it is I who must ask it, and yet—yet I am puzzled, distracted," and her head moved to and fro as though she would shake her brain clear of the maze into which her heart was leading it.

"Then you have doubted me, Lavender?"

"Yes."

"But you do not doubt now? You will never doubt me again?"

Slowly she rose to her knees, facing him, with only the worn old tree between. "I do not now," she said, and her eyes, black in this light, met his with absolute trust; "I do not now; I never will doubt you again."

Kneeling so on the bare earth, hands clasped on the ruined tree, she seemed a Druid priestess at some sacred rite.

He dared not touch her as she sat there, though a wave of love and longing filled his soul.

At last, with the wind swaying the trees, the water kissing the pebbles as accompaniment to her words, she spoke: "To-day, to-night, the doubt is gone; I trust you utterly. But—and I give you fair warning—I may change again."

She nodded her head merrily! her mood was, on a sudden, strangely light—almost hysterical. Then, more seriously: "I don't trust my moods lately, they vary so. I may have been right then—or I may be right now, but I want to be honest to-night—honest with my heart—and you. And to-night, for the present, all's well."

"And, sweet one, for so much, thanks. You know the wisest man has said: 'There is a time to love and a time to hate.' Let us be happy now in the 'time to trust, the time to love.'

Owatoga returned, and at his suggestion Boone rose. "You are right, we must press on," he said, and the Indian advanced to Lavender. "Owatoga will carry the white maid over the water; the ford is deep."

Lifting her as though she were no greater burden than the quiver that swung over one shoulder, he raised her to the other and plunged into the river.

The others followed, but, the opposite side regained, the old pioneer staggered and fell, half fainting. In Winslow's arms.

"You are ill, sir? Quick, Owatoga! The brandy." And they worked hard to revive the old man who lay in a stupor on the sand.

"I—I have felt only tolerable well for a few days, and—and the walk—the walk has—has tired me. The water was cold—cold." And he shivered.

So all night they camped there, Owatoga guarding against surprise while Winslow and Lavender, too anxious for sleep, watched the pioneer, who lay helpless with fatigue and sudden cold. With early dawn he rallied a bit, and they pushed on until, at noon, they paused in a beautiful, sheltered grove.

Boone smiled like a pleased, tired child. "I shall rest here," he said. "I think we are secure; they have probably abandoned the trail. At any rate, I need go no further. St. Charles is but a few miles due east. You can easily reach it to-night. Good-by."

In vain they insisted upon remaining with him until he was stronger.

"No; for the sake of the girl's anxious father—for her sick mother, she must be brought home at once. Lose no time. I can soon have a cabin here as good as the one we left."

They set to work, and in a small ravine, with a palisade of poplars protecting it, and a hedge of pawpaw bushes all about, they put up a tiny shelter which the rugged woodsman declared was fit for a king's chamber.

When the time for farewells was come, Owatoga surprised Winslow by extending a ruddy hand. "Good-by," he said.

Daniel Boone, too, looked up amazed. "Why, how is this?"

But the Indian sturdily retorted: "Owatoga stays; he will not leave the old man of the woods."

In vain Boone protested.

"He is right," Winslow declared; "the main road lies just beyond that ridge. We can easily find it, and the journey is short. Our one regret, sir, is leaving you."

And there were tears in Lavender's eyes when she bent over and reverently kissed the high forehead and smoothed the long, white hair.

"God bless you, girl," he said, weakly. "If you never see Daniel Boone again, think of him sometimes. And think of him as the 'Old man of the woods.'"

He added this proudly, as though he wished no nobler title. Owatoga went with them until in sight of the road—a narrow hall in the green pavilion of nature, a weed-grown gap in the wilderness. With a few terse directions, and a gruff farewell, the guide left them to complete the journey together.

DIAMOND DUST.

John Kriney, of the Clinton Avenues, is interested in a scheme to form a four-team league, composed of Clinton Avenue and another Plainfield team, Westfield and Scotch Plains, and he hopes that it will go through next season. Under this plan there would be a game in Plainfield every Saturday and Mr. Kriney believes that the public would support two amateur teams. There is certainly enough material here to organize the two clubs and fandom would see good games.

William H. Cawley, Jr., formerly of Somerville, is now managing the Dover team, of the Lackawanna League. It is reported that he has signed "Doc" Newton, of the New York Americans, to pitch for the remainder of the season.

The West Ends, of Somerville, will play a return game with Flemington at the latter place tomorrow.

The victory of the West Ends, of Somerville, over Pennington on Labor Day was the first one that a Somerville team has won over a nine from that place in nineteen years.

"Lou" Wiltse, of this city, has been signed by William M. Lewis, manager of the Rockville, Conn., team, to pitch for the balance of the season. His arm is greatly improved and he is capable of doing good work in the box.

A majority of the local fans are anxious to see the Highlanders win the American League pennant so that they will have an opportunity to play the winners of the National League pennant. The New York Americans are enjoying a winning streak that is attracting the attention of the baseball world. The pitching staff is in fine condition as well as the rest of the team.

The Scotch Plains baseball team will meet the Niantics, of Newark, at the 'Plains, tomorrow. This will be one of the best games of the season and many local fans will witness it.

Johnny Jacot's Stirlings won two games Monday, defeating the "Down-and-Out Club," of Stirling, in the morning, 5 to 0, in a five-inning clash; trimming the Circles, of Chatham, 10 to 2, in the afternoon. The Stirling A. C. is paying all expenses now, and the Gillette tag has been dropped from the team.

The Stirlings will play Peapack, at Stirling, tomorrow afternoon.

The Clinton Avenue A. C. will meet the strong All-Americans tomorrow afternoon, on Crescent Oval, in the second game of the series for the championship of Plainfield. Clinton Avenue won the first game. The Americans expect to turn the trick tomorrow and a red hot tussle is on the cards. The colored boys are playing great ball and will present their strongest line-up in tomorrow's game. John Garner will be on the firing line. He held the strong Roselles down to four hits and on Labor Day he pitched thirteen innings without a hit, giving only two bases on balls, and shuting out Garwood, 5-0, in the morning; in the afternoon he beat the All-Westfields by 11 to 0. Brown, the crack player of the Rahway High School nine, will be on third and Hammond, the pugilist, will be on first.

Charles Nicolas, manager of the old baseball team at Westfield, and who is now living in Elizabeth, offers to give the Plainfield fans a good game of ball on Crescent Oval on Saturday, September 15. If arrangements can be made Mr. Nicolas will arrange a game between the women's champion team of Chicago and his own aggregation of ball tossers. The women play fast ball. Recently, they were defeated by the Elizabeth Invaders by a narrow margin. Before the game there will be a wrestling match by John Wolf, champion of Union county, and William Miller, of Brooklyn, for $50 a side, the match to be refereed by Tony Bender, the light weight boxer of Elizabeth.

ROD AND GUN.

The Plainfield fishing party composed of F. C. Langhorne, James R. Blair, Den Gavin and Elvin Van Name, which cast lines in Princess Bay, yesterday, had excellent luck. They landed over 250 pounds of fish, one of the best catches of the season in that vicinity.

—Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Mundy have removed from West Front street to Essex street.

—Vegetable lovers should see the large display at Neuman Brothers'. Something certain to please them always on hand, strictly fresh.

CITY JOTTINGS.

—Miss Estella Sofield, of Judge Newcorn's offices, will return this week from her vacation.

—Van Arsdale is ready for the school shoe trade with a larger variety of Steel Shod shoes than ever.

—If the person signing himself "P. L. Andrews" will send his right name to this office his communication will be published.

—The Plainfield staff of the Prudential Insurance Company left this morning for Trenton, where they will attend a State meeting.

—"Willie" Deegan, the well-known baseball twirler, has given up dancing at his hotel pavilion, Scotch Plains, and commencing Saturday, September 15, roller skating will be one of the chief attractions for the fall and winter months. The floor used for dancing is one of the best and will make a fine surface for skating.

—Dr. Martha Stillman, of West Fourth street, who was suddenly called to Connecticut a month ago on account of the serious illness of her mother, has returned home and resumed her practice. Dr. Stillman's mother was visiting in Connecticut, when she fell out of a chair, receiving bruises and internal injuries. She is now improving slowly, but is not strong enough to return to Plainfield.

GIRL'S CHARGE DISMISSED.

William Spiegel Freed By Justice Mosher.

A serious charge brought against William Spiegel, of Scotch Plains, by Elizabeth Hockey, of Newark, a former resident of Scotch Plains, was dismissed by Justice Mosher last night. The girl acknowledged, under cross-examination by Lawyer Walter L. Hetfield, Jr., that the defendant had not forced her. The crime was alleged to have been committed in Scotch Plains last October.

Justice Bossett, of Newark, came out to appear for the girl, but Mr. Hetfield protested against his speaking in court, under the law of 1903, which allows only licensed attorneys to practise in justices' courts. Justice Mosher ruled Justice Bossett out of order. The latter was put out by the ruling. He said anybody was allowed to practice in the Newark small cause courts.

He said another charge would be preferred against Spiegel in Newark.

Wanted His Friend Freed.

Endo Neilson, of Scotch Plains, was arrested for drunkenness on Front street last night, and his friend, William Norman, of the same place, came into headquarters a short time afterwards to get him out. He raised a row and was railroaded back to keep Neilson company. Sentence was suspended on them by Judge Runyon this morning.

BOROUGH SCHOOLS READY TO OPEN TUESDAY MORNING.

Some New Teachers Have Been Engaged—The Changes.

There is but little to do in the way of properation for the opening of the borough schools Tuesday morning. Janitors MacDonald and Lunger have done vigorous work this week, and the buildings will be in good shape on the first day. Supervising Principal Krebs will be in the office of the Somerset school on Monday morning from 9 to 12 to receive and register new pupils.

Several new teachers have been secured for this year. An additional teacher in the high school is Miss Ethel Foster Reed, of Wellesley College, who is a specialist in history, and will have charge of that department. Mr. Andrew Bender, of Lebanon Valley College, Pa., is the new science teacher. Miss Helen S. Ellis, a graduate of Woman's College, Baltimore, and a post-graduate of Columbia, will teach the Latin and Greek.

In the grammar department Miss Mabel C. Trenbath, New Jersey Normal, '05, will teach geography and physiology. Miss Annie Perry, of the Plattsburg Normal, succeeds Miss Ruth Hill. Miss Grace VanPatten, who has taught first grade in this school for two years, takes charge of the newly organized fifth grade. She is succeeded in first grade by Miss Minnie Frazee, New Jersey Normal, '03. Miss Pauline C. Webster, Cortland Normal, teaches the third grade in the Somerset school.

The Watchung school will have two new teachers. In the third grade will be Miss Elizabeth Dodd, New Jersey Normal, '02, and in the first grade will be Miss Amanda Tyler, of the Cortland Normal.

All the new teachers have had training and approved experienced. They come highly recommended by their institutions and employers. It is believed that this year's faculty will prove to be one of the strongest in the history of the schools.

Efforts have been made to strengthen the various departments by adding to the equipment. A stereopticon has been secured for aid in teaching science, history, and geography. A copy of the new International Encyclopedia has been placed in the school library. The departments of English and history have been equipped with a number of additional reference books. It is proposed to furnish all the teachers with the appliances necessary to pursue each subject according to the most approved modern methods.

ANCIENTS TO EVADE JERSEY.

Bostonians to Lay Siege to Atlantic City's Preserves.

Boston, Sept. 7.—It is announced that the Ancient and Honorable Artillery Company of Boston will go to Atlantic City for its fall outing. The company will leave on Monday, October 1, via the Fall River Line, to New York, whence they will travel in a special train to Atlantic City. There they will be met by an escort of cavalry.

Trainer of Bonanza Dead.

Red Bank, Sept. 7.—The funeral of Charles V. Hope, of Shrewsbury, who died on Monday night of paralysis, was held yesterday afternoon from his residence, and interment was in Christ church graveyard, Shrewsbury. Mr. Hope was a raiser of fine horses and among those he trained was the famous trotter Bonanza, which has a record of 2.05½. He was born in Saugerties, N. Y., March 11, 1857, being a son of Helen C. Allen and Washington L. Hope. The family moved to Sarewsbury in 1865. Mr. Hope was unmarried and leaves three brothers —Frederick W. Hope, of Red Bank; George Allen Hope, of Shrewsbury, and Rev. Benjamin P. Hope, of Augusta, Me. Bononza is owned by the Meyer brothers, of Newark.

"23" at Tingley Family Reunion.

The annual reunion of the Tingley family was held on Labor Day at the home of "Uncle" John Tingley in Dunellen. Twenty-three members of the family gathered on the farm and enjoyed the day and evening in various ways. A big dinner was served in the afternoon on the lawn, after which games of all kinds engaged the attention of the assemblage. Another feature was dancing which was continued until a late hour. "Uncle John" furnished amusement for everybody and entertained the company in his customary jolly manner.

Reformatory Wing Work Starts.

Rahway, Sept. 7.—Ground was broken yesterday for the new wing of the State Reformatory at Rahway. Sub-contractor Ross, of Trenton, who has the job of excavating the foundation for the building, put a big gang of men at work. Prior & Son, of Trenton, the general contractors, who have the contract for the whole undertaking, expect, with favorable weather, to have the roof on the new building by February. They have twenty-two months in which to finish the job.

Mountain House Changes Hands.

Peter Coquille, who has been conducting the Mountain House at Mount Bethel, has sold it back to its former owner, Alfred Binz, at present in the hotel business on Long Island. The change will go into effect September 15.

The choir of the First Baptist church will return on Sunday after enjoying a month's vacation. The choir will be the same as before no changes having been made.

Suspicious Character.

Raymond Warman, 19 years old, of New York, was arrested last night by McDonald, for acting in a suspicious manner. He was taken into custody at the trolley station, after he had hung around for several hours. Some loose keys were found on him and the police were sure he was not out here for the good of the city, but nothing could be found against him and Judge Runyon discharged him this morning.

COLBY NOW DENIES IT

Says He Didn't Say That Ackerman Was Neither Straight Nor Independent.

REPLY TO TITSWORTH

Declares He Is Misquoted in Stenographic Notes of Debate With Hillery—Writes Dryden.

Senator Everett Colby received a letter yesterday from David E. Titsworth, one of the active "new idea" leaders of this city, which said that the writer had received what purported to be a stenographic report of the Colby-Hillery debate, according to which the Essex Senator, in answer to a question, said that Senator Ernest R. Ackerman, of Union, "is neither straight nor independent."

Senator Colby immediately sent a reply to the letter, in which he declared that the alleged report was false and stating just what he did say about the Union Senator. At the same time he sent a letter to United States Senator John F. Dryden, in which, after stating that he had been informed that the stenographer who reported the debate was in the employ of Mr. Dryden, protested against the sending about the State incorrect reports of the debate.

This is the letter from Mr. Titsworth:

'I have today been shown what purports to be a copy of the stenographic notes of your debate with Senator Hillery, in which, when questioned about Senator Ackerman by Senator Hillery, you are said to have replied: 'No; he is neither straight or independent.'

"My sympathizers are very largely with the new idea, but I have been a life-long friend of Senator Ackerman and believing implicitly, as I do, in his integrity I am compelled to ask if you did mawe this statement, and if so, upon what grounds."

Senator Colby's reply was as follows:

"I am not at all surprised that you write me as you do, nor am I astonished at the statement your letter contains, for it is so in line with the methods employed by my political opponents. I never made such a statement, and it is too absurd even to contradict, for every one knows Senator Ackerman's character.

"I did say the Senator was not independent and that I mean. He does not take orders from a boss, but because of his relations with the Republican organization he will not come out openly and fight the methods of the organization which, he must know by this time, are not honest, open and above board. In view of the conditions as they exist in the State today it is not enough that a representative should be honest andd avoid the mud."

At the same time Senator Colby sent this letter to United States Senator Dryden:

"My Dear Senator Dryden—I am in receipt of a letter from a printing office in Plainfield stating they have received a copy of the stenographic notes of my debate with Senator Hillery in which I am recorded as saying that Senator Ackerman is neither straight nor independent.

"As such a statement is false, and as I am informed that the notes were taken by a stenographer in your employ, I wish to protest against the sending of incorrect reports of the debate about the State.

"You will, of course, assure me if you and your friends are not responsible for this injustice.

"Very truly yours,
"EVERETT COLBY."

Senator Dryden was seen by a reporter yesterday afternoon in Trenton, where he had gone to attend a meeting of Prudential agents. He refused to make any comment upon the letter of Senator Colby further than to say that he had seen no stenographic reports of the debate between Senators Colby and Hillery, and knew no more of the matter than he had read in the newspaper.

When asked concerning the statement that the stenographic notes of the debate were taken by stenographers in his employ, Senator Dryden replied shortly:

"I have nothing to add to what I have said, and will not discuss the matter."

Organization leaders in Union county say they are not entirely satisfied with Mr. Colby's denial. It is said to be their purpose now to obtain the version of some of those who heard the Hillery-Colby debate for they claim that they do not believe that the stenographic report of the arguments were "doctored."

GOING TO REPLACE BELL

Borough Council Discusses Probable Change in the Fire Alarm System.

REFERRED TO COMMITTE

Other Matters of a Routine Nature Considered at the Regular Monthly Meeting.

In the regular order of business at the Borough Council, last night, a report was presented by Chairman Smith, of the fire, water and lamps committee, from Borough Electrician A. V. Searing, Jr., in which he advocated radical changes in the fire alarm system.

The question of doing away with the present fire bell and tower has been gone over at some length before and Mr. Searing stated that some action in this matter must be taken. The tower is badly in need of repairing and if it is not to be removed it will take $150 to put it in shape for the coming winter. According to figures prepared by an expert, a compressed air whistle and outfit could be put up for $550 and it would give far better satisfaction than what has been derived from the bell.

Chairman Smith advocated the adoption of the whistle and he was supported by Mayor Smalley. The latter advised the committee to take up the matter at once and see if it could not be brought about.

In the report, Mr. Searing detailed repairs that had been made to the fire alarm wires and declared them to be in better shape than ever before. He urged the council to allow the New York and New Jersey Telephone Company to furnish power for the system as it could be done much cheaper and with a great deal less trouble than at present.

The resignation of James DeCamp, as a call man in the department, was read and accepted. Walter Chandler was appointed to fill the vacancy. Residents of Regent street presented a petition asking that property owners on that thoroughfare between Somerset street and Watchung avenue be instructed to lay sidewalks. The matter was referred to the proper committee.

Justice S. Clark Mundy asked permission for the use of Borough Police Headquarters as a court room in the hearing of small causes. This has always been done hertofore but it has been discovered that formal request must be made. The petition was referred to the Police committee.

Councilman McGee offered a resolution that $1,000 be borrowed for the general account and Mayor Smalley, as acting recorder, reported thirty-six arrests during August and a total of $97 in fines collected. Claims amounting to $2,282.23 were ordered paid.

Civil Service Examination.

An examination for the position of clerk and carrier at the local post office will be held on November 17, at the post office. Appointments of clerks and carriers are made as substitutes, who receive the salary of the employee whose place they may take, during vacations, in case of sickness, or during rush work, as in the holiday season. All regular carriers receive fifteen days vacation annually. A vacancy in the regular force mut be filled by the promotion of the senior substitute. The age limit for all positions, is between 18 and 45 years. Male applicants must be 5 feet 4 inches in height and weigh 125 pounds. Further information can be secured of W. B. Sharp at the post office. All applications must be filed by October 15.

Easy Way to Get Coal.

V. W. Nash, Sr., of Park avenue, has adopted a novel method in his coal business, making it possible for any church, chapel or charity in the city to secure five tons of coal free of cost. Each person purchasing coal of Mr. Nash is entitled to one vote for every 500 pounds of coal, which can be cast for your favorite institution to receive five tons of coal without any cost to you. This contest will run until January 1, 1907. Thus far Mr. Nash has received a large number of votes for the various churches and chapels in the city and borough.

Perkins Not a Candidate for Mayor.

Assemblyman Randolph Perkins, of Westfield, announces that he will not be a candidate for re-election of the office of Mayor of that town. It is believed that Councilman Alpers will be the candidate for the office on the regular Republican ticket.

LANEHART WILL FORGED

Judge Schenck Declares Instrument Filed by Skillman is Bogus.

AN ESTATE OF $25,000

Belle Mead Farmer May Have to Face Criminal Charge—Race Document True One.

In the Somerset County Orphans' Court at Somerville, yesterday, Judge Schenck decided the celebrated William Lanehart will case, the taking of testimony in which occupied several weeks of his time last spring, holding that the disputed document was not the will of Lanehart and reversing the order of the surrogate admitting it to probate.

William Lanehart, seventy-eight years old, a prosperous farmer, died at Blamenburg in May, 1905, leaving an estate valued at about $25,000. Eleven days after his death William H. Skillman, a farmer at Belle Mead, and former president of the State Horticultural Society, filed a document with the surrogate purporting to be Lanehart's last will.

The paper was drawn, it is alleged, by Skillman and witnessed by his friend, Wm. H. Ely, and his son, J. H. Skillman. After several minor requests it directed that the real estate be sold and half of the proceeds be paid to Miss Laura Kellogg, a niece of Lanehart, and his housekeeper, and the other half to W. H. Skillman. The will names Skillman and Miss Kellogg as executors.

A short time after Skillman had filed the alleged will, John N. Race, cashier of the Hopewell National Bank and a confidential friend of Lanehart, produced another will made by Lanehart in 1902, in which Lanehart, who had no children, made his sister, Mary Jane Lanehart, the principal beneficiary. An appeal was taken from the surrogate's probate of the Skillman will, the heirs and legatees under the prior will charging that Skillman forged the last will. He is not mentioned in the will of 1902.

Judge Schenck pointed out the inconsistencies in the signature to the Skillman will—the tracing of the signature over a lead pencil writing contrary to the custom of Lanehart, dissimilarity between the genuine signatures and the disputed signature in the shading of letters and the difference in the formation of letters.

Skillman may now be forced to face a criminal charge of forgery.

TRENTON COPS FAIL TO PUT IN AN APPEARANCE

LOCAL NINE GOT NO WORD FROM THEM AND TURNED OUT FOR GAME.

The braced and vivified cops' nine went out to the Oval for a baseball game yesterday with the Trenton bluecoats, but all they got was something very sour and a scrub clash. The lemon of the affair was embraced in the non-appearance of the Trenton players.

They sent no word of the fact that they would not be here, and their coming was expected up to the very last minute. A crowd of close to 250 people was disappointed by the fluke. The Cops were all togged out in real suits, athirst for the fray, and they were quite miffed at their delinquent brethren. Some of the rash younger men threatened to go to Trenton and slap some wrists.

Later in the afternoon it was given out that the Trenton team fell down because their manager had gone away on his vacation without leaving and directions as to the game, and his men didn't want to come up on their own initiative. They knew in a general way that the game was carded, but they were oppressed by lingering doubts. The telephone and other modern improvements have not yet reached Trenton.

The local coppers had a jolting combination ready for the visitors. Lou Wiltse, who dropped into town from up-State in New York, was slated for first, Brit Martin at second, Jim Scott was ready to twirl and O'Loughlin, the other end of the Clinton avenue battery, had his hooks ready for business. They went into the hurriedly-organized game against Bill Mullen's pick-ups, and toyed with the globule. Bill pitched a heady game, and strong, and but for a few rocky moves by Bill Jaeger, at third, he would have won his game. The score was 8 to 7. Scott didn't let out, and was hit freely. Johnny Owens and Taylor Mehaffey played with Bill.

The majority of the people stayed to see the game. They were bitterly disappointed every time a cop, real or tagged, reached his base.

SAYS RUSHMORE DREW REVOLVER WITHOUT CAUSE

ARTHUR JACOBSEN, A MACHINIST TELLS ANOTHER STORY OF EPISODE.

Arthur Jacobsen, of 440 West Fourth street, a machinist, came into the Daily Press office this morning with another version of S. W. Rushmore's experience as a strike-breaker at the Krom Machine Works. Jacobsen says he is the man with whom Rushmore clashed.

Jacobsen is out of work. On Thursday, he says, he went to the Krom plant in search of work. Leaving there a few minutes later, he walked down Richmond street. Rushmore was a short distance ahead of him. Near Fifth street, Rushmore, he alleges, turned and demanded if he was following him. Then he drew a revolver, Jacobsen declares, and talked of using it. Jacobsen says he told Rushmore to go slow, that he didn't know what he was talking about. Rushmore put the revolver back in his pocket and walked over into the Scott shop.

Jacobsen says he called up the police from a store at Fifth and Richmond streets. The officers couldn't find him, he said, because they understood him to say Front street, instead of Fifth street.

Jacobsen declares he has no connection with the strikers, and had never been a picket for them.

Jacobsen filed a complaint against Rushmore before Justice Mosher yesterday afternoon. The case was laid over until next Wednesday, this morning, on motion of G. W. V. Moy, Rushmore's lawyer.

AN ITALIAN WOMAN JUMPS FROM MOVING TROLLEY.

Receives Lacerated Wounds About the Head but Will Recover.

Miss Penito Donzetto, of Scotch Plains, tried to jump off a main line trolley car on Richmond street, between Second and Third streets, this morning, while the trolley was moving, and she was thrown a considerable distance, receiving lacerated wounds of the head and face. At first it was thought that he woman was seriously injured and the ambulance was summoned to remove her to the hospital.

Dr. Albert Pittis, one of the trolley company physicians, was in the vicinity and he looked after the injured woman. At the hospital an examination showed that the injuries are not serious. She will be detained there for a few days. The woman is about thirty years of age and is unable to explain why she attempted to jump from the car while it was in motion.

Band Concert Deficit.

Though one of the largest crowds of the season witnessed Ben LaVere's band concert and fireworks last night, there was a deficit in the receipts of $16. The musical promoter is now out a total of $125 on the season and in the hope of getting some of the amount, he will conduct another concert next Friday night without the pyrotechnics. He will also make a special appeal to the gathering to aid him in making up the loss.

Mrs. William J. Ladd.

Mrs. William J. Ladd, who resided for many years on Willow avenue, died yesterday at her home in upper Montclair, after an illness of but two days. She was widely known in the city and borough and Mr. Ladd was superintendent of the Presbyterian church Sunday-school for a long time. The funeral will be held at Grace Reformed church, Lincoln road and Bedford avenue, Flatbush, Sunday afternoon at 5 o'clock.

Raritan Regatta.

A regatta will be held on the Raritan river before the country place of J. A. Smith, this afternoon. All forms of small craft will take part in it. Five cups are offered to contestants. Mrs. Smith is interested in the event.

Raymond Aloysius Walden.

Raymond Aloysius Walden, the seven-months-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Walden, of West Third street, died this morning. The funeral will be held from the parents' home Monday afternoon.

Pat Kearns Again.

Pat Kearns was in the city court again this morning, on the same old charge—helplessly drunk. As is the usual course with Pat nowadays, he was placed in charge of the Probation officer.

Peddler Fined.

David Hornburg was arrested yesterday for peddling without a license. Judge Runyon fined him $2 in the city court this morning.

Neuman Brothers will have a extra big sale of peaches tonight at greatly reduced prices. The lot comprises 150 baskets of extra quality white and yellow fruit.

MOVING TOWARDS UNION

Mayor Smalley Names Borough Members For Consolidation Commission.

HOOLEY AND FRENCH

Commissioners Empowered To Arrange For Special Election and To Adjust All Matters.

Another step tending to bring about consolidation of Plainfield and North Plainfield was taken at last night's meeting of the Borough Council. Councilman Edward P. T. Smith offered a resolution to the effect that the report submitted recently by the joint committee from the two municipalities, as advocated by the Board of Trade, be accepted; also that two commissioners be appointed by Mayor Smalley to meet two appointed by Mayor Buckle, these four to confer and appoint a fifth, for the purpose of taking the recommendations in hand.

When a vote was called on the resolution, all the councilmen with the exception of John H. VanWinkle, Jr., were in favor of it. Mr. VanWinkle declined to vote either way and held to it, even after Mr. Smith called upon Mayor Smalley to request every member to say "aye" or "no." The councilman in question replied simply that "he didn't care to vote" and the matter stood that way.

Later in the session, the Mayor named as the borough commissioners Edwin S. Hooley and Elston M. French. They were acknowledged by the Council and will be informed of the proceedings at once and given instructions.

The report on consolidation prepared by the joint committees of the Councils of the two municipalities and the Board of Trade was presented to the North Plainfield borough fathers at their June meeting. It recommended that a special election be held in both places on the same day to be set for December to vote on the merging of the two places without changing the county lines. Charles A. Lee was chairman of the Borough Council's committee and the other two members were Councilmen Krewson and VanArsdale. The report also suggested that each municipality either appoint or elect two commissioners and that a fifth be chosen by the four members with the understanding that he be a resident of Plainfield.

The duty of this commission is to arrange all details for the joint election and to attend to the adjustment of all matters that might arise in the merging of the two places.

SOMERSET STREET WIDENING PETITION HELD

FAILURE TO MENTION STORM SEWER CAUSES ITS RETURN.

Councilman Frank Krewson went to the Borough Council meeting, last night, prepared to present a petition from property owners for the widening of Somerset street from Jackson avenue to Johnson's drive. He failed to do it, however, as it was discovered that it lacked mention of a storm sewer and this is a legal technicality that cannot be over-looked. Mr. Krewson accordingly kept his petition to be reconstructed and signed and will in all probability bring it before the council at the next meeting.

In broaching the subject, Mr. Krewson offered a resolution that the borough engineer be instructed to prepare a map, showing all the property to be taken in the widening and the owners of the same. It was then explained by Mayor Smalley that the petition for the improvement would be presented later in the evening and Borough Counsel Reed asked if it embodied anything about a storm sewer being installed at the same time. When told it did not he explained that the property owners would have to ask for both, irrespective of how the cost was to be met, whether by assessment or bond. As the sewer is of as much importance as the widening, both are to be done at once and the petition will ask for them after the correction.

In the meantime, the engineer will prepare the map as called for by Mr. Krewson and the project will not be greatly delayed. It was stated by Mayor Smalley, however, that it would be impossible to begin actual work this year.

Case Again Postponed.

The Utzinger non-support case was again postponed by Justice Clark Mundy last night. Next Friday night is the new date set for the hearing, but there is a possibility that it may be withdrawn before then.

CAR WRECKS CARRIAGE

Six Young People Tossed Out And Injured, Horse Badly Hurt.

FRONT ST., LAST NIGHT

Walter Nelson, of New Market, and Party of Friends, Figured in the Accident—Homeward Bound After Concert.

On their way home from the band concert, last night, six young people were injured in a collision between a main line trolley car on West Front street, near Waynewood place, and the two-seated wagon in which they were riding. The wagon was smashed to kindling wood, and the horse was badly hurt. The car was slightly damaged.

In the wagon were Walter Nelson, John Nelson, Lester Nelson and Miss Bertha Nelson, all of New Market, Miss Acilla Moore and Thomas Moore, of Millville, all young people. None of them was seriously hurt, but Walter Nelson was so badly bruised as to be almost unable to walk. His clothes were almost torn off, and he was obliged to pin his coat about him to cover his body. Moore struck on his head, and suffered considerable pain. The others, particularly the young woman, suffered greatly from shock.

Walter Nelson was driving when the accident occurred. He told his story of the accident to a Daily Press reporter soon after it occurred. He said he was driving on the right hand side of the road, and at Waynewood place he found a pile of crushed stone in the path of the wagon, with a red light of warning on it. In order to get around the pile it was necessary for him to cut partly across the trolley tracks. Before he reached the other side of the obstruction, car No. 1708, westbound, came along, striking the wagon with full force. All the young people in the wagon declare they did not hear a gong sounded, and that the first intimation they had of the car's presence was just as it struck.

The force of the collision completely turned the horse and wagon about, throwing all the occupants out, and the wagon was quickly reduced to kindling wood. The horse received a deep cut on the left hind leg and was bruised considerably.

Car No. 1708 was pretty well filled with passengers and although all were more or less shaken up none of them was injured. At this point in the road the trolleys usually make good time and it is supposed that the motorman, if he saw the rig ahead, believed it would get off the tracks before he reached it. The car was run by Frank Bowson, of Elizabeth.

The injured horse was stabled in John Morton's barn, and the six young people secured another carriage and continued on their way home. They called a doctor at the journey's end.

Walter, John and Lester Nelson and Miss Bertha Nelson are the sons and daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Nelson, of New Market, while Miss Moore and her brother, Thomas Moore, have been visiting Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Dayton, of New Market. Walter Nelson is well known as a ball player, being a member of the Rutgers College team. This summer he has been playing with the Clinton Avenues.

Climbed on Shipboard.

On Thursday morning as the French liner Provence had cast loose and her big twin screws were beginning to back her out from the dock, shouts were heard from the pier, and Noris Mitchell, who lives in this city, came in sight laden with bundles and a valise. A ladder was quickly found and Mitchell and his baggage were pushed up the ship's side to the great delight of the belated passenger.

Colbyite Leader Ill.

R. Henry Depew, Colbyite choice for mayor, was sick abed yesterday afternoon with a bilious attack. A reporter tried to interview Mr. Depew on his platform and plan of campaign, but he was too ill to think of talking, or even to consider the subject. The attack is not serious, and he expects to be out in a day or two.

Will Give "Chimes of Normandy."

The Plainfield Operatic Association will hold its first fall meeting on Monday night, October 1, at the Casino, when arrangements will be made for the rehearsals for the production of "The Chimes of Normandy," which will be the first opera given this season.

An Approaching Wedding.

Invitations have been issued for the wedding of Miss Mamie A. Philpott, daughter of Warner Philpott, of Westervelt avenue, and William A. Freiday. The wedding will be celebrated at the home of the bride's father on Tuesday evening, September 18.

WEDDING SECRET 2 YRS.

Miss Florence Bilyeu and George Apgar Married on July 31, 1904.

IS JUST ANNOUNCED

Ceremony Performed in Westfield Episcopal Church—Groom Is Member of Company K.

After keeping the fact a secret for over two years, Miss Florence May Bilyeu and George Leland Apgar, announced to their friends that they were married on Sunday night, July 31, 1904, at St. Paul's Episcopal church, Westfield, by the rector, Rev. William Oscar Jarvis. While a very few intimate friends and the parents of the couple knew that they were married, the announcement came as a great surprise to many. Mr. and Mrs. Apgar made no special effort to keep their marriage a secret, but when it did not become generally known, they also showed no disposition to tell it to their friends. The bride held a lucrative position with the Siche Gas Company and despite her repeated attempts to resign the company insisted on her staying and then it was finally decided not to make an announcement of the marriage until she gave up her position, which she did today.

The couple went to Westfield Sunday night, July 31, 1904, for a trolley ride and they reached St. Paul's church just after the close of the service. They met the rector, Rev. Mr. Jarvis, explained their mission and he agreed to perform the ceremony. The congregation had left the church and only Mrs. Muriel Gordon Seabury Jarvis, wife of the rector, and Benjamin Kent Hough, of New York, remained. They were called to witness the marriage. After returning home, Mrs. Apgar continued to live at her home, and Mr. Apgar remained at his. They lost no time in informing their parents that they had been married and the fact was disclosed to a few intimate friends.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Truman W. Bilyeu, of 301 Somerset street, North Plainfield, and is very popular in a large circle of friends. Mr. Apgar, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Apgar, of East Front street, is employed as a letter-carrier at the local postoffice. He is a member of Co. K, of this city, and one of the crack marksman of the company.

The couple has leased a flat on East Front street, and are now keeping house there. When the announcement was made last night, the bride produced her wedding certificate, properly filled out and signed by the officiating minister, the witnesses and bearing the date "July 31, 1904."

"I had no idea that the marriage would remain a secret so long," said Mrs. Apgar, "in fact when we returned home from Westfield my husband and I fully believed that it would become generally known within a few days. When we learned that but few people knew it we decided not to publish the fact until some future time. However, I am of the opinion that there are many of our friends who know we are married, but think it best to make the announcement."

Dunn for Martine.

Former Congressman John T. Dunn, of Elizabeth, has come out in enthusiastic support of James E. Martine for United States Senator. In the same interview with a Elizabeth Journal reporter in which he declared for Martine, he said Bryan was not a deep thinker on the American system of government, although he was sincere and earnest.

Dunellen Eleven Organized.

The Dunellen football team was launched last night at a meeting held in Apgar's hall, Dunellen. Jesse Ayres was made captain and Robert Maltby manager. Practice will begin Tuesday night. There is a list of eighteen candidates, and the material is good enough for the formation of as strong a team as this section will put out.

In the Borough Court.

LOCAL AMUSEMENTS

A treat is in store for the little folk when the magnificent Drury Lane theatre spectacular pantomime, "The Sleeping Beauty and the Beast," which ran an entire season at the

The Prince in "The Sleeping Beauty and the Beast," at New Plainfield Theatre, Monday, September 10.

Broadway theatre, New York, comes to the New Plainfield theatre next Monday night. This production is certainly a dream of fairyland and there has been more money invested in this attraction to place it on the American stage than any other similar play in past decade. It broke all records when first presented in London where great spectacles are not uncommon, but the general verdict in England was that "The Sleeping Beauty and the Beast" the Drury Lane pantomime had eclipsed all previous attempts. The production cost the American managers over one hundred thousand dollars, and in addition to this, they spent upwards of thirty more before the extravaganza could be presented in this country. This expense included the importation of the English and French ballet, the so-called "Show Girls," who are seelcted beauties of the English stage, and all the scenery, paraphernalia and equipment used in the original presentation.

With fine catchy music, sung by girls handsomely clad, and having comic opera voices above the average, "Sergeant Kitty," the opera by Burnside and Sloane is booked to play at the New Plainfield theatre next Tuesday night. The company playing it strikes a mein that is good. "Kitty" is bright, pretty and graceful, the possessor of a good voice and commands the hearts of her audience in quite a masterly way. What especially attracts about this opera is the music, it is light and has the thread of a tune running through it, it is a thread, you might say, that catches hold of a man, and his sense of propriety alone keeps him from humming or whistling the chorus. Music that has pleased better has not been possessed by any of the season's offerings in the comic opera line. Credit also belongs to the man who wrote the lines, who made the Captain Jacques Jouquinere such a punning ready fellow. The costumer also comes in for his round of praise, and the scene painter, mechanical and electrical superintendants are persons to whom the audience is indebted. Helen Byron is quite the proper person to fill the role of Kitty, she has the necessary vivacity and feminine coquetry to say nothing of her pretty face and form. Her song warbles are genuine pleasure givers, and she is assisted by an incomparable company of sixty.

The present day comedy combined with merry medley of mirth and melody, handsome girls, irrepressible comedians, elaborate scenery and catchy songs is an assured success. "Around the Clock," by Frank Huffman, with music and lyrics by L. O. Smith and Sebastian Hiller, and which will be the attraction at the New Plainfield theatre next Wednesday night, is this and a lot more. Few comedians can boast of a liberal sprinkling of pantomime and vaudeville as can this latest and undoubtedly best of all up-to-date stage entertainments. The management secured "Around the Clock" to further exploit the talents of the Ritchie London Comedy Company, who have been shining lights and immensely popular in both Europe and America as vaudeville artists of the first water. The Ritchie Company will be best remembered for their inimitable work in the most original act that has come to this country from abroad in years, "A Night in a London Music Hall." This unique specialty was one of the big sensations and novelties of last season at the different variety houses.

Hap Ward, the well-known comedian, comes to the New Plainfield theatre next Friday night in a new musical comedy entitled, "Not Yet But Soon." Nowaday the public seems to demand that an offering of this nature shall consist mainly of jests, odd comedy conceits, surprises, pretty girls and very litttle plot, and it is promised that with all these details "Not Yet But Soon" complies, making an entertainment filled with wholesome jollity, graceful dances and tuneful lyrics, with an ounce or so of story to leaven the whole. Bill Nerve, the part in which Hap Ward will be seen, is an eccentric gentleman, good-natured, but afflicted with chronic laziness. To cure him of his indolence, his family has placed him in the care of Prof. Nutt at his sanitarium, "Bughouse on the Hudson." Here Bill finds himself surrounded by a set of harmless lunatics, each with a different hallucination, and amuses himself hugely by fooling them in all sorts of droll ways. In this he is largely assisted by being mistaken for a certain famous nerve specialist expected at the sanitarium from abroad. During the second act a ludicrous burlesque of "Uncle Tom's Cabin" is introduced, in which Mr. Ward will interpret a rather more than life-sized Little Eva.

May Irwin, the funniest woman on the American stage, is to have a new play the present season called "Mrs. Wilson, That's All," written for her by George V. Hobart, and which she will present at the New Plainfield theatre on September 21. The new comedy is something on the same order as those in which she has formerly appeared, but there will be no chorus, all the music being furnished by the star herself, with her characteristic songs.

Mr. and Mrs. E. M. VanBuren, of Central avenue, are nome from a summer sojourn in the mountains.

PRIMARY LAW SYNOPSIS

Information That Every Voter Should Have and Understand.

COMPLETE, CONCISE

Should Be Carefully Perused Now As the Primaries Take Place on September 25.

Because a thorough understanding of the primary election, as amended to date, is necessary to any one interested in politics, as well as indispensible to all citizens who exercise the right of suffrage, the following careful and accurate synopsis of the primary election law has been prepared.

Democratic voters inserting the word "Democratic" wherever the word "Republican" appears, the complete synopsis is as follows:

New Jersey Primaries for 1906.

Time—September 25, between 1 p. m. and 9 p. m.

Place—The place in each election district at which voters are registered.

Rules for voters to observe who desire to vote on primary day.

To be eligible to vote at the primaries on September 25 a voter must conform with the following requirements:

1. He must be a male citizen, 21 years old, not disqualified by reason of conviction of crime, residing in the election district in which he offers to vote, who will have resided in the State one year and in the county five months at the time of the general election in November.

II. His name must appear on the registry list of his election district before he can vote at primaries. See below.

A. If he lives in any other city with over 30,000 population:

1. He must either register in person on September 25, between the hours of 1 p. m. and 9 p. m., that being the only registration day until after the primaries; or,

2. He may be registered on September 25 by a lawful voter of the election district making a written affidavit that he is entitled to vote in that district. A separate affidavit is required for each person so registered, signed by the person making the affidavit.

B. If he does not live in some city with over 30,000 population, he cannot register on September 25 just before he votes at the primary, as heretofore.

1. He may be registered by the house-to-house canvass made by his local board of registry. This canvass is made on September 4 and must be completed by September 7; or,

2. He may appear in person before the board of registry on September 11, between the hours of 1 p. m. and 9 p. m., that being the last chance for him to register for the primaries.

3. His name may be added to the list on September 11, on the affidavit in writing of some voter in the election district that he is a legal voter therein. This must be signed and each affidavit must be separate.

4. To votte at the Republican primary he must be a member of the Republican party.

If challenged, he must swear that he is a member of the Republican party, and, unless voting for the first time, he must swear that aat the last election for members of the Assembly at which he voted that he voted for a majority of the candidates whose names were printed upon the Republican ticket and that he intends to support the candidates of the Republican party at the ensuing election.

Other Provisions.

Ward and township officers are nominated by a direct vote. All officers voted upon by the voters of more than one township or ward are nominated by conventions.

All public officers, who are voted upon at the general elections by the residents of more than one ward or township, are nominated by convention. The number of delegates that each election district is entitled to have at the nominating convention is announced upon the first day of July by the chairman of the county committee.

All public officers, who are voted upon at the general election by the voters of a single ward or township, are nominated on September 25, by the direct vote of the voters of that ward or township, without the intervention of delegates or conventions.

The District Is Now the Unit.

In preparing the petitions this year, there must be ten signers from each election district. This is a radical change from last year's law, which only required ten signers from each ward or township. The signers must be qualified voters of the election district. Extreme care must be exercised in this, because if a voter signs a petition who lives in another district, although he may be from the same ward, it invalidates the whole petition. Also, in the election of delegates to nominating conventions, the delegates are elected by districts, instead of by wards, as they were last year. In order to elect the entire delegation from any ward to a nominating convention, it is necessary to have a plurality of the Republican votes cast in every election district in that ward. If a plurality of votes is not obtained in any election district, it means that the delegates from that election district are lost, no matter how big the majority may be in the total vote of the ward.

How to Vote.

On September 25, each Republican voter requests the Republican ticket of the board of election and registry. He then receives the official Republican ballot, which he takes with him to the voting booth. The candidates of both factions of the party—1, for delegates to the various conventions, and 2, for ward and township officers, will appear on this ballot. The voter must erase every name of a candidate for delegate to a convention and of a candidate for a ward or township office for whom he does not wish to vote by drawing a line through the name with the lead pencil provided in the booth. All names that he desires to vote for are left unscratched. If a ticket is voted without scratching off the names of the faction that you are opposing, your ticket will not count.

After the names have been scratched out, the ticket should be deposited in the ballot box.

Challenges.

1. Any member of the board of registry and election; or,

2. The two challengers appointed by the chairman of the county committee of each party for that election district; or,

3. Any person whose name is printed upon the official primary ballot, that is, every candidate for delegate for office, may challenge the vote:

1. Of any one whom he believes is not entitled to vote at the primaries; or,

2. Of any one whom he believes is offering to vote the ticket of one party when he believes the person in question to be a member of another party. The party challenged on this ground will be permitted to vote if he makes oath that he voted for a majority of the candidates of that party at the last elecetion at which he voted and that he intends to support the candidates of that party at this election.

The candidates for delegate and office, whose names appear upon the ballot, and the challenges appointed by the chairman of the county committee may be present, inside the railed enclosure, while the votes cast at the primary are being cast and counted.

Vacancies.

If a person elected as delegate to a convention die before the convention, or in writing addressed to the chairman of the convention, decline to act as delegate, his place as such delegate shall be filled by a majority vote of the other delegates selected from that election district.

Time of Filing Petitions.

All petitions must be filed on or before September 15.

NATURE'S WARNING.

Plainfield People Must Recognize and Heed It.

Kidney ills come quietly—mysteriously,

But nature always warns you through the urine.

Notice the kidney secretions.

See if the color is unhealthy—

If there are settlings and sediment,

Passages too frequent, scanty, painful.

It's time then to use Doan's Kidney Pills,

To ward off Bright's disease or diabetes.

Doan's have done great work in Plainfield.

Mrs. J. C. Manchester, of 120 Lafayette place, Plainfield, N. J., says: "I was a sufferer from kidney and bladder troubles for a long time, and doctored with physicians for same, each time without being cured. In July, 1905, I saw Doan's Kidney Pills advertised and made up my mind to get a box at Randolph's drug store and give them a trial. I did so, and with good results, as the treatment regulated the kidneys and got the bladder into a proper condition. If this cure proves to be a permanent one, as I have every reason to believe it will, I will always recommend Doan's Kidney Pills."

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

There is always a uniform excellence about the meals at Timbo's restaurant on North avenue.

Putnam & DeGraw, of West Front street, carry a superior line of dry goods and dressmakers' materials, also men's furnishings.

Carl Silbert, the West Front street jeweler, has an attractive stock of diamonds, watches, clocks and novelties at lowest prices.

O. M. Dunham, of Park avenue, is receiving his fall stock of men's furnishings, including the new shapes in hats and the latest styles in neckwear.

C. M. Naegle, the West Front street druggist, can always supply you with the best drugs and medicines and his soda water is hard to excell.

Did you ever try L. W. Randolph's famous glycerine hair tonic? It is the best preparation for the hair and scalp and is reasonable in price. A full line of drugs and medicines always in stock and prescriptions quickly and accurately compounded.

In Memory of Garfield.

Long Branch intends to make September 19 Garfield Memorial day. It was on this day that Garfield died in the Franklin cottage. It has always been a mystery that Long Branch did not immediately afterward take steps to officially recognize the national tragedy of the time by erecting a monument or some other suitable memorial. A window in honor of President Garfield was placed in St. James' Episcopal church, Long Branch, opposite the pew which Garfield and his family occupied on several occasions. For weeks the attention of the nation was centered on the Franklin cottage, where the president struggled after he had been stricken by the assassin's hand and it was thought some wealthy men would purchase the building and preserve it as a permanent memorial. Long Branch, it appears, has a monument committee and now proposes a Garfield monument to be dedicated on the 24th anniversary of his death. The monument, it is understood, will be placed in the triangle of the Elberon station. The position is prominent, but association and the fitness of location would seem to require that the Franklin cottage be acquired by the nation and made a perpetual monument in honor of President Garfield.

Mr. and Mrs. L. G. Timpson, of East Sixth street, are home from their summer outing.

ACKERMAN'S CHARACTER.

That Mr. Colby declared in his debate with Hillery a short time ago that Senator Ackerman is neither straight nor independent fortunately for the leaders of the "New Idea" in Union county is now denied by the Essex county Senator. Neither he nor anyone else could convince the people of Plainfield that Mr. Ackerman is not a man of absolute integrity, holding the very highest ideals politically and otherwise. His course in the last Legislature shows that he did his own thinking and acted solely upon his own judgment, always having in mind the duty he owed to his constituents.

The episode would possibly be relegated to the political canard pile were it not for the fact that men in the regular organization take issue with the Essex county Senator on his denial. It is asserted that proof may be brought that he did question Mr. Ackerman's honesty either by direct words or shake of the head when Senator Hillery pointed out the Plainfield legislator as an honest, independent and sincere man.

It is hard to believe that Mr. Colby would make any attempt at prevarication. Even his bitterest political enemies have never shown any inclination to put him down as one who would be guilty of falsehood. If it is proven, however, that he did actually use such words against Mr. Ackerman a severe blow has been dealt the Colbyites in Union county.

Miss Mabel Van Deventer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Augustus Van-Deventer, of Washington avenue, is spending the week in Asbury Park.

Mrs. H. S. Potter, who has been visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Woodruff, of East Second street, will return on Tuesday to her home in El Paso, Texas.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Lowe, of Park avenue, who have been abroad some time, were in Brussels, last week. They expect to sail for home today, reaching here a week from today. Information has also been received that Mrs. Josephine Lapsley, who has been abroad for over a year, and Miss Elsie Pfeiffer, also of this city, were in Brussels last week.

Republican Fifth Congressional District Convention.

The Republican voters of the Fifth Congressional District of the State of New Jersey composing the Counties of Morris, Union and Warren, are requested to elect delegates at Primary Elections to be held according to the provisions of the statute of the State of New Jersey, on Tuesday, the twenty-fifth day of September, A. D. nineteen hundred and six, to the Congressional Convention to be held in Jacobs' Theatre in the City of Elizabeth, Union County, New Jersey, on Friday, the twenty-eighth day of September, A. D. nineteen hundred and six, at twelve o'clock noon for the purpose of nominating a member of the House of Representatives to be supported at the ensuing election. The basis of the representation of each election district of each of the townships, wards or boroughs under this call is regulated by Chapter 237 of the laws of New Jersey, Session 1906, page 505, viz.: One delegate for every one hundred votes cast by the Republican party for its candidate for Governor at the last Gubernatorial Election, viz.: Election 1904, and one delegate for each fraction thereof over forty, but every election district in each of the townships, boroughs or wards which at the last Gubernatorial Election cast less than one hundred votes shall be entitled to cast one vote in this Convention.

By order of the Fifth Congressional Executive Committee.

By Tom Muir.

"Map" Ward, who comes to Plainfield next Friday night in "Not Yet But Soon," will be remembered by Plainfielders when it is known that he was the front end of the popular team, Ward and Vokes, which used to pay annual visits to Music Hall. They starred for years in "A Run on the Bank" and just before they separated had "A Pair of Pinks" as a vehicle. "Hap" has been going it alone for the past two years and has been meeting with great success.

Nat Wills, "the happy tramp," who was seen here last season in "A Son of Rest," is coming to the New Plainfield on October 12. He will present his new musical comedy, "A Lucky Dog."

What is purported to be one of the most realistic bits of acting seen on the stage in a decade occurs in the second act of "Around the Clock," when "Bill Smith," one of the principal characters in the comedy has a mild attack of delirium termens. The part is played by Billy Ritchie, the famous comedian and pantomimist, and the manner in which he gets off this particular scene stamps him as one of the cleverest comedians before the public today.

Gus Hill, who is one of the best known theatrical men in the country, is in Plainfield today for the purpose of witnessing the performances of "The Smart Set." He is the owner of this attraction and fifteen others, beside holding stock in a large number of theatres in various parts of the country. He and Manager Counihan have been fast friends for years and have been business associates for a long time.

"Mike" Shannon, the popular and genial business manager of the New Plainfield, is a great friend of George M. Cohan, and one night this summer he made his way to the New Amsterdam roof garden to see "The Yankee Doodle comedian" do his turn. He walked into the crowded auditorium and stood at the back looking about. An Irish usher, who recognized him, approached saying, "Good avinin, Mr. Shannon, is it a sate you want?"

"Yes," replied Shannon.

"Well, indade Mr. Shannon, I'd be glad to give ye a sate, but the empty ones are all full."

"White Pine and Tar" Cough Syrup.

Sudden changes in the weather at this time of the year are apt to give many people cold. Stop that cough by taking "Randolph's Compound White Pine and Tar" Cough Syrup. It is unsurpassed for coughs, tightness of the chest, cold in the head, etc.

"Cold and Grippe" Tablets.

These Tablets are very efficient for curing a cold quickly, besides they are very convenient to carry and take.

GOTHAM'S AMUSEMENTS

The regular season at the New Amsterdam theatre opened last Monday evening with Harry Bulger in Henry W. Savage's production of "The Man From Now," a most unique musical play written by John Kendrick Bangs and Vincent Bryan, presented with an exceptionally brilliant score composed by Manuel Klein. Both play and star made a hit. Mr. Bulger is most happily cast as "Steve Waffles," agent of a patent medicine, and repeated his previous Broadway successes. Mr. Savage has given the play a most elaborate mounting. The cast is an excellent one. A score of small children are introduced in the second act. The scene is "The National Amusement Park, Screamland, in the year 2,906." The children at their games attracted even more attention than did the "grown up" players. This engagement of Mr. Bulger and his associates is limited to three more weeks, to be followed October 1 by H. B. Irving and his London company in "Paolo and Francesca."

Gus and Max Rogers have scored their usual success at the New York theatre in "The Rogers Brothers In Ireland." They opened at this house last Monday and played to audiences that packed the theatre to the doors. They have given their play an entirely new equipment of scenery and costumes and their company is practically the same as last season. Their engagement ends Saturday, the 15th inst. They will be followed on Monday, the 17th, by "Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch."

Klaw & Erlanger has engaged Col. Michael Daly, the famous English broadsword and ancient Roman sword fencer, to train the 250 men who will appear as Greek soldiers in the great battle scene in "The Prince of India" at the Broadway theatre, the 24th inst. Hassan Ali, an ex-Turkish cavalryman, has also been retained to instruct the 300 men who will appear as Turkish Janissaries. This battle scene will be sensational indeed.

Endorsed universally by the press and public, "A Society Circus," at the New York Hippodrome, continues to attract thousands twice daily to the mammoth playhouse and to prove its title as the greatest theatrical production not only of the metropolis but of the whole world. Governor N. C. Blanchard, of Louisiana, after witnessing the opening performance, said: "It is the most wonderful, the most beautiful and the greatest show I have ever witnessed. It is impossible to adequately describe it and must be seen to be appreciated. I have never seen, in all my travels, anything in the amusement world to approach it in its magnificence and grandeur." And the opinion of Louisiana's chief executive is voiced by all. More dramatic than ten dramas; more operatic than ten operas; more circussy than ten circusses is "A Society Circus." Its wealth of features include the greatest chorus ever assembled; tuneful, catchy music; sensational and marvelous arenic acts especially engaged by Messrs. Shubert & Anderson and seen for the first time in this country; a gorgeous ballet of one hundred girls, interpreting the "Song of the Flowers," and as a climax the Court of the Golden Fountains, the most beautiful tableau ever presented and possible only on the immense Hippodrome stage. Matinees are given daily.

Marie Cahill opened her regular New York season at Daly's theatre on Monday, Aug. 27th, in the new musical play, "Marrying Mary," by Edwin Milton Boyle. The music has been done by Silvio Hein, composer of the music of Miss Cahill's last success, "Molly Moonshine," and the lyrics are by Benjamin Hapgood Burt, who last year composed the words of Miss Cahill's well known song, "Robinson Crusoe's Isle." "Marrying Mary" is the triumphant effort of Miss Cahill's starring career. With two such successes as "Nancy Brown" and "Molly Moonshine" to her credit, she again scores heavily in the new piece. But when one considers that Marie Cahill always does a thing well, and is never satisfied with standing still, it is not rash to agree with her friends who maintain that in "Marrying Mary" she has something new and big to offer. Miss Cahill has surrounded herself this year with a group of players that ought forever with their excellent reputations save theatrical stars from the imputation of engaging weak companies so that their own defects will be less evident. William Courtleigh, Eugene Cowles, Roy Atwell, Charles Dickson, Mark Smith, H. Guy Woodward, Ben Grinnelle, Annie Buckley and Virginia Staunton with as pretty a chorus as ever walked the boards at old Daly's, all help to give "Marrying Mary" a fair start and a good one.

The revival of Dion Boucicault's beautiful Irish comedy-drama, "Arrah-Na-Pogue," by Andrew Mack, is scheduled for production at the Grand Opera House on Monday, September 10, and will doubtless stimulate lively interest. Throughout the entire English-speaking world Mr. Mack has been received by the most enthusiastic and delighted assemblages of the theatre-goers of all ages and conditions of life, who have gone away recommending him and his plays to their friends. Mr. Mack as Shaun the Post has a part that gives him great scope as an actor and singer. Any one who wishes to appreciate fully the difference between the true Irish-man and the stage creation should see Mr. Mack's performance. With a merry twinkle in his eyes and with his pleasant and well trained voice, distinguished by the brogue he manifests in his portraiture of Shaun, he possesses all the animation, the wit and spontaneity of his race. Mr. Mack will be supported by a company of well known players and a chorus of twenty trained male and female voices. A complete scenic and electric production is carried, and it is said that the organization is the largest that has ever toured in an Irish play.

KEEP YOUR HEAD UNCOVERED.

The Constant Wearing of a Hat Propogates Dandruff Germs.

There are many men who wear their hats practically all the time when awake, and are blessed with a heavy shock of hair; yet if the scalps of these same men once became infested with dandruff germs, the parasites would multiply all the quicker for lack of air. Baldness would ensue as the final result. Newbro's Herpicide kills these germs and stimulates unhealthy hair to abundant growth. Herpicide is a pleasant hair dressing as well as a dandruff cure and contains not an atom of injurious substance. Sold by leading druggists. LITERARY.

There is a city in New England with schools for every class of citizens; schools for mechanics, for busy mothers, for backward children, for adults who do not speak English. They call it "A City of Special Schools," and Marion Mellus has written a wonderfully interesting article about for the September number of Everybody's Magazine. Whether you are parent or teacher or student, you will want to read this inspiring story of experiments that have succeeded, this prophecy of the education of the future. Did you know that Australia is governed by laboring men? and that it is a sane and sound government, with many wise deeds to its credit, likely to endure long, a pattern to other nations? In this far-off country Chas. Edward Russell has found an army of "Soldiers of the Common Good," and he has written of them in what is one of the most brilliant and instructive of his widely read series. We Americans shall do well to study Australia's story—Mr. Russell shows that he has studied our.

"The Story of Montana," the great serial for the year, begun in the August McClure's, gains impetus as it goes along. From its striking picture of the early days of the commonwealth, it turns to the development of the mining industry, the picturesque conditions and enormous fortunes which resulted, and the bitter feud that arose between Marcus Daly and William A. Clark. The story of the quarrel, of Clark's first attempts to reach the United States Senate, of his spectacular defeat, and of the Montana capital fight, is told in the September McClure's. It makes one of the most interesting pages in American history. "A Royal Romance," by C. N. and A. M. Williamson, is a timely narrative of the young King of Spain's courtship of an English girl. One of the remarkable features of the article is the account of a personal interview with the Princess Ena. The thirty years' war between the New York Mutual and Equitable companies is related with some surprising disclosures in chapter V. of Burton J. Hendrick's "The Story of Life-Insurance." Eugene Wood contributes an original article on "Niagara."

Four articles on educational topics appear in the September Review of Reviews. The editor, Dr. Albert Shaw, treats at length, in a copiously illustrated article, "What Hampton Means by 'Edueation;'" H. V. Ross tells of certain successful experiments in New York City in the line of instructing business and professional men in their own vocations in an illustrated paper under the title: "Schools for the Out-of-School; Mr. Alexander Petrunkevich, son of the well-known Constitutional Democratic leader of the now defunct Russian Duma, discusses "Education and Revolution in Russia;" and there is a sympathetic editorial description of teh apprentice school maintained by the Hoe Printing Company in New York.

The Historic Hudson.

The Hudson River has a renowned reputation in more ways than one. Its business interests are more widely known than any other steram, while for excursions and outings it has no equal. There are sights galore—the palisades—the U. S. Military Academy at West Point—the far famed State Prison at Sing Sing and interesting Newburg. The scenery in every direction is superb, and the steamers which convey the excursionists are commodious and comfortable. On September 9, 1906, New Jersey Central is going to run one of its popular low-rate excursions up the Hudson, the rate for the round trip to be $1.00, children 50 cents, and special train leaving Plainfield at 8:52 a. m., will connect at Jersey City station with famous steamer "Sandy Hook" for the trip. Don't forget date or train time.

John C. Ludlow.

Rahway, Sept. 8.—John C. Ludlow, an old-time resident of this city, died at his home here Wednesday night. He leaves a widow, to whom he was married fifty-five years ago, and three children, Theodore H. Ludlow, Mrs. Anna Verry and Charles W. Ludlow, of this city. There are also eight grandchildren. Mr. Ludlow was born in Westfield in 1822. He was formerly tax collector for Rahway, and served one term as city treasurer. The funeral will be held at his residence Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock, Rev. C. F. Shaw officiating, with interment at Westfield.

Tartans.

Tartans are here.
They're fine for fall.
One likes them, too, for winter.
Ribbons are noted in these plaids.
Soft, rich Ttartans dominate some silks.
In cloth the Tartans shine with fresh splendor.
They have burst into particular prominence in hatdom.

By OLIVIA B. STROHM

(Copyright, 1905, by Olivia B. Strohm).

CHAPTER XXV.

"The King's Highway is a little uncertain," Winslow laughed as they trudged over the trail where only the faintest mark of wheels showed traces of frontier enterprise.

Lavender tried to return the sally, buh the words would not come, and she walked by his side, dumb and heavy-eyed.

"Why so pensive?" he asked at last.

But her reply was evasive, and he said no more, but talked of things impersonal.

About noon they rested by a brook that invited them by a cheerful gurgle. Lavender sat on the mossy turf while Winslow busied himself arranging the lunch from a hamper.

At the brookside he filled a leaf with water.

"Drink," he commanded. "This is the cup of Lethe! You need it with that tragedy in your eyes."

"Have we time to stay here and rest a little?" she asked.

Winslow glanced at the sun. "He has long to travel," he said. "He will light us for hours yet," and he threw himself at her feet, while she said, with light raillery: "I see you have caught some of Owatoga's tricks of speech."

After a pause he said: "You are cold to me to-day; you are not happy with me. Won't you tell me why?"

She did not answer.

"Lavender" (and he lingered over the name), "Tell me why. Is this, then, the 'time to hate?'"

She looked into his eyes frankly. "No," she said; "no, not a 'time to hate.' That time will never come. But it is a 'time to talk.' A time to think. A time to be honest with myself—and you."

Self-disgust was vibrant in her voice. Then she opened the bag which again dangled at her waist, and from it drew the yellow envelope.

Winslow gave an exclamation of distressed annoyance, but said nothing.

"Then you recognize this?" and there was haughty distrust again in her manner.

"I am sorry to say I do. May I ask how it came in your possession?"

His manner, too, was cold and peremptory.

She did not reply, and he continued: "The abominable mystery—for me—surrounding that letter is bad enough without your being mixed up in it too; that I cannot bear."

With flashing eyes she returned: "It is true that this letter is none of my affair unless—unless we are to be friends. If we are," her voice dropped lower, "then surely I have the right to know why she—that half-breed woman—wrote this?"

She extended the letter toward him, entreaty, reproach and scorn in her look and tone.

Winslow took it calmly and, glancing it over with an indifferent air, said: "She did not write it."

"Did not write it?" she repeated, vaguely.

"She did not. I have the best proof in the world. She cannot write at all."

Then, as she stared at him dumfounded, he explained further: "This letter is a forgery—written for what purpose, Heaven alone knows. Its only result was that, in total ignorance of the reason for my summons, or of whom I was going to meet, I came to the place appointed—in time to receive a stab in the dark. Of course, I was a fool to go, but—well, you see the note is urgent. 'For the sake of one I love,' the writer says."

He ended with a meaning look straight into her eyes, which were beginning to droop before the absolute honesty in his.

"The woman, Belle, has assured me that she never sent me a message of any sort; the question is—who did?"

Who, indeed? A dreadful doubt was fomenting in Lavender's brain, but she persevered falteringly: "But the girl—she who was in the woods that night?"

He laughed. "Well, I suppose I must take everybody's word that there was a girl there, but—well, I did not see her. It is plain I did not have my wits about me. By the way, I have met her since; our estates join;" he added, with mock dignity.

Already penitent, ashamed of questions which might seem at best a low curiosity, at worst a foolish jealousy, Lavender yet persisted: "Then you—you did not know her before?"

"How could I have had that pleasure? You know that was my first appearance in St. Charles. Rather an inauspicious debut, wasn't it?"

Quickly over the girl's mind flashed the conversation she had heard at the frolic; the gossip of the "branch-water girl," and her "city beau."

In an attempt to make the crooked straight, she repeated the talk to him now, concluding: "None of the gossip of the city cavalier impressed me at the time, but later, when I heard of the meeting in the wood, it seemed reasonable to think that—that you were the man."

She faltered through this with an apologetic blush, and for a moment Winslow was silent.

Then: "'Reasonable?'" he echoed. "My effort to please you has surely been in vain if you think it 'reasonable' that I could stoop to secret trips to St. Charles for the sly wooing of a rustic maid."

Indignation rose with speech, and he finished, sternly: "You have done—not only me, but yourself—a great injustice."

She was dumb; stricken with an overwhelming sense of loss—loss of the man who was more than worthy of the love which she now realized had always been his—must ever be his.

And Winslow's manner softened as she drooped before him in sweet contrition. "Never mind, sweetheart," he said, tenderly; but she interrupted him with sudden vehemence: "Then why did they remind me over and over again that you killed her father, and—"

For a moment Charles forgot his promise to Sue Miller, and burst out: "I? Killed her father?"

Then with swift recollection of his bond of silence: "Go on," he said, calmly.

"I was going to say that the circumstances under which you took his life, as I have since learned them, make his death appear in—well, in a different light."

"But still bad? You would think it better if no man's blood cried to me from the ground?"

Unconsciously she sighed in consent, but quickly answered: "It is so different to me now. He was not the father protecting his child, but an antagonist who sprang at you unawares."

He did not reply, and she went on: "But there must have been a mistake; the old man probably thought you were another. Did not the girl's lover appear?"

"I saw nobody," he declared.

"Does anyone know who he is, or do they all think of you as I did?"

He did not look at her as he replied, indirectly: "It is a matter of indifference to me what 'they' think, so long as I am right in your eyes. And you—you believe in me, now?"

He bent closer, trying to see into her eyes. But she kept them turned from him, fixed with unseeing gaze upon the river hurrying past them.

She did believe in him with a faith unalterable, but as that faith grew, rose another mist of doubt—doubt of that other, of that man who had held the mirror wherein Winslow had appeared in such a bad light to her distorted vision. Was he, too, mistaken, or was he purposely misleading her? She dared not reason calmly. To distrust Gonzaga now would mean misery—would set all her hopes adrift. For was he not her betrothed, her mother's choice for her? The man who was to bring that mother back to home and life?

DON'T DO IT
What is the use of spending an hour in preparation every time any member of the family wants a bath. That's what it means if the water has to be heated in numerous kettles on a coal stove. Don't do it when you can get a gas water heater which does away with all this trouble.
A gas water heater also insures PLENTY of hot water whenever and wherever you need it without having to kindle a fire or carry it from kitchen to bath or laundry.

AN OFFICIAL VIEW OF AUTOMOBILE LAW.

Commissioner Smith Makes Statement Which Clears Up Erroneous Impressions.

Trenton, Sept. 8.—Commissioner J. B. R. Smith, of the department of motor vehicles, has been credited with having given a decision to the effect that under the new Frelinghuysen automobile law policemen and constables are without authority to arrest violators of the act. This is exactly the reverse of what Mr. Smith actually said, and should such a construction be placed on the law, he says, it would make it about as useless a piece of legislation as ther is on the statute books. The decision upon which the erroneous reports were based was meant to apply only t othe arbitrary holding-up of automobilists by local officials and compelling them to show their licenses. Mr. Smith, when seen last night, said he feared the publicity which has been given to the stories would cause a misunderstanding on the part of local police authorities. He then made the following statement:

"My attention has been called to certain erroneous stories recently appearing in the newspapers regarding the power of local constables and police officers to arrest for violations of the motor vehicle act. I can hardly understand how there could possibly have arisen any question on this point.

"Section 32, paragraph 1, provides as follows: 'Any constable or police officer, or motor vehicle inspector or the commissioner of motor vehicles, is hereby authorized to arrest without warrant any person violating in the presence of said constable, police officer, motor vehicle inspector or the commissioner, any of the provisions of this act, and to bring them before any magistarte of the county where such offense is committed.' Paragraph 2 of the same section provides that 'any person arrested for any violation of any of the privisions of this act, shall upon demand of the magistrate hearing the complaint against said person, produce his license for inspection, and if such person shall fail to produce his license or give a satisfactory excuse for its non-production, he shall, in addition to other penalties imposed by said magistrate, be subject to a fine of not more than twenty-five dollars.'

Inspectors Wear Badges.

"Section 14 of said act provides that 'motor vehicle inspectors may be appointed as provided in Section 9 of this act, and shall be presented with a badge indicative of their office, and when wearing such badge on the left breast of the outer-most garment, shall have power to stop any motor vehicle and examine the same to see that it complies with the requirements of this act.'

"I fail to understand, in view of these very explicit provisions, how such a report as I have been advised of, could become current.

"Some time ago I was asked whether policemen and constables had a right to stop motorists not otherwise violating the law, for the mere purpose of ascertaining whether they had a license, and in view of the fact that sub-division 1, of Section 32, vested police officers and constables only with the power of arrest for any violation committed in the presence of such officers, and that sub-division 2 vested the power in the magistrate before whom such person should be taken to examine the licence, and in view of the provisions of Section 14, which expressly empowers inspectors, while wearing their badge, to stop drivers for the mere purpose of ascertaining whether or not they had the license, I replied as follows: 'My understanding of the law is that only inspectors are entitled to stop motor vehicles for the mere purpose of examining the icense. A policeman having stopped the vehicle for any other violation of the law, may properly ask for the inspection of the license, although, perhaps, no arrest could be made for a refusal to allow such inspection, but, of course, in such cases, the policeman would have the right to take the person before a magistarte because of the technical violations which occurred in his presence, and the magistrate could then insist upon an inspection of the license, and failing to receive it, could fine the person $25, according to the statute.'

"It seems to me absolutely clear that the police officers are authorized t oarrest for any violation. If a policeman knows that a person who is driving a car in his presence has not a license there exists, unquestionably, a violation; but if the policeman does not know whether he has a license or not he, of course, cannot tell whether he is violating the law in that respect; and I do not understand that our laws empower the police to arrest without warrant persons merely under suspicion, such power only having been given to motor vehicle inspectors for this purpose and to magistrates after a person has violated the automobile law in some other respect. The way seems perfectly clear. If an automobilist has violated the law in the presence of any officer in any respect he may be arrested without warrant and taken before a magistrate by such officer. The magistrate may then demand an examination of the license.

"I cannot conceive of the reason why any one should fail to understand these apparently simple provisions."

CHRISTIAN FIELD.

The choir of the First M. E. church will return on Sunday after its usual summer vacation.

Rev. A. E. Finn, who returned this week from his vacation, will occupy his pulpit at the Park Avenue Baptist church tomorrow, morning and evening.

Rev. E. E. Roberson, of the Monroe Avenue M. E. church, will speak at the open air meeting to be held at Concert Park tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock. There will be special instrumental music.

Rev. Dr. Robert Mackenzie, of the Rutgers Presbyterian church, New York, will preach at the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian church, tomorrow. The pastor, Rev. Dr. J. S. Zelie, is expected home a week from tomorrow.

Albert T. Davis, superintendent of the Public Schools at East Orange, will preach at the First Baptist church tomorrow, morning and evening. Mr. Davis while not a regular preacher, occasionally occupies the pulpit and he is said to be a very strong speaker.

Owing to the fact that the Y. M. C. A. has secured Concert Park for Sunday afternoons during the rest of the season, the W. C. T. U. has given up the plan of holding open-air meetings there. The temperance meetings will be held at the rooms on Madison avenue, as usual, and Mrs. Bodine will have charge of the meeting tomorrow afternoon.

Dr. E. W. Hedges and family, of East Seventh street, returned today from Nantucket, Mass., where they have been spending the summer.

Harry E. Kingslow, D. Ph., of Charleston, W. Va., a former Plainfielder, is visiting relatives here. He is manager of a pharmacy in Charleston.

CLOSED PORTALS.

Martha Washington Council, Daughters of America, will meet tonight and initiate two candidates and receive several propositions. On Tuesday night, September 18, the council will visit Fairview Council, of Mt. Bethel and take charge of the initiatory work.

SCHOOL OPEN TOMORROW

Buildings and Teachers Ready For the Annual Invasion of Young America.

MANY NEW PUPILS

Superintendents Maxson and Krebs Anticipate Large Increase in the Enrollments.

Dr. Henry M. Maxson, superintendent of the Plainfield Public Schools, is at the High School today, completing arrangements for the fall opening of the schools tomorrow. He is being assisted by Principal Ira Travell, and other members of the High School faculty. All of the teachers are expected to return home tonight ready to begin work tomorrow morning. Some of the new teachers have already arrived and are at the various schools to which they have been assigned getting acquainted with preliminary details of their work.

The schools have all been renovated and put in first class condition for the coming year. Of course, it is impossible at this time to get an accurate idea of the enrollment, but Dr. Maxson said today that there is every indication that it will be very large. There is not only a natural increase in Plainfield children, but it is expected that Dunellen will send at least fifteen pupils to Plainfield for the High School course, and Scotch Plains will do the same, according to the new arrangements made with the Board of Education by the school authorities of Dunellen and Scotch Plains.

The grading of the High School grounds has been delayed by the failure of the contractor to complete the contract walks on time. Other walks have been laid temporarily until such time as the contractor can finish his work. The grading is being pushed as rapidly as possible.

Dr. Maxson hopes that by tomorrow he will have a fairly accurate estimate of the enrollment at all of the schools and he will then announce the figures.

Superintendent Krebs, of the North Plainfield schools, has been hard at work getting things in shape for the opening, and announced today that everything is in readiness. The members of the High School and grammar departments are to assemble tomorrow at 8:20 and the other grades at 9 o'clock. From present indications the enrollment will be very large, forty new pupils being registered this morning while as many more are expected this afternoon. There will be a teachers' meeting this afternoon when the work for the year will be outlined by Mr. Krebs and his assistants.

Among the new teachers who have been engaged for the High School since the last term are the following: Miss Ethel Foster Reed, a graduate of Wellesley, to take charge of the history department; Andrew Bender, of Lebanon Valley College, for the science department; Miss Helen S. Ellis, a graduate of the Baltimore Woman's College, for Latin and Greek. In the grammar department the new faces will include Miss Mabel C. Trembath, a graduate of the Trenton Normal School, for geography and physiology; Miss Annis Perry, of the Plattsburg, N. Y., Normal School, to succeed Miss Ruth Hill; Miss Minnie Frazee, of the Trenton Normal School, to succeed Miss Grace VanPatten, who has been transferred from the first to the fifth grade; Miss Pauline Webster, of the Cortland Normal School, to take charge of the third grade.

In the Watchung School, Miss Elizabeth Dodd, New Jersey Normal '02, takes charge of the third grade, while Miss Southworth is succeeded in the first grade by Miss Amanda F. Tyler, of the Cortland Normal School.

Approaching Wedding.

Miss Sadie Winckler, daughter of Elmer E. Winckler, of Westervelt avenue, and Dr. Charles L. Moore, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph L. Moore, of 918 West Front street, will be quietly married Wednesday night at the home of the bride's father. Rev. Dr. C. W. Parsons, of Grace M. E. church, will perform the ceremony. The couple will reside at 902 West Front street.

Engagement Announced.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Shimer, of West Fifth street, announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Mary Daisy Shimer, to Benjamin Martin, Jr., of Washington, D. C. The wedding will take place at the bride's home on Wednesday afternoon, September 26, at 5 o'clock.

Engagement Announced.

The engagement is announced of Miss Etta Acker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Philip Acker, of Westervelt avenue, to Charles A. Miles, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank W. Miles, of Somerset street.

THIEVES GET CLOTHING AND FANCY FURNISHINGS

THE BLUE FRONT STORE IS ROBBED BY FASTIDIOUS CROOKS.

Clothing and furnishings to the value of $110 were stolen from the Blue Front store, West Front street, some time between Saturday night and this morning, by fastidious thieves. They carried away fifteen suits of clothes, choosing only the best quality, some of the finest handkerchiefs and furnishings on the shelves, a few choice pins and cuff buttons, and two of the best dress suit cases in the store.

Entrance was gained by forcing the rear door. Harry Feinberg, the proprietor of the store, left the lower floor bolt of the stationary half of the door out Saturday night, and the thieves found it an easy matter to force the other half open, both bolts slipping out of their fastenings.

From the fact that two suit cases are missing, it is supposed the thieves numbered two. It is surmised that each filled a case, and walked calmly about the streets on their way, like untroubled vacationists or weekend visitors. They confined themselves to two sizes of suits, 38 and 40.

This is the second time the Blue Front has been entered within a week. Six stores in the neighborhood were tampered with last week, and Frank Rowley's drug store, one of the six, was entered three weeks ago.

TO ATTEND ODD FELLOWS SESSION AT TORONTO.

Plainfielders to Be Present at Sovereign Grand Lodge's Annual Session.

The annual session of the Sovereign Grand Lodge, Independent Order Odd Fellows, will be held at Toronto, Canada, September 15-22, and about twenty-five Plainfielders will join with members of the order in Newark and New Brunswick in the annual privilege. Some members of Canton Hope, No. 6, of this city, will take their wives with them.

Those from here who have decided to go are the following: Stephen H. Schleif, John Becker, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Nischwitz, Charles DeGraw, Herman Adleberg, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Kingston, William A. Woodruff, Simon Mantz, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Perry and daughter, George Redshaw, Jr., Ira B. Cronce, George Conyne, Arthur Fink, Horace Block, Adam Jordan, C. M. Meeker, Aaron Gray and George Slorah.

The trip will be made over the Lehigh Valley Railroad, the special train leaving Newark at 8:29 Saturday night, stopping at Bound Brook to pick up members and friends from Plainfield and New Brunswick; arriving at Buffalo 7:50 o'clock Sunday morning. It has been arranged to spend Sunday at Niagara Falls. The party will leave the Falls Monday morning at 9:45 o'clock by the way of the Gorge route to Lewiston and to Toronto by steamer, reaching there at 1:15 o'clock Monday afternoon. The party will probably return by different routes and at different times.

Governor Taken Ill.

Governor Edward C. Stokes was taken ill Sunday night on the train while on his way to Trenton from Millville, where he had spent the day with his parents. He was able to get to his apartment unasssisted, when Dr. H. G. Norton was called. The governor quickly responded to treatment and it was found that there was nothing serious in his condition. Dr. North, however, ordered the governor to let up on business for a few days in order to get some needed rest.

Last Day to Register.

Every voter should take pains at once to see that he is registered, for tohorrow night the lists will be closed. Plainfield being a city of less than 30,000 inhabitants, no opportunity is offorded here under the law to register on primary election day. It is well to bear in mind that he board of registry sits tomorrow at the regular polling places from 1 o'clock in the afternoon until 9 o'clock at night.

Daniel Webster Betts.

Daniel Webster Betts, the thirteen-months-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Junius Betts, of West Third street, died yesterday. The funeral will be held from the parents' home tomorrow afternoon at 2:30. Interment will be at Hillside.

To Attend Convention.

Chief T. O. Doane, of the fire department, will attend a convention of the Exempt Firemen's Association of New Jersey at Atlantic City on Wednesday and Thursday.

—Delays are dangerous, therefore take note if you intend canning peaches: Neuman Brothers will put on sale tomorrow 300 baskets fancy white and yellow fruit at 85c, $1 and $1.25 a basket.

WARRANT FOR ENRIGHT WHO HAS DISAPPEARED

BALL PLAYER SAID TO HAVE BEEN GUILTY OF AN ASSAULT.

Through information given by Norton, catcher of the West Ends, of Soverville, to the prosecutor of Somerset county, a warrant has been issued for the arrest of John Enright, who has been playing short-stop for the same team, charging him with assaulting Motorman James Donnelly, while the latter was running his car from Raritan to Somerville, last Tuesday night. Thus far Enright has not been apprehended. He did not play with his team at Flemington on Saturday. The young man formerly lived here where he worked at the Magnanese Safe Works. He also played on the Safe Works team in the city amateur league.

The generally accepted story is that as the car was passing the new woolen mill three men shouted and Donnelly stopped his car. The men on the sidewalk showed no disposition to get on the trolley. Donnelly left his car and walked to where the men were standing. One sprang upon him and dealt him a blow with a blackjack. The three men then ran away. The victim was picked up by the conductor and the two passengers and he was eventually taken to the Somerset Hospital, where he is reported to be recovering. He remained unconscious until Wednesday night.

MEETING OF THE VETS.

Members of the N. J. C. V. E. A. Enjoy Outing.

Jere F. Garretson, Charles Schermerhorn, J. A. Haynes and John Rowland, of this city, veteran employees of the New Jersey Central, were among the other members of the Veteran Employees' Association, of the road, that enjoyed the annual outing at Lake Hopatcong on Saturday. The veterans made the trip to and from the lake in a special train composed of four coaches When the train left here at 9:10 o'clock in the morning, one coach was filled, and by the time the train arrived at its destination every coach was filled with veterans.

It was regretted that W. G. Besler, vice-president and general manager, could not be present. He left earlier in the week on a trip to Canada. George H. Frech, president of the association, was master of ceremonies, and under his direction everyone had a good time. A fine dinner was served at noon and the afternoon was enjoyed in various ways. The train left for home at 4 o'clock, arriving here at 6:07, an early start being made to make the Long Branch connections.

Exciting Run of Spirited Team.

A spirited team of horses belonging to J. F. TenEyck, the South Plainfield coal dealer, and being driven by John Wilson, a colored man, became frightened Saturday afternoon on Plainfield avenue, while returning home, and ran away. Wilson was thrown off the wagon and received slight cuts and bruises, not serious. The team attained terrific speed after running some distance, and did not stop until it reached South Plainfield. The horses were slightly scratched and cut. The wagon was not damaged.

Leonard F. Creesy.

Leonard F. Creesy, aged eighty-four years, died yesterday at the home of his son, F. W. Creesy, of Park avenue, Fanwood. He was a native of Boston but came to Fanwood about a month ago to remain. The funeral will be held at the son's home tomorrow morning at 11 o'clock and the interment will be private.

District Leader Now.

William Cadmus, formerly of this city, but now of Brooklyn, has been selected by Timothy Woodruff, of New York, as his leader in the Seventh Assembly District, Brooklyn, and he will represent Mr. Woodruff's interests at the Saratoga conventions.

Home From Trip Abroad.

Corporation Counsel and Mrs. Craig A. Marsh reached home Saturday morning from their trip abroad. They came over from Berlin on the Princess Auguste Victoria.

Democratic Caucus.

The North Plainfield Democrats will meet at Spencer's Hall tomorrow night at 7:30 o'clock to select delegates to the county and congressional conventions.

Somerset Club Meeting.

The Somerset Club, of North Plainfield, will meet tonight at its rooms on Somerset street.

W. F. Williams has returned home after a week's stay at Milford, Pa.

CLAIM PARKER SCHOOL IS IMPROPERLY BUILT

RESIDENTS ABOUT DEWEY PARK PROTEST AGAINST THE ACCEPTANCE.

The Board of Education of Piscataway Township went to the new Parker schoolhouse in the Dewey Park section Saturday afternoon, to inspect it. It was expected that the structure would be accepted, but when the Board reached the school they found a delegation of twenty-five citizens, led by Theodore Pettit, awaiting them with a protest against the acceptance.

It was charged by the protestants that the building had not been constructed according to the specifications, and that it was jerry-built all the way through. It was alleged that the sheathing was not put on properly, that he sills were improperly locked, and that the roof was not tight enough for wear and tear in real weather.

The Board went over the structure, and decided that braces were necessary in several places. The Board deferred final action on the building, pending further investigation.

COLBYITES WILL ATTEND THE REGULARS' MEETING.

Leaders Urge Them to Go to Meeting at Casino Tonight.

Political interest centers today about the meeting to be held by the Republican organization at the Casino tonight, for the choice of candidates for municipal nominations, and delegates to the different conventions.

The Colby men have been urged to attend the meeting, and a big representation is expected to be there. Notices of the meeting have been sent out by the ward organizations.

Clifton Wharton, Jr., who was named as a delegate to the Congressional convention by the Second ward branch of the Equal Taxation League last Thursday night, has refused to serve. He sent the following telegram to the Daily Press, Saturday, too late for publication in that day's issue of the paper:

"Lackawaxen, Pa.—Editor Daily Press—The use of my name Thursday night in my absence by the Republican Equal Taxation League was without my knowledge or consent. Kindly publish this fact in to-day's issue—Clifton Wharton, Jr."

PAROCHIAL SCHOOL OPENS.

Large Number of Pupils Enrolled With Great Increase.

With a larger number of pupils presen than ever before, St. Mary's Parochial School opened for the fall term this morning. The classes in the lower grades were filled to their capacity while those in the upper department could have accommodated more. The opening exercises began at 8:30 and included an address by Rev. Father Bogan in which he impressed upn the children the importance of an education and the responsibility that rested upon them in gaining it.

There has been no great changes in the curriculum since last year but it is the hope of Father Bogan and the instructors to add a High School course next year. The preliminary steps are to be taken during the coming winter.

SOCIALISTS TO ORGANIZE.

Followers of Karl Marx Meet at Trades Council Hall.

Plans for the organization of the Socialist Labor party in this city were talked over at a meeting of Karl Marx's disciples in Trades Council Hall Saturday night. Between forty and fifty men attended.

It was decided to defer formal organization to another meeting, which will be called by the organization committee. An interchange of views was a feature of the gathering Saturday night.

Raymond F. Martin Weds.

Allison Manning Line, of East Front street, today announced the wedding of his daughter, Miss Emma Line, to Raymond Fenner Martin, son of Horace J. Martin, of Watchung avenue. The ceremony was performed Saturday night at 8 o'clock by Rev. Shepherd Knapp, assistant pastor of the Brick Presbyterian church, New York. The bride, gowned in white and carrying white roses, was attended by her father and two sisters. Following the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Martin left on a wedding trip. At its conclusion they will make their home in New York.

Singing Section's Annual Affair.

Thirty members of the Singing Section of the Gesang and Turn Verein held their annual clam bake on the banks of the Passaic river at the Saengerbund fishing club grounds, yesterday. It was a quiet affair, limited to members. The bake was served by Herman Baulandt, of Union Hill.

COLBYITES APPROVE "M. O." OF WATER SUPPLY

Elect Former Councilman R. L. Lee Chairman and He Resigns.

HUSTLE FOR VOTES

Reformers to Open Headquarters and to Distribute Literature—Penny Named For Councilman.

The Central Committee of the Colbyites organized at the Camera Club rooms, Saturday night, and the first thing they did after organization was to adopt a platform, with municipal ownership of the water supply as the leading plank. The meeting was attended by almost all the forty-three members.

Most of the platform was ready-made. The whole platform of the county organization, which was adopted at the organization meeting in Elizabeth early in the summer, was adopted in its entirety as a start, and the declaration for municipal ownership was added after a brief discussion. The M. O. plank was not formally phrased. On a motion by Chairman Tugwell, of the First ward branch, it was voted that the organization favored "the principle of municipal ownership of the water supply."

"I do not believe that we should say how the ownership of the supply should be acquired," said Mr. Tugwell in presenting his motion. "The work of acquiring a plant should be worked out in detail when the municipal officers are empowered to take such action." The committeemen agreed with him.

The presentation of the motion was greeted with warm applause. It seemed to be the conviction among the committeemen that municipal ownership was right and wise, and that there was a general sentiment in its favor among the voters.

Robert L. Lee, of the Third ward, was elected chairman, after H. C. Tracy, chairman of the Second ward branch; G. W. V. Moy, of the Third ward; Mr. Tugwell, and Charles H. Frost, of the Second ward, had declined the nomination.

Chairman Lee handed in his resignation today. His declination follows:

"To the Central Committee of the Plainfield branches of the Union County Republican League for Equal Taxation.

"Gentlemen—After carefully considering my acceptance of the chairmanship of the committee, I have decided that my retention of the position might be open to misconstruction, in view of my former affiliation with what is known as the machine.

"I think it would be for the best interests of the league to have as chairman a man who had never been so affiliated, and I therefore beg to tender my resignation.

"In doing so, however, I beg to assure you of my continued and deep interest in the movement, and will do all in my power to assist in advancing same.

"Very respectfully,

Sept. 10, 1906.

Mr. Tracy was elected vice chairman; N. Mansfield Smith, secretary, and Mr. Frost, treasurer.

Arrangements for the establishment of a central headquarters, from where literature could be distributed, banners and transparencies displayed, and meetings held, were discussed. The four ward chairmen, Mr. Tugwell, Mr. Tracy, F. E. Kinsman, and Angus Allen, were appointed a committee, with power, to pick out the headquarters. C. H. Frost and G. W. V. Moy were named as a committee to stock the headquarters with literature.

Ways and means were discussed at length. It was decided at first that the central committee wouldn't need a treasurer, but it was finally agreed that money would have to be expended by the body, and the office was created. The four ward treasurers were named as a committee on ways and means, "for the authorized expenses of the central committee."

Reports on the campaign were made by all the wards. The four organizations have settled to work, and face the campaign hopefully. Chairman Tracy told of the business-like allotment of canvassing districts to the workers of the Second, and Mr. Higham, of the Third, reported, with pride, on the possession of a complete polling list, with the voters marked according to party affiliations.

"Tomorrow," said Mr. Higham, "we will mark the Republicans Col-

MRS. ABRAM HOOLEY HURT IN RUNAWAY ACCIDENT

THROWN FROM CARRIAGE AMD RENDERED UNCONSCIOUS FOR AN HOUR.

Mrs. Abram Hooley, of Rockview terrace, was slightly injured, and her father, William Burridge, and husband had narrow escapes in a runaway accident at Scotch Plains, last evening. Mrs. Hooley was thrown from the vehicle and rendered unconscious for an hour, suffering numerous severe bruises. The two men escaped with a shaking up.

Mr. and Mrs. Hooley and Mr. Burridge had been out for a drive through Washington Valley and were returning by way of the Plains at about 6 o'clock. As they were descending Spencer's hill near the felt mill, their horse bolted suddenly and dashed madly down the steep roadway. Mr. Hooley was driving and made every effort to stop the animal but without success. At Mountain avenue it swerved suddenly and hurled the carriage against a tree, throwing Mrs. Hooley and Mr. Burridge out. Mr. Hooley managed to hold on to the reins and quieted the horse after it had gone a short distance further.

Dr. R. R. Sinclair, of Westfield, was passing at the time, and gave immediate treatment to Mrs. Hooley. In falling she had struck on her head and it was considered remarkable that her injuries were not worse. Dr. Sinclair afterward brought her to her home in his automobile.

Mr. Hooley thinks the animal's fright was due to a bee stinging it as ordinarily it is quiet and tractable.

MERTON W. DAVIS.

Former Plainfield Young Man Dies At His Home in Bound Brook.

Merton Whitcomb Davis, son of Rev. Titus E. Davis, of Washington, D. C., formerly of West Fifth street, this city, died last week at the home of Thomas Wrench, of Bound Brook, where he had been living. He was one of the best known young men in Bound Brook but was also widely acquainted in Plainfield, having graduated from the local High School in the class of '99 and lived here with his father two years.

Young Davis was twenty-six years old and was employed by the Matchless Manufacturing Company, of New York. He left the office one day last week, complaining of feeling ill. By the time he reached home typhoid fever had developed and he continued to grow worse rapidly. His father was summoned by telegraph but reached his son's beside an hour after he had passed away.

The funeral was one of the largest held in Bound Brook in years and many from Plainfield attended. Rev. E. E. Roberson, of the Monroe Avenue church, and Rev. Frank Fletcher, of New Market, assisted in the services.

RECEPTION PLANS.

Farewell to Secretary Will Be Held at Y. M. C. A. Oct. 9.

At a meeting of the committee in charge of the affair, arrangements were discussed, Saturday night, for the farewell reception to be tendered to J. Harry Manning, retiring secretary of the Y. M. C. A., by the Board of Directors of the association. October 9 was fixed as the dae. It will be held in the association rooms. Mrs. Manning, as well as her husband, is to be honored, and women will be welcomed to the affair. It is understood that a substantial token of appreciation for his twenty years of service will be presented to Mr. Manning.

The reception committee is made up of W. D. Murray, O. S. Rogers, Dr. N. H. Probasco, A. B. Beers and G. M. Rittenhouse.

Miss Hooley Wins Ribbons.

At the fifth annual horse show of the Somerset County Pol Club held last week at Bernardsville, Miss Mabel B. Hooley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin S. Hooley, of Rockview avenue, took first and second prizes on Friday for her saddle horses, Delight and Caress, which she rode. On Saturday, Caress captured another ribbon.

A Water Wagon Drunk.

George Monckton was arraigned before Judge Runyon, in the city court, this morning, on a charge of drunkenness. George drives a water wagon for a living. Judge Runyon told him to carry his job into his moral life, and suspended sentence.

Drunk Freed.

John Smith, arrested for drunkenness last night by Patrolman McDonald, was released by Judge Runyon in the city court, this morning, under suspended sentence.

DUNELLEN AND VICINITY

Plans have been completed for the formation of an athletic club which will back the football and baseball teams of the borough in the future. The club is to be made up of Jesse Ayers, George Reinhart, John Logan, John Dineen and Thomas Loughlin. They will encourage boxing, wrestling and kindred sports. If an amateur league is started next year by the Plainfield ball enthusiasts, the Dunellen A. C. will be represented in it. Whether or not the league becomes a fact, the D. A. C. will have a strong team in the field. Four of the players have already been signed.

Rockview Council, D. of L., will present a flag to the Board of Education for use over the Lincoln School, at Apgar's Hall, Monday night, September 17. The Board will attend the presentation exercises in a body.

A public hearing on a petition of the Board Brook Water Company to lay pipes in the East Bound Brook and Beechwood Heights section will be held by the township committee at Nelson's Hotel on September 24.

The new degree team of Friendship Council is practicing hard with the goat for coming initiations. Prayers for the candidates are in order.

Miss Jessie Haynes entertained the Afternoon Embroidery Club on Saturday. Refreshments were served.

Edgar Boice has purchased L. D. Walker's farm. Mr. Walker is said to be planning removal to town.

Frank O. Nelson is mentioned as a possibility in connection with the township assessor nomination.

The registration board of the township has been hard at work revising the list since last Tuesday.

Dorothy Dunbar, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralston Dunbar, has been very ill for several days.

Thirty-two new call boxes and eight more lock boxes have been put up in the postoffice.

Miss Estella Eick has entered the employ of Neuman Bros., Plainfield, as bookkeeper.

Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Fisher will leave for a six weeks' trip to Nebraska today.

Thomas Bogne has been confined to the house for a week with bronchitis.

PLAINS AND FANWOOD

Thomas Farrel, of Valley road, is recovering from a serious attack of ptomaine poisoning brought on, it is thought, by eating liver, of which he partook at dinner Friday night. Mr. Farrell ate heartily of the meat and during the night was taken seriously ill. Dr. F. W. Westcott was called and for a time his condition was considered serious, but yesterday he was much better and will be able to return to his position as draughtsman at the Aeolian Works, Garwood, within a few days.

A spark from a neglected bonfire left burning Saturday in the rear of Charles N. Flanders' yard fell upon the roof of a small barn nearby and set the building on fire. The fire was discovered about 3:30 and at that time had been burning for some time. An alarm was turned in and the chemical engine soon had the blaze under control, the only damage being done was the burning of the roof and rafters.

The Italian settlement on Hunter avenue must have been holding an all-day celebration yesterday. During the afternoon and until late last night the noise of singing and music could be heard and it is needless to say not enjoyed by the other residents in that end of the town.

The public school reopens Wednesday morning at 9 o'clock. Mr. Henderson, the new principal, will be at the school tomorrow to meet the teachers and any of the parents who desire to see him in regard to their children entering school.

Willie Deegan has transformed his dancing pavilion in the rear of his hotel into a skating rink. A number of improvements have been made and the rink opens Saturday night for the first.

Hitting the ball at the right time was what brought Saturday's victory to the locals. This is what wins games and keeps the games interesting for the fans.

The Republican caucus to nominate candidates for the primary meeting, which will be held the 25th, will be held tomorrow night in Excelsior Hall.

Abram Wade and Eugene Guerrier enjoyed a crabbing trip Saturday at Newark Bay. Their friends enjoyed crab meat Saturday night and Sunday.

Rev. William Pringle occupied the pulpit at the Baptist church yesterday at both services, Rev. T. Moore-Smith being away on his vacation.

Those who said the Bishops' law would not last long are beginning to sit up and take notice. It seems to have come to stay.

The dance at Berkeley Heights Saturday night was attended by a stage-load of young people from here.

Miss Helen Jefferson, who has been visiting Miss Daisy Wade, has returned to her home in Newark.

The weekly meeting of the B. Y. P. U. was held last night in the parlors of the church.

John Wade, who has been ill for a week, has recovered and is able to be around again.

Mrs. George L. Dunn and children spent Sunday with relatives in Newark.

LOCAL AMUSEMENTS

There is no question of the positive sensation which has been created by the presentation of "The Sleeping Beauty and the Beast," prove conclusively that the people of this country enjoy pantomime as greatly as in London. This is a wonderful entertainment and no one hearing will begin to have an idea of its charms. It will be at the New Plainfield theatre tonight.

The Prince in "The Sleeping Beauty and the Beast," at New Plainfield Theatre Tonight.

According to the critics the ingredients of a comic opera are music that is tuneful, lyrics of intelligibility, singers, comedians, pretty costumes, scenery, a plot—often omitted, however—and last but by no means least, plenty of pretty girls. The management of the great comic opera success, "Sergeant Kitty," which will be presented at the New Plainfield theatre tomorrow night, has mixed all the necessary ingredients demanded by the critics, not forgetting a plot that can be discovered without the aid of a committee of experts, and he did not forget the pretty girls for the chorus.

Local theatre-goers, when they get their first glimpse of Creston Clarke in the sombre garb of the clergyman, John Morton, in "The Ragged Messenger," which is booked for an appearance at the New Plainfield theatre on Sept. 18, will have some difficulty in associating him with the jewel-bedecked prince in "Monsieur Beaucaire," but they will quickly recognize the same indescribable charm of manner and the exquisite touch of the artist. Mr. Clarke's delineation of the modern role of John Morton has gained him even greater renown than did his brilliant "Beaucaire."

For bright and witty dialogue, clean and wholesome fun, novel and unique specialties, the most popular songs of the day well sung, elegant costumes, new scenery, in fact for everything to please the eye and ear Peck's Bad Boy for this season is without rival in the farce comedy world. At the New Plainfield theatre Saturday afternoon and night he will make the above statement good. Go there and let him prove it to you.

"Not Yet But Soon," with Hap Ward as the star, will be the attraction at the New Plainfield theatre Friday evening. Theatre-goers the country over are familiar with the offerings of Ward & Vokes, and it need only be said that Hap Ward has ever been the producing genius of this most successful team of comedians, and that all of the productions so widely toured by Ward & Vokes were staged by Mr. Ward. The theatre-going public have shown their preference for amusement which does not entail any necessity for deep thinking and provides music and laughter. Such is the general style of "Not Yet But Soon," and it is promised that the music, songs and entire investiture of scenic and costume embellishment are entirely new. The musical numbers are a collection of song hits, the acting company comprising fifty people of merit, and in every way, the attraction is the strongest with which Mr. Ward has ever been associated.

No more spirited play, no more interesting features, no more striking scenes, have ever been seen on the American stage than those in the new college play, "At Yale," which will be shown here on Sept. 19, under the management of Jules Murry. That popular young actor, Paul Gilmore, plays the leading role of stroke oar on the varsity crew. Mr. Gilmore was in training all last summer for the part. The real race is rowed in the third act, sixteen men pulling for their lives over the entire course, which is shown on the stage with an electrical device patented by Jules Murry.

A special and distinguishing feature in Raymond Hitchcock's new play, "The Galloper," is a band or orchestra of four Greek musicians. A dozen other Greeks are also employed in the farce, some of whom were with Richard Harding Davis during the Graceo-Turkish War when he himself was a "Galloper" for the London Times. "The Galloper" will be seen at the New Plainfield theatre in a short time.

The acme of musical comedy excellence, novelty, pantomime and vaudeville is combined in the newly constructed, melodious frivolity, "Around the Clock," by Frank Huffman, with music and lyrics by L. O. Smith and Sebastian Hiller, which the management has well chosen to introduce the premier fun makers, the Ritchie London Comedy Company, in a new field of popular entertainment, at the New Plainfield theatre Wednesday afternoon and night. The Ritchie performers are without question the most talented band of players on the stage today and their fame extends clear across both continents. The Ritchie Company was the one real novelty of a barren vaudeville season last year, appearing in the various variety houses in America in a side-splitting, infectious and adroit travesty called "A Night in a London Music Hall." "Around the Clock" affords them ample scope for their versatile capabilities as singers, dancers, pantomimists, vaudevillians and comedians, which is of a superlative degree. There is not a dull period in this admirable comedy, which as its striking title implies is a satirical potpourii of mirth and melody. Mr. Ritchie has a part that fits him like a glove. His impersonation of the "drunk" in "A Night in a London Music Hall" was as relishing as a walk in the bright sunshine, but in "Around the Clock" his role seems to be more finished and engrossing than ever.

Mrs. A. D. Edgar, of East Front street, has returned from her sojourn at Asbury Park.

Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Janke, of West Sixth street, who have been sojourning at Lake Hopatcong, are expected home this week.

Mrs. L. E. Cole, of West Front street, and her granddaughter, Miss Helen Cadmus, of Brooklyn, who have been spending some time at Asbury Park, returned home Friday night and on Saturday they went to Brooklyn, where Mrs. Cole will visit for a few days.

LIFE AND DEATH IN NEW JERSEY.

Registrar South Shows 3,238 Deaths and Their Causes Last Month.

The August statement of mortality in New Jersey prepared by David S. South, registrar of vital statistics, shows an estimated population for the month of 2,178,871. The total number of deaths reported to the State bureau of vital statistics during the month of August was 3,238. Infantile diarrhoea was the principal cause of death during the month of August, the number of decedents from this cause being 639, but this number is in accord with the records of previous years, and is doubtless mainly due to the rapid baceterial changes in unclean milk which are produced by the high temperatures of the summer season.

Tuberculosis of the lungs caused 272 deaths, which is slightly above the average for this disease. Pneumonia caused 112 deaths, this being 50 less than during the previous month. Diseases of the digestive system (infantile diarrhoea excepted) caused 241 deaths. Diseases of the heart and circulatory system caused 261 deaths.

Typhoid fever caused 28 deaths, which is slightly below the monthly average 32 for the past year. The mortality from diseases of the nervous system still maintains a high rate, but the number of deaths recorded as having been due to this disease 370, does not equal the average monthly rate for the previous year, 426. Whooping cough was unusually prevalent, 42 deaths from this disease having been recorded.

The following table shows the number of certificates of death received in the State bureau of vital statistics during the month of August, 1906, and also the number of deaths from certain selected causes:

Typhoid fever, 28; measles, 9; scarlet fever, 13; whooping cough, 42; diphtheria and croup, 33; malarial fever, 7; tuberculosis of lungs, 272; tuberculosis of other organs, 51; cancer, 133; cerebro spinal meningitis, 35; diseases of circulatory system, 261; diseases of respiratory system (pneumonia excepted), 94; pneumonia, 112; infantile diarrhoea, 639; diseases of digestive system (infantile diarrhoea excepted), 241; Bright's disease, 166; suicide, 26; all other causes, 706; total, 3,238.

SEEKS TO CHECK SHORT LINE RAILWAY.

Raritan Township Man Wants to Enjoin Work Across His Property.

Trenton, Sept. 10.—Henry Rauch, of Raritan township, Middlesex county, has brought a suit in the Court of Chancery against the New Jersey Short Line Railroad Company and the Schuykill Stone Company, which may result in tying up the construction of the railroad. The line is to connect the Trenton and New Brunswick Railroad and the North Jersey lines of the public Service Corporation, and is therefore designed to be an important factor in the thrqugh trolley traffic between Philadelphia and New York. Following the filing of the bill of complaint by Rauch, an order has been made by the court requiring the defendants to show cause in the Chancery Chambers at Newark next Tuesday why an injunction should not be issued restraining the construction of the new road across the property of the complainant.

Rauch owns about five acres of land in Raritan township and a lane leading therefrom is his only right of way to and from the public road. He alleges that in building its road the defendant railroad company is constructing an embankment across this lane, thus preventing him from using it. The Stone Company is doing the work, and is therefore made a party to the suit.

The complainant alleges that the defendants did not obtain his consent to build the road on his property, nor were condemnation proceedings taken. He charges that the work is proceeding entirely without warrant of law, and claims they have cut off all access to the lane on his property. He says that unless the work is stopped he will be irreparably injured. He prays for an injunction to restrain the companies from interferring in any way with his use of the lane, also to restrain the work on the embankment.

ANGRY HUSBAND SHOOTS WIFE'S ASSAILANT.

Mrs. George Harvey Attacked and Man Suspected Is Wounded.

Rahway, Sept. 10.—As a result of what is described as a hold-up on Wednesday night, a reformatory parole man here was shot last night by an angry husband. Mrs. George Harvey, wife of the superintendent of the auto line to Carteret, was walking to her home just outside the eastern limits of the city on Wednesday night. On account of the darkness coming on Mrs. Harvey was walking in the middle of the road.

Hearing footsteps behind her she quickened her pace, the person behind her doing the same. Passing a corn field a man jumped to her side and seized her by the arm. Mrs. Harvey screamed for assistance and started to run. The man seized a satchel that was on her arm, pulled it away and said: "Now run, or I'll knock your block off." Mrs. Harvey ran.

Reaching the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Thornell she fell fainting inside the door before she could tell her story. She described the man as without a coat, a waistcoat or hat and of having black hair parted in the middle. Some friends of Mrs. Harvey thought that this description was not unlike that of a man who worked next door to the Thornell's home.

Mr. Harvey last night started out looking for the footpad and meeting the reformatory man opened fire upon him, one ball striking the man in the back, but only making a flesh wound.

No arrest has been made.

Minister at Dying Man's Side.

Elizabeth, Sept. 10.—Rev. Dr. Otis A. Glazebrook, rector of St. John's Episcopal church, is in daily attendance on County Collector Wood, who is slowly sinking from an incurable malady and who is likely to pass away, so his physicians say, at any time. His body is almost completely paralyzed, and is greatly emaciated. He had a bad spell Wednesday night from which it was thought he would not rally.

—The New York and New Jersey Telephone Company is making rapid progress in the work of erecting its new building on East Fourth street, and that of placing its wires underground. This week the underground conduit work will be completed on West Front street as far as Grant avenue.

THE GREAT 12 ACRE STORE

HAHNE & Co

Newark's Store Beautiful

A FINE SHOW OF

SILKS AND DRESS GOODS

NEWARK'S GREATEST STOCKS ARE HERE.

With our tremendous buying power and our thorough representation in foreign markets, we are enabled to assemble more distinctive, novel and worthy stocks of Dress Fabrics than any other Newark house. Our buyers have been diligently laboring for many months in gathering from the best sources of production such silks and dress goods as they thought would most appeal to our patrons. They have assembled larger stocks, and as a matter of course, more varied stocks, than any other store in New Jersey contains. We devote enormous space to dress fabrics and they are shown in floods of unadulterated daylight. When you buy here you need not do so with any misgivings—you may be certain of the qualities and shades as well. Practically every weave that is found in any other store will be found here and many that are not found elsewhere.

THE STORY OF THE SILKS.

More space is devoted here to the selling of silks and velvets than in any two stores in the State, and there are more sales people to serve you. We point with pride, as the politicians says, to our past records in silk selling, and particularly to the grand stocks gathered for this season's selling.

Plaids easily lead in fancies, and we are showing all the popular Scotch Clan and fancy effects, from the lowest priced ones to the rich imported kinds.

Our Black Silk Specialties, known far and wide for their superiority, will be maintained this season as usual. We have a very complete line of foreign and American weaves.

In Silks for Evening Wear there is all that is new in plain and fancy effects, including Pompadour Crepes, Messalines, Radiums, Satins and Taffetas. Some hint of the variety and prices may be had from what follows:

Clan Plaid Taffeta, satin cross bar, 69c.

27-inch Louisine Plaids, 89c.

Novelty and Clan Plaid Taffeta, plain and satin cross bar, $1.00.

Novelty and Dresden Plaid Taffeta, plain and satin cross bar, $1.25, $1.35 and $1.50.

Self-Colored Taffeta Brocades, 85c.

Pompadour Satin, white ground, $1.50, $2.00 and $2.50.

27-inch Pompadour Satin and Grosgrain, white ground, figured, pink, blue and helio, $3.50.

Plaid Pompadour Crepe de Chine, $1.35.

24-inch Pompadour Messaline, 89c.

Plain Crepe de Chine, 49c, 69c, $1.00 and $1.25.

24 and 27-inch Pompadour Radium, 79c and 85c.

45-inch Plain Colored Radium, $1.75.

45-inch Silk Voile, $1.50.

ABOUT THE DRESS GOODS.

Perhaps the leading features of the Fall stock are the Plaid Effects which are shown in such profusion in practically every color combination, including the Scotch Clan Tartans and all-wool Panama Check and Plaid Effects. Other conspicuous weaves are

All-Wool Phantom Check Batiste, All-Wool French Prunellas, Nun's Veiling, All-Wool Taffetas, Serges, Cheviots, Panamas, Cashmeres, Henriettas, Voiles, Chiffon Panamas, All-Wool Melrose, etc.

All-Wool Imported Scotch Plaid Tartans—43 inches wide; can be had in Black Watch (42d), Gordon Bumming, Victoria, Argyle, Stuart Dress, McLeod, Malcolm, MacKenzie, Rob Roy and others at $1.00.

Silk and Wool Poplin Plaids in over a dozen beautiful color combinations (French made) at $1.00.

All-Wool Panama Suitings—45 inches wide; comes in several shades of gray with neat overplaid effects, strictly all wool, 12 different designs, at $1.00.

All-Wool Melrose—42 inches wide, good weight and bright finish; comes in new browns, rose, national, navy, myrtle, reseda, garnet, wine, etc.;, special value at $1.10.

All-Wool French Phantom Check Batiste—44 inches wide, very fine, light and silky, in all the new street and evening shades, at $1.00.

All-Wool French Prunella—46 inches wide, bright silk finish, good weight; in the new grays, including smoke gray, brown, wine, garnet, myrtle, resada, tans, etc., at $1.50.

All-Wool Shelma—54 inches wide; very light, soft and fine; in all the new Fall shades—a very popular seller.

Our stock of Foreign and Domestic Broadcloths is complete and includes the various qualities and new colors, running in price $1.10, $1.35, $1.50, $2.00, $2.75, $3.00 and $3.50.

The excellent fabrics will be very much in evidence this season.

BLACK DRESS GOODS

All-Wool Shadow Check Batiste, 43 inches wide, light weight, soft and fine, a good jet black, at $1.00.

Priestley Silk Warp Eudora, 40 inches wide, light weight and very fine guaranteed black, at $1.50.

SPORTS HERE AND THERE

GOLF.

Commencing Saturday and thereafter on Saturdays and Sundays for the rest of the season, the Lehigh Valley Railroad will run a through train from Jersey City to the Baltusrol Golf Club grounds, over the Rahway Valley Railroad. The train will leave Jersey City at 1:05 in the afternoon on Saturdays and 10:19 on Sunday afternoon. Each night it will leave Baltusrol at 9:15.

A new golf course was opened this week at Garden City, L. I., making the third new course completed in the metropolitan district this season. While the new Garden City course is nearly completed it will not be formally opened until March of next year, and it gives promise of being very popular.

C. B. Morgan, who has been doing some good golfing at the Plainfield Country Club this season, has planned to take a week's vacation. He left Saturday night for Greenwood Lake, returning next Saturday.

Robert Abbott and Dudley Barrows, who have been prominent figures in several big golf tournaments this summer, will probably not have much more time to play at the Plainfield Country Club before returning to college. Abbott will go to Yale to continue his studies and Barrows returns to Princeton.

There is talk of a golf match between the reportorial staffs of The Daily Press and the Courier-News, and if arrangements can be made it will probably be played at the Plainfield Country Club in the near future. The teams will be made up of four men from each office. Plans are now underway for the match and a date will be fixed as soon as arrangements can be completed for the use of the course.

The annual meeting of the New Brunswick Golf Club was held Saturday afternoon, when the following officers were elected: President, John P. Street; vice president, Dr. E. R. Payson; secretary, J. Bayard Kirkpatrick; treasurer, H. Brewster Willis.

George Anderson, who has been in Connecticut all summer, has returned to his former position as steward at the Park Golf Club.

DIAMOND DUST.

"Lou" Wiltse, of Crescent avenue, who has been pitching for a team at Plattsburg, N. Y., returned home on Thursday. He will remain here now for the rest of the season, probably pitching an occasional game. His arm has entirely recovered and is as well and strong again as ever. On his way home from Plattsburg he stopped off at Rockville, Conn., and pitched a game for his friend, W. M. Lewis, who is managing the club at that place, and this started the rumor that he would finish the season there. "Lou" is still a member of the Johnstown Tri-State League Club and unless he succeeds in getting in one of the big leagues next season, will probably return to Pennsylvania next spring.

Harry Wolverton, formerly of the Philadelphia Nationals, and who has been playing with Williamsport, of the Tri-State League, has been engaged to manage the latter team during 1907. Wolverton is one of the best players in that league.

It is practically settled that William Murray, manager of the Jersey City Eastern League Club, will occupy a similar position with the Philadelphia Nationals next season. He is rated as one of the best managers in the business and should have no trouble making good in the big league.

The National Baseball Commission has decided against Frank Burke, of the Elizabethport Stars, in his request to be allowed to play National and American League clubs at the 'Port. The decision was no doubt rendered on technical points and is no credit to the commission.

It is said that Sam. Hope, formerly pitcher for the Plainfield team, and now with the Paterson Hudson River League team, will be given a try-out next week by Manager McGraw. Hope has been pitching winning ball this season.

President Harry Pulliam, of the National League, is made of the right kind of stuff. In view of all the troubles he has had recently with the New York National League Club, he announces himself a candidate for re-election for another term. He is determined, he says, to see fair play and is ready to fight any action that the New York Club may take.

"Christy" Mathewson showed his old-time form on Thursday, when he struck out fourteen Brooklyn batsmen. This would have been considered a joke up to this year, but the Trolley Dodgers are not easy any more as some of the National League clubs well remember.

The Newark News nine won from the Elizabeth Times at Elizabeth Friday by 10 to 5.

The Elizabeth Y. M. C. A. team defeated the Imperial A. C., at Elizabeth on Saturday by a score of 3 to 1. Bert Trotter, of this city, plays third base for the Imperials, of which Charles Nicolas is the manager. It is this team which will play the women's team of Chicago on Crescent Oval, Saturday, if arrangements can be made.

The Hudson River Baseball League season closed on Saturday. The pennant was won by Paterson. The others finished as follows: Poughkeepsie, Newburg, Kingston, Hudson and the Tri-county team of Saratoga, Glens Falls and Fort Edward.

The Connecticut League baseball season ended on Saturday, with Norwich at the top of the list with a margin of sixteen points over Springfield. The finishing order of the other six teams was as follows: New Haven, Hartford, Waterbury, Holyoke, Bridgeport and New London.

Brooklyn shut out the New York Giants on Saturday in each game of a double header. The Trolley Dodgers won the first contest by a score of 6 to 0 and the second by a score of 1 to 0. Not a single Giant had a ghost of a show to score.

POINTS FOR THE BUYERS

Have your express packages handled by A. E. Hoagland, Park avenue. Prompt service always.

There is no better way to "get in shape" than a Turkish bath. You can get one at Brookside Sanitarium, Somerset street.

TenEyck & Harris, the coal dealers, are taking orders now for winter supply of anthracite. Of course only the best coal handled.

Carpentry as exemplified by M. D. O'Keeffe, West Fourth street, is more an art than a trade. He is expert in every department of the work.

Dudley S. Miller, the Park avenue druggist, is constantly offering specials at low prices. His special sale of tooth brushes was a great success.

The Dime Savings Institution offers exceptional opportunities for saving money. Place your spare cash in this bank and you will get liberal interest.

Anything you may have to be cleaned or dyed in the way of wearing apparel, will be taken care of in the best way by Mary A. Brown, West Second street.

If you haven't inspected the fine line of goods at Charles E. Vail's jewelry store, you have no idea what beautiful things you can get at reasonable prices.

Peck quality, Peck service, Peck stock, all stand for the best in the dry goods line. Everybody who has ever dealt with S. C. Peck knows that. If you haven't dealt at his store you have missed lots of good things. West Front street.

Wise young men put something of their earnings aside to make them independent of "the boss" in days to come. The place the wisest of them put the savings is the Plainfield Trust Company, Park avenue. Special accounts with especially attractive features.

There is no question about the quality of groceries and meat purchased of S. Scheuer & Co., of West Front street. There is but one quality at this store and that is the best. Once you patronize this firm you will always do so, for it has demonstrated its fairness by always giving full value.

PITMAN ON NEW SPELLING.

Says Letters C, Q and X In the Alphabet Are Superfluous.

When Ben Pitman, brother of Sir Isaac Pitman, the father of phonography and himself a writer on phonography, heard that President Roosevelt had given indorsement to simplified spelling he was delighted, says a Cincinnati dispatch to the New York Times. He rapped his fist on the desk and said:

"I am pleased. I knew it would come. It may take a century. You cannot change the system, or, rather, lack of system, in a day. For years I have worked on a new alphabet. I would eliminate the letters, c, q and x. They are entirely superfluous. I would eliminate the dot over the i and j and use the dot over the vowels a, e, i, o and u to indicate when they are long. Then when the child saw the word 'pet' he would pronounce the e short because there is no dot over it. When he saw the word 'pate' he would know that the a is long, for a dot is over it.

"Do you know that the twenty-six letters of the alphabet may be used 658 ways; hence the chance of your pronouncing a strange word is in the ratio of 658 to 26, pretty long odds. The perfect alphabet that I have devised contains forty letters, but twenty-three will answer. However, the solution of the spelling problem is found in the elimination of c, q and x and the new use of the dot, as I have described.

"The sound of s is obtained in nineteen different ways. Which one will the child choose? I would spell 'cough' 'kof.' The pronunciation could not be wrong, for there is no dot over the o to denote that it is anything but short. Where c is soft s may be used; where it is hard k will invariably do for q."

COLBYITES APPROVE "M. O."

byite or machine, as far as we know where they stand. Those who are not of our way of thinking we will try and convert." Mr. Higham used to be a machine worker, and the offhand way in which he spoke of those practical political workings aroused the admiration of his amateur colleagues.

Plans for getting all the Colbyite workers on the registration lists tomorrow, which is the only day for primary registration, and for getting out all the votes on primary day, were talked over. The committee will gather as many automobiles together as possible on September 25, and allot them to the different wards.

Many details of the campaign work were cleaned up, the session lastingn from 8:15 until 11 o'clock. Mr. Moy, E. E. Iremonger and Judge Runyon were appointed a committee on speakers.

Before the central committee meeting, the Fourth ward organization met to nominate their choice for councilman. They selected James Penny unanimously. Mr. Penny is a strong labor candidate. He is a machinist, and prominent in the Machinists' Union. He has been a delegate to the national convention of the union several times. He is, of course, very popular among his fellow-mechanics. He belongs to Hope chapel.

COLORED VOTERS FORM A STATE COMMITTEE.

Asbury Park, Sept. 10.—At a recent State mass-meeting here of colored citizens of New Jersey, under the auspices of the Limited Franchise and Equal Taxation League, resolutions were adopted, a State committee formed and an executive committee elected from the State committee. Several persons who attended the meeting say that agents of Senator Dryden tried to prevent the passage of the resolutions, which, besides opposing his re-election, expressed delight at the defeat of the principles for which Senator Tillman stands; indorsed the Roosevelt administration, recommended that colored voters learn the exact position of the candidate for Congress in their district upon questions affecting the colored citizens of the United States and the Constitution of the United States and the amendments thereto, urged a closer union of the colored citizens of the State and the promotion of clean, worthy men; recommended to colored voters that they in future be guided by the character, ability and fitness of the candidate for the particular office rather than the party, declared opposition to separate public schools, but recommended in those localities where colored citizens desire them, that they be given equal facilities, advantages and instruction with other races.

"We believe," the resolutions set forth, "a well-equipped battalion of colored men would be in keeping with the dignity of our State, and earnestly recommend that our next Legislature pass an act authorizing the same, and make suitable appropriation for that purpose."

An investigation of the State Board of Education and the Board of Education of East Orange is recommended, the principles of municipal ownership and limitation of inheritance are favored, and belief in a suitable civil service law which will deal equitably with all races is recorded.

The State committee chosen is as follows: A. B. Cosey, chairman; W. E. Hopper, secretary; E. Phelps, vice-president, Atlantic City; J. R. Dangerfield, second vice-president, Bergen county; F. Paterson, Monmouth county; J. D. Mead, Monmouth county; John J. Milton, Essex county; Louis S. Johnson, Essex county; F. Louis Sperling, Mercer county; also members of executive committee.

ANXIOUS TO GET LAWS BUT MUST WAIT UNTIL LATER.

Many Criticise Delay Which Prevents Publishing New Statutes.

Trenton, Sept. 10.—When Governor Stokes was asked the other day by a reporter when he expected to act upon the bill that still remains in his hands unacted upon, although it was passed late last March, he replied that there was no use taking further action until the special session was over, so that all the legislation of the year could be bound and issued at one time.

The Governor's attitude is regarded as rather surprising. Usually the laws of the session are ready for distribution to those who ask for them at least within a month after adjournment. Once or twice, under pressure on the Governor or through the fault of the printer, it has been a little longer. But never in the history of the Legislature, so far as can be ascertained, has the lapse of nearly five months after the closing of the session found the laws still incomplete, both as to the Governor's action and as to distribution. There is no way of obtaining copies of the new laws except in a lot of separate pamphlets and the making out of an index of some sort. Many are criticising the delay.

Congressman Charles N. Fowler returned from Vermont in the latter part of the week. He was very enthusiastic over the result in that State. Proctor's election as Governor by the biggest majority the Republicans have polled for years Mr. Fowler considers very encouraging. The Governor-elect is the son of Senator Proctor, who was Governor of the State himself years ago. The Democrats had a candidate of their own, but supported the independent Republican. Mr. Fowler said the independent devoted his speeches to pessimistic talk about the State and really slandered its character. That did not suit the people of Vermont, who are very proud of their State. Fowler delivered several speeches for young Proctor, because of his fondness for the Senator and the party. He apparently pleased his audiences by telling them that if there should be one hundred estimates made as to the ten most popular Senators at Washington, Proctor's name would be in every estimate. The Congressman has not been in political sight very much of late, but he is now ready to take a vigorous part in the campaign, and expects to secure another nomination.

The Colby-Hillery debate left no appreciable impression, so far as can be ascertained. It does not seem to have changed any one's views. The Morris County Freeholders held their annual clambake at Lake Hopatcong on Friday, and most of the politicians were there. Senator Hillery was among the number. He thought he came out ahead in the controversy, just as Colby thinks he did. Hillery's friends at the clambake all said he wn with ease, while the men who shouted for Colby—and there were a number of them—said there was no doubt of Colby's victory.

BOYS' PECULIAR ACCIDENT.

Falls Headforemost Into a Barrel and Is Nearly Drowned.

New Providence, Sept. 10.—A peculiar accident occurred here Saturday when Walter Brown, Jr., eight years old, was nearly drowned in a barrel of water. The lad's father is employed in the rose houses of Lyman B. Coddington, of South street, and Walter Brown, Sr., who lives in Summit, frequently takes his son with him to the greenhouse, where the boy plays about the rose houses while his father is working. The lad was playing in the next room to where his father and Edward Furnald, another employee, were working when the two men heard a splash.

"What is that?" asked Furnald, startled. "O, that is only Walter playing," replied the father. "I guess he dropped something in the water." He then called: "Walter, Walter, what are you doing in there with that water? Come away from it, you might splash some on your clean waist." There was no answer.

"I am going in to see what is the matter, I bet he is up to some mischief," said Furnald. The father followed him in. When they entered the door both uttered cries of amazement and rushed toward the barrel of drinking water which stood in a corner.

For there sticking out from the top of the barrel was a pair of tiny feet kicking vigorously. Furnald reached the barrel first and, seizing the feet, pulled out of the water Walter, sputtering and crying, and grasping for breath, dripping wet from head to foot. "It's awful in that barrel," the lad said when he was again able to talk. "I went to get a drink and I fell right in the water and I couldn't get out, and I'd rather go swimming in the brook, anyhow."

Rutgers to Retain Old Spelling.

New Brunswick, Sept. 10.—President W. H. S. Demarest, of Rutgers College, said yesterday that on the question of simplified spelling Rutgers would remain conservative and not adopt the suggestions of President Roosevelt. Spelling at Rutgers will remain as it is.

The monthly meeting of the Ladies' Aid Society of the First M. E. church will be held in Vincent chapel tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock.

The monthly meeting of the Baptist Old Folks' Home will be held at 285 Roseville avenue, Newark. Representatives from the local Baptist churches will attend.

Rev. A. C. McCrea, pastor of the First M. E. church, having returned from his vacation, will take charge of the prayer meeting in Vincent chapel Wednesday night.

Rev. Dr. J. A. Chambliss, pastor of the First Baptist church, who has been abroad, is now on his way home and he is expected to have charge of the mid-week prayer meeting at the church Wednesday night.

Albert T. Davis, Ph. D., superintendent of the East Orange Public Schools, preached two eloquent sermons at the First Baptist church Sunday. In the morning he spoke of the significance of work, both great and small.

Rev. Edward M. Chapman, formerly of St. Johnsbury, Vt., preached at the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian church, yesterday morning and evening. The communion service will be held next Sunday morning and Rev. J. O. McKelvey, of Warren chapel, will be in charge. In the evening Rev. L. R. Howard, of Hope chapel, will preach.

Scene Not on the Program.

New Brunswick, Sept. 10.—There was a scene at the New Brunswick theatre Saturday night that was not down on the programme. A young man approached Manager Proctor during the performance of "A Southern Vendetta" and introduced himself as a theatrical man, manager of a road company billed to appear here later in the season. He strolled into the theatre and back of the scenes. A few minutes later there was a hurry call for Manager Proctor. The star, returning unexpectedly to her dressing-room, had found the stranger there, helping himself to articles of her wardrobe. The man was thrown out, after being roundly handled by male members of the company.

Shoplifter Gets Six Months.

Paterson, Sept. 10.—Mrs. Louisa Evelia, of 15 Elm street, the shoplifter who was captured by Detective Henry A. Dorr, of a local department store, and who was found to be wearing five skirts, and who had three silk waists pinned to her skirts, was sentenced to six months in the county jail by Judge Scott Saturday in the special sessions. The woman did not deny that she stole the goods, and entered a plea of non vult.

Life In Plainfield 37 Years Ago.

REPRINTED FROM THE CONSTITUTIONALIST OF 1869.

From the issue of March 4, 1869:

At about three o'clock on Tuesday morning last, the watchman employed at the gas house discovered flames issuing from the roof of the shed of the boiler room. Fortunately there was a barrel of water handy, with which the flames were readily extinguished. The fire originated from the boiler. Had it not been for the presence of mind of the watchman, (although we understand it was through his negligence in allowing the water to become low in the boiler that the fire started) the destruction of the gas works would have been inevitable, as there is no supply of water near enough to supply a fire engine. We want more wells. Why don't that bill pass the Legislature?

The old saying is "If March comes in like a lion it will go out like a lamb," and if such adage possess the merit of truth, the eve of the coming of All Fools Day will be as mild as the prettiest little sheep that ever sported over the green dawn, for March arrived bitter cold, one of the coldest mornings of the present year, and dawned upon the field white with Winter's fallen mantle. The severe weather appeared to have been widely extended, as the North River is again filled with ice to above Peekskill. And throughout New England the thermometer marked far below zero.

Singular Accident—On Tuesday morning last, a fine bay horse, belonging to Evan Jones, Esq., while standing in his stall, thrust his head through a window, the broken glass of which cut him severely about the neck, from which he came near bleeding to death. Our old friend, Manning Jennings, who understands just how to treat such cases, was called in, and under his treatment the animal is doing well.

Steamer Plainfield No. 2 have been fortunate enough to obtain the services of Petroleum V. Nasby to deliver a lecture at Laing's Hall March 5. The lecture above is worth twice the price of admission, fifty cents, and the object alone should crowd the house, viz: to furnish the room of the Steamer. We hope the citizens will turn out en masse to show their appreciation of Nasby's merits and the wants of our gallant firemen.

While Mr. Miller, of Westfield, was crossing Cherry street, in Second, on Tuesday last, in his sleigh, having two ladies aboard, his spirited horses became quite unmanageable, capsizing the load gently in the mud, without, however, any serious injury except a little scratch coat of that material of which our streets are now so lavish.

Parties desiring anything in the line of plumbing or gas fitting will do well to call on McVoy & Co., under VanWinkle's stationery store. They are young men who are determined to do good work at low prices, and having practical knowledge of the business. Give them a call before you go elsewhere.

A saluate will be fired in Plainfield on the Fourth of March under the supervision of Messrs. James F. G. Frazer and Randolph Thorn in honor of the inauguration of U. S. Grant as president of the United States.

We note from the San Francisco Morning Call among the arrivals at that city by the Colorado, Feb. 1st, the name of our fellow townsman, L. C. Spencer.

The Rev. Mr. Vincent, of Plainfield, we see it stated, is to deliver his admirable lecture, "The Model Husband," in Trenton. The True American justly remarks, "Mr. Vincent's lectures are very popular wherever delivered."

John H. VanWinkle, Esq., of Plainfield, was last week admitted by the Supreme Court as a counsellor at law. We congratulate our worthy friend upon his professional advancement.

The Post Office mania is still on the rage in Plainfield. It makes no difference to either you or I.

Several dogs have recently been slaughtered in Plainfield, supposed to have been bitten by rabid animals.

From the next issue:

There is quite a stir among the commuters on the Central Railroad of New Jersey in consequence of the new arrangements regarding tickets. Every yearly commuter, as old tickets expire, is now obliged to purchase four books containing coupon tickets, and must produce his book and have a coupon taken out by the conductor at each passage. He is also furnished with a handful of ferry tickets, to last him the twelve months. We heard a wag exclaim the other day "That if the R. R. Company persists in furnishing so much stationery they ought to supply velocipedes to carry it." The following petition was last week circulated for signatures:

"To the President and Directors of the Central Rail Road of New Jersey:—We, the undersigned commuters on your road, respectfully protest against the new system of Coupon Commutation, and would suggest that the old system of Card Commutation be continued, with the provision that each commuter be compelled to show said Commutation ticket or card each trip.

"We would also earnestly suggest as a convenience to increase travel that you issue tickets at a reduced price to be sold in quantities of not less than $10; said tickets to be good for any person and at any time. This system has been in use on several of the Eastern roads for some years with beneficial results. We think the plan adopted by the New Haven Rail Road commendable. There the President called the Commuters together and counselled with them on the subject like men and fellow citizens. Cannot Rail Road officials in New Jersey be as magnanimous? It would cost little and pay large."

A great revival is now in progress at the Methodist church, formerly the Seventh Day, on Centre street. Great interest is manifested, and the pastor, Mr. Woodruff, is not only eloquent but is sincere in his desire to call sinners to repentance. Let all attend.

We last week spoke about a new invention at Newark called the Steam King. On Friday we had the pleasure of witnessing his performance, and we must say we think it a success. The movement is perfect and on ordinary roads we have no doubt that the man will make good time.

NEWS IN THE SUBURBS

SOUTH PLAINFIELD.

The game laws will be strictly enforced in the State of New Jersey. The season opened for reed and rail birds on September 1 and non-residents are compelled to have a license. The fee is $10 and the license can be obtained from any county clerk. The penalty for illegal shooting is $20, and there will be numerous game wardens on hand to see that every outsider has his license.

The local school is now in fine running order with two new teachers at their posts. Those who attend the High School at Plainfield are obliged to pay $48 a year for tuition, and some families have two and three children attending, each of which have to pay that amount.

The coal storage plant is now filling in for the winter supply, but is far from being filled to its capacity, having only five hundred thousand tons in its bins so far, while they hold one million and are the largest in this part of the country.

Miss Bertha Peck, of East Fifth street, has returned from Asbury Park, where she has been spending her vacation.

Rev. and Mrs. A. C. Nickerson, of Carlton avenue, have returned from New Hampshire, where they spent the summer.

Col. and Mrs. Mason W. Tyler, of West Seventh street, who have been sojourning in the mountains, have returned home.

Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Runyon, of East Ninth street, have gone to Asbury Park for two weeks' stay at "The Lakelyn."

Mr. and Mrs. Irving W. Clark, of Webster place, have gone to Big Moose Lake in the Adirondacks for a few weeks' vacation.

CREESY—At Fanwood, September 9, 1906, Leonard F. Creesy, in his eighty-fourth year.

Funeral from the residence of his son, F. W. Creesy, Park avenue, Fanwood, Tuesday morning, September 11, at 11 o'clock. Interment private.

FOR THE GENTLER SEX

USING CIGAR BANDS.

Perhaps there is no more popular fancy at present than that of decorating with cigar bands.

The materials needed are cigar bands, a glass plate or bowl, a piece of felt, tinfoil, a bottle of paste and a bottle of liquid glue.

Perhaps the easiest thing upon which to experiment is a shallow glass bowl.

This should be five, six or more inches in diameter and about one inch deep.

It is well to understand, though, that the larger the plate is, the easier it is to manage.

One may start decorating by placing the centerpiece or picture in the center of the back, with face to the glass.

Attach the ends of four or eight bands to this centerpiece and fasten their outer ends to the edge of the bowl.

For this purpose use photograph paste or fish glue.

Decorate the space between these main bands according to taste and fill up all open spaces with tinfoil.

Many beautiful designs may be made by working similarly shaped bands of different colors into stars, circles and squares.

When the design is finished, put a heavy coat of any strong liquid glue about an inch wide around the edge of the bowl, then stretch over the entire back a piece of dark red or green felt.

In the same manner glass plates, tobacco jars, glasses and ashtrays may be decorated.

Old vases also make good foundations.

Huge bottles with large necks may in this way also be transformed into charming Japanese-looking ornaments.

A "President" plate may be made by using a picture of George Washington as a centerpiece and grouping around it, in circular form, the cigar bands bearing the pictures of the different Presidents of the United States.

Red, white and blue bands alone should be used in this color scheme.

Kodak pictures may be used as centerpieces and many a girl will consider herself fortunate to receive a picture of herself in such an attractive frame.

Old wooden stands may be rejuvenated in a like manner.

After covering wood or any nontransparent material with bands, however, the surface should be cov-

CLEANLY WOMAN.

Erroneously Thinks by Securing Her Scalp That She Cures Dandruff.

Cleanly woman has an erroneous idea that by scouring the scalp, which removes the dandruff scales, she is curing the dandruff. She may wash her scalp every day, and yet have dandruff her life long, accompanied by falling hair, too. The only way in the world to cure dandruff is to kill the dandruff germ, and there is no hair preparation that will do that but Newbro's Herpicide. Herpicide by killing the dandruff germ, leaves the hair free to grow as healthy Nature intended. Destroy the cause you remove the effect. Kill the dandruff germ with Herpicide. LINGERIE LILTS.

Women are learning extravagance in so far as lingerie is concerned, and whether they buy cheap or costly lingerie the chances are that they are buying more expensive garments than they did only a few years ago.

English nainsook is a happy compromise twixt thin and thick, but is seldom found in the ready-made lingerie.

Not long ago a search for approximate statistics concerning the dress expenditure of the fashionable woman brought to light estimates of from $2,500 to $3,500 as the annual lingerie outlay of a woman of the very wealthy society set.

Valenciennes lace is the lace par excellence for lingerie garments.

One may stoically resist temptation at every counter in the store and yet fall a helpless victim to the wiles of the saleswoman in the lingerie department, backed by the beauty of the wares she displays.

Just now there is displayed in one of the shops a trousseau set consisting of nightgown, chemise, drawers and petticoat for which the modest sum of $250 is asked.

One-piece garments, such as nightgowns and chemises, are sometimes held in loosely at the waist by a band of beading, through which ribbon is run.

Ahe amount of muslin underwear sold is comparatively small nowadays, and our grandmothers would look in amazement at the sheer, filmy stuff from which we fashion our undergarments.

The intricacy and quantity of the hand work bestowed upon many of the finest garments is positively bewildering; yet at first glance there is nothing striking nor conspicuous about the designs.

Upon the hand-made lingerie embroidered eyelets worked in the material frequently take the place of the applied beading, and a favorite effect is obtained by setting these eyelets at each side of groups of tiny hand tucks, so that the ribbon will pass under the tucks and over the narrow, plain spaces between the groups of tucks.

A Tight Squeeze.

"Was I scared?" exclaimed Miss Lacy. "Well I should say! My heart simply dropped down into my boots."

"Impossible," retorted her candid friend. "It couldn't possibly get by your waist."

By OLIVIA B. STROHM

(Copyright, 1905, by Olivia B. Strohm).

The last thought stilled the tumult in her breast, and remorse toward Winslow, thwarted love for him, suspicion of Gonzaga, all sank—weighed in this last scale. Her mother's health and comfort had before seemed all-important; was it only because, in her own unhappy state, nothing mattered anyway? When the one man in the world was gone out of her life, it had seemed easy to dedicate it to filial piety. But now—now that his love was hers, that the boon was within reach, was she to forget what had been so plain a duty? Because the plan was now a sacrifice, indeed, was she to renounce it? Conscience told her that though the path of duty were harder, it was just as clear.

He interrupted her musing: "We must not linger, dearest." And he took both her hands to help her up beside him; then, with sudden passion, drew her close.

But at the first sign of her rebellion he gently released her, and they stood, the man and the maid, facing each other in the road.

A squirrel ran, unafraid, across their path. A blackbird scolded from a walnut tree near, and the scent of the green nuts was overpowering. Ever afterwards their pungent fragrance called to mind this scene—the sandy road with its border of tangled grass, and in the center of the picture the girl, ankle deep in flowering weeds. On the muslin bodice was a stain of pokeberry juice, forming a crimson cross on her breast.

"Forgive me," he said, simply.

Her voice was strained and weary as she answered: "There is nothing to forgive, only—only I have no right to love you."

"There is somebody else?"

She bowed.

"And you would not tell me before?"

She raised her hand, as if to ward off a blow. "Don't; I was weak last night," she pleaded, "and it was sweet to drift. But I am strong now—strong to live without your love. But not"—her voice faltered—"but oh, not without your friendship! Let that ever abide with me."

She extended both hands, and he took them in silence.

At that moment there was a sound in the forest, an indistinguishable sound; but their hearts stood still to hear.

CHAPTER XXVI

A strange sound in those wild woods was enough to make the boldest start. All day they had heard only the hum of bee, or twitter of bird; the swaying of branch or flutter of leaf in the too ardent caress of the south wind.

But this noise was none of these. It came from the road whence they had journeyed. The Indians! They were overtaken!

A fear seized the girl—a horror so awful that she would have fallen but for Winslow's protecting arms. For no other terror the mind of those days could conjure had power to appall like this. As both stood to catch the sounds that grew nearer, they distinguished the tramp of hoofs, and mingled with these the voices and laughter of many men.

Laughter! Speech! Here was relief so great that they wanted to shout aloud—to give it some physical utterance. For Indians did not pursue fugitives with tumult of voices and clatter of harness.

"Thank God for the laughter!" Winslow cried. "The 'crackling of thorns' shall be my next toast."

Lavender's smile was an effort as nearer came the ring of hoofs and the sound of men in loud talk. They were not Indians—for that she was deeply grateful, but what were they? Any interruption was unwelcome now. A premonition of evil made her shrink back as a troop of horsemen filed into view. The search party! Winslow was ashamed of his sudden sinking of heart at the sight which should have been so welcome, for her sake. But their happy hour together was ended nw. Gerald rode ahead, Gonzaga beside him.

"Gerald, brother," and, clapping her hands, ecstatically, Lavender rushed from the protecting shrubbery into the middle of the road.

There was confusion in the band of riders; the sudden halt was followed by a variety of oaths and exclamations. Amidst a volley of questions the leaders dismounted and advanced, Gerald first. Lavender stepped to meet him, but the eager welcome left her lips as she read in his face distrust and anger.

Without touching her outstretched hand: "So, we have found you!" he said.

That was all, and there was a ring in his voice, a glitter in his eyes like steel.

"Why, Gerald, have you no word of welcome—are you not glad to see me?"

Here Winslow interposed, quietly: "I fear I am the one he is not glad to see," and he faced the brother who surveyed him in haughty silence.

"But why—I, I don't understand," Lavender stammered, looking helplessly from one to the other.

Here Gonzaga bowed low to her. "Perhaps I can enlighten you, Miss Creighton. But first—" and, advancing a step, he offered his hand.

Mechanically she put her palm in his and, holding it in a lingering pressure, he continued: "First allow me to say how glad I am to see you safe and well."

She withdrew her hand. "This is no time for compliment, senor. I am surely puzzled at this greeting. Where I expected pleasure, a word of welcome, at least, I meet with coldness, and a public snub. I am loath to turn from my brother for explanation, but it seems I am forced to it."

At this Gerald's anger burst all bounds, and he cried: "What? You ask what is the matter? You, who disappeared with this man's servant, only to be encountered alone with the master two days later?"

Winslow stood silent, holding himself in check by a great effort.

To his surprise, Lavender gave a little sarcastic laugh. "Are you worried about the servant? He is safe—as I have been."

Then dropping the mask of lightness. "Safe," she repeated. "Safe, with this gentleman, but for whom you would have gone back to our mother—alone."

She ended with a touch of solemnity which was not without its effect upon her brother. He turned toward Winslow, but before he could speak, Gonzaga interposed, with a laugh, low, rippling, but not pleasant to hear. "We all agree in delight at your rescue—I, of all men, have cause to rejoice," and again he bent over her hand.

His words and manner, coming so soon after Lavender's confession, let in a flood of light on Winslow's brain. This, then, was the "somebody else." Because of this man, with his cruel smile and reckless, debonair manner, she had "no right to love him." No right to love him—Winslow, to whom the day was more splendid, the night more blest because with them came thought and dreams of her!

The sudden suspicion made him stagger for a moment, and as if to add fuel to his pent-up rage, the Spaniard commented further with a side-long look in his direction. "It is, of course, a great joy that you are safe—even under the circumstances—but, well, the only trouble is, that our friend, the schoolmaster here, appears to think the end justifies the means, and naturally, an indignant brother would not agree with him."

With fury which jealousy, alone, could have kindled in him to so white a heat, Winslow turned to the crowd, and called in a loud voice: "One moment—let me have your attention, friends."

PLAINFIELD TEAM WINS AGAINST DUNELLENS

SUBURBANS PULL OUT GAME WITH A NINTH INNING FINISH.

Working every chance that offered, the Suburbans yanked a game out of the fire at Dunellen Saturday afternoon. The Dunellens clung to their skirts all the way, and it wasn't until the final inning that the game was won. The score was 6 to 5.

Errors figured in the scoring for both sides. The Dunellens lost because they had six errors and the Surburbans only four. Practically all the misplays were costly. In spite of the bungles, the game was interesting, the closeness of the struggle holding the unflagging attention of the bleacherites.

Dunellen looked good for the first two innings. They scored a run in each of the stanzas, but the Suburbans fell on them in the third and evened up things. Each tallied in the fourth and they duplicated with two apiece in the seventh. In the ninth Graham lost the game with a bum throw to first, allowing Hallard to make his base on a weak splash in front of the plate, and a pass after the runner had stolen second and third.

Cliff Randolph pitched a sizzling assortment of sharp bends, and should have won. Bad support alone was responsible for the defeat. Dunellen outbatted the Suburbans, eight hits to five. The feature of the game lay in the stickwork, Mehaffey being the candy juvenile, with three safeties.

Line-up and score by innings:

Suburbans—Gordon, cf; Holland, ss; Aroe, 2b; Beekman, 3b; Conover, G., lf; Romond, cf; Stover, 1b; Mullen, rf; Van Arsdale, p. Dunellen—Mehaffey, 2b; Piddington, 1b; Conover, ss; Graham, c; Apgar, 3b; Brakeley, lf; Titsworth, rf; Randolph, p; Lake, cf.

DIAMOND DUST.

The Cuban Stars defeated the Hobokens at St. George's Cricket Grounds, yesterday, by a score of 6 to 2. This is the second time this season that the Cubans have defeated the Daabsters.

After one of the most exciting games of the season, Flemington succeeded in defeating the West Ends, of Somerville, at Flemington on Saturday by a score of 6 to 5, ten innings. Despite the fact that Manager Conklin strengthened his team by the addition of Joe Wall and "Lou" Wiltse, it was impossible for the team to overcome the subterean methods of the home team. The umpire was against the visitors and the home team was given many privileges in coaching not accorded to the opposing side. Manager Conklin has scheduled the Flemingtons for Saturday at Somerville, when the West Ends hope to retrieve lost honors.

STIRLING-PEAPACK TIE.

Renz Fans 22 Men In Game That Darkness Ended.

Stirling and Peapack fought an eleven-inning tie battle Saturday afternoon, at Stirling. The score was 5 to 5.

Renz made a strike-out record, fanning 22 men. Sturgis, while not so spectacular in his boxwork, was dogged in his grip on the game and fought back the threatening tide of runs when men were on bases. Darkness put a stop to the struggle.

A feature of the contest was Marenghi's home-run smash in the eighth inning. Line-up and score by innings.

Stirling—Wahl, lf; J. Jacot, 1b; Moffett, c; Marenghi, ss; Renz, p; Thievon, 2b; Loolian, 2b; Volke, cf; Heizman, rf.

BATTED OUT VICTORY.

Ninth-Inning Stickwork Saves Game for Scotch Plains Team.

After practically losing the game Saturday afternoon by loose work, the 'Plains team saved itself with a batting rally in the ninth inning and defeated the strong Niantic A. S. team, of Harrison, by the score of 6 to 5. The game was the best the local fans have witnessed this season. The visitors are the amateur champions of Hudson county and put up a clean, snappy game.

In the ninth the visitors went out in one, two, three order, and the home team, with the score five to four against them, started their half of the ninth with a determination to do or die. Weiss put on steam but it did no good. Two runs were brought across the rubber with only one out. Line-up and score by innings:

May Abolish Board of Freeholders.

An effort will be made during the fall campaign to abolish the Somerset County Board of Freeholders and secure the appointment of commissioners, similar to the action taken by Middlesex county and other counties in the State. The principle argument in favor of the change is that a commission will be far less expensive than a Board of Freeholders and that it will do away with a great deal of red tape now necessary under the present method of county control. It is understood that there is a growing sentiment in favor of the change.

Miss Southworth Now Mrs. Gibbs.

Miss Elizabeth Southworth, who was a member of the Watchung school teaching corps last year, was married on August 6 at her home in Binghamton, N. Y., to Howard B. Gibbs, an instructor in the Worcester, Mass., Technical school. They are now making their home at Worcester. Mrs. Gibbs was one of the most popular teachers in the borough schools and her departure was greatly regretted.

—An entertainment under the auspices of the B. M. C. Club, of Union Lodge, No. 4026, Grand United Order of Odd Fellows, will be held in Central Hall, Par kand North avenues, Thursday night, September 27. There will be music by the Plainfield Cornet Band's full orchestra.

MURPHY DID WELL ON GOLF COURSE

MADE GOOD SHOWING AT PLAINFIELD COUNTRY CLUB ON SATURDAY.

The delightful weather on Saturday had a tendency to attract a large field of golfers to the local courses, where several events were scheduled. It is seldom that the greens and course in general are in such fine condition as at present. This is true at the Plainfield Country Club, Park Golf Club and the Westfield Golf Club, and with the steady work put on them it would be difficult to find better ones anywhere in the country.

There was the weekly competition for the Golf Committee cup and play for the September Handicap cup at the Plainfield Country Club. Arthur Murphy, with a net score of 74, won the first three points for the season cup, also a leg on the handicap trophy, while E. B. Shoemaker and Frank O. Reinhart, with a net score of 75, were tied for second honors.

These scores were posted for the two cups:

Arthur Murphy, 83, 9—74; Frank O. Reinhart, 75, 0—75; E. B. Shoemaker, 79, 4—75; Robert Abbott, 76, plus 2—78; W. D. Riggs, 87, 9—78; E. E. Iremonger, 91, 13—78.

In the evening at the clubhouse there was the regular dance, which was attended by a large number of members and friends. These dances are under the direction of the house committee, while many of the details and the decorations are arranged by David Shay, clerk at the club. The dancing was continued until 11:30, and was thoroughly enjoyed by everyone.

The return of many members of the Park Golf Club, from their vacation, was evidenced on Saturday, when an unusual number was on the course competing for the President's and club cups. Charles A. Reed won first honors for both the handicap and scratch cups. R. V. Carpenter won second honors for the President's cup and Rev. C. L. Goodrich and J. B. Betts divided the one point. Mr. Goodrich also won second honors for the scratch cup and Rev. J. O. McKelvey won the remaining point. These scores were returned:

Charles A. Reed, 92, 8—84; R. V. Carpenter, 114, 27—87; C. L. Goodrich, 95, 7—88; J. B. Betts, 116, 28—88; A. W. Kenworthy, 107, 18—89; Reuben Knox, 100, 8—92; Rev. J. O. McKelvey, 96, 2—94.

At the Westfield Golf Club on Saturday, Joe Sherman won the September cup, Class A, by defeating R. B. Carroll, 6 up and 4 to play. In Class B, H. W. Ralwins beat H. L. VanDyke, 3 up and 2 to play; W. Watanabe beat W. L. Taylor, 3 up and 2 to play; Fred Harris won by default, and Fred Graham beat J. F. Lowe, 4 up and 3 to play. The result of the clock golf competition for women was as follows:

Mrs. H. L. Johnson, 25; Miss Gertrude Noe, 26; Miss Estelle Hegeman, 27; Miss Mabel Kimball, 29; Mrs. J. S. Foster, 29; Mrs. F. Kinch, 32. On the point system, Mrs. Johnson receives five points, Miss Noe four, Miss Hegeman three, Miss Kimball and Mrs. Foster two each and Mrs. Kinch one.

Miss Mellie MacGinnis to Wed.

Invitations have been issued by Mr. and Mrs. George S. MacGinnis, of Somerset street, to the marriage of their daugter, Miss Nellie MacGinnis, and James Quackenboss, of New Brunswick. The event will be celebrated Saturday afternoon, September 15, at the home of the bride's parents.

BREWERY DEAL AND EXCISE ACT.

Ex-Governor Says His Part in Plant Transfer Plan Was Only Business.

Former Governor Foster M. Voorhees has said that there is absolutely nothing but a purely business transaction in his connection with the negotiations for the transfer of the plant of the Rising Sun Brewing Company in Elizabeth to a syndicate.

The developments of Friday tend to show that, even if the transfer of the plant to a syndicate, headed by the former Governor and Henry H. Isham, had been consummated, the rights of the latter in the property may be speedily upset. The price set for an option on the property was $360,000. It was signed by Mr. Voorhees and witnessed, it is said, by Judge Swift, and the transaction, which covered the interest of George Seeber, the president of the company, was to have been completed last Saturday a week ago, between 10 and 12 o'clock. Mr. Voorhees, Mr. Isham and the other financial interests involved were at the brewery ready to sign the necessary papers, when Wm. R. Wilson, counsel for Philip Schauble, obtained an injunction restraining Seeber from making the transfer.

IDENTIFY TRAIN VICTIM

Man Killed in Newark Suburb Was Helped by Local Police.

RECOGNIZE DESCRIPTION

Hat Given Him By Roundsman Flynn Figures In Establishing the Identity.

Through a hat that was given to him at police headquarters here Saturday night, when he was cared for after a bit of ill-luck on his journey toward Paterson, the body of a man supposed to be Joseph Curran, a silk weaver, was identified by the local police last night for the authorities at Orange, where he was killed by a train the day before.

The man was brought to police headquarters Saturday night, suffering from a scalp wound over his forehead. He told the officers that he had started from Washington, this State, for Paterson. While on a freight train of the Jersey Central, somewhere beyond this city, he was attacked by two hoboes, and jumped off to save himself. He cut his head in the leap. He walked to the city from where he jumped. His clothes were wet, and it was surmised that he took his leap at the Greenbrook tanks.

He gave his name as Joseph Curran, and said he had a sister in Paterson, who lived, according to the last advices he had received from her, at 64 East 17th street. Curran was kept all night, and was sent on his way in the morning, cleaned, cared for and fitted with a hat in place of the one that had blown off as he jumped from the train. The hat was given him by Roundsman Flynn. It was one Flynn's brother, Patrolman Charles Flynn, had owned, and had the latter's initials, C. A. F., punched in the sweatband.

The Newark News of last night had a report of the death of an unidentified man on the tracks at Orange, and as soon as Sergeant Frederickson saw the description of the body, he knew the victim was the man who had called at headquarters Saturday night. The man's pockets contained weavers' tools and a letter that had been mailed at Washington, N. J., and he wore a Melville hat with the initials C. A. F. punched in the sweatband. The police at Orange were notified. Curran's description fitted that of the victim exactly—dark complexion, smooth-faced, age between thirty-five and forty.

He was killed instantly, practically every bone in his body being broken. Two conflicting stories are told of his death. According to the engineer of the train, he walked directly down a high embankment and sat down between the rails, facing the train, and paid no attention to the warning whistle. Two boys who saw the accident say the victim was following the flight of a balloon that had ascended from a nearby resort, and was so absorbed in its progress that he failed to note the train or the whistle.

PAINTERS DECIDE TO BE ACTIVE IN POLITICS.

In Conference at Rahway, Discuss This and Other Matters Important to the Trade.

John E. Matthews, Fred Hale, Charles J. Trotter and George M. Rockfellow, as delegates from Local Union, No. 480, Brotherhood of Painters, Paper Hangers and Decorators, attended the convention of the New Jersey Conference Board at Rahway, yesterday. In all there were eighty representatives present, reporting for thirty-eight local unions throughout the State.

A number of matters important to the trade were discussed, among them the declaration that all union men should take a more active part in politics, especially where the issues were sure to affect unions. Several delegates reported that their organizations had already appointed committees to do "missionary" work among candidates in order to learn how they stood on certain labor questions. It was also decided that in the future, the union labor men in New Jersey should follow the course adopted by the American Federation of Labor in all political issues.

John E. Matthews, of the borough, is president of the local union, and took an active part in the discussion.

Montross "Spiked" in Ball Game.

While playing second base in a game of ball at Newark, Sunday, "Jimmy" Montross, of this city, was severely spiked in the right arm. He attempted to stop a man from making a steal and in doing so the metal tips on the player's shoes struck him with full force. The arm was torn from the shoulder to the elbow and a physician had to be called to dress the wound. "Jimmy" is a member of the Washington A. A., of Newark.

BOOMS FOR COUNCILMEN

In the Second and Third Wards No One Has Been Picked by Regulars.

NAMES MENTIONED

Hill Against Tolles in First Ward and Penney Against Randolph in the Fourth Ward.

In the Second and Third wards, the regular organization forces will name candidates for the Common Council in opposition to Councilmen H. D. Hibbard and William S. Tyler, who have been endorsed by the Colbyites. As far as can be learned there are no "favorites" and no one has consented to run as yet.

Among those who have been mentioned in the Third ward are Joseph Shellabarger, William C. Kinney and Dr. Frank C. Ard. None of these men has allowed his name to be used, but it is said that the regulars have hopes that one of the three will consent to make the run.

Henry L. Hall, S. A. Cruikshank, Edward E. Iremonger, T. M. Day, Jr., and R. A. Meeker have also been boomed more or less in the Second ward. Some of these are Colbyites, but the regulars appear to offer no objection on that account. Mr. Hall is an intimate friend of Judge Runyon, the Colbyite leader, and it is believed that he will not consent to allow his name to be placed on the regulars' ticket. Whether any of the others named will consent to be a candidate for the nomination is not known.

Ralph I. Tolles will be the regulars' candidate for a renomination to the Common Council, of which he is now president. His opponent is I. B. Hill, selected by the "new idea" league of that ward last night. In the Fourth, James Penney has been selcted by the Colbyites. Frank W. Randolph will be renominated provided the regulars can win out.

DR. BOONE APPOINTED CONSULTING PHYSICIAN

HOSPITAL GOVERNORS ADOPT RESOLUTION ON DEATH OF TWO MEMBERS

Dr. William C. Boone, who resigned from active service on the medical board of Muhlenberg Hospital, last July, after more than twenty-five years' membership of that board, was appointed a consulting physician of the hospital, at the September meeting of the Board of Governors, last night. The appointment was made by the board on the recommendation of the medical board. Suitable resolutions were adopted by the Board of Governors in regard to the loss by death of Charles E. Brooks from the board, and of Dr. William P. Brandegee, of New York, from the consulting staff. No action was taken by the board to fill the vacancies occasioned by the deaths of Dr. Brandegee and Mr. Brooks and the resignation of Dr. Boone.

The medical board reported for the past two months as follows:

July—Patients remaining at date of last report, 30; admitted, 42; discharged cured, 40; improved, 6; died, one; remaining, 25; operations, 31; hospital days, 898. Dispensary patients, 59; visits, 125; operations, 18. In the month of August there were twenty-five patients remaining: Admitted, 46; discharged cured, 39; improved, 2; died, 4; remaining, 26; operations, 27; hospital days, 900; dispensary patients, 59; visits, 143; operations, 8.

Mrs. G. Q. Dolliver's Painful Injury.

Mrs. G. Q. Dolliver, of Fairview avenue, is carrying her arm in a sling, the result of a peculiar accident several days ago. While walking along a boardwalk at her home she tripped over a broken board and fell on her arm. She paid little attention to the injury for a few days, but the pain finally became so severe that she decided to see a physician. An examination showed that the ligaments of the arm were badly sprained and it will be necessary for her to carry it in a sling for some time.

Juvenile "Johnnies" Arrested.

Four youths, Frank Schropfer, William Hickey, Charles Gulick and Edward Condit, were arrested last night for hanging about the front and side entrances of the theatre. It is charged by the police that they have persistenly loitered about the playhouse, annoying passersby, and disregarding repeated warning to stop the practice. They were taken into custody after the performance. Judge Runyon released them at 1 o'clock to appear for a hearing tomorrow morning.

J. B. HILL FOR COUNCIL

First Ward Colbyites Name Him on Completing Organization.

TUGWELL CHAIRMAN

Delegates to the Various Conventions Are Named — Mr. Tugwell Speaks.

The members of the First Ward Republican League for Equal Taxation met in the rooms of the Plainfield Grocers Association, last night, and completed its organization and selected the delegates to attend the city, county and congressional conventions. Stephen H. Tugwell, chairman of the ward organization, was in the chair, and Clifford S. Braider was the secretary.

The organization decided upon is as follows: Chairman, Stephen H. Tugwell; vice-chairman, Dr. A. W. Anderson; secretary, Clifford S. Braider; treasurer, Joseph C. Allen; executive committee, Joseph C. Allen, Alexander G. Aitken, John Rowland, Charles H. Russell, Clarence B. Vail, L. V. F. Randolph.

Mr. Tugwell announced that the organization was to be no "cut and dried affair, that everyone was to have the opportunity of speaking his little piece, and that the only object was to pick the best men."

The executive committee will select three members for each of these committees: Finance, meeting place, publication, polling and election. These will be announced later.

The next important business was the selection of a man whom the organization favored for the councilmanic nomination. Dr. A. W. Anderson named Isaac B. Hill, of Westervelt avenue, and the nominations closed. Mr. Hill thanked the organization for the honor, adding that he fully appreciated the situation. He said that he realized that one could not get experience without making a beginning and he looked upon the suggestion as a beginning. He further explained that he understood what the fight would be. Everyone he believed is acquainted with the bosses and knows where they are. He assured everyone that he would do all in his power regardless of personalities to make a strong fight.

Mr. Tugwell emphasized Mr. Hill's remarks by saying, "we will make some of the rats hunt their holes and if we all work together we will make a first-class fight, but it means hard work." Mr. Tugwell also spoke of the fact that it is the intention of the city organization to make a fight for municipal ownership of the water works, and this he considered a real live issue, one that a majority of the people would be in favor of, affording them an opportunity to rid themselves of the bosses. He considered anti-bossism and municipal ownership of water works two issues of sufficient importance to poll a big vote.

The delegates to the various conventions were then chosen as follows, the first four in each case being from the First district and the last two from the Second district:

City—Edward Colwell, Charles H. Russell, Dr. A. W. Anderson, Stephen H. Tugwell, Clarence LaRue, R. F. R. Huntsman.

County—Stephen H. Tugwell, Jos. C. Allen, Clifford S. Braider, J. Fred MacDonald, Clarence B. LaRue, Wm. H. Jones.

Congressional—Robt. McCormick, Alexander G. Aitken, Isaac B. Hill, Dr. A. W. Anderson, L. V. F. Randolph and F. D. Dickerson.

Good Government Club Meeting.

The Republican Good Government Club, of the borough, will meet tonight in Spencer's Hall to discuss the election of delegates to the county and congressional conventions and any other business that may be brought forward. Mayor Newton B. Smalley has issued the call and invites all Republicans to attend.

Funeral of Infant Son.

The funeral of Raymond Aloysius Walden, the young son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Walden, was held from the parents' home on West Third street, yesterday afternoon. Interment was made in St. Mary's cemetery, four cousins of the child acting as pall bearers.

Will Put Up Big Press.

John McClelland, of Watchung avenue, one of the youngest erectors in the employ of the Potter Company, left last night for Dubuque, Ia., where he will put up a two-deck press for the Dubuque Daily Times. He will be away in all about two months.

Suspended Sentence.

James Smith, arrested last night for drunkenness, by Patrolman Kelly, was released by Judge Runyon, this morning, in the city court, under suspended sentence.

—George VanHorn, of The Daily Press office, has returned from his vacation spent at Niagara Falls.

MR. MELLICK SURPRISED

Choice of Caucus For Mayor Did Not Know He Was Being Considered.

MR. RUNYON'S VIEWS

Colbyites Leader and Mr. Fisk Both Express Opinions On the Advisory Committee's Work.

Councilman George P. Mellick was completely surprised when he learned that he had been the choice of the majority at the Republican caucus last night at the Casino. At the time the advisory commitee was discussing candidates for primary nominations, Mr. Mellick was in another part of the building attending a meeting of the Board of Governors of Muhlenberg hospital. Not until the meeting had adjourned was the news conveyed to him that he had been the majority choice for the mayoralty.

To a representative of The Daily Press, Mr. Mellick said today that the honor had come as a great surprise to him. He had no idea, he stated, that his name had even been considered and that not until it was all over did he have the least knowledge of what had taken place. He has not announced his decision as yet whether he will be a candidate.

"As I told Mr. Fisk last night," said Judge Runyon in speaking of the conference this morning, "if the Colbyites do nothing else they have made the organization come nearer to feeling the public pulse than it ever did before. I don't think the meeting would have been held had it not been for Colbyite activity.

"A man remarked to me last night," continued the judge, "that the nominations were just about what they would have been had no meeting been held, and that is just about right. I do believe emphatically, however, that Mr. Fisk was entirely sincere and earnest in his efforts to get at the popular desire. I believe he wished to learn how the people felt and to give them every opportunity to get what they wished."

"I am very much pleased over the meeting last night," said Mr. Fisk today, "particularly regarding the way the Colbyites participated in it. Every opportunity was afforded the voters to express their opinions and it can not fail to be of great benefit to the party."

"You can say for men," continued Mr. Fisk, "that Mr. Mellick and Mr. Depew are both very good men. With either one or the other as mayor, Plainfield would have a good chief executive—one who would do his duty."

BIG PROGRAMME TO END THE CONCERT SEASON.

Leader La Vere Arranges for Appearance of New York Band and Fireworks Display.

In an attempt to recoup some of the season's losses, which now amount to $125, Ben La Vere, of band fame, has in prospect for Friday night, the greatest band concert and fireworks display he has yet undertaken. Through the influence of Salve Velarde, the local Italian leader, he has secured the services of Don Saldato Mondo's Italian band of thirty-five pieces, a New York organization, and it will come here Friday morning. As was the custom when the Italian religious festivals were held, the band will serenade in various parts of the city and borough during the day and finish up with a fine programme at the park at night.

In addition Ben has planned a big fireworks display and has secured the promise of six soloists. It is not at all improbable that he will have Dave Reed, Ernest Ball, Eddie Weston, George Offerman, "Billy" Redmond and Jack Elliott.

This concert and exhibition will positively finish the season and Ben looks for a good attendance to lift a large part of the deficit load from his shoulders.

Miss Marie Thompson.

Miss Marie Thompson, daughter of the late Andrew and Christina Thompson, died in Muhlenberg Hospital, last night, after a brief illness. She was taken to the institution on Labor Day for an operation but she failed to rally. She leaves one brother, Andrew Thompson, and two sisters. The funeral will be held from her late home on West Front street, tomorrow afternoon at 2:30. Interment will be at Hillside.

Not For Express Company.

David C. Smalley, of Smalley Brothers, owners of the plot of ground upon which Flannery's blacksmith shop formerly stood in East Third street, denied yesterday the report that the United States Express Company intended to purchase the land for its uses. Wilson Frederick, the local agent of the express company, made a similar denial.

COLLECTOR WOOD DEAD

Had Served in County Office For Long Period Until Taken Ill Last May.

A COUNTY CHAIRMAN

Lawyer By Profession—Descendant of Gen. Elias Dayton—Funeral Services Not Arranged.

Edward Meeker Wood, for many years collector for Union county, died at his home, 116 West Jersey street, Elizabeth, between 9 and 10 o'clock this morning, following a long illness.

Collector Wood was born in Morristown in 1852, where he spent his boyhood days. His father was a prominent lawyer there for many years and was identified with local, State and National affairs. Mr. Wood attended the Morristown public school, and was graduated there. At the outbreak of the Civil War he ran away from home and enlisted. His parents found him and brought him back home.

Mr. Wood studied law in the offices of his brother-in-law, Gen. J. Augustus Fay, who at one time was prosecutor of Union county. He entered politics early in his career and was always a faithful worker in the Republican party. He was a member of the Union County Republican Committee, and at one time county chairman. He was also a member of the Common Council, of Elizabeth, and was repeatedly elected to succeed himself as county collector by the Board of Freeholders. Last May he was re-elected to this position and being ill at the time he was unable to attend to the duties of the office. Nathan R. Leavitt was appointed to fill the office temporarily. Mr. Wood always filled the position of county collector with credit o himself and the county. He was counsel for the Borough of Roselle and treasurer of the Middlesex Water Company. He was a direct lineal descendant of General Elias Dayton; was one of the founders of the Elizabethtown Chapter, No. 1, Sons of the American Revolution; a member of the National and State societies of the Sons of the American Revolution; the Union County Bar Association and St. John's Episcopal church.

Mr. Wood was married twenty-five years ago to Miss Sarah B. Farlin, of Elizabeth. She and two daughters and two married sisters survive him. The sisters live in New Zealand. Arrangements have not yet been completed for the funeral services.

FANWOOD REPUBLICANS SELECTION OF CANDIDATES.

Delegates to County and Congressional Conventions Are Named.

The Republican voters of the borough of Fanwood met last night for the purpose of selecting delegates and candidates for the approaching election.

This ticket was suggested: Councilmen—Charles R. Vincent, three years; J. H. L. Todd, three years: Thomas S. Young, one year; Charles Sternheim, one year; collector, Charles Sheelen, three years; assessor, Horace G. Young, three years: delegate to county convention, Chas. Sheelen; delegate to congressional convention, W. H. Hood.

Davis—Sullivan.

Mr. and Mrs. William H. Rogers and daughter, Miss Eva Rogers, of Central avenue, are at Alfred, N. Y., today attending the wedding of their nephew, Theodore G. Davis, to Miss Anna Sullivan, daughter of Dr. Sullivan, of Alfred. The ceremony was performed by Rev. T. L. Gardiner, formerly president of Salem College, Salem, W. Va. The groom is the son of Rev. and Mrs. D. H. Davis, Seventh-Day Baptist missionaries at Shanghai, China, and Mrs. Davis came to Alfred to attend her son's wedding. The groom was graduated from Alfred University last June and during the summer has been engaged in setlement work in New York city.

Frightened Thieves Off.

After piling twenty boxes of cigars up ready for flight, thieves were frightened away from Joseph Kuldoshes' grocery store in Dunellen Sunday night. They gained entrance through a rear window. Kuldoshes came home from an auto trip at about 1 o'clock, and drew water from a pump near the store at that time. It is supposed that thieves were frightened off then. Some change was taken from the till.

The Ladies' Christian Work Society of Trinity Reformed church held its first fall meeting in the lecture room of the church, yesterday afternoon. Three new members were elected. There was a good attendance at the meeting and considerable interest and enthusiasm was shown in taking up the fall work.

ADVISORY COMMITTEE ENDORSES GEO. P. MELLICK

ACTION NOT BINDING

Wilbur and Doane for Freeholderships and F. T. Woodhull For School Trustee.

Councilman George P. Mellick received the endorsement of the Republican conference at the Casino, last night, for mayor. His supporters outvoted those of R. Henry Depew, the Colbyite choice for the office, whose name was also suggested, 74 to 37. J. Hervey Doane and S. P. T. Wilbur won endorsement for the freeholder nominations by even a more sweeping majority. F. T. Woodhull was unanimously endorsed to succeed himself as school trustee. Councilmanic candidates and delegates to the conventions and committees, being purely local to the different wards, were not voted on.

The meeting was in the nature of a popular conference by Republican voters, called together by the City Committee and the Advisory Committee of 125, for the selection of candidates and a discussion of the local political situation. There were about 200 Republicans present. The latter were made to feel at home as rightful sitters in a Republican gathering by Chairman Fisk as soon as the meeting opened, by the appointment of N. Mansfield Smith, secretary of the Reform Central Committee, as one of the three secretaries. Mr. Fisk presided over the meeting as chairman of the City Committee. The other two secretaries were William A. Townsend and Ralph L. Morrow.

In opening the meeting, Mr. Fisk made as omewhat extended speech. The Republican party here, he said, stood for honest elections and honest officials. The party stood for officials who were upright, honest, broad-minded, intelligent; men trusted by the people, who would work for the people's interest, not subject to the undue influence of any political boss whatever. The party stood for equal taxation of corporation property as well as the property of the individual; it stood for the taxation of all utility franchises. It stood for straight, outright nominations, wherever they could be made, directly by the people. He, the speaker, wished nominations could be made directly by the people, without recourse to any convention whatever.

The present meeting, Mr. Fisk continued, was called by the voters for the voters, and not in the interest of any candidate, any boss or any political organization. Nine months ago he had been asked to act as chairman of the Republican City Committee, and he consented to act only on condition that he be allowed to perfect independence, and would not be interfered with in advancing the interests of the Republican voters. He had agreed then to give the voters an opportunity to discuss candidates. He had promised, also, to try to explain the workings of the primary law, so that anyone could make nominations. That was the object of the present meeting. The City Committee had no candidates. They came to the meeting to execute the will of the voters, without prejudice.

Mr. Fisk explained at length, and in simple language, the procedure necessary for the nomination of candidates at the primaries. He announced that pamphlets containing the full explanation of the primary and election law workings, devoid of the legal phraseology, had been printed and would be distributed after the meeting. Which they were—lavishly.

Taking up the thread of his remarks on candidates and candidature, the speaker said that in communities of this kind there was always difference of opinion. It was the best thing in the world if all men thought alike, life wouldn't be worth living. Progress came because men differed. There was no reason to call a man who differed with you, your enemy; he might be your best friend; his difference of opinion might teach you something very valuable. That was why they could all come together to try to agree.

It was to be distinctly understood, however, so that everyone might feel free to take part in the discussion, that no one was bound to anything by what might occur at the meeting. It was not a caucus, but a conference. Anyone who did not like the choice of the conference for officials,

SNEAK THIEF ENTERS NEW MADISON APARTMENTS

MAKES A GOOD HAUL OF JEWELRY IN DAVISON ROOMS.

While Mrs. Ralph C. Davison and her father were out for a walk late Sunday afternoon, a sneak thief entered her apartments in the New Madison and made a good-sized haul of jewelry. Among the things taken from bureaus and dressers were a gold watch and chain, three stickpins, three rings, several gold hairpins and side combs and $7 in change.

There was no one at home when Mrs. Davison and her father went out and at the time she did not intend to go any great distance, consequently did not think it necessary to lock the doors leading from the hallway to her rooms. The apartments are on the first floor and it was a very easy matter for anyone to enter.

The robbery was reported to the police but they have practically no clue to work upon. As far as can be learned, the other tenants of the building noticed no suspicious persons loitering about and the thief covered his tracks in good shape.

MAD DOG KILLED BY MAN IT SOUGHT TO BITE

FRED IVAMY SAVES HIMSELF FROM RABIB ANIMAL WITH A CLUB.

Snapping and yelping, frothing at the mouth, and butting its head into the trees and tie posts, a mad dog created a panic among the residents of West Second street, in the vicinity of Fire House No. 1 yesterday afternoon. The yelps of the canine attracted the attention of everybody who noticed its wild antics in bolting from the street to the sidewalk snapping viciously at everything in sight.

The dog came from Park avenue, turning into Second street. When it reached the engine house it made a jump at Fireman Holly Freeman who sat in a chair reading a newspaper. Freeman saved himself by jumping from the chair with which he defended himself against the dog. He succeeded in hitting it a glancing blow which directed the course of the canine to the street. Maddened by the blow the dog attacked Fred Ivany as he was walking along the street. Ivamy grabbed a piece of lumber and brought it down on the head of the dog with force enough to deal death instantly.

Luckily no children were in the vicinity at the time and few people on the street. The dog was a mongrel. It's owner is not known.

NOT PLEDGED TO GEORGE L. RECORD.

Nor Anybody Else, Declares Martin for the Essex Assembly Delegation.

With authority from all his colleagues to speak for them, William P. Martin, leader of the Essex Assembly delegation, made a statement Saturday, in which he clearly and comprehensively presents the attitude of the delegation on the two important questions of the United States Senatorship and the "bishops' law."

Mr. Martin corrects a misapprehension, which he says exists, as to the attitude of the Essex delegation as to their choice for United States Senator. While he unhesitatingly admits they are opposed to Senator Dryden, and states the reasons therefor, he declared that they have not decided for whom they will vote.

In defining the position of the delegation on the "bishops' law," Mr. Martin says that it is impossible to determine the question of bossism and the liquor problem at the same election, but that the Assemblymen desire to be entirely frank in the consideration of the excise question.

SHE SEEKS "DOCTOR OF BLOODLESS SURGERY."

Mother Gives Stranger $7 to Straighten Child's Fingers and He Bends Them.

Trenton, Sept. 11.—Mrs. Sarah Shutz, of 230 North Broad street, has asked the police to look for a "doctor of bloodless surgery," who, she said, buncoed her out of $7 in an attempt to cure the crooked fingers of her thirteen-year-old daughter, Annie.

She says the man called at her house last Thursday, saying he had heard about the litle girl's crooked fingers; that he was a "doctor of bloodless surgery," and could cure anything. After a time the woman gave the man $7, promising him $6 more for curing the fingers.

He bent the fingers back, and when the little one screamed in agony he said that everything would be all right within two days. He then gave the mother some liniment which smells like witch hazel and departed, saying he would be back the next day.

He has not returned, and the woman, believing that she has been buncoed, now wants the police to find the man. He is dark, looks like a Cuban, wears a gray Prince Albert coat and has dark curly hair with chin whiskers.

SALOON FOR STUDENTS.

Nassau Inn Thrown Open to Princeton Under Graduates.

Princeton, Sept. 10.—The first gun in the war against drinking in Princeton University, being waged by the local Woman's Christian Temperance Union, was fired Friday, when it was made public by the union that Henry C. Bunn, curator of the grounds and buildings of the university, has purchased a saloon, which was formally opened for students. The place is known as the "Nassau Inn," and was purchased by Bunn from A. D. Cook, last June. The records of the courthouse show that the purchase price was $145,000, of which $10,000 was paid down to bind the deal.

When Mrs. J. V. Bickford, wife of a millionaire resident, and president of the W. C. T. U., said the officials of the university winked at the students drinking there was much consternation and many denials. When the inn bar was opened Saturday no attempt was made to inform the numerous students who have already arrived of the fact. For this reason only about a score of them took advantage of the opening.

It is probable that the W. C. T. U. will take the matter up with President Woodrow Wilson, as soon as he arrives from England, it being supposed that he knows nothing of the transaction.

Miss Buckle, daughter of Mayor and Mrs. J. F. Buckle, has returned to Stapleton, S. I., to resume teaching in the public schools there. This is her third year at Stapleton.

Chief George Weiss, of the borough police department, who has been enjoying his annual vacation, will return to duty tomorrow. While he was away his place was filled by Marshal Joseph Flack.

—Miss Edna Baldwin, of I. P. Runyon's law offices, has returned from her vacation.

—Harry Ogden has resigned his position with Smith Brothers to accept one with an East Orange grocery.

LOCAL AMUSEMENTS

A. Baldwin Sloane, who composed the delicious music of "The Mocking Bird" and of Lillian Russell's greatest success, "Lady Teazle," is the composer of "Sergeant Kitty," which will be seen at the New Plainfield theatre tonight. This highly successful opera is said to be the masterpiece of this gifted young composer, who has more song hits to his credit than any musician of his age. He is a master of melody, and such songs as "Love," "War" and "Oh, Kitty" will be remembered long years after the opera shall cease to be presented. The book and lyrics by R. H. Burnside are equally pleasing.

Matinee and night performances of "Around the Clock" will be given at the New Plainfield theatre tomorrow. The play was planned to make people laugh and it has succeeded in doing so everywhere it has been shown.

Without "Uncle Tom" and "Peck's Bad Boy" once a year, we would think our dramatic season incomplete. We have "Uncle Tom" year after year and it is always the same, there being no way to change it, but this season "Peck's Bad Boy" has radical changes; in fact all the old material that has made so many people laugh for the last twenty years, and which we have come to know almost as well as the actors do themselves, has been discarded and an entirely new version prepared. The old familiar characters of the "Grocery Man," "Duffy," "Maj. and Mrs. Peck," "The Chum," "Servant Girl," "His Sweetheart" and "Henry Peck" the "Bad Boy" are still the ones to create the fun, and a new one introduced who will aid and abet and add new opportunities for funny situations. Each character is portrayed by competent people, and an exceptionally good singing company is one of the main features. Operatic selections, duets, trios, quartettes and choruses are finely rendered. Many novel specialties introduced and with all these and an entirely new equipment of scenery and costumes, this always funny farce comedy is made better than ever. It will be presented at the New Plainfield theatre next Saturday afternoon and night.

One of the newest of the Liebler & Co. productions, "The Squaw Man," comes to the New Plainfield theatre next Monday night. The play has achieved a remarkable success in New York, where it ran for over six months at Wallack's theatre, and has by competent critics been described as the strongest play of American life now upon the stage. In any case, the facts are that these managers have made a production that is in itself an artistic gem, and have equipped the play with a cast that could hardly be surpassed for excellence. The title in itself reveals to a great extent the character of the drama, and the principal figure is one of whom comparatively little is known by people of the East. In the territory West of the Mississippi, the white man who marries an Indian woman, is known at once as "a squaw man," and to some extent at least he is looked down upon by his fellows. The mere fact that he may have acted from any one of a variety of motives does not seem to count for much in their eyes, and it is the purpose of Edwin Milton Royle, the author of the play, to show that through self-sacrifice a man may be brought to a point where his honor demands that he make a still further sacrifice of himself in carrying out what he deems is his bounden duty.

Clyde Fitch, whose greatest play, "Her Own Way," is to be seen here on September 18, is most fastidious about the scenery selected for his dramas. Every detail of the production is closely scrutinized by him before it passes muster. As a consequence his pieces invariably receive the highest praise for their ornate and tasteful settings. A duplicate of the original New York production of "Her Own Way" will be seen in the coming presentation here of the play by Jules Murry.

The character of the butler in "Her On Way," Clyde Fitch's greatest play, that is to be seen at the New Plainfield theatre next Tuesday night, was drawn by Mr. Fitch from a butler in the house of a New York family. He is interested in the affairs of the family, is loyal to the house of Carley and is desirous for a house of his own where his sweetheart, Lizzie, the maid, may be able to settle down to a peaceful and contented old age. There have been many butlers upon the New York stage within the last few years, but none have been drawn with such accuracy of detail as has this character of Moles by Mr. Fitch. The arrangements for his own future, ever present as they are in his mind, are invariably made secondary to the thought of the honor of his master's name, and when his spendthrift master tells him that he is too short to pay his tradesmen's bills for the month Moles quietly makes arrangements of his own to settle the accounts and keep the champagne supply sufficient to meet the demands of his gambling master. This devotion of Moles is centered in the good fairy of the play, Georgiana Carley, the part played by Miss Sylvia Lynden, Jules Murry's new star.

A very funny crying scene is to be one of the features of "Mrs. Wilson, That's All," the new play in which May Irwin is to be seen at the New Plainfield theatre on September 21. It occurs at the end of the first act when her first husband, Murgatroyd Wilson, is declared legally dead after an absence of seven years, and just before Mrs. Wilson, the part played by the comedienne, is to take to herself another husband in the person of Colonel Andrews.

Hap Ward, the celebrated comedian who has always been noted for the excellence of his productions, will appear at the New Plainfield theatre, Friday evening, in a new musical show entitled "Not Yet But Soon." The entire performance has been conceived and put into rehearse with but one object in view—to amuse and entertain an audience. The fun is of the touch-and-go kind, and in the hands of the clever company that Manager E. D. Stair has supplied, the performance is one of the most entertaining farces ever put on the boards. The musical numbers add greatly to the merits of the piece. They are fourteen in number, and among the song hits are "Mary Wise," "Mam'selle," "Wonderland," "My Irish Girl," "Playmates," "When Dreams Come True," "Larry," "The Wedding of the Blue and Gray," and "Camp Meetin' Time." The costuming of the chorus is another prominent feature. The company supporting Mr. Ward numbers fifty people, Lucy Daly, Fred Wyckoff, Robert Evans, Matt Woodward, Dick Barry, John C. Hart, Fred Parrent, Chas. Sandy Chapman, Carrie Merrilees, Jennie Palmer, Marian Merrill and Helen Clark heading the list.

CATHOLICS OF STATE TO HAVE OFFICIAL ORGAN.

The Monitor, which is to be the official Catholic weekly of the diocese of Newark and Trenton, will make its first appearance from 22 Clinton street, Newark, September 15.

The publication will be made up of 24 pages, 16½ by 11½ inches, four columns to the page, and will be printed on paper such as that of the Saturday Evening Post or Collier's. Its contents will consist of local and general Catholic news from Rome, where a regular correspondent will be engaged, notes on the leading Catholic societies, such as the K. of C., A. O. H., C. B. L., local social events in which Catholics take part, such as weddings and receptions and special articles on contemporary subjects written from a Catholic standpoint; stories, book reviews, a woman's page to which six of the leading Catholic writers of New Jersey will contribute. The paper will be illustrated throughout with fine half-tone engravings and reproductions of photographs.

The Monitor will be owned by the Monitor company, a corporation composed of nearly 70 priests of the State of New Jersey. It will carry on its editorial page the approval of the right reverend bishops of Newark, and will be the medium of all official communications to Catholics. The acting publisher will be William P. Lawler, who was formerly manager of the Republic, the leading Catholic weekly of New England, published by John F. Fitzgerald, Mayor of Boston.

Favor Stokes for Senator.

Announcement was made Saturday by the Fremont Republican Club of the Hudson City section of Jersey City that resolutions were adopted in the Friday night meeting favoring the nomination of Governor Edward Stokes for Senator. The Fremont Club is made up of both regular Republicans and Colbyites, but several Colbyites present voted against it, while other Colbyites did not vote.

THE CANDIDATES.

Whatever may be the outcome of the Republican primaries on Sept. 25, there is no reason why any member of the party cannot vote for the winning municipal ticket. Both Mr. Mellick and Mr. Depew are men of the highest integrity. Neither would allow himself to be bossed by any one man or set of men; neither one could be led to do anything save that which is for the best interests of the city of Plainfield. While Mr. Mellick is somewhat better known to the people of the community by reason of his past official services, his opponent, Mr. Depew, has amply demonstrated by his services in the Plainfield Protective Association that he has the interests of the people at heart and is a man of much civic virtue. It is a healthy condition politically when men show independence of spirit and much good can come from the present dissention in the party. Let the voters fight it out squarely at the primaries and then turn in for the winning ticket.

APPEAL FOR CONTRIBUTIONS.

According to the treasurer of the fund, the free open air band concerts given on Friday night throughout the summer have been conducted at a loss. At the present time the deficit amounts to approximately $125 and it is very necessary that that amount be raised at once. On Friday night the final concert will be given. At that time an opportunity will be afforded the general public to make good the deficit and it is to be hoped that there will be a generous response to the appeal. In the meantime, The Daily Press will be glad to receive donations, which will be promptly acknowledged in these columns and transmitted to the treasurer of the fund.

STREET WORK.

Macadamizing Division Street, Between Sixth and Seventh Streets.

The macadamizing of Division street, between Sixth and Seventh streets, which has been delayed by the work of putting gas pipes underground and changing the water connections, will be finished within a few days. C. M. Meeker, who has the contract to macadamize Division street, between Fifth and Sixth streets, expects to start the work soon.

Contractors Callahan & Chamberlain, who have the work of extending the sewer system in the East End of the city, are now on East Second street, near Johnston avenue. The contractors have had some trouble in keeping laborers, for just as soon as they get other kinds of street work they leave. Labor is scarce at present and it was chiefly for this reason, as well as the high price of iron, that the city has temporarily held up the plans for the southside sewer.

Plainfielder's Place Damaged.

Workmen engaged in demolishing the old Coal and Iron Exchange building on Cortland street, New York, fired a blast of dynamite, yesterday, to dislodge a huge coping. Several large pieces of stone were hurled across the street, one of them crashing through the front window of the sporting goods store conducted by Henry C. Squires, of this city, and causing a panic among the office people in the building. The damage sustained by Mr. Squires was quite heavy. The superintendent of the demolition work and the man in charge of the blast were arrested.

In the Borough Court.

In the borough court, last night, sentence was suspended on Hannah Vanderveer, who had been arrested for drunkenness and disorderly conduct, and on Lawrence Fahn, Jr., and two Greek companions who were arrested on Greenbrook road for fast driving.

was free to nominate whosoever he chose at the primaries. That everyone might have a fair show, the speaker said, he would be at his office in the Smalley building Thursday night to go over the ticket with anyone who might have one, and make certain that they were properly made out.

Mr. Fisk called for suggestions as to the mayoralty, but Former Mayor Alexander Gilbert, chairman of the Advisory Committee, asked the indulgence of the conference for a brief speech. He echoed all that Mr. Fisk had said, he said in opening. Petty differences should be laid aside, and all Republicans should vote in favor of good government. He had no interest politically in any man who did not stand for good government. In the past he had always stood for good government for the city of Plainfield; and he was willing to work and fight for it. He would leave the party if he could not achieve good government within it. He had no criticism to offer of the men who marched under the banner of the new idea. He honored the independent voter, the man who sought clean politics.

Plainfield, continued Mr. Gilbert, had always enjoyed good government. There were things, perhaps, that had not been to everybody's liking, but on the whole, no serious blot was on Plainfield's record. Let all those assembled lay aside their prejudices and petty differences and get together for common good. Let them be careful to name candidates who could be elected, and so put the party that had had given good government in the past in no danger.

F. E. Kinsman, chairman of the Third ward branch of the Equal Taxation League, named Mr. Depew for the mayoralty nomination, after a lengthy speech in which he told of his experiences with haughty utility corporations. He was interrupted in an earnest argument for municipal ownership of water supply, by J. B. Dumont, who tartly inquired if the conference had been called to suggest candidates or to listen to individual grievances. Mr. Kinsman stuck stauchly to the floor, but shortened his speech and placed Mr. Depew's name before the conference, as that of a man who filled all the requirements named by Mr. Fisk. Mr. Depew's name was greeted with Colbyite applause.

J. Hervey Doane named Mr. Mellick, and Councilman Leslie M. Daniel warmly seconded the suggestion. J. T. McMurray, Charles Sminck and Dr. Albert Pittis seconded Mr. Mellick's nomination, and Howard C. Tracy, N. M. Smith and G. W. V. Moy seconded the nomination of Mr. Depew. The vote was taken by count of hands. The announcement of Mr. Mellick's victory was greeted with sustained applause.

The Colbyite candidates for freeholder, J. Fred McDonald and Dr. W. F. Gaston, were placed in opposition to Freeholder Wilbur and J. Hervey Doane. Mr. Wilbur received 79 votes, Mr. Doane 71, Mr. McDonald 27, and Dr. Gaston 20.

The meeting ended with the announcement of the vote on the freeholder nominations. In closing it, Mr. Fisk referred to the stay-at-home vote.

"If the voters would all come out," he said, "there would be no need of paid workers or of hiring carriages. I do not like hiring workers and sending carriages around. If the stay-at-homes come out and vote, instead of kicking, boss rule would be cut out. The carriage voters is usually a kicker, and I have no use for a mere kicker. I like a man with ideas, but the man with the kick does not impress men."

Ward candidates will be picked by the regulars at meetings to be held without delay.

THE FORUM.

No Boss Big Enough.

Editor, The Daily Press:

I understand that Judge Runyon boasts that he served the so-called "machine" for nine years. I also understand that he says he got disgusted when the so-called machine did not carry out an alleged promise to give a job in the fire department to a political and personal friend of his. I further understand that the Common Council would not stand for Judge Runyon's candidate, the majority of the members of that body holding that another by right of his service and position in the department was entitled to the place.

Why should Judge Runyon get mad and become a "reformer" just because he learned that he was not powerful enough to have such a bad appointment made, and why should he and his friends now claim that the city government is in the grip of bosses when he found to his sorrow that there was no boss big enough to dictate to the governing body of the city?

Street Work Nearing Completion.

The street gang is rapidly finishing up the repair work on East Fifth street and on Watchung avenue, between Fourth and Fifth streets, where new rails and ties have been laid by the Public Service Corporation. The work is now being extended on Watchung avenue, between Fourth street and North avenue. The repair work on West Front street has been delayed a little because the men were needed to rush the work in the center of town.

Exempts Will Not Parade.

The Plainfield exempt firemen will not take part in the parade of the Elizabeth department next month. The committee appointed to act upon the invitation reported at the meeting last night that the expense would be too much and it would be impossible for the association to go. The cost of repairing the silver hose carriage, hiring music and other things, they said, would amount to between $700 and $1,000. Accordingly, the members voted unanimously to give up all hope of going. The remainder of the meeting was devoted to routine business.

Mr. and Mrs. William A. Conner, of Hillside avenue, have gone to Lake George for a pleasure trip.

HARRY STAFFORD QUITS THE PRINTING BUSINESS.

Joseph Eckstein, of Brooklyn, Buys His Plant on Front Street.

Thomas H. Stafford, the well-known printer, has sold his business on East Front street, the new owner being Joseph Eckstein, of Brooklyn, who for a number of years was employed by the McCall Publishing Company, of New York. Mr. Eckstein took possession of the business yesterday.

Mr. Stafford started the business four years ago and during that time he has been successful. Prior to that time he was employed for eleven years by the Elizabeth Journal, giving up that position to come to Plainfield. His plans for the future are not fixed as yet, but it is likely that he will take a pleasure trip.

Mrs. Archie G. Niles, of West Second street, underwent an operation at Muhlenberg Hospital today.

Miss May Serrell, of Plainfield avenue, who has been spending her vacation at Lake Hopatcong, has returned home.

W. G. Besler, of the borough, vice president and general manager of the New Jersey Central, is expected home the last of the week from a business trip to Canada.

SCHOOLS OPENED TODAY

In Both City and Borough the Pupils Return to Their Studies.

SOME NEW FACES SEEN

Changes in the Teaching Corps—Dr. Maxson and Mr. Krebs Make Addresses.

Refreshed and invigorated after their long vacations, boys and girls in the city and borough trooped back to school this morning to begin their studies for the Fall term. In all of the local buildings, an increase of pupils was noted but there was room for everyone and in a short time classes had been assigned and the regular routine commenced. As is the case every year, the lower grades were filled to their capacity but in the Grammar and High school departments many more than appeared could have been accommodated. The total enrollment will be made known tomorrow or Thursday.

In the city High school, Dr. Maxson made his customary address to the students. In the course of his remarks he spoke of the advantages of a vacation and the many benefits derived from a season of rest and pleasure, not the least of which is the increased strength that one acquires. Sound in mind and body, the student is certain to be successful in the school year. The attitude of the boy or girl toward work in the first few weeks of school, Dr. Maxson said, decides what will be accomplished in the whole year and in turn will effect the years to come. The accumulation of little deficiencies, he said, would in time result in failure. The speaker concluded by summing up the three motives by which the world's work is accomplished: necessity, duty and love of work. He showed the great differences of character in the results. The people, he said, who work for the love of work achieve the greatest results and get the real enjoyment out of life.

The new teachers in the High school department are C. A. Mathewson, German, biology and physical geography; Charles Bostwick, manual training; Miss Mary Lock, succeeding Miss Phoebe Lovell as teacher of English.

Superintendent Krebs and his corps of teachers welcomed back the pupils of the North Plainfield schools and by recess had everything in shipshape order. The enrollment in the lower grades will show a large increase and there are also many new scholars in the upper departments due to the entrance of pupils from surrounding districts where the higher grades have been abolished. During the usual assembly exercises, Mr. Krebs addressed the gathering and gave the new and old pupils some wholesome advice as to their course in the year to come.

PERSONAL.

Miss Julia Scribner, of East Front street, is stopping in the Adirondacks, where she has spent the summer.

William Mundy, of the borough, has returned from his vacation. He spent a portion of the time at Niagara Falls.

USEFUL HINTS FOR THE HOUSEKEEPER.

If table or toilet silver is allowed to lie in thick, sour milk for half an hour, then washed in soap and water, to which a little ammonia is added, rinsed with clear hot water, and wiped with a soft woolen cloth, it will be bright as new without the tiresome rubbing so necessary with dry polishes. The milk must cover the articles to have the process successful.

Up-to-date housekeepers will find comfort, in the statement of one of the best carpet houses that a Wilton or Axminster carpet should never be swept with a straw broom. After lightly whisking the corners and edges the carpet sweeper should be used as long as necessary to remove the dirt.

At least once a week the carpet sweeper should be thoroughly cleaned and the brush freed from hairs and threads. The bearings should be frequently oiled, the smallest amount being used, and a feather will be easy to apply the oil with.

All hooks used in bathroom, kitchen or pantry should be dipped in enamel paint and thoroughly dried before being screwed in. Then there will be no rust spots on towels or clothes that are hung on them while damp.

An artistic receptacle for holding a small amount of kindlings and shavings is made from two squares of fine Japanese matting laced together on three sides with raffia, and having raffia covered rings on the open side, through which a heavy fibre cord is run to hang by.

In washing blankets the advice of an old laundress is: Never rub soap directly on a blanket, but dissolve it in the water. When it is taken from the last water, hang upon a strong line, where the breeze will strike it, and pull and stretch in shape. Allow it to remain until dry, then pack it away until cold weather with plenty of gum cahphor placed within its folds.

Keep the telephone clean. The mouth-piece of a telephone may become a fruitful source of disease dissemination. Use a few drops of carbolic acid on the damp cloth with which you wipe it off. The reason is obvious in this "germ age."

An admirable way to clean bamboo furniture is to wash it well in warm water containing a gill of salt to each quart. This will preserve the color.

In choosing a stair carpet it is in better taste to select a plain stair carpet than a figured one, but if the latter be preferred choose a small, close-set design with subdued colors well mingled.

When milk has been burned pour it at once into a jug and stand it in a basin of cold water until it is cool, when it will be found to be quite free from the burned smell and taste.

If a piece of Japanese grass matting the exact size of the mattress is placed between it and the sheet it will assure a cool bed during the warm summer months. The mattress is fastened to the four corners of the bed by loops of tape. This is a device used by the English officers in India.

An Easily Made Lamp Shade—The most easily made lamp shade is a square of silk, with a hole in the centre, and the lower part trimmed with lace edging or fringe.

A Stopped-up Pipe—The water pipe from a sink or lavatory basin often becomes clogged up with soapy matter. Don't send for a plumber, but instead pour down first a little paraffine, and immediately after some boiling water in which a fairly large piece of common washing soda has been dissolved. It will clear the pipe immediately.

To Keep Away Moths—A bottle of camphor or oil of cedar with the cork left out, if hung on a hook in the closet, will keep away moths without imparting a disagreeable odor to the clothing.

To Remove Wrinkles from Clothes—Hang the garment in the bathroom over the tub. Close the windows and turn on the hot water. In an hour or so they will be thoroughly steamed, after which they should be hung in the fresh air.

The Best Way to Roast Almonds—When roasting almonds for salting or for bonbons put them in a corn-popper and hold them over a good fire.

To Keep the Juice in a Pie—If the juice of a fruit pie runs out, try putting a small funnel of white paper in the centre of the upper crust.

LEAF DOILIES.

The girl who loves summer handiwork need ned depend on the art-embroidery stores for stamping the linen she is to embroider. This is just the season to make the pretty leaf finger-bowl doilies so much in fashion. Select a large and perfect maple or oak leaf, and from this cut your pattern. Outline the design on your linen, drawing it in lightly with a pencil, or you may use tracing paper if you have it. If not, put your leaf and linen against the window-pane, and after getting the outline of the leaf, trace the main veins of it. Now buttonhole the edge of the leaf to a width of one-fourth of an inch all around the design, using green embroidery silk. Work the vein in simple outline stitching.

Besides maple and oak, clover leaves are especially pretty. Of course, these have to be a good deal enlarged. Six doilies in cloverleaf pattern, also several clover leaves grouped together to form a centre-piece, and a set of very small butter plate doilies in the same design make a lovely set. These will make any table look fresh and pretty, and are attractive on outdoor tea tables under the trees, says the Woman's Home Companion.

Effective leaf doilies can also be made of coarser linen and buttonholed with dull shades of green linen embroidery thread or with mercerized embroidery cotton (sold for five cents a ball). This work is so simple that any girl can do it, and forms an ideal summer fancy work for girls.

CARE OF BRUSHES.

Tooth and nail brushes should always be stood in such a position that all water can drain from them.

Household brushes last much longer if taken care of and washed regularly. Remember that they should never be allowed to rest on the bristles.

Long-handled one should be hung up by the heads, and short ones either propped upright on a shelf or suspended by a piece of twine. Hearth brushes will last nearly as long again if they are kept hung up.

For cleaning household brushes, make a solution of soda by dissolving one pound in one quart of water. Stir over the fire itll dissolved, then bottle for use.

Add one tablespoonful to a quart of water; wash the brushes in this, using also a little soap for the soft hair ones; rinse in clean cold water and dry in the open air, says Woman's Life.

Brushes that have been used for paint can be cleaned with turpentin,e and spirits of wine will remove varnish.

HEALTH HINTS.

Never neglect your daily exercise. A brisk walk for a couple of miles in the fresh morning air is one of the first essentials. Plain, nourishing food and abundance of good, ripe fruit is another. Fruit is best eaten in the morning. Bananas are easy of digestion to some and very nutritious; grapes are nourishing and fattening; apples are especially good for brain workers, and oranges are of great benefit to peope afflicted with rheumatism. Personal cleanliness is the next essential in keeping young. A daily bath and a good rub will clear the complexion faster than medicine. Have plenty of fresh air in your living and sleeping rooms. Leave your bedroom window open from the top several inches every night, no mater how cold the weather; have your bed covering warm and light, says Woman's Life. On getting up in the morning arrange your bedding and bed, so that they may be thoroughly aired; leave the window open in your bedroom the greater part of the day.

HAIR TELLS CHARACTER.

Color of Hair Said to Indicate a Person's Temperament.

Many people believe that blonde, or light hair denotes affection and dark hair constancy. A person without hair is not devoid of character; far from it. The disposition of the average bald-headed man is to show such solicitude for the welfare of others, that he neglects himself. A germ causes baldness. Prof. Sabouraud, of Paris, France, inoculated a rabbit with Dandruff germs, causing it to become totally bald in five weeks' time. To rid the scalp of these dangerous germs it is necessary to apply Newbro's Herpicide.

"Destroy the cause—you remove the effect."

By OLIVIA B. STROHM

(Copyright, 1905, by Olivia B. Strohm).

Most of the party had dismounted, and now stood in groups idly amused, and only slightly interested in the proceedings. The girl they had come in search of, was safe—they were ready to go home—why this delay? Nevertheless, they all paid strict attention to Winslow, who turned to them with blazing, eloquent eyes.

"Friends, in behalf of this young lady, and of my own honor—which is almost as dear—I want to tell you how I found her, and why I presumed to start on the search. Don't you remember that I said I might go, but if so, it would be alone?"

There were murmurs of assent, and the burly Tobias Judson, who had urged Winslow to start with them from the tavern, came good-naturedly forward. "Thet you did, Pardner, and ef we hadn't a ben so d—d smart, we'd a-known ye was goin'."

"Just so, sir, thank you. I received a hint which was left me by my servant, with one whom I am not at liberty to mention. As man to man, I assure you that I went forth groping, except for that slight clew. It led me to the hut, a temporary shelter of a friend of Owatoga's. One with whom she had been safe, one of whom you have all heard. Ask Daniel Boone to tell Miss Creighton's story. Ask him whether or not the schoolmaster is a gentleman."

The name of Boone acted like magic, and the popular tide was at once turned in the speaker's favor. It was known that the pioneer was even then on a sojourn in his beloved wilderness. What more natural than that things had happened as the schoolmaster had said. Besides, it was a matter easily proven, and of this—constituting himself Winslow's champion, Tobias reminded the crowd. "We all know Dan Boone, and we all know Charlie Winslow. 'Tain't much of a risk to trust a woman with either of 'em; eh, boys?"

There were cries of "It's all right;" "Come on;" three cheers for the schoolmaster."

There were cheers for Lavender, too, while she gave her hand to some of the least bashful, a word of thanks to all, and, smiling, stood alone in the center of the road waving adieux until the party were out of sight.

CHAPTER XXVII.

Together, silent, in darkness and without a fire, Daniel Boone and Owatoga sat listening—conscious of danger, alert, but unafraid. Their hiding-place was sheltered, but no spot was proof against the brand or bullet, and the Indians were on their track. Owatoga had reconnoitered, and in the early dusk, himself undiscovered—had come upon a group of them in secret council. They knew this was the right trail—they would follow it with all cunning and persistence; they would not abandon the quarry now almost lured.

Daniel Boone received the news in silence; finally he glanced up from his carving to say: "Daniel Boone has tired them out before; he can do it again. We are together this time, Owatoga; we can stand it as long as they can."

He resumed his work, and quiet reigned. One by one the stars came out, until across the zenith shone long arcs of light, forming a bridge above their heads with the giant pines for pillars. On a sudden the quiet was broken—the sounds were faint at first, then louder and louder, until to their ears was plainly borne the noise of men in fight. The crack of rifles, the tumult of voices, all the indistinguishable sounds which, in their very vagueness, carry so much of sinister import.

Boone and the Indian stood erect, their rifles directed towards the opening in the grove. They exchanged not a word. Neither was given to speech—both knew how to wait. The din sounded nearer, and then ceased as suddenly as it commenced. There was a sound of men in retreat, which distance quickly stifled, then all was still.

But the quiet was brief. Again voices were heard, but this time there was no clamor, no note of alarm. Only muttered sounds, and scraps of disjointed talk. The speakers drew nearer to where the watchers peered into the dark. At last a white something fluttered in the trees, and cheery halloos sounded.

"A truce!" and slowly Boone's rifle dropped.

Then a familiar voice reached Owatoga's ears; a tone which awakened response in the stoical breast, and his gun, too, fell at his side. "Owatoga, it is I, Winslow."

There were shouts of greeting, and torches waved above the heads of a band of men who came slowly forward, a search party of the villagers led by Winslow.

In their midst they carried a litter, whereon lay a man, face downward, as if to hide from even the pitying gaze of the stars. Two or three others limped along, groaning, between their companions. Confusion followed, and in the excitement, one fact alone was clear. The relief party, with Rev. Luke at its head, had come, without warning, upon the besiegers, and routed them after a sharp fight. To each man, in his version of the fray, Boone left ears willing, yet tingling with discontent that he could know of it but as a tale rehearsed.

"I thank you all from the bottom of this old heart," he said. "My heart, which leaps yet at thought of this night's danger. 'Tis the worst of old age, that we must let others do for us; that others must risk their lives for ours—ours, that are not worth the trouble," he ended, bitterly.

He moved to the litter that had been placed near a new-built fire. The sufferer's head was swathed in a rude bandage, but as Boone approached, the eyes opened—eyes large, glittering and dark as the night which, for them, no more could star nor fire make bright.

One of those who bent above him rose and said aside to Boone: "He hain't long to linger. He was shot by one o' the red spawn o' hell, and it's odds ef he rallies enough to curse the bullet that put him there."

"IT'S ODDS EF HE RALLIES ENOUGH TO CURSE THE BULLET THET PUT HIM THERE."

Boone bent over the pallet until his white hair swept the raven locks of him who lay there. "You came to save me," he whispered, "and yet you lie here. God forgive me!"

A tear dropped upon the dying man's cheek, warming it, and sending through his frame a renewed thrill. "I want to live—to live—for her," he gasped. "Tell them to take me back. I must not die away from her."

He choked for a moment, then: "Send the holy man, the priest."

Boone beckoned to Rev. Luke, who came to the side of the litter.

Gonzaga murmured: "I want to go back; I can't die here, there are too many trees," and he moved his head uneasily from side to side. "My soul could not find the way out." Then, stretching out his hand, feebly: "Take me back to her. I can't die here, alone."

GOTHAM'S AMUSEMENTS

Blanche Walsh has settled down for a run in "The Kreutzer Sonata" at the Manhattan theatre, where Jacob Gordin's tremendous domestic drama has gripped the theatre goers of New York, with its powerful tragic scenes, its delightful comedy and its rapidly moving and interesting story. It is a real life story that holds attention from the rise of the curtain. In every line there is an element of human nature that compels silent attention until the last act climax calls out a whirlwind of applause. The acting of Miss Walsh as the devoted and suffering Hattie has been instantly recognized as the acme of art, and she has once again demonstrated that she is the foremost tragic actress of today. The houses are packed nightly and during the past week more than 600 were turned away unable to secure seats.

At the Colonial theatre, Boston, Monday, September 24, Henry B. Harris will make his first metropolitan offering of Charles Klein's latest play of American life and events, "The Daughters of Men." For the new production Mr. Harris has organized a notable cast of players including Effie Shannon, Orrin Johnson, Dorothy Donnelly, Herbert Kelcey, Grace Filkins, Ralph Delmore, Kate McLaurin, E. W. Morrison, Carl Ahrendt, George W. Deyo, Edwin Brandt, Frank Brownlee, George Parsons, Lynn Phatt, J. W. Howland and Joseph Adelman.

Rose Stahl, under the management of Henry B. Harris, made her New York debut as a star at the Savoy theatre, New York, September 1, in James Forbes' four-act play, "The Chorus Lady," scoring an immediate hit.

Here is what some of the New York papers said:

"Miss Stahl's portrayal is an luminous as Mr. Mansfield's Chevrial, Mrs. Carter's Zaza, or Mr. Warfield's Music Master."—Evening Mail.

"A great success."—New York Herald.

"A wonderful creation."—Evening Globe.

"Held audience breathless until the curtain fell."—Morning World.

This looks as though Miss Stahl and "The Chorus Lady" had come to stay.

The opening of new plays does not seem to affect in the least the big business of "The Lion and the Mouse," which Henry B. Harris is presenting at the Lyceum theatre, New York, and which is now in the second season of its success. The theme of the play which is most pertinent to the times, showing as it does the influence of the great moneyed interests in American politics, has a very wide appeal to all classes of American people, and bids fair to give the Klein piece an everlasting popularity. That this excellent drama will remain at the Lyceum far into the winter season, there seems at present little doubt.

LITERARY NOTES.

If the first of the fall numbers of this superb magazine, which is now on all news stands, is an indication of what the publishers propose to furnish for the coming months the public will have reason to be delighted. The cover of the September number is particularly striking, not only for its artistic color work but the dainty creations which it portrays. Among the prominent people whose portraits are shown in this number are Cecelia Loftus, Julia Sanderson, Duchess of Marlborough, Viola Allen, Secretary Root and family, the late Lady Curzon, Hon. Whitelaw Reed, the late Russell Sage and a number of exceedingly beautiful silver point drawings of prominent people throughout the world. In the panoramic form are superb rural scenes from different parts of the United States and some specially attractive views of Paris. Another in the series of caricatures is presented this month in the person of DeWolf Hopper in his character as King Estaticus in "Happy Land." Burr Publishing Company, New York.

OCEAN CO. CRANBERRY CROP CUT OVER HALF.

Wet Weather Followed by Hot Sun and "Scald" Blight Cause of Shortage.

Trenton, Sept. 11.—Reports from Ocean county show that the New Jersey cranberry crop this year will fall below one-half a crop, because of the wet weather. It is estimated that fully one-half the crop has been ruined permanently, as the season is too late to change the condition.

Ocean county is the greatest cranberry section of New Jersey, and supplies all of the berries in the Philadelphia and New York markets. The Holman bogs, situated south of Lakewood, and the largest in the county, show but half a crop, while the Harrison bogs, but little smaller in extent, show less than half a crop.

So it runs throughout all the cranberry bogs of Ocean county. The wet weather, followed by hot sun, destroyed many berries, and allowed the "scald" to get on others. This blight is peculiar to cranberries, and the Agriculture Department at Washington is studying it.

William R. Sweeney, who has been travelling abroad for a Trenton business house, is now in London. He expects to reach home about October 1.

DIAMOND DUST.

Dave Driscoll, formerly captain and first baseman of the Plainfield team, is playing a similar position for Long Branch, where he has a fast bunch of players on his team. He is as popular as ever.

The Hoboken team is now representing Red Bank in the Atlantic Coast League, and their playing clearly demonstrates that they are the strongest aggregation in the league. During the two weeks that the team has played at Red Bank it has not lost a game, winning several games easily.

"Jimmy" Clinton, formerly of Elizabeth, is now the second pitcher on Manager Daab's staff of twirlers. He works on Saturday, while "Willie" Deegan pitches on Sunday.

Despite the fact that "Lou" Wiltse is one of the best hitters in the game, he couldn't get even a single at Flemington on Saturday, when he played with Somerville, simply "because the umpire wouldn't let 'em."

The Somerville fans are anxious that their town shall take on a series with Plainfield next season, and the local fans are just as anxious. Under these circumstances it should not be difficult to arrange it.

Pitcher Skillen, of Dartmouth, who is claimed to be the best college twirler of the season, has pledged himself to sign with the Boston Americans should he decide to play professional baseball next season.

Weidensaul, of Toronto, has had a varied experience this season. He started with Montreal, who traded to Toronto, sent back to Montreal on another deal and is now with Toronto.

Report has it that "Willie" Deegan may go with the New York Giants next season. In fact he has promised to go with an Eastern League Club.

Very few of the youngsters who have been given a chance in fast company this season have made good. One of the noteworthy exceptions is that of Joe Doyle, now with the Highlanders. He jumped from a minor to a major league and has not yet lost a game he has pitched.

The All-Americans will play the deciding game with the Clinton Avenue team Saturday for the championship of the city amateur nines. The All-Americans are ticked over last Saturday's victory and are after the coming game on the jump. The Clinton Avenues were crippled Saturday, but will strengthen up for Saturday's contest. Both teams made a string of errors in the last game, anxiety to win giving the teams spasms of nerve trouble.

Lester Glenney beat George Cathcart, 6-0, 6-4; W. L. Righter beat W. B. Taylor, by default; Albert D. Beers beat C. L. Crape, by default; Gordon Abbott beat McLain Parker, 6-0, 6-0; J. W. Baker beat Lawrence Mead, 6-2, 6-2; J. L. Fleming beat J. Hartley Mellick, 6-0, 6-4; O. Rogers beat C. F. Ivins, 6-2, 6-0; W. L. Lockwood and George S. Ring both defaulted; Perry Brown beat T. W. T. Maxwell, 3-6, 6-4, 9-7; John Martin beat F. Frost, 6-1, 6-2; R. S. Gough beat N. Campbell, 6-3, 6-1; Owen H. Fleming beat Arthur Lovell, 6-0, 6-4. Second round—H. J. Cochran beat Wylie Brown, 6-0, 6-0; Percy Brown beat J. Rex Schoonmaker, 3-6, 6-1, 6-0; W. Lester Glenney beat W. L. Righter, by default; Albert D. Beers beat Gordon Abbott, 6-1, 6-1; J. Whitney Baker beat J. L. Fleming, 6-1, 5-7, 6-3; O. Rogers won by default; Percy Brown beat John Martin, 6-2, 6-1; Owen H. Fleming beat R. S. Gough, 6-2, 6-3. In the semi-finals, J. Whitney Baker beat O. Rogers, 6-0, 6-3. Two cups are offered as prizes in the tournament, one for the winner and the other for the runner-up.

NEW MILEAGE RULE ON PENNSYLVANIA.

Transferable Ticket May Be Bought For Two-Cent Rate.

New 1,000-mile tickets were furnished to all agents of the Pennsylvania Railroad September 1. These books contain coupons entitling the holder to travel one thousand miles over any of the lines of the Pennsylvania Railroad system east of Pittsburg, Erie and Buffalo, inclusive, and the Cumberland Valley Railroad, and are sold at a rate of $20. They are valid for use for one year from date of purchase. They may be purchased with the same ease as card tickets or any other ticket not requiring signature or witness. The name of the holder does not appear upon it, and it is good for the transportation of anyone who presents it, and as many others accompanying him as the mileage limit will include.

The ticket will be accepted for transportation on any part of the Pennsylvania Railroad system east of Pittsburg, including the Cumberland Valley Railroad, for distances exceeding two miles, except in certain specified portions of the territory within the city limits of the larger terminals. It is valid for passage on all passenger trains, when accompanied by the necessary extra fare and Pullman charges, with the exception of the Pennsylvania Special, the eighteen-hour train between New York and Chicago.

Blue Book of Negro "400."

The members of Chicago's negro "400" are listed in the "Colored People's Blue Book of Chicago," just published. The book contains 90 pages of advertisements of business concerns run by negroes, a classified business and professional directory and names of 400 "prominent colored people," selected according to social standing. According to this directory, Chicago's negro population has 35 churches, 39 lawyers, 4 newspapers, 40 physicians, 14 literary clubs, 10 social clubs and 25 women clubs.—National Advertiser.

CHAIRMAN FISK'S SPEECH

EXPLAINED PRIMARIES

Following is the speech delivered by former Mayor Charles J. Fisk before the Republican meeting last night, at which he was the presiding officer:

"Gentlemen: The Republican party in the city of Plainfield stands for honest election and honest officials. The party stands for officials that are honest, upright, independent, progressive, and broadminded men that are nominated by the people and will act at all times for the people, in the interests of the people without any undue influence from any political force or organization whatsoever. The Republican party in Plainfield stands for equal taxation; for taxation of the corporation or railway, the same as the individual.

"I wish the nominations for our city officers could be made directly by the people without going through the machinery of a convention. This meeting is called for the public in the interests of the Republican voters and not in the interest of any faction, individuals, candidates or bosses of political organization. It is called that we may get together and discuss the proper officials, the proper men to be elected in the city of Plainfield, men that we can go before the primary with September 25 and not be ashamed of, and whom we feel we can support.

"The first thing to do in order to vote at the primary is that you must be registered.

"Nine months ago I was asked to act as chairman of the Republican executive committee in the city of Plainfield. My reply to that was, I will act as chairman if I can act independently and in the interest of the Republican voters in the city and not in the interest of any faction, or be dictated to by anybody except the voters themselves. I agreed at that time that I would give the voters an opportunity to come together and to discuss the candidates that would be placed upon the ticket. I also said I would try to explain the workings of the primary law so that everybody would know exactly how to nominate a candidate to be voted on at the primary. That, gentlemen, is the object of this meeting.

"I said at that time that the executive committee hadn't any candidates that they wouldn't have any candidates; they come before you tonight without a candidate. They are here not to act in an executive capacity, but carry out your will. Now in order to have the name of a candidate placed upon the ticket, in the first place he must be a qualified Republican voter.

"In a community of this kind there is always a difference of opinion, and it is best that there is. If all men were alike life wouldn't be worth living. All business would come to a stand-still, progress would cease. There would be no need of an election; we would just drift along. Because a man differs from you, and has a different opinion in regard to certain subjects that you do, that is no reason you are to call him your enemy. He may be your best friend, and you may be able to gain something that you otherwise would not have thought of. That is the reason why we have all come together to try if possible to agree; but I want it to be distinctly understood by every member of this audience, so that everybody here may feel absolutely free to express his opinion and to take part in any discussion that may come up, that he is not obligating himself in any way, shape or manner to stand by anything that may be done in this room tonight. This is not a caucus, it is a conference. If a man be nominated here that you do not think a proper man to fill that office, you are not obligated in any way, because you are present at this meeting, to go out and cast your vote for him at the primary. You can go out and if you can get ten men to act with you, you can nominate a man for whatever office there is.

"Now, gentlemen, what I say I hope it will not be misconstrued in any way. I want to tell you that I am a candidate for no office. I could not take an office of any kind in the city of Plainfield if it were offered to me.

"I want to say that I have been connected with the government of the city of Plainfield ever since the year 1890 and taken an active interest in whatever went on in this city ever since that time with the exception of a few years when I was unable to attend any of the meetings or conventions, but have taken an active interest in the city government in one capacity or another: as councilman, mayor, members of the Board of Health, kept in touch with everything that was going on in this town. I feel that I am very well qualified to know what is needed here in the way of a chief executive.

"I have seen this town grown up from a village to a city of the third class, and to a city of the second class. The population has doubled within the time I came here. At that time they had just commenced to put down macadam streets. They had no sewerage system. The laying of sidewalks was very incomplete. The finances of the city were kept like an account in a country grocery store. With the representative gentlemen of the council we reorganized the finances of the city and adopted a system by which anybody can go into the treasurers office and see what is done, they can see how the money is spent, and exactly how the finances stand.

"With Mr. Erickson I served on the Fire Committee when the building ordinance was adopted. The fire department was absolutely and entirely reorganized during that time. The police department was also reorganized. The Board of Health was taken up. Plainfield has steadily progressed. With all this, in regard to boss rule and everything of that kind, some of it may be true, and a great deal of it is not true. There may be some abuses, but they can be corrected, and it is up to the voters to correct it. You have it in your power; you can do it if you want to. If you will pay attention, if you will give a little of your time and interest, all of those things can be corrected and brought around the way they ought to. But Plainfield today stands as a place that is absolutely free from graft. We have hose wagons in Plainfield as good as any hose wagons which we bought at the very same time that Jersey City bought hose wagons, and ours cost $425, Jersey City paid $550, bought from the same maker, exactly the same wagon, and the maker said he made more on the Plainfield wagons than on the wagons sold Jersey City.

"Now Plainfield for an executive officer has got to have a man that is beyond reproach, and has got to be a man of stirling character; a man that is absolutely honest; a man that is broadminded; a man that has a magnetic influence that can bring things around and draw people to him, who will give time and attention to the people, that will listen to the humblest on the street as quick as to the millionaire, and has got to be a man absolutely independent, will hear what people have to say but who has a courage of his own conviction and when he makes up his mind to act he will act independently of any undue or outside influence for the good of the people and the citizens of Plainfield. That is the man that you want.

"For councilmen you do not want any man with an idea. You do not want a man who can only see one thing at a time. You do not want men that think the ward or district from which they are elected is the whole of the city. You want men who will look at the city and realize they are representatives of the voters of the city and will act in the interests of the people, of the whole people.

"Now, gentlemen, I want to see Plainfield the best governed city, not only in Union county, I want to see Plainfield the best governed city in the world; a place that is looked up to for intelligent, straightforward government, independent of any county, State, national or any other election; let us work together for the good government of Plainfield. (Applause.) Let us put the very best men we have in office. (Applause.)

"And now, gentlemen, as I stated before, this meeting is for conference. Now I turn the meeting over to you for such suggestions as you think best. When we get through and the primary is over, let us all join together and elect the men we nominate, but be careful of your nominations so that we will be free to vote for any man who is nominated." (Applause.)

HEAVY REGISTRY IN CITY

4,715 Names Are Already on the Lists in the Four Wards.

DECREASE IN BOROUGH

Lists Closed for the Primaries in Plainfield and In North Plainfield.

There are nearly 4,715 voters registered in the four wards of the city who will be privileged to take part in the primaries on Tuesday, September 25, the new law providing that the Republicans and Democrats shall hold their primaries at the same time. This is a substantial increase for the first registry throughout the city over last year, notably in the First, Second and Fourth wards. Yesterday was the first registry day, and all voters whose names do not now appear on the list cannot vote at primaries. There will be other registry days, however, which will give those who have failed to register a chance to do so and vote at the November election.

First ward—First district, 676; Second district, 386.

NORTH PLAINFIELD.

The total registration in the borough yesterday was 1,428 divided as follows: First district, 715; Second district, 713. Though this is not the final count it is much below last year's total. In 1905 the entire registration in November was 1,543, of which 743 were in the First district and 800 in the Second.

The Borough Board of Registry is as follows: First district, W. W. Rowley, C. G. Wood, D. L. Gulick and Fred Koller; Second district, James K. Arnold, L. C. Kline, L. A. McLaughlin and L. B. Bodine.

JUDGE ATWATER BUSY

MAKING UNION CO. VOTERS.

In One Day the Court Granted Naturalization Papers to Seventy-Five Aliens.

Today is the last one on which County Clerk James C. Calvert will receive applications for naturalization papers. After two weeks no more naturalization papers will be granted by Judge Atwater under the old law, for in fifteen days from today it will be replaced by the new one, which imposes stricter conditions.

In order to secure papers under the old law there has been an unusual number of applicants. There have been about 200 applications, and since many of these are for final papers, the honor of being made citizens of the United States has been conferred upon almost 150 persons. Last week at one sitting Judge Atwater naturalized seventy-five aliens. Most of these were Italians and Poles.

Dr. Lowrie Injured Riding a Wheel.

Dr. H. H. Lowrie, of Park avenue, is laid up at his home with severe injuries which he received yesterday afternoon while riding his bicycle. The handle bar on the wheel broke and threw the rider over the head of the machine. Dr. Lowrie received a cut on the head and nose, his face was lacerated and several teeth were knocked out. He was not very far from home when he had the accident but it was with difficulty that he reached his residence. He will be detained from business for several days.

Makes An Assignment.

Certificate of assignment has been filed in the office of the county clerk by Frank VanWinkle, a retail dealer in photographic supplies at 129 North avenue. The assignment has been made to William R. Codington for the purpose of securing to his creditors an equal distribution of his estate. VanWinkle's indebtedness is $962.49.

SILENCED BUSINESS AGENT

Justice Mosher Squelched Union Man Who Insisted on Talking.

AT RUSHMORE HEARING

Machinists Wanted Adjournment, But Couldn't Get It—Krom Getting An Injunction Against the Union.

After hearing both sides for two hours, this morning, Justice Mosher reserved his decision in the Jacobson- Rushmore case for a week. The hearing brought out practically nothing new, except a statement that Rushmore was warned he might be stopped and threatened if he went to the Krom works.

Jacobson made an unsuccessful application for adjournment after he learned that only counsel could be allowed to speak in court. Joseph Sonnabend, of Newark, a business agent of the International Association of Machinists, protested against the ruling, and persisted in prompting Jacobson until Justice Mosher ordered him to another part of the court.

Mr. Rushmore's story was to the effect that Jacobson and Herbert Utzinger, who acknowledged on the stand that he was a picket at the Krom Machine Works, threatened him, after he told them he was a professional strike breaker. He made that statement, he said, to see how men in that position were treated. He swore that the two men followed him, and talked to him threateningly, and that it was only after a half a block of that sort of experience that he displayed his revolver. He said the weapon was unloaded and that he merely showed its butt. He put it in his pocket because Harry C. Starkweather, a salesman for the Waterbury Brass Company, had told him of an encounter with strikers at the Krom shop that afternoon.

Jacobson's testimony was to the effect that he merely happened to be going down North avenue behind Mr. Krom and that the latter turned on him with the revolver without cause or provocation. Jacobson testified that he was a special agent of the Machinists' Union.

Julius Friedman, an employee of the Metal and Wire Works, swore that Jacobson shook his fist at Mr. Rushmore as the two stood in the Metal and Wire plant before the revolver episode. Utzinger admitted on the stand that he had occosted Rushmore and warned him that there was a strike in the Krom place.

After the hearing Arthur Krom, head of the Krom works, announced that he had taken steps to apply for an injunction restraining the strikers from picketting his shop. It is understood that some of the testimony given this morning will be used in that action.

COUNTY TAXATION BOARD

TRYING TO FIX RATE.

Somerset County Rate Will Be Higher Than Last Year Because of Increased Appropriations.

As near as possible at this time, the county and school rates were fixed at Somerville yesterday by the County Board of Taxation. The county rate will be about 68 cents on the hundred and the school rate will be about 18 cents.

On account of the appropriation of the Board of Freeholders, which has been increased this year $20,000, and the increase of $1,000 in the school tax, the county rate will be a little higher than last year. The county board of taxation will announce the table of ratables within a short time. In the meantime Assessor Dr. J. H. Cooley, of the borough, will determine the rate in North Plainfield for the coming year.

To Wed This Evening.

Miss Sadie A. Winckler, daughter of Elmer E. Winckler, of 135 Westervelt avenue, and Dr. Charles A. Moore, of 910 West Front street, will be married at the Winckler home this evening at 7 o'clock. Rev. Charles W. Parsons, pastor of Grace M. E. church, will officiate. Dr. More is a graduate of the University of Pennsylvania and has been a practicing dentist in this city for the past three yeras.

Clarence Bond a Delegate.

The executive committee of the First Ward Republican League for Equal Taxation has completed the delegation selected to attend the Congressional convention at Elizabeth, by appointing Clarence Bond in the place of Fred Dickerson, who declines to serve.

Given Surprise Party.

Mr. and Mrs. James Brown, of Jackson avenue, who are soon to change their residence, were given a surprise party by friends last night. Dancing and refreshments were features of the gathering.

LOST FOR 10 DAYS IN PENNSYLVANNIA

FORMER NORTH PLAINFIELD RESIDENT FOUND DAZED NEAR PITTSBURG.

James A. Ayers, a retired banker, living at South Orange, a former summer resident of North Plainfield, was found in Mars, Pa., on Monday, after having been missing for ten days. Mr. Ayres started for Chicago, but got on the wrong train and was stranded at Pittsburgh. He had been ill six weeks prior to his departure, and when found he was dazed.

A secret bulletin from the New York police department enabled the Pittsburgh authorities to trace his relatives out. He will be taken home.

Mr. Ayres spent his summer, for many years, at 10 Rockview avenue, in the house now occupied by Fred Harrington. He lived, then, in Brooklyn.

RECORD WON'T WITHDRAW.

To Stick, Notwithstanding Any Adverse Public Sentiment.

Corporation Counsel George L. Record, of Jersey City, said yesterday, that there was "no truth whatever," so far as he was concerned, in the report from Trenton that he is to withdraw as a Senatorial candidate. He added:

"As I have said before, I am in this fight to a finish. It is not for me to withdraw. If those who have placed me in the race and are supporting me say they want me to withdraw I shall do so, of course. I have received no intimation that they have any such intention or have even thought of it."

In reference to the report that he intended to release Senator Colby and the Essex assemblymen from their pledge to support him, Mr. Record said: "Whatever pledges may have been made were made to the public and not to me. It is the public the Senator and his colleagues are dealing with. Their relation in this matter is not personal with me."

3,573 SCHOOL PUPILS IN THE CITY AND BOROUGH.

Plainfield Has Total of 2,612 and North Plainfield 961.

According to the figures prepared by Superintendent Maxson, the total enrollment in the city schools yesterday, was 2,612, a gain of ninety-three over last year. The increase is mostly in the Irving, Bryant and High Schools. In the latter the entering class numbers 135, one of the largest yet recorded. The figures in the various buildings are as follows: High School, 301; Stillman, 271; Whittier, 215; Franklin, 399; Washington, 235; Bryant, 360; Irving, 585; Lincoln, 240.

Superintendent Krebs, of the borough schools, stated today that the enrollment in his district was 961. Last year it was 871. Of these there are 755 in the Somerset street building and 206 in the Watchung. It is an interesting fact that the increase in the city is only three more than in the borough.

Trolley Car Wrecks Wagon.

Edward C. Kinsey, of Somerville, while driving to Plainfield yesterday with a load of meat, had a collision with an eastbound trolley car on West Front street, near McVey's hotel. He was driving on the left hand side of the road and remained there to allow two trolley cars to pass him. He then attempted to cross to the right hand side of the road and had nearly cleared the tracks, when a third trolley struck the rear of his wagon, completely wrecking the wheels. Fortunately, the horses were not frightened and Mr. Kinsey escaped injury. He secured another wagon from Mr. McVey and continued his journey.

Pickaninny Band.

The Jenkins Orphan and Pickaninny Band and Jubilee Concert Company will give a concert at the Y. M. C. A. Saturday. Scenes of the old South will be shown, with solos, duets, trios and contesting quartettes. A silver offering will be received. The band will play at the open air meeting Sunday. Samuel Coaxum, the youngest bandmaster in the world, will lead.

Barney Tracey in the Toils.

Barney Tracey, of the city, wandered over into the borough, yesterday, and spent an hour or more sampling wet goods. He was unable to navigate when he started back home and Marshal Flack locked him up for safe keeping. Mayor Smalley and he will talk things over tonight.

Delegates to State Convention.

Chief T. O. Doane, J. O. Cranston, Patrick Neylon and Sylvanus Hoffman went to Atlantic City today to attend the annual meeting of the New Jersey State Firemen's Relief Association, which will be in session today and tomorrow.

TO END CO. BOARD RULE

Borough Republicans Sign Petition to Abolish Somerset's Board of Freeholders.

FAVOR A COMMISSION

Senator Frelinghuysen Back of Move —Mayor Explains the Reasons For It.

In the course of business at the meeting of the Borough Good Government Club, last night, the members suddenly awoke to the fact that a petition was in circulation to do away with the County Board of Freeholders and adopt the commission form of government as has been done in Middlesex and Hunterdon. Senator Frelinghuysen, so it was said, is back of the movement, and he has had a copy of the petition in Tax Collector Brown's office for a month or more but because no one had time to "push it along" it has remained tucked away in a pigeonhole. When Mayor Smalley expressed his approval of the step and told some things about the treatment accorded North Plainfield by the freeholders, a spirit of enthusiasm ran through the gathering like a prairie fire and some of the members hustled out before adjournment in order to get their names on the paper. It must be signed by four per cent. of the voters in order to have the proposition brought before the people at the next election.

In explaining the commission proposition before the meeting, Mayor Smalley said the freeholders had discriminated against the borough in the expenditure of money to such an extent that it has become a serious matter. Frank de L. Hyde, one of North Plainfield's largest property owners, has made it a personal affair and recently engaged experts to tabulate sums spent in various parts of the county in the past ten years. The Mayor declared that in that time $250,000 had gone into the building or repair of Somerset roads and practically none of it had been expended in the borough, despite the fact that it passes up $19,000 in county tax each year.

Continuing the subject of roads, the Mayor said that the greater part of them in the county were too narrow and that they had ought to be rebuilt. This fact also applies to bridges which are not nearly as wide as the travel demands.

In the commission form of government, three competent men are elected from the county at large and they are paid a sufficient salary to have them devote their entire time and study to the duties required of them. The plan has worked successfully in other parts of the State and its adoption would save Somerset many thousands of dollars every year. In conclusion, the Mayor asserted that the freeholder boards are constituted of men who spend the greater part of their time in seeking re-election.

To make sure that the required percentage of signatures is secured, former Recorder Thomas S. Doud, W. W. Coriell and W. F. Williams were appointed to take the matter in charge and round up the voters. The petition has been placed in the borough fire house and will be kept there until tomorrow night..

ELECTION BOARD MEETING.

Several Vacancies In Local Election Boards Are Filled.

At an adjourned meeting of the Union County Board of Election Monday afternoon, at which every member was present, several vacancies in the local election boards were reported and filled.

On motion of Commissioner Hetfield, of this city, the appointment of Walter Clark and Edward Mosher as election officers in the Second district of the Fourth ward, was revoked, and Abram Angleman and Ambrose K. Brennan were appointed to serve in their stead. The rescinding of Clark's appointment was because he had failed to perform the duties required of him.

Mr. Hetfield reported that John H. DeMeza, who had been appointed one of the election officers to serve in the First district of the Fourth ward, had been obliged to relinquish the position. On motion of Mr. Hetfield William B. DeMeza was appointed to serve in his stead.

The Board adjourned to meet again Monday afternoon, September 24, with the understanding, however, that if it was found necessary to meet again at an earlier date, a meeting should be called by order of the chair.

FANWOOD TOWNSHIP CAUCUS WAS "REGULAR"

COLBYISM NOT HINTED AT IN THE REPUBLICAN ENDORSEMENT THERE.

No signs of Colbyism were shown at the caucus of the Fanwood Township Republicans at Excelsior Hall, Scotch Plains, last night. All the candidates endorsed were strictly regular and all of them were chosen unanimously.

Freeholder John Robison, as chairman of the last caucus, opened the meeting and was continued in the chair. Edward L. Hand was elected secretary.

Work in getting signers on the petitions was cut down considerably by the election of one set of delegates to the three conventions. Mr. Hand and Louis W. Miller were chosen, with power, to appoint alternates. They are for Robison for Freeholder.

George H. Johnston was endorsed for membership on the county committee for one year. The endorsements for township officers are as follows:

Township Committee, three years, Ira G. Walker; assessor, three years, George H. Johnston; constable, William Spicer; surveyors of highway, Andrew Schaffer and William Hull (renomination); poundkeepers, John Mair and Julius Sabocker. Nominations for collector and justice of the peace were left vacant. John Z. Hatfield will be endorsed for collector by the Democrats.

Appropriations were fixed at the figures voted last year: Police, $100; fire department, $200; streets, $2,250; sidewalks, $250; water, $600.

SOMERSET FREEHOLDERS MEET AT SOMERVILLE.

Refer North Plainfield-Warren Township Boundary Petition to Committee.

There was little of importance doing at the meeting of the Somerset Freeholders in Somerville yesterday. Matthew Jeroloman claimed $1.50 a day for being confined in the county jail as a witness from April 4 to June 7. Referred. The petition from the North Plainfield Township Committee in regard to the disputed line between that and Warren township was referred to Messrs. Demler, Codington and Counsel.

Richards & Gaston were released from bond, the contract on the new jail being nearly completed. The Board declare it had no authority to pay an expense bill of $16 presented by the County Board of Taxation.

L. E. Tuttle and Harry Wright, of Bernardsville, were ordered to remove an obstruction, consisting of a concrete wall, from the Bernardsville road. The County Prosecutor promised to correct the system of undertakers receiving bodies before examination of the County Physician.

At the call of Director Baird the Board will meet in Montgomery.

Mack a Colby Candidate.

Edward Le Roy Mack has been nominated by the Colbyites for alderman in the Eleventh ward, Elizabeth to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Alderman William P. Mackenzie. Mr. Mack is a law student in the office of former Judge Patrick Hamilton Gilhooly, of that city, and is the oldest son of the late Dr. William A. M. Mack, who died five years ago while filling the position of Republican Mayor of Elizabeth.

Local Property Transfer.

The following real estate transfer has been recorded at Elizabeth: John W. Slayback et al. to Fillmore Condit, northerly side Leonard place, corner Marion avenue, Plainfield, $1. This contract has also been filed: Joseph T. Vail with Clarence L. Line, entire work new building, Union street, Plainfield, $3,338.

Mrs. Josephine Ellison.

Mrs. Josephine Ellison, widow of Frederick Ellison, colored, died Monday night at her home on West Fourth street. She was thirty-six years old. The funeral will be held at the Mount Olive Baptist church tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock.

Hale and Hearty at Eighty-Two.

Veteran Thomas M. MacDonald, of 104 Jackson avenue, the borough, was eighty-two years old yesterday. He is hale and hearty and is able to follow his trade of painter daily.

Chief Kiely Will Attend.

Chief Kiely and others are making arrangements for the annual convention of the New Jersey Patrolmen's Benevolent Association to be held in Hoboken tomorrow afternoon.

Mrs. Isaac L. Miller and Miss Miller, of Watchung avenue, are home from Sullivan county, New York.

—Rev. and Mrs. F. E. Whiteside are rejoicing over the arrival of a young daughter. She was born this morning at the home of Mrs. Whiteside's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Hockridge, Watchung avenue. She has been named Constance.

NORTH PLAINFIELD G. O. P. ENDORSES CANDIDATE

Good Government Club Favors Van Arsdale and Lee For Council.

DELEGATES ARE NAMED

No Friction at Meeting—Mr. Smalley Presides—Mr. Reed Explains New Law.

Meeting for the first time in many months, the Borough Good Government Club transacted a large amount of business incidental to the coming campaign, last night. Delegates to the county and congressional conventions were named, candidates for Borough Council endorsed and the new primary law was explained in detail by Mayor Smalley and Borough Counsel Charles A. Reed. In addition, the petition to abolish the Board of Freeholders was discussed and the members agreed unanimously to sign it and do all possible to bring about the new form of county government.

The meeting was called to order by Mayor Smalley, who is president of the club, and in a few words he explained the object of the call. There were no important local offices to fill this fall, he said, but a congressman from the district and an assemblyman were to be elected and the terms of Charles L. Lee and Morris C. Van Arsdale as borough councilmen were to expire. His remarks were supplemented by Mr. Reed, who gave a concise explanation of the new primary law and the manner in which nominations must now be made. To get names on the party ticket, he said, it is necessary to file a petition with the borough clerk ten days before the primaries are held. North Plainfield is entitled to four delegates from each district to both county and congressional conventions.

With these preliminaries disposed of, nominations for delegates were called for and Mayor Smalley said: "I don't care who is nominated. I have no axe to grind and whoever is placed on the ticket I hope he is elected. This new law is for the purpose of letting every voter have something to say about who shall be the candidates. It is an outgrowth of the "reform" movement, but the word reform is like equal taxation; it's all right to talk about but hard to get."

Delegates were then named as follows: Congressional convention, First district, W. W. Coriell, Edwin Rushmore, Isaac P. Runyon and H. A. McGee; Second district, J. W. A. Bauersachs, Robert Clark, Jr., Amos Giddes and Edward P. T. Smith; county convention, First district, Clifford McGee, J. V. E. Vanderhoef, Thomas S. Doud and Abram G. Hooley; Second district, Peter A. Emmons, William C. Smith, Lemuel B. Woolston and Alonzo Brokaw. Mayor Smalley named Frank Rowley, Edward P. T. Smith and Charles A. Reed as a committee to fill vacancies.

Taking up the subject of councilmanic nominations, Mayor Smalley placed the names of Messrs. Lee and VanArsdale before the gathering for consideration. He said there might be some criticism because of both being residents of the First district as in case of election this would leave only two from the Second in Council, but both had splendid official records, and were needed. Mr. Van Arsdale was elected from the Second but moved into the First soon after taking his seat. As the councilmen are elected by the borough as a whole, the Mayor continued, it wouldn't make a great deal of difference which side they came from. Both men were heartily endorsed and Mr. Van Arsdale, who was present, was prevailed upon to stand, although he declared at first he would much prefer to have someone named in his place. He has served one term while Mr. Lee is now completing his second. The only other name endorsed was that of Abram King for justice of the peace.

Mr. Coombs Visit to Canada.

W. H. Coombs has returned from a business trip to Canada. Concerning his visit to the Toronto fair, Mr. Coombs says:

"Most noticeable was the fact that no strong drink was sold within the grounds. Without the grounds as well, the lack of drunkenness and profanity was most noticeable. Where there are saloons and excessive drinking, selfishness and all that is base in human nature prevails."

Mr. and Mrs. Henry C. Irons, of East Ninth street, are home from their summer outing.

NORTH PLAINFIELD

COLONEL COLLINS HONORED BY BRAGGA.

Made of Stone From Which Presents to Two Presidents Had Been Cut.

Colonel Dennis F. Collins, of Elizabeth, Monday night enjoyed the distinction of having an honor conferred on him similar to that which was conferred on the late President McKinley and President Roosevelt. He was presented with a blue stone carved in the form of a canteen, with his name engraved in gold. The stone was presented by Camilla Bragga, of 171 Stiles street, Elizabeth, a veteran of the Crimean and the War of the Rebellion. In 1904 Mr. Brag ga presented President Roosevelt with a similar stone, and in 1896 he presented President McKinley with one, for both of which he received letters of gratitude from both chief executives.

Mr. Bragga came into possession of the stone in Salt Lake city in 1886, while crossing the continent. It was a rare specimen. The presentation was made at the Burkely hotel. City Attorney James C. Connolly made the presentation speech, which was responded to by Colonel Collins.

Mr. Bragga is a member of the Veteran Zouaves and served two years in the Crimean War. He also served three years in the Civil War with the Forty-eighth New York Regiment. His son served under Colonel Collins in the Spanish-American War.

PLANNING RECEPTION FOR ALVAH A. CLARK.

Upon His Return From An Extended Pleasure Trip Abroad.

Preparations are underway for a big reception to be given to former Congressman Alvah A. Clark, of Somerville, who is expected to return this week from an extended pleasure trip abroad. A committee of prominent citizens of Somerville has the matter in charge and thus far 300 invitations have been issued to the affair.

The reception will be held at the County Hotel, Somerville, Tuesday night, September 18, at 8 o'clock. The committee in charge comprises Louis Moore, Stewart A. Kenney and William D. Nolan, leading Democratic workers at the county seat.

Date for Congressional Convention.

The Fourth Congressional District Republican Committee met at Trenton, yesterday, and fixed on Tuesday, October 2, as the date, and Flemington, Hunterdon county, as the place for holding the Congressional convention. There was a full meeting of the committee, and the general sentiment was for the renomination of Congressman Wood, of Trenton. Somerset county was represented on the Committee by former Mayor Charles Place, of North Plainfield, and George A. Dilts, of Raritan. The Fourth District is composed of Hunterdon, Mercer and Somerset counties.

Instructor in Oratory.

Harold Nomer, of this city, graduate of the Plainfield High School, class '02, and Williams College, class '06, has been appointed instructor in the department of oratory of the Brooklyn Polytechnic Institute and will assume his duties upon the opening of the fall term next week. While at Williams College, Mr. Nomer was a member of the debating team and won prizes in debating and extemporaneous speaking.

Assignee's Sale.

J. Fred MacDonald, assignee of the Estate of Winfield S. Jimerson, will sell at public auction on Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock, at Jimerson's brickyard, on Leland avenue, all the chattels to settle the estate. The chattels include mules, 75,000 brick, fifty cords of wood, lot of lumber and many other things. Hezekiah Hand will be the auctioneer and the terms will be cash. Walter L. Hetfield is attorney for the assignee.

Boys Released.

Three of the four boys arrested for hanging about the theatre, Edward Condit, Charles Gulick and William Hickey, were released by Judge Runyon this morning, under suspended sentence. He warned them to quit imitating the "Johnnies." Frank Schropper, the fourth boy, failed to appear.

Pythian Field Day.

The annual field day of the New Jersey Knights of Pythias will be held at Asbury Park tomorrow. Crescent Company, No. 13, uniformed rank, Perseverance and Unity lodges, of this city, will be represented in the parade, which is to be a feature of the gathering.

Gertrude Foster Righter.

FOUND RICH MAN CRAWLING ON ROAD.

Invalid Picked Up in Pennsylvania Believed to Be James A. Ayres.

James A. Ayres, a member of a wealthy family in New York, and a brother of Nelson G. Ayres, first vice-president of the Oriental Bank, in that city, who mysteriously disappeared from his summer home, at No. 57 Tilyou road, South Orange, August 31, has been located at Mars, Pa. His brother started for that place to take care of him.

On Wednesday of last week, T. J. Link, of Mars, found a man about sixty-one years old, crawling along the public road on his hands and knees, almost exhausted. His clothing, although stained and grimed by exposure, was of fine texture and fashionable cut. His manner was incoherent, but it was evident that he was not an outcast, and Mr. Link took him to the Robertson Hotel, urocured medical attendance and communicated with the authorities in Pittsburg in an effort to establish the invalid's identity.

The Pittsburg police found in their records a secret bulletin of inquiry sent out by New York police headquarters at the request of a New York bank, offering a reward for the location of James A. Ayres, sixty-five years old, of South Orange, N. J. The man was described as 5 feet 7 inches in height, with gray hair and eyes, gray mustache and wearing a blue serge suit and black derby hat. The description fitted the mysterious invalid, and the New York police were notified. Word came back that Nelson G. Ayres would arrive in Mars.

A dispatch from Mars says the only information that could be obtained from the invalid was that he had escaped from his country residence, near New York, where he had been suffering from a protracted illness. He planned to go to Chicago, but got on the wrong train and found himself in Pittsburg two days later. His funds were exhausted and he wandered to where he was picked up.

At police headquarters in New York all information relative to the missing man or the alarm sent out after his disappearance was denied.

The Great Allentown Fair.

Many years ago the Allentown Fair became a widely known annual institution. A great amount of money is spent each year in providing entertainment and attracting the best possible entries in the various departments. The Fair will, from present indications, surpass all previous attempts, and likewise the patronage will be exceptionally large. The Central Railroad of New Jersey has arranged for special trains and special rates to Allentown on account of this great event, and information can be obtained at the various stations regarding same.

Toronto and Return $10.50.

The Lehigh Valley Railroad will sell tickets to Toronto and return at above rate Sept. 13, 14, 15 and 16, return limit Sept. 24. Good going and returning on all trains except the Black Diamond Express within prescribed limit. See Lehigh Valley ticket agent, 218 West Front street, for particulars. 9 19 td

A Picturesque and Reasonable Outing.

The most picturesque town in America is only a hundred and twenty miles from New York. Mauch Chunk, in a narrow pass between the Lehigh river and the overhanging mountains, rises on the slopes like a quaint Swiss village. Historically the locality is known in connection with the discovery of anthracite coal. This discovery led to the construction of a bit of railroad which is the oldest in the country. Originally the track was laid to convey the coal to the river, but now it is maintained solely for recreation purposes. The cars are first hauled up a high hill, and from that point they travel by their own gravity around a circuit of nearly enighteen miles. As one ascends the steep slope the buildings below, the town and the nearer landmarks drop away in perspective with kaleidescopic suddenness, and the doubling valley of the Lehigh spreads out in a thrilling panorama. Sights of great interest abound along the route. Old Indian trails over tre hills are pointed out, the primeval forest envelopes the track for long stretches, and glimpses of old mining settlements are caught in the valleys. At Summit Mountain a halt is made and opportunity is given to visit the mines. The burning mine which is situated here has been smouldering since 1832 in spite of elaborate and costly undertakings to extinguish the fire. Returning from Summit Mountain the car attains great speed, and, as the visitor always thinks, the inspiring ride is over all too soon. The New Jersey Central will operate one of its popular excursions to Mauch Chunk on September 16, 1906. Round trip $1.50, and special train leaves Plainfield at 9:20 a. m. 9 12 td

Millionaire Cut Off Wife and Son.

New York, Sept. 12.—The $10,000,000 estate left by Herman Oelrichs, who died at sea September 1, while he was hastening home from Europe, goes to his brother and sister, his wife and son being cut off with only a scant mention in the will, which was filed here yesterday. The will was dated June 11, of this year, and will be contested by the widow, who is now on her way to California.

AN ORDINANCE

To Vacate Portions of Johnston Avenue and Hill Street (Sometimes Called Hill Avenue).

Whereas the portions of Johnston Avenue and Hill Street (sometimes called Hill Avenue) between North Avenue and the right of way of the Central Railroad Company of New Jersey shown on a map entitled "Section 2, City Map of Plainfield, Union Co., N. J., 1870," filed in the office of the City Clerk September 30, 1870, although never opened or used, were in fact dedicated as streets, and

Whereas David T. Kenney is the sole owner of the fee and of all property abutting anywhere on such portions of said streets and has applied to the Common Council of said city to vacate said streets, pursuant to Chapter CXXXIII, P. L. 1888, and other Laws governing the matter, and it is to the interest of the city that such street should be vacated.

The Inhabitants of the City of Plainfield by their Common Council do enact as follows:

Section 1. That the portions of Johnston Avenue and of Hill Street (sometimes called Hill Avenue) lying between North Avenue and the right of way of the Central Railroad Company of New Jersey, as shown on map entitled "Section 2, City Map of Plainfield, Union Co., N. J., 1870," be and the same are hereby vacated, pursuant to the Acts of the Legislature in such case made and provided.

Adopted by the Common Council Sept. 4, 1906; approved by the Mayor Sept. 6, 1906.

J. F. BUCKLE, Mayor.

Attest: J. T. MacMurray, City Clerk.

LOCAL AMUSEMENTS

May Irwin comes to the New Plainfield theatre on Friday, September 21, in her new play called "Mrs. Wilson, That's All," written for her by George V. Hobart. It has been Miss Irwin's custom to have a new comedy each season with a long engagement at the Bijou theatre, New York, and this year the rule which was violated on account of the tremendous success of David Warfield at that house, is to be resumed. After a short tour of the principal cities, Miss Irwn will again present herself on Broadway, at the Bijou, using the new vehicle. It is believed that Mr. Hobart has provided for Miss Irwin a play that will be a worthy successor to his "Mrs. Black is Back," in fact it is claimed that it is a much more pretentious offering from the standpoint of playwriting. The part of Mrs. Wilson is one that is well fitted for Miss Irwin's peculiar style of comedy, and it is well known that no other woman on the stage is quite as capable of exciting the risibilities as this comedienne.

Miss Sylvia Lynden, Jules Murry's new star, who will appear at the New Plainfield theatre next Tuesday night in Clyde's Fitch's greatest play, "Her Own Way," was selected for the part of Georgiana as a possible and only satisfactory substitute for Miss Maxine Elliott, for whom the part was originally written. She has all the grace of mind and body to make her impersonation forceful and convincing. A beautiful woman endowed with unusual chram and possessed of great magnetic power, Miss Lynden has made a special study of this interesting part of Georgiana and claims to make in it the greatest success of her theatrical career.

John Harrington who plays the role of the bad man, Cash Hawkins in the play, "The Squaw Man," which Messrs. Liebler & Co. are to present at the New Plainfield theatre next Monday night, numbers among his intimate acquaintances the well-known United State Deputy Marshal "Bat" Hasterson, recently appointed by President Roosevelt to the State of New York. Mr. Harrington and Masterson were members of the party that accompanied Mr. Roosevelt upon his hunting trips in the days before he became President, and much of the color of the unique character in the play is due to the information and advice of Mr. Hasterson.

That ever popular farce comedy that has made millions laugh will be with us again at the New Plainfield theatre Saturday afternoon and night and if you desire to have a hearty laugh at good, wholesome fun, without vulgarity, you should not miss this opportunity. It always was funny, and is doubly so now, as a brand new version has been prepared and is presented this season for the first time. New scenery, costumes, songs, dances, specialties, dialogue, business situations, in fact everything is new, bright and pleasing.

For tonight's attraction at the New Plainfield theatre the management politely proffers the Ritchie London Comedy Company in their latest and greatest musical comedy success, "Around the Clock," with the assurance that it will prove the most pleasing presentation of its kind ever seen in this city. The scenery is all new and pretty, the costumes are beautiful and the music of the tuneful, inspiring sort. The Ritchie comedians need little introduction to local playgoers. They are perhaps best remembered for their inimitable work in the vaudeville classic, "A Night in a London Music Hall," which was one of the real novelties at the variety houses last season.

Hap Ward in a new musical show, "Not Yet But Soon," is booked at the New Plainfield theatre for next Friday evening. In this new offer, Mr. Ward returns to the style of entertainment that first gave him his vogue-light frothy concoctions that have nothing to do with plot or development of character, but depend upon the rapid-fire jests and bits of comic business that are sprinkled through the performance as thickly as plums in a Christmas pudding. The musical numbers are also given a prominent place in the evening's amusement and this season's selections are uncommonly tuneful. Mr. Ward appears as Bill Nerve, an unctuous individual who was born with a distate for work, and whose wife and children have him brought to Prof Nutt's Sanitarium in hopes that he may be cured. Bill refuses to see it in that way, but he succeeds in summoning up enough energy to extract all manner of fun from the professor and his patients. The characters by which Bill finds himself surrounded make this no easy matter, and the members of the cast flit from jest to song with refreshing ease. A company of fifty people assist Mr. Ward, and the names on the programme comprise a number of the best known musical farce actors of this country. Chief among them are Lucy Daly, Fred Wyckoff, Robert Evans, Matt Woodward, Dick Barry, John C. Hart, Fred Parrent, Charles Sandy Chapman, Carrie Merrilees, Jennie Palmer, Marian Merrill and Helen Clark.

Elmer D. Cutting, of Orchard place, has returned from his vacation spent at Lynn Center, N. H.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Crone, of College place, who have been spending their vacation in Canada, have returned.

GERMS CAUSE DYSPEPSIA

IF YOU DON'T KILL THE DISEASE GERMS THEY WILL KILL YOU. PEPSOIDS DRIVE THE GERMS OUT OF THE STOMACH AND REBUILDS IT. WRITE FOR A FULL SIZED BOTTLE—FREE.

A noted physician of Pittsburg, Pa., in a recent letter to Dr. Oidman says:

"In your prescription known as 'Pepsoids' you have given the medical world the greatest and most valued discovery in medicine of the present century. You have at last solved the problem that has baffled the skill of the best physicians of recent times, how to cure permanently all Acute or Chronic Stomach Diseases known as Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Catarrh of the Stomach and Digestive Weakness. I have used your prescription, 'Pepsoids,' in hundreds of cases without a single failure. I attribute the success of your treatment mainly to the fact that the disease germs of the stomach cannot resist Pepsoids. Your theory that most Stomach Diseases are brought about by multitudes of nefarious disease-breeding germs must be correct, judging from the remarkable results attained from the use of your 'Pepsoids.' I consider 'Pepsoids' the best and most valuable remedy yet discovered for the treatment of stubborn stomach ailments."

Pepsoids cure Dyspepsia and all Stomach Diseases, in a new way, by repairing the wornout lining of the Stomach and at the same time, destroy all disease-breeding germs. Dyspepsia and the worst forms of Stomach Disorders once cured in this way never returns.

If you have not used Pepsoids before, we will send you a 50-cent bottle FREE. Send us your name and address and you will receive promptly, a full sized bottle.

You do not obligate yourself to pay a cent. All we ask, after Pepsoids have cured or greatly benefitted you is, that you recommend Pepsoids to your friends. Try Pepsoids to-day—they will cure you. The Vio Chemical Co., Chicago, Ill. 9

WOMAN BIT THUG ATTACKING HUSBAND.

Plucky Wife of Jeweler Rodenburg Helped Repel Attack of Thieves.

Aided by his plucky wife, Philip Rodenberg, a jeweler, at No. 3 East One Hundred and Thirty-fifth street, New York, Monday night beat off three men who tried to rob him of his watch and wallet. For ten minutes the man and his wife had a strenuous fight with the three men and at last throttled the men so badly that they ran away.

One of the men was caught at One Hundred and Thirty-fifth street and Lenox avenue by Policeman Hartigan, of the East One Hundred and Twenty-sixth street station, and said he was Frank Latian, twenty-two years old, of No. 302 East Sixty-fifth street.

Mr. Rodenberg and his wife were sitting in front of their home trying to catch a breath of fresh air. Three men came down the street and one of them brushed against Mr. Rodenberg, and as he did so leaned over and tried to get his watch. The other two men closed in and tried to go through Mr. Rodenberg's pockets.

Mrs. Rodenberg with rare courage went to her husband's assistance. She hit one of the men a right swing that landed on his jaw and sent him into the gutter. One of the other men caught her and tried to hold her. Unable to fight, the woman called for the police. The man tried to get his hand over her mouth, but she bit him so severely that he screamed and jumped away from her.

Mr. Rodenberg in the meantime was putting up a stiff fight against his assailant. The three men gave up the fight and ran away. One of the men ran toward Lenox avenue and was caught by a policeman. The other two made their escape. The men did not succeed in geeting anything of value from Mr. Rodenberg.

ACCUSES GOULD CO. OF LAND FRAUDS.

United States Sues to Recover 30,000 Acres from Utah Fuel Company.

Trenton, Sept. 12.—Attorney-General Moody has sued in the Federal Court here to recover Utah lands now held by the Utah Fuel Company, alleging that its representatives induced agents to apply to the Government for grants which, when obtained, were turned over to the Utah Fuel Company.

The Attorney-General charges that this was fraudluent and demands the return of the lands.

About 30,000 Acres Involved.

Washington, Sept. 12.—It is said at the Department of Justice that the suits brought in Trenton against the Utah Fuel Company involve about 30,000 acres of land in the State of Utah. Among the allegations are that the fuel company's agents took up most of the lands as agricultural lands, when in fact they were coal lands, and that the company paid the expenses of transfer, etc.

DRIVEN ALMOST NUDE INTO SNOW, SHE SAYS.

Wife Gets Divorce on Grounds of Terrible Cruelty Practised by Her Husband.

Millville, Sept. 12.—A story of cruelty is told by Mrs. Mary D. Campbell, of this city, who has been seeking a divorce from John Campbell.

Mrs. Campbell testified to having been beaten almost into insensibility and driven from home, barefooted and attired in night clothes. On another occasion, she alleges, she was compelled to flee in snowy winter weather, almost nude and bleeding from cuts and scratches.

A number of nights she hid in the woods to escape the inhuman treatment of her husband, and several times she slept in cowsheds, she asserts.

Chancellor William J. Magie quickly granted the woman an absolute divorce and gave her the custody of the children.

Dr. and Mrs. T. S. Davis, of Park avenue, who planned to spend the week at Atlantic City, while the International Homeopathic Congress is in session, were obliged to give up the trip owing to the illness of Mrs. Davis.

John F. Dryden is a howling success when it comes to a point on etiquette, but as a statesman—perish the thought.

The Newark Assemblymen have placed themselves on record regarding the Bishops' bill. Will the Union county candidates do likewise?

One of Mr. Dryden's sentences in his "reply" to Mr. Colby contains 220 words, being, so far as we know, the longest sentence in the campaign.—Newark News.

Mr. Dryden's sentence to private life, which is shortly due, may be longer.

That Senator Colby did not slander Senator Ackerman in the course of his debate with Senator Hillery is now thoroughly established. In addition to his own specific denial of the report, the leader of the "New Idea" movement is supported by the notes of Herbert W. Knight, an expert stenographer of unimpeachable character, who was employed to report the meeting.

With the possible exception of Charles J. Fisk, it can not be denied that George P. Mellick is about the strongest candidate that could have been picked for mayor. Should he accept the endorsement and become a candidate for nomination, the issue will be squarely drawn. A vote for him will mean that the voter is satisfied with the present administration of affairs; a vote for his opponent, R. Henry Depew, will mean that the voter believes that the charges of bossism are well founded and he wishes to have them driven from power.

THE FORUM.

Can They Be Bossed?

Editor, The Daily Press:

In your issue of Thursday night, I notice a report of R. Henry Depew's speech in which he really admits that Plainfield has good roads, good schools and the like, but that "bossism" prevails. Now I am like the man from Missouri and what I want to know is, does Mr. Depew or any other "reformer" who is or will be endorsed for a political office, truly and honestly believe that such is the case?

Does Mr. Depew believe that any "boss," or any man, woman or child in the city, could dictate to Street Commissioner Andrew J. Gavett, or get him to do any official act other than what is for the best interests of the community? Does he believe so in the case of City Treasurer William F. Arnold, or Fire Chief T. O. Doane, or Police Chief P. S. Kiely, or President of the Board of Health C. J. Fisk, or any member of that body; or Corporation Counsel Craig A. Marsh, or Health Officer Leon Thurlow, or Mayor J. F. Buckle, or Collector of Taxes John W. Murray, Jr., or Superintendent of Schools Henry M. Maxson? Does he believe that our city officials, one and all, are not men of probity and marked ability?

As I say, "I'm from Missouri," he'll have to show me.

DRYDEN ANSWERS COLBY

U. S. Senator's Caustic Reply is That Reformer Violated Oath.

SOME HARD KNOCKS

Charges That He Stated An Untruth —Response to Senator Colby's Charges.

Senator John F. Dryden on Monday administered a lashing to State Senator Everett Colby in a letter sent in response to the latter's of last week, which charged Senator Dryden with having issued a garbled "stenographic" record of the Hillery-Colby debates in Morris county.

The letter of Senator Dryden is as follows:

"September 10, 1906.

"Hon. Everett Colby, Orange, N. J.:

"Dear Sir—On Friday last, while hurrying to attend a business meeting, I was stopped in the streets of Trenton and shown by a reporter what purported to be a copy of a letter which you had addressed to me on that day.

"I did not leave my office in Newark until 12:15 and the letter had not arrived up to that time, nor did it reach my office until late Friday afternoon. The postmark on the envelope shows that it was mailed at Orange September 7, 11:30 a. m.

"I have been particular as to the hours, because it shows conclusively that your letter was given to the press for publication before it could possibly have reached my hands and before I could have had an opportunity of answering it. It follows:

"'Dear Senator Dryden—I am in receipt of a letter from a printing office in Plainfield stating that they have received a copy of the stenographical notes of my debate with Senator Hillery, in which I am recorded as saying that Senator Ackerman "is neither straight nor independent." As such a statement is false, and as I am informed the notes were taken by a stenographer in your employ, I wish to protest against the sending of incorrect reports of the debate about the State. You will, of course, assure me if you and your friends are not responsible for this injustice.

"'Very truly yours,

"'EVERETT COLBY.

"'September 7, 1906.'

"You hastened to publish this letter, which by implication accuses me of an act of dishonor, without waiting to ascertain whether I had done the thing complained of or without giving me an opportunity to deny or explain. It is an intimation that I had falsified the notes of the stenographer for the purpose of misrepresenting you.

"Not only is your conduct in this case, in my judgment represensible, but the very suggestion in your question is itself offensive, and for either one of these reasons I might well decline to take notice of your communication were it not that my silence might be construed by some, who do not know me personally, as an admission that I have done the thing you complain of. Therefore, while I resent your imputation I specifically state that the stenographer who reported the Hillery-Colby debate was not in my employ, nor have I circulated, or known of the circulation, of any copy or copies of his report.

"I do not believe any such falsified report has been given out by anybody. I do not believe there is any in existence, and I ask you to produce, if you can, one copy of it. If you cannot, or do not, produce it I leave others to judge in what attitude you stand before the public after having made what is virtually a charge that I have been engaged in a trick to misrepresent you.

"Your whole case, like too many other statements that have been made by you in the past, seems to rest upon the shadowy and unsubstantial foundations that you have been 'informed' that this had been done, and thus, without more proof than this, you are willing to drag my name into the papers as connected with an alleged transaction which no honorable man would be engaged in.

"In a further letter, written to your Plainfield correspondent and published at the same time, you say:

"'I am not at all surprised that you write men as you do, nor am I astonished at the statement your letter contains, for it is in line with the methods employed by my political opponents.'

"If you mean to apply that to me or to anything that I control, I brand it as utterly untrue.

"I am not impressed with the belief that one who, having been graduated from a great university, having traveled abroad to enlarge his information and his knowledge of the world, having studied in and been graduated from a prominent law school, having practised law in the city of New York, having been a member of a brokerage firm in New York, dealing in the affairs of Wall street, where the ways and wiles of men are supposed to be reasonably well known, having for three years been a member of the New Jersey Assembly—one year its leader and an aspirant for its speakership—and while filling that important position, while filing that important position, did not know a good bill from a bad one, and who, by his own confessions, notwithstanding his great obligations as a legislator to the people of New Jersey, and who took this oath: 'I do solemnly promise and swear that I will faithfully, impartially and justly perform all the duties of the office of member of the General Assembly to the best of my ability,' and yet who took meekly and obediently by his own confession and statement his orders from those whom he calls the bosses, which measure he should approve and which he should disapprove, is a competent critic upon the political acts of others.

"In view of your own course in publishing your letter, I feel at liberty to send this to the press without waiting for an answer from you.

"Yours truly,

"JOHN F. DRYDEN."

Thus Senator Dryden not only brands Mr. Colby's statement as utterly false, but he charges him with having violated his oath of office as a member of the Assembly.

Life In Plainfield 37 Years Ago.

REPRINTED FROM THE CONSTITUTIONALIST OF 1869.

From the issue of March 25, 1869:

"Dunellen, March 15.

"Mess. Editors:

"Many of the city as well as the country papers have had their say with regard to the future city of 'Dunellen,' but none of them has said one-half enough in its praise, or, given the credit that is due to the place, though this is a poor time of the year to speak of any town, yet enough is here presented to the eye to convince all that Dunellen is to be a city of no small dimensions.

"Since the opening of the new station, about September 1st, 1868, there has been ten first-class dwellings and one steam planing mill erected. The dwellings will be ready for occupants on April 1st, this mill has been running full blast for two months past. The large hotel being built by Mr. Richardson is nearly completed, and standing, as it does, on the corner of Front street and Washington avenue, presents a goodly appearance, as do all the buildings situated within the limits of the town.

"As the spring advances, arrangements are being made for putting up many more dwellings. The demand for them is very great, no vacant rooms can be found, and the influx of strangers is truly surprising. Everybody is busy with work, no idlers are seen on the streets, and as yet the people are blessed with no bars or places where intoxicating liquors are sold. This speaks well for the place, and if they keep it thus, it will surely be a drawing card.

"The Central Railroad have spared no pains or expense to make this the most attractive station on their road, and thus far they have succeeded well. Dunellen is well laid out, the streets and walks are wide, over fifteen hundred shade trees have been set out, and for beauty, the place, even yet in its infancy, cannot be excelled along the line of any Rail Road in the country.

"Two miles from the station, and 600 feet above the level, is situated the "Washington Rocks," made famous in the history of this section by connecting them with the year 1776, as the place where General Washington stood and reviewed his army that encamped in the valley, also giving him a sight of the British troops, their locality and fortification. From this point the eye takes in at a glance a scope of country, which from grandeur and magnificance cannot be appreciated only by those who have seen it. Numerous villages and cities are discernible, of which "New Brunswick, ten miles, Rahway, about the same distance, Elizabeth, about seventeen, Elizabethport, nineteen, New York, twenty-eight, and Brooklyn, L. I., thirty miles distant," are the most prominent, and with a good glass, Coney Island can be seen, while around, with their starlike sails, the vessels sail, either returning from or passing out of their voyage at sea.

"A number of years ago a hotel was erected near these rocks, and though said to have had good patronage from the public, seemed to have been conducted detrimental to the interests of the men running it, consequently it had to be sold last fall, and Messrs. Pope and others became the purchasers. Since then it has been closed. I am informed on good authority however that the present owners intend to renovate it both inside and out, preparatory to its being occupied by Mr. Wood, a gentleman from Orange, N. J., one who is acquainted with the business in a style termed first class. He intends to make it a summer resort, and guarantees satisfaction to all who may stay with him. He is highly spoken of by all who know him, and wish him all the success imaginable. 'Viva la Wood.'

"With his coming we may now expect to see Washington avenue extended to the foot of the mountain, to connect with a new and much shorter road to his house, making Dunellen Depot the landing place for all passengers or guests of Washington Rock house.

"Other improvements are still going on around us of which I shall speak in my next.

"Yours, &c.,
"E. D."

Although past the middle of March, the wintry weather has called to mind the stanza:

"The first bird of spring
"Attempted to sing,
"But ere he had sounded a note
"He fell from the limb,
"And a dead bird was him,
"For the music had friz in his throat."

The hub-deep condition of the streets and roads of Plainfield has at length evoked the muse. One of our worthy town committeemen received a communication from some Byron or Goldsmith, from which we have been permitted to extract the following:

"I'm here at last, thanks to the Gods,
"Through roads both deep and muddy,
"A plain proof that making roads
"Is not the public duty.
"And though I'm not with Gospel cram'd
"The Bible plainly says,
"The people surely shall be d—d,
"Who do not mend their ways."

An accident occurred on Front street on Monday afternoon last which might have proved serious. A carriage containing two ladies was standing at the corner of Front and Cherry streets, when a team of runaways came tearing around the corner of Cherry, and striking the carriage standing there, upsetting and making a complete wreck of it. The ladies who were sitting in the carriage at the time, fortunately escaped without injury, but were somewhat frightened.

Almost a Fire—Last night about half-past five o'clock smoke was discovered issuing from the garret of the store occupied by L. Boice in North Plainfield. Upon investigation it was found that a quantity of rags stored there had ignited, probably by spontaneous combustion. They were extinguished without much difficulty.

The house of E. H. Peck, of Dunellen, and the hotel of Lloyd Nelson, of New Market, were broken into on Friday night last, and goods to a considerable amount were taken away by the burglars. They also visited the residence of W. S. Stevens, giving him a "mum" serenade, but any further than leaving him some "Tracks," did him no damage. We presume he read those tracts, or at least studied over them next morning. The people cannot be too careful in securing their doors and windows, as this is the time of year when stragglers are among us.

The exhibition at the public school on Monday evening last was a complete success. Both pecuniarily and in manner in which it was conducted. We have not the space this week to give the exhibition the space which it deserves, but we want to say, the gymnastic exercises was splendid. Great improvements were visible in the exercises from these exhibition some weeks since. The reading of Prof. Frobisher was admirable, and we hope at some future day to hear him again. Success to the enterprising management of the exhibition.

Miss Etta Raybert, of East Second street, is visiting Mrs. M. Starr Kirch at Tarrytown-on-the-Hudson.

DISCRIMINATING LADIES.

Enjoy Using Herpicide on Account of Its Distinctiveness.
The ladies who have used Newbro's Herpicide speak of it in the highest terms, for its quick effect in cleansing the scalp of dandruff and also for its excellence as a general hair-dressing. It makes the scalp feel fresh and it allays that itching which dandruff will cause. Newbro's Herpicide effectively cures dandruff, as it destroys the germ that causes it. The same germ causes hair to fall out, and later baldness; in killing it, Herpicide stops falling hair and prevents baldness. It is also an ideal hair dressing, for it lends an aristocratic charm to the hair that is quite distinctive. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

JERSEY FARMERS ENJOY PROSPERITY.

Wives Use Gas to Cook With, Have Telephones and Electric Lights.

Could a farmer of the last generation behold the home of the up-to-date Jersey farmer of today, he would probably think that some magic change had affected agricultural life. The modern Jersey farmer is by no means a "rube." He is a prosperous individual, generally alert and businesslike, and his home is stocked with the latest improvements after the fashion of a house in a large city.

The Jersey farmer is no longer secluded from the world at large. In his house stands the telephone, by means of which he can keep posted on market prices all the time. By calling up Central in the morning he is enabled to get the official weather bulletin hours before a newspaper could reach him, and through this means he often saves hundreds of dollars on his crops.

No longer does the farmer's wife dread the idea of making that bothersome fire in the kitchen range in the morning. She simply goes into the kitchen, lights her gas stove, and sets the pots on to boil. Gas mains run between the various cities of the State, and the farmers in between have gas furnished to them for cooking, lighting, and even for heating, at the same rates as those enjoyed by the neighboring towns. Even way out in the country districts in the southern part of the State one may find an astonishing number of farmhouses in which gas is the only fuel used for cooking.

In the same manner, the farmer uses electricity to light his house and even his barns and stables. This would have seemed almost an impossible luxury to the farmer a few years ago, but with its increasing cheapness, electric current has come within the range of the farmer's purse. To strangers is is an odd sight to see the electric light wires along a country road with no houses in sight. Inventors declare that the time is not far distant when the farmer will do his milking, his churning and most of his farm work by electricity. The electric push-button will succeed the farmhand.

In the farmer's kitchen can be found all the latest patent devices to make housekeeping easy. These things give the farmer's wife of today much more time for social duties and the care and education of her children than her mother ever thought of having. The farmer himself reads scientific works on agriculture and the latest government farming bulletins may be found on his table.

The prosperous truck farmers of North Jersey even have their own automobiles. One of these men said to a friend the other day:

"When I was a boy I thought a great deal about Horace Greeley's injunction to go West. But I stuck to Jersey, and I have found the old State good enough for me. New York is right at our door waiting to gobble up all the market truck we can produce, and with plenty of money to pay for it.

"You see I own my own motor car. I expect that some day my son will be able to travel in his own airship."

Common to All.

"Yes; they're discussing the weather."

By OLIVIA B. STROHM

(Copyright, 1905, by Olivia B. Strohm).

The preacher could find no words for this man whose ebbing life held but one wish, and who wanted nothing beyond.

"We will take you soon, my poor friend, but wait—you are too weak, rest here."

Gonzaga retorted, huskily, weakly, but with a touch of his old defiance: "'Rest?' Yes, rest forever with no word nor look to carry to my grave! I must have both, I tell you, both word and look—from her." His voice rose to a shrill wail at the last words.

In vain the preacher tried to calm him, arguing that they would go when he was stronger, when he could more safely travel.

The sick man would not listen. "It's your fault that I am here; you would not let me kill him" (and he glanced about as if looking for some one). "You led me into this to-night, instead. Now make amends to me; bring me back—take me home—to her."

Winslow, from his stand in shadow, heard the last words. But he checked the impulse to go nearer; to look down in strength upon that weakness would be unmanly. Whatever his motives, it would only seem mockery to the prostrate rival.

But aside to the others he urged immediate return. No less, he said, to gratify the whim of a dying man, than because there was danger in delay. The Indians might, at any moment, spring upon them reenforced.

Boone and Rev. Ballinger concurred in this, but it was not easy to convince the rest. Already the tired men were disposed, some asleep by the fire, others chatting over a friendly bottle, all settled for the night with the care-free enjoyment only such men could know. But the Scriptural eloquence of the preacher, added to Winslow's personal popularity and the strong influence of Boone, prevailed, and with the first hint of daylight the party set forth.

In the primitive wagon, with its sides screened by flapping curtains of deerskin, which had been left where the trail entered the woods, they placed the wounded Gonzaga. And Daniel Boone trudged along with the rest, grateful for his rescue, but sad and silent—drinking of the bitter cup which age holds to every lip—the draught of hopeless dependence upon the unconscious condescension of youth.

CHAPTER XXVIII.

At the spinning wheel just within the door of the tavern sat Belle, the octoroon, humming an old song as her foot rose and fell in time to the treadle.

There was a step upon the path, and soft skirts brushed the shrubbery, but, intent upon the flax which her deft fingers guided from distaff to flyer, the spinner heard nothing until a voice at her side called: "Good afternoon, Belle; it is a pity to interrupt you. I see you improve each shining hour."

The woman jumped with alacrity to greet Lavender, and, bringing a chair, said: "I'm honored, sure enough, Miss Creighton, and the wheel can wait."

Gracefully dropping to the seat, Lavender placed a large basket on the ground, and waved her big hat across her face, rosy from brow to chin with the midday heat.

"It was very warm on the road, but how cool and nice under this trellis."

She picked a blossom of the cucumber vine that grew above, and the stir of leaves brought a feathery shower about her, all fragrant green and white.

"Yes'm, it's real nice. Mr. Winslow fixed the vines so's it would be shady."

"It was good of him to take the trouble." Then, looking directly into the octoroon's eyes, Lavender went on: "It was about Mr. Winslow that I wanted to speak to you to-day."

The quick smile, the evident pleasure in her listener's every feature, was reward enough for the condescension. "About him? About Mr. Winslow?"

"Yes, I had to come to town to-day to do some trading, and I wanted to see you, too. I am anxious to know if Mr. Winslow and Senor Gonzaga went on the relief expedition in aid of Col. Boone?"

The octoroon said yes, and remained silent.

Nothing more was said for a moment. Lavender was having a fierce battle with her pride.

Should she ask questions of this woman? Should she reveal to her interest in things which her inmost heart should keep sacred? Yet, after all, it was little to ask; if possible she would be spared further torture of suspense.

So she said, abruptly: "It has always seemed strange to me that Mr. Winslow came here so suddenly—in so mysterious a way."

Then, as the woman opened her mouth to speak, "I know, of course, that he came in response to this note. But you did not write it: I wonder who did?"

She placed in the woman's hand the yellow envelope.

The octoroon shook her head. "No'm; but it was somebody who knew he'd get into trouble if he went to that pollard willow where Sue Miller was to meet her—her beau." The name which trembled on her lips was not uttered, as quick came the recollection that she must be silent.

But to her amazement Lavender supplied it. "Yes, I know," she said (for at last rumor had brought to her ears something of the story of Gerald's intimacy with Sue Miller). "I know; to meet my brother. But who could have wanted Mr. Winslow there?"

"That I don't know, least it was some enemy who thought he'd get into trouble. The branch-water man had threatened to kill your—Mr. Gerald, and so anybody around there in the dark was likely to—"

But Lavender interrupted with a sharp cry: "No, no; it could not have been that. He—Mr. Winslow—has no enemy who would be so—so guilty."

She spoke with a touch of hauteur which subdued the woman. She argued now, instead: "Well, maybe it was somebody who wanted you to think Mr. Winslow was in love with Sue. That wouldn't have been so bad," she concluded, for she saw that for the first motive the young woman had no temper.

"No, n—, that wouldn't have been so bad," Lavender repeated, half to herself.

But the sickening suspicion overcame her, and she sank to the seat and rested her hot cheek against the soft, cool vine.

At that moment there was a sound of muffled voices, and down the road a film of sandy dust whitened the trees.

"They have come back," and, united in their common anxiety, the maid and woman rushed out awaiting the procession.

It was coming slowly. Lavender's heart stood still to see how slowly.

A dozen or more men trudged behind the unwieldy vehicle, which seemed to crawl after the jaded mules. At last the girl's strained eyes alighted upon a straight figure, walking sturdily and unharmed by its side. Overpowered by the relief which sight of Winslow brought, and shamed at excess of it, Lavender leaned against the wooden block, hands clasped and color mounting until her cheeks outflamed the salvia that edged the way with a hem of scarlet.

Owatoga hurried in advance, and strode to her side without a word, but with a variety of emotions wrinkling his usually impassive face.

CONFIRMED PROOF.

Residents of Plainfield Cannot Doubt

What Has Been Twice Proved.

In gratitude for complete relief from aches and pains of bad backs—from distressing kidney ills—thousands have publicly recommended Doan's Kidney Pills. Residents of Plainfield, who so testified years ago, now say their cures were permanent. This testimony doubly proves the worth of Doan's Kidney Pills to Plainfield kidney sufferers.

S. C. Conklin, of 134 West Front street, Plainfield, N. J., says: "I was suffering from aches and pains in my side, back and hips. My kidneys did not work as they should, and as far as I could learn from physicians I was in a very bad shape with my kidneys and bladder. I was casting about for a cure but nothing I did helped me until I used Doan's Kidney Pills which I procured at L. W. Randolph's pharmacy. I took three boxes and they cured me. I gave a statement at that time telling what this remedy did for me and I am glad to repeat the praise I gave Doan's Kidney Pills at that time."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

A Great Novel.

Another notable offering in the Sunday World's remarkable series of new novels by the greatest living writers will be published in a special section on the four Sundays in October. It is by Gertrude Atherton, and is a thrilling tale of love and adventure, entitled "Regenov." This novel was written by Mrs. Atherton especially for this series, and will be unobtainable elsewhere until its conclusion in the Sunday World.

George L. Babcock, of West Eighth street, who has been sojourning at Watch Hill, R. I., will return to Alfred University this month.

Mr. and Mrs. Alvin T. Shotwell and two children, of Fargo, South Dakota, are visiting Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Cadmus, of Plainfield avenue. They formerly resided her, Mr. Shotwell being engaged in the stone business.

UNION COUNTY ORPHANS' COURT.
ADMINISTRATOR'S SALE.

In the matter of the insolvent Estate of Francis S. Runyon, Deceased. | Order for sale of land.

By virtue of an order entered in the above stated matter on the twenty-fifth day of March, A. D. 1903, I shall sell at public vendue, at the Hotel Iroquois, corner of Park avenue and East Second street, in the City of Plainfield, N. J., on Tuesday, the sixteenth day of October, A. D. 1906, at two o'clock in the afternoon, all those two certain tracts or parcels of land and premises, hereinafter particularly described, situate, lying and being in the City of Plainfield, in the County of Union and State of New Jersey.

The first tract beginning at a point in the northeasterly side of Westervelt avenue, being a corner of a lot of land conveyed by Francis S. Runyon to John B. Mills, by deed dated May 11, 1894, recorded in Book 277 of Deeds, page 212, etc.; thence running northeasterly along line of that lot one hundred (100) feet to line of land formerly Harriott's; thence northwesterly along that line forty-five and thirty-four one-hundredths (45.34) feet to a point for a corner of a lot of land formerly owned by said Runyon and Mills; thence southwesterly along line of that lot, one hundred (100) feet to the northeasterly side of Westervelt avenue; thence southeasterly along said northeasterly side of Westervelt avenue forty-five (45) feet and six (6) inches to the place of beginning. Together with the land in front of the same to the middle of Westervelt avenue, to be used as a public street. Being same premises described in a deed from John B. Mills and wife to said Francis S. Runyon, dated May 11, 1894, recorded in Book 277 of Deeds, page 216, etc.

The second tract beginning at a point where the centre line of South avenue is intersected by the centre line of Leland avenue; thence southwesterly along the centre line of South avenue two hundred and thirty-three (233) feet to a corner of lands of Charles L. Stanley, formerly Mary E. Childs'; thence southeasterly along said Stanley's line two hundred and thirty-three (233) feet to his corner in line of Charles Hyde's land, formerly; thence northeasterly along line of said Hyde, formerly, two hundred and thirty-three (233) feet to a point in the middle of Leland avenue; thence northwesterly along the middle of Leland avenue two hundred and thirty-three (233) feet to the place of beginning. Being part of same premises conveyed to said Francis S. Runyon by deed of Simeon Tingue and wife, dated August 1, 1874, recorded in Book 93 of Deeds, on page 228, etc.

Together with the appurtenances thereunto belonging, or in any wise appertaining.

Dated, September 8th, 1906.

DIAMOND DUST.

The New York Americans broke their winning streak on Monday by losing to the Bostons by a score of 4 to 1. It was quite remarkable that the tail-enders of the league should be able to do the trick, but inasmuch as the Chicagos also lost, the defeat of the Highlanders is not so serious.

"Lou" Wiltse will play with the West Ends, of Somerville, on Saturday, against Flemington, and the county seat aggregation is planning to give the Hunterdon county boys a good drubbing.

Coombs, the Colgate University twirler, who is now a member of the pitching staff of the Philadelphia Athletics, continues to do good work. His performance at Boston recently in the twenty-four inning contest, which he won, has stamped him as first class goods.

The appearance of a women's baseball team on Crescent Oval Saturday will be the second aggregation of this kind to be seen in this city. Those who have seen the team play say that they put up a first class game.

Minford still continues to pitch fine ball for Millstone, and Overton is catching a faultless game. This combination is a winner and a majority of the contests won by Millstone is due to the excellent work of the battery.

George Wiltse, of the New York Giants, is clearly demonstrating his ability as a twirler this season, showing that he is the best slabman on the staff. On Monday he shut-out Boston by a score of 4 to 0.

In the opinion of the best sporting writers it is a doubtful question whether the Highlanders will be able to maintain their present pace on the western trip. They will play twenty-five games while away, finishing the season in the west. However, if the pitching staff remains good and no serious accidents happen to the rest of the team, it should not be difficult for them to hold first position. Fifteen straight victories is a record to be proud of.

It certainly looks now as though Buffalo will win the Eastern League pennant, while Jersey City holds a good second position. Despite the fact that the Newarks are considered stronger this year than last, they are now in sixth position.

GOLF.

The final play for the semi-scratch cup between C. B. Morgan and W. Lester Glenney will probably come off next week. Morgan is away from the city this week and it is doubtful whether he returns in time to play on Saturday.

Robert Abbott has returned from the New England States and is devoting much time at the Plainfield Country Club, prior to returning to Yale to resume his studies.

John M. Ward, the well-known ball player of other days, and now a prominent golfer, being a member of the Fox Hills Club, New York, won the Equinox cup on the Ekwanok course, Manchester, Vt., on Saturday. He played such a good game that he ended the match at the twelfth hole.

The Saturday night dinner-dances at the Plainfield Country Club are attractive features. Excellent music is furnished and the number of guests is constantly increasing. There will be another dance on Saturday night.

FOOTBALL.

A meeting in the interest of the formation of an athletic association in the West End will be held at Hope chapel tonight at 9 o'clock. All interested persons are invited. Arrangements will be made for the game of association football to be played on Hope Common Saturday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock.

SCOTCH PLAINS SCHOOLS REOPEN FOR FALL TERM.

Principal Daniel T. Henderson Takes Charge of the Schools.

The Scotch Plains public school reopened this morning after one of the longest summer vacations the pupils have ever had. The attendance was up to the average, the new arrangement of having the high school pupils take the High School course in Plainfield making no apparent decrease from last year's enrollment, as the twelve pupils will be more than made up by the enrollment of new ones.

There have been several changes in the corps of teachers. Principal Daniel T. Henderson, who succeeds Howard D. White, comes from Port Monmouth, N. J., and has been principal of the Englishtown schools for several years. His is ably fitted for the work. Another new member is Miss Hogan, of Cortlandt, N. Y., who succeeds Miss Sadie Reger. Miss Hogan is a graduate of the Cortlandt Normal School; has had several years' experience and comes well recommended for the work. The balance of the corps are the teachers who were with the school last year and several of them for several years past, Miss Squier, Miss Ingram, Miss Egan and Miss Halloway. With this corps at the head and with the regrading of the school, the Board of Education is looking forward to a most successful year for the school. It will take several days for the grading of the pupils in the several classes and taking care of the new ones enrolled.

Was Another Fahn

It was Robert Fahn who was arraigned in the borough court for fast driving, Monday night, and not Lawrence Fahn, Jr., as reported.

Mr. and Mrs. Evarts Tracy, of Hillside avenue, have returned from their trip to the Pacific coast. They had a delightful vacation, but were very much impressed with the devastation wrought by the earthquake and fire. They say that it is far worse than described in the newspapers and the work of rebuilding is retarded very much because of the lack of eastern capital, which is not being received as fast as hoped for. There is a strong spirit of hopefulness, however, and the people are doing their best to recover.

—William Dunn, a member of the composing staff of the Courier-News, has resigned his position in order to accept the foremanship of the New Brunswick Times composing room. He enters upon his new duties Monday. Mr. Dunn's home has always been in New Brunswick.

—D. W. Applegate, the horse dealer, of the borough, has returned from the West with a carload of fine selected horses, suitable for all purposes.

CHRISTIAN FIELD.

Rev. B. M. Bogan, of St. Mary's church, has returned from his vacation spent at the Catholic Summer School in Plattsburg, N. Y.

The Boys' Mission Band, of Trinity Reformed church, held its first fall meeting yesterday afternoon to plan for the winter work. Two new members were elected.

The second quarterly conference of the First M. E. church will be held in Vincent chapel, Wednesday night, September 26. Rev. Dr. Halleron, the presiding elder, will be in charge.

The Ladies' Christian Work Society of Trinity Reformed church, that strong right-hand of the church, at its last meeting voted to appropriate $50 to the Consistory to be used for replacing new matting on the floor of the lecture room. This energetic organization of women is always ready to give assistance when needed. The expense of purchasing the new matting will be about $135 and the other societies of the church will contribute the balance of the money needed for the improvement.

CLOSED PORTALS.

All past chancellors of Unity Lodge, No. 102, K. of P., are requested to attend the regular session of the lodge to be held tomorrow night, when business of importance relative to the election of grand lodge officers will be presented. Members of the lodge who contemplated attending the field day exercises at Asbury Park tomorrow, can secure card orders for reduced fare from Frank Putnam, keeper of records and seal.

Franklin Council, No. 41, Jr. O. U. A. M., will have initiation at its meeting tomorrow night.

Mr. Leader's Experience.

When A. J. Leader returned to Plainfield last night after a visit to Kearsarge, N. H., it was difficult for him to believe for a time that he had not been in a dream, particularly when he found that the thermometer here has been well up in the nineties. Only on Tuesday of last week was he feeling comfortable wrapped up in a heavy overcoat at Mt. Washington. The snow was falling and the wind howling with a velocity of seventy miles an hour. The ponds were covered with ice of a thickness of fully one inch. It was his second visit this summer to the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Porter, at Kearsarge. Today he mopped his brow as he vowed that unless the weather man does better by Plainfield he may quit the printing business and hie himself and his family to the hills of New Hampshire. His neighbors are now thinking of supplying him with ice and electric fans all the year round to keep him in Duer street.

C. W. McCutchen Returns.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. McCutchen, of Rockview avenue, who have been travelling abroad for several months, returned home yesterday. They had a delightful trip and were much benefitted in health.

—Neuman Brothers employ experts to select their peaches. A new lot of 350 baskets in tomorrow, high grade yellow and white fruit, reduced to 85c, $1 and $1.25 a basket.

PLAN THE CONVENTION

Union County Republicans to Nominate Thursday Afternoon September 27.

ANNOUNCEMENTS MADE

Independent Candidates Must Be Nominated By Petitions Signed By Two Per Cent. of the Voters.

The Union County Republican convention for the nomination of three assemblymen will be held in the Lyceum theatre, Elizabeth, Thursday afternoon, September 27, at 3 o'clock. That will be two days after the primaries and one day previous to the convention for the nomination of a candidate for Congress from the Fifth district.

The date was fixed by the Republican County Committee Tuesday evening.

There was a brief discussion as to whether the convention should be held in the afternoon or evening, but the great majority was in favor of an afternoon session. The call will be issued in a few days.

In response to an inquiry from one of the committeemen, County Chairman Frank H. Smith explained that it would be necessary to hold conventions for nominations of candidates for freeholder in those freeholders' districts which are made up of more than one municipality. Thus, Cranford and Garwood jointly elect a freeholder, and the majority of the delegates from these places will have to decide on the time and place of the convention. Primary tickets must contain the names of delegates to these conventions.

Independent candidates must be nominated by petitions signed by at least 2 per cent. of the voters of the party in the district. In cities, the city conventions will, as usual, name the freeholder nominees.

In reply to another question the county chairman said that members of the county committee must be elected at the primaries.

On motion of County Clerk James C. Calvert, the county chairman was authorized to appoint each member of the committee and one other to serve as challengers on primary day in each election district.

R. A. Waterbury was appointed a member of the county committee from the Eleventh ward, Elizabeth, in place of Everard K. Tucker, resigned. Thomas M. Clark was appointed a member of the committee from the Sixth ward, Elizabeth, in place of George H. Kline, who has also resigned.

Just before adjournment, Charles N. Codding referred to the death of Edward M. Wood and moved that a committee of three be appointed to frame suitable resolutions for presentation to his family.

In seconding the motion James C. Calvert said Mr. Wood was one of the best workers for the interests of the Republican party the county ever had. He declared that he made it his duty to see that county expenses were kept within the appropriations and that with the present freeholders, he had left behind him an enduring monument in the new courthouse.

The committee will meet again on Thursday, September 27, at 2 o'clock.

Miss Thompson's Funeral.

The funeral of Miss Marie Thompson took place yesterday afternoon at her late home on West Front street. The house was filled with her many friends and relatives, all of who indeed greatly felt the loss of a very dear friend. Her beautiful character, sweet and loving disposition, and ever ready to help those in need made her dearly beloved by all who knew her. A profusion of floral pieces were sent from her many friends. Rev. L. R. Howard conducted the service. His sympathetic and comforting words were greatly felt and appreciated. Interment took place in the family plot at Hillside cemetery.

Back From Porto Rico.

Lieutenant Gerald Ollif, U. S. A., and Mrs. Ollif, are spending a month at the home of the latter's mother, Mrs. Harriet Runyon, 1080 Arlington avenue. They have just come from Culebra, Porto Rico, where Lieut. Ollif has been stationed. He has been transferred on account of ill health, and will probably go to Newport, R. I. On the way up the ship on which Lieutenant and Mrs. Ollif sailed ran into a hurricane that lasted thirty-six hours and threatened the safety of the vessel.

Schropper Arraigned.

Frank Schropper, the member of the quartette of youths arrested before the theatre Monday night, who failed to appear in court yesterday, was arraigned this morning. He said he was under the impression the hearing was set for today. Sentence was suspended.

THOMAS HANNA TO QUIT EQUAL TAX BOARD

WILLIAM R. TOWNSEND LIKELY TO BE CHOSEN CLERK.

Thomas Hanna, of this city, who has been secretary to the Union County Equal Tax Board since its organization, has tendered his resignation, the same to take effect Saturday. He is withdrawing for the purpose of entering the banking house of Harvey Fisk & Sons, New York, in which he has secured a responsible position.

Mr. Hanna is an experienced bookkeeper and his work as secretary to the tax board has been invaluable to the members. His new appointment is a decided change for the better. No sooner had the resignation been tendered than steps were taken to secure a successor, the work of the board at this time being such that it must be continued without delay. As Mr. Hanna is a Plainfield man eyes were cast in this direction and out of several desirable candidates it is probable that William R. Townsend will be selected. He is well fitted for the place and has the endorsement of the local Republicans. The office pays a salary of $1,200 a year.

MORE NEW MARKET SCHOOL BONDS SOLD

MIFFORD RUNYON GETS 10 AND F. PERCY VAIL ONE.

Several additional school bonds were sold at New Market yesterday by the Piscataway Township School Board, but it was impossible to dispose of them all. In consequence an adjournment was taken for two weeks at the same place and time, 2 o'clock. W. A. Coddington, of the firm of Reed & Coddington, who is counsel for the school board and township, conducted the sale of the bonds.

Mefford Runyon, of Stelton, purchased ten New Market school bonds, of $500 denomination each at 4 per cent., while F. Percy Vail took one of the same issue. This leaves six New Market school bonds and three Parker school house bonds to sell.

According to the arrangement there are twenty-four bonds, each of $500, and two are to be retired each year. The number of the bonds were placed in a hat and Charles E. Kelly drew ten for Mr. Runyon and one for Mr. Vail. The latter remarked just as Mr. Kelly was selecting his number from the hat, "If you draw number '23' I will give you a cigar." When the ticket was handed to Mr. Vail there was the number "23" and he promptly presented Mr. Kelly with a cigar.

While the Park school house is completed and has practically been accepted by the board, it cannot be used until the furniture arrives, which will be in a few days. The New Market building will not be completed much before the Christmas holidays, although the contractors are rushing the work with all possible speed.

FUNERAL OF COUNTY COLLECTOR E. M. WOOD.

Private Services at His Late Home Tomorrow Afternoon.

The funeral of County Collector Edward M. Wood will take place tomorrow afternoon. There will be private services at 3:30 at his late home, 116 West Jersey street, Elizabeth. The services at St. John's church will take place at 4 o'clock. The Board of Freeholders will attend the funeral in a body.

There will be no special meeting of the Board of Freeholders before the funeral because of the impossibility of getting members from all over the county together on such short notice. There will be a meeting of the board probably some day next week, at which resolutions will be passed on the death of Mr. Wood, and steps taken to choose a successor to him in office. Nathan R. Leavitt acted as county collector pro tem during Mr. Wood's illness. It is said that Mr. Leavitt will be chosen county collector. He has been familiar with the work of the office for many years.

Hope Men's Club Meeting.

The Men's Club of Hope chapel will hold an important meeting next Tuesday night. The recently elected officers will be installed and a social time enjoyed. All members are earnestly requested to be present.

Matinee Races On Saturday.

There will be matinee racing at the Plainfield Driving Park Saturday afternoon, in which Westfield and local horses will take part. The meet will be under the direction of the Gentlemen's Driving Association.

DR. MOORE MARRIES MISS SADIE WINCKLER

CEREMONY PERFORMED BY REV. DR. C. W. PARSONS LAST NIGHT.

Miss Sadie Adele Winckler, daughter of Elmer E. Winckler, of 135 Westervelt avenue, and Dr. Charles L. Moore, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph L. Moore, of 918 West Front street, were married at 7 o'clock last night at the home of the bride's father, in the presence of about 150 relatives and intimate friends. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Dr. Charles Wesley Parsons, pastor of Grace M. E. church, of which the bride is a member.

The bride was gowned in white messaline over white taffeta and trimmed with point lace, was attended by two bridesmaids, Miss Agnes LaBoyteaux and Miss Ada Bennett, of Brooklyn. They were gowned in white chiffon taffeta, trimmed with German Valenciennes lace and wore green girdles. The bride carried a bouquet of white roses and lilies-of-the-valley, while the bridesmaids carried bouquets of white carnations. The best man was Dr. Walter aMncell, of Philadelphia, a classmate of the groom at the University of Pennsylvania.

The house was lavishly decorated with smilax, clematis, white carnations and palms, these flowers and vines being used with good effect in the parlor and dining room. Following the ceremony there was a reception and supper was served. Later in the evening the couple left on a two weeks' wedding trip. Upon their return they will reside at 902 West Front street, the property recently being purchased by the groom.

The bride is highly esteemed by a large circle of friends. She has been very active in affairs at Grace M. E. church. The groom was graduated from the dental department of the University of Pennsylvania, class '02, and has had a successful practice ever since.

The couple received many handsome and costly gifts. The groom's gift to the bride was a necklace of pearls with a pendant of saphires.

The guests arranged to give Dr. and Mrs. Moore a good send-off by decorating their coach with ribbons, tin cans and old shoes, but the couple cleverly escaped this and entered another coach in which they escaped before their friends realized what happened.

THREATENS TO SUE SOMERSET FREEHOLDERS.

Purchaser of Old Court House Says Contract Has Been Violated.

The Somerset County Board of Freeholders is threatened with a suit for damages by Hyman Kline, who purchased the old court house and jail. Mr. Kline was to have possession in three weeks, and accordingly sold the jail to the Congregation of Ansche Chesed, and was going to move it for them to be used as a chapel, and the stone of the old court house to New York parties. His contract called for delivery in thirty days and he was obliged to break it. Now he wants damages.

Owing to the slow work in completing the new jail the Freeholders could not give possession to the old buildings as soon as they had expected and the old buildings could not be razed until the sheriff and his boarders had a place to move to. It is now expected they will move in their new quarters next week.

WOULD ENJOIN STREKERS.

Krom Works Gets "Rule to Show Cause" From Chancery Court.

Next Tuesday has been set as the date for argument on the application of the Krom Machine Works for an injunction to restrain the strikers from picketing the shop, before the Court of Chancery.

The Machine Works, through G. W. V. Moy, were granted a rule against nine alleged members of the Machinists' Union, to show cause why they should not be enjoined from loitering about the Krom shop, from seeking to annoy or influence the workmen and from picketing the shop. Among the men named in the application for the rule are Arthur Jacobson, Ira Teeter, Herbert Utzinger, Louis Bergen, John Borrup, William McConnell and Arthur Hibbard.

S. S. Teachers' Union.

The Sunday-school Teachers' Union will hold its annual meeting at the Y. M. C. A. on September 17, in the afternoon. Officers for the year will be elected.

Miss Fuller Engaged.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd D. Fuller announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Carrie Florence Fuller, to Charles Menson Fedderman, of Dunellen.

CANNOT BE A CANDIDATE

Borough G. O. P. Must Find Another For Councilman Lee's Place.

McCLINTOCK PROBABLE

Necessary to Obtain Candidate's Signature Before Sept. 15—Lee Away on Business.

Though endorsed by the borough Republicans at the meeting of the Good Government Club Tuesday night, Charles L. Lee has not yet signed the required petition acknowledging himself a candidate for councilmanic nomination and it is not likely that he will. The leaders of the party have taken this as an accepted fact and are now seeking another man to stand.

The petition, signed by ten voters, must be in the hands of the borough clerk by Saturday in order that the candidate may receive official recognition at the primaries. When Mr. Lee's name was endorsed it was thought he could be seen next day and have him affix his signature. Since then it has been learned that he is away on his vacation and will not be back until Monday. It is also stated that as he has already served two terms in the council he would much prefer to have some one else placed on the ticket.

The available councilmanic timber is not any too plentiful and as a result the recognized borough leaders have been busy today seeking some one for the place. The petition has been prepared and it is almost a certainty that it will go to Borough Clerk Rowley Saturday bearing the name of J. E. McClintock, of Fairview avenue. He has signified his willingness to accept the nomination and he would prove a valuable man in the council. Though his experience in local public life has been limited he has always kept in close touch with borough affairs and is competent to assist in their conduct. He lives in the second district and his election would balance up the number of representatives in council from each side of Somerset street.

MRS. TOMLINSON HEAD OF PLAINFIELD'S W. C. T. U.

Memorial Services Follow the Annual Business of Temperance Workers.

Officers were elected and reports were received at the annual meeting of the Women's Christian Temperance Union, yesterday afternoon. The various reports of the superintendents, and the annual report of Mrs. Peter Bennett, corresponding secretary, showed that the Union has had a very successful year. There has been an increase in membership and the financial condition is excellent.

These officers were elected: President, Mrs. T. H. Tomlinson; recording secretary, Mrs. Thomas B. Bodine; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Peter Bennett; treasurer, Miss May E. Howlett. The vice-presidents, representatives from the various churches, were all re-elected.

At the close of the business a memorial service was held for those members who have died during the year. Their names were read and brief eulogistic remarks were made by the officers and members. It was announced that an anniversary service will be held Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock. Mrs. T. H. Tomlinson will be in charge. George Stewart, of Faith chapel, will make a few remarks and there will be special music under the direction of Mrs. Newton Honeyman.

Democratic Meeting Postponed.

The Democrats of the borough did not meet last night, there not being enough voters present. The meeting is now scheduled to take place tomorrow night in Spencer's hall at 8 o'clock, when candidates for the position of delegates to the congressional and county conventions will be selected to be voted for on September 25. Candidates for the nomination of two councilmen and one justice of the peace are also to be chosen.

Colbyites' Assembly Ticket.

Benjamin J. Fleuchaus, of Summit, is to be a candidate for the Assembly on the Colby ticket in Union county. Mr. Fleuchaus signified his willingness to run at a meeting of the Colbyites in their headquarters in Elizabeth. The other two Colby candidates in this county are Judge William N. Runyon, of this city, and School Commissioner William F. Groves, of Elizabeth.

Co. K On a Vacation.

The members of Co. K are now having a vacation after an unusually busy summer, which included a trip to Sea Girt. The company will resume its drills about the first of October. Many social events are being planned for the winter season, and altogether the boys will have a full programme.

DISAPPEARED WITH EXPENSIVE COSTUMES

TWO YOUNG MEN WHOM JULES BOUTES WOULD LIKE TO MEET.

Jules Boutes, the costumer, is looking for two well dressed young men who disappeared with costly make-ups on August 31. They came to his place that night and asked if he fitted out for a private masquerade ball. They didn't say where the masquerade was to be held, but they looked as if they belonged to a set that would be apt to hold an affair of fashion.

Mr. Bontes fitted them out in elaborate fashion. On their he placed wigs costing, one $40 and the other $50. Their costume was in keeping and their faces were carefully painted; it was too hot for a mask.

When one had been dressed he looked with satisfaction on himself in the glass and said he would step into Mr. Zontes' dining room to write the names of himself and his companion on a slip of paper, while the latter was finishing his dressing. He came out of the dining room a moment later and in a few minutes left the house with his friend.

Mr. Bontes put things to rights and then stepped into the dining room to see the names on the slip. There was no slip on the table nor anywhere else in the two rooms was there a scrap of paper. And not a hint of tidings from the young men has come to him since. He has not even been able to find out whether or not there was, as a matter of fact, a masquerade ball on the night of the thirty-first.

CELEBRATE FIFTEENTH WEDDING ANNIVERSARY.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles D. Wheeler Receive Congratulations of Friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles D. Wheeler, of Stone street, celebrated the fifteenth anniversary of their wedding at their home on Monday night, when thirty relatives and friends gathered to extend their congratulations. During the evening games were played and there were vocal solos by Miss Nora B. Schenck, accompanied on the organ by Mrs. Joseph O. McKelvey.

Later in the evening refreshments were served by the host and hostess. The home was appropriately decorated with flowers and greens. It was about midnight when the guests departed, all extending their best wishes to Mr. and Mrs. Wheeler for many happy returns of the occasion. The couple received some useful and handsome gifts.

WON'T GIVE FIGURES.

P. S. C. Withholds Mileage of Pipes and Wire From the Assessors.

The assessors are having trouble getting figures on the amount of pipe and wire used by the P. S. C. in this city. Pipes and wires are taxed as property, and the assessors want to know how many feet of each is used.

The assessors say the corporation won't give out the figures. It is said the local superintendent in each department has acknowledged that he knows to an inch how much wire and pipe is in service, but says he can't give out the information. He referred the assessors to headquarters, and headquarters has calmly ignored queries. The assessors have been compelled to guess at the mileage in order to get their papers filled out on time.

Mr. MacSherry Retires.

Howard MacSherry, who has been the chief trial lawyer of the Public Service Corporation since its organization four years ago, has resigned to begin the private practise of law. No successor to him has been named yet. Mr. MacSherry was formerly employed in the same capacity under the old management of the North Jersey Street Railway Company, and previous to that he was trial lawyer for the Southern Pacific Railway Company in California. During his connection with the trolley company he has tried over 100 cases, and has met in a professional way almost every man who has served on a petit jury in this county during that time. Mr. MacSherry delivered the address at the local Elks memorial service in the Casino last year.

Colbyite Headquarters.

The four ward chairmen of the Colbyites, Stephen H. Tugwell, H. C. Tracy, F. E. Kinsman and Angus Allen, met last night to discuss ways and means and the establishment of a headquarters. It was said this morning that two locations had been considered for the latter, and choice would be fixed upon very shortly.

—The Executive Committee of the C. E. Union will meet at the Y. M. C. A. tonight.

—Seeing is believing, so stop around and view the big display of extra good quality peaches at Neuman Brothers. New lot of 350 baskets tomorrow at 85c, $1 and $1.25.

WILLARD MARTIN WEDS MISS ADA M. DUNHAM

DR. SCHENCK OFFICIATES AT CEREMONY AT HOME OF BRIDE'S PARENTS.

Miss Ada May Dunham, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Garret T. Dunham, of West Front street, and Willard Butler Martin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Horace J. Martin, of Watchung avenue, were quietly married at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon at the home of the bride's home. Rev. Dr. Cornelius Schenck, pastor of Trinity Reformed church, performed the ceremony. Only the members of the two families were present. The couple were unattended.

The bride was married in a travelling gown of dark green material with hat to match. Following the ceremony, supper was served and later the couple left for Belmar, where they will spend their honeymoon. Upon their return they will reside in this city. Mr. and Mrs. Martin were given a rousing send-off as they left the city. The young folks followed them to the North Avenue station and showered them with rice and confetti.

The bride is well-known in a large circle of friends. She has been a member of the First Baptist church choir for some time. She is also a member of the Plainfield Operatic Association, having taken leading parats in several operas. The groom is also well-known. He is an attendant at Trinity Reformed church, where he has been active in the various departments of work. He holds a position in New York.

3 PRIESTS OFFICIATED AT THIS MARRIAGE

MISS M'KEON IS WEDDED TO C. B. KNOX AT ST. MARY'S.

Miss Kathryn McKeon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John McKeon, of West Front street, and Culver B. Knox, of Jersey City, were married yesterday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock in St. Mary's church, in the presence of a large gathering of relatives and friends. Father Westman, formerly curate at St. Mary's church, but now of Cranford, performed the ceremony, assisted by Rev. B. M. Bogan, rector, and Father Delehanty, curate, of the church.

The bride, gowned in lace embroidered net over white silk, was attended by Miss Mary Smith, organist of the church, as bridesmaid, who wore a gown of white chiffon batiste over pink silk. The bride wore a white picture hat and the bridesmaid one of pink. The former carried a bouquet of bridal roses and the latter a bouquet of pink. The best man was John Knox, of New York, a brother of the groom.

The church was attractively decorated with palms and ferns, arranged about the chancel.

After the ceremony the bridal party returned to the home of the bride's parents on West Front street, where supper was served by Demolli, of this city. There were guests from Jersey City, New York, Poughkeepsie, Boston and this city at the reception and all enjoyed a programme of vocal and instrumental music and dancing until a late hour. A feature was a serenade by several members of the Plainfield Cornet Band, of which the bride's brother, Andrew McKeon, was a former member. They played several popular selections, after which they enjoyed the hospitality of Mr. and Mrs. McKeon. During the evening there were selections on the piano by Charles B. Knox, brother of the groom, who is organist of the First Congregational church at Albany, N. Y.

The house was elaborately decorated for the reception with cut flowers, ferns and palms, which were effectively used in the reception hall, parlor and dining room.

The coach which carried the bride and groom from the church to the house and then to the railroad station was generously decorated with white ribbons and old shoes.

Mr. and Mrs. Knox received a laarge number of gifts, including cut-glass, silverware, furniture and other articles of use and value. The couple will reside on Montgomery street, Jersey City. Mr. Knox holds a position with the Tuxedo Automobile Company, of New York. The bride has been a member of the choir of St. Mary's church, and also the Plainfield Operatic Association, taking part in the several operas given by that association.

Douglas Chosen Captain.

A meeting of the Plainfield High School football candidates was held today and William Douglas was appointed captain. Practice will begin Monday and Captain Douglas says the prospects for a winning season look favorable.

SECOND WARD POLITICS

Hall and Meeker Now Being Discussed as Councilmanic Candidates.

CART-TAIL MEETINGS

Open Air Campaigning All Next Week—La Follette to Speak at Concert Park.

About the only new developments in the political situation since yesterday are the booms for Robert A. Meeker and Henry L. Hall for councilmanic nomination in the Second ward. One report has it that an effort will be made to have Councilman Henry D. Hibbard, who has been endorsed by the Colbyites, withdraw. In his place according to the story current Mr. Hall is to be named, it being reported that his petition would be signed by five Colbyites and five regulars. Mr. Hall would not confirm the story this morning, neither would he deny it. Mr. Hall is a Colbyite in State and county politics, but is not affiliated with the movement in municipal affairs. An attempt had been made by some of his friends in the organization to have stand as the regular candidate but he declined. A petition in favor of State Supervisor of Roads Meeker is being circulated by the regulars today.

Senator Colby, the State leader of the "New Idea" movement was in town on Monday, to size up the situation locally. While here he visited several leaders of the reform movement. It is expected that he will accompany Senator LaFollette when the latter comes to Plainfield Wednesday night. It is announced that the Wisconsin stateman will speak at an open air mass meeting to be held at Concert Park. Should the weather be unfavorable the meeting will be held in Reform hall. Cart-tail speeches will be held by the reform party at the various manufacturing plants at the noon hour every day next week. Similar meetings will also take place in the business section of the town.

So far as is known, no candidate has been endorsed by the regulars in the Third ward in opposition to Councilman Tyler, who has the endorsement of the local branch of the Union County League. It is said not to be unlikely that no other endorsement will be made by the regulars.

CONCERT PROGRAMME.

Italian Band to Give Final Concert Tomorrow Night.

The band concert tomorrow night at Concert Park will positively be the last one of the season, and there will also be a fine display of fireworks to mark the occasion. The concert and fireworks will be given under the direction of Ben. LaVere, by the Italian band from New York, which appeared here for two seasons at the celebration of the "Feast of Our Lady of Mt. Carmel," and those who had charge of the fireworks at those celebrations will be in charge tomorrow night. The Italians have interested themselves in this concert and firework display in behalf of Mr. LaVere, who has previously helped them and it is hoped thereby to make up the season's deficiency.

The musical programme will be as follows:

March, "Victor," Pryor; overture, "Bohemian Girl," Balf; waltz, "Auf Wiedersehen," Waldtenfel; "Stabat Mater," Rossini; vocal solo, selected, William Redmond; intermezzo, "Gleaming Star," Bendix; selection, "Faust," Gounod; "Patrol American," Meacham; vocal solo, selected, Jack Elliott; "America."

Banquet at Pluckamin.

The annual banquet and women's meeting of the Raritan Ministerial Association will be held at Kenilworth Inn, Pluckamin, Monday morning at 10:30. The paper will be read by Rev. Dr. James LeFeare, of Somerville, who will have for his topic, "Ministers' Vacations." The annual election of officers will take place and some after-dinner speeches will be made.

High Drawing Classes.

The drawing classes of the Plainfield High School met today for organization. With the new equipments, Miss A. J. Bennet, the instructor, it is said, will be able to give a more satisfactory course than in previous years. Girls who intend entering Normal School are required to take a course in drawing, and mechanical drawing is required for boys who take up engineering.

New Boys' Secretary.

H. W. Barrows, the new boys' secretary of the Y. M. C. A., will take charge of the work tomorrow. Mr. Barrows has been spending the past few weeks at a conference on boys' work at Lake George, N. Y. His home is in Haverhill, Mass. He last worked among boys at the 26th Ward Branch of Brooklyn.

NEWS IN THE SUBURBS.

DUNELLEN AND VICINITY

The baseball plans of the new Athletic Club are regarded askance by the management and supporters of the present team. They do not know just where they figure in the plans. Randolph says he doesn't know anything of the reported signing for 1907.

The presentation of the flag for the Lincoln School at Apgar's Hall Monday night, by Rockview Council, D. of L., will begin at 8:45 o'clock. The ceremony will be impressive and, of course, patriotic. The Board of Education will attend in a body.

W. M. Ostrander, who has the developement of Lincoln in hand, is making arrangements to have a part of the New Market road there relocated. The Township Committee has given full permission.

The candidates for the football team were out for practice last night. Prospects are bright for a team that will give the Orange Field Club eleven a hard rub for the season's honors.

Mrs. Frank Faulks, who has been ill for some time at the home of her mother in North Plainfield, has returned home. She is rapidly recovering her strength.

A. A. Gray has received a settlement of his claim for accident insurance. His sprained foot is tender still, but he will soon be able to discard his cane.

The M. E. Sunday-school has resumed afternoon sessions. Rev. Mr. Dutcher and his family have become settled again in the parsonage.

"Bob" Fitzsimmons has received a handsome revolver as a gift from Chief of Police Kiely, of Plainfield.

Mrs. M. L. Rarick entertained the Presbyterian Women's Missionary Society Tuesday afternoon.

The total enrollment of the schools is in the neighborhood of 275.

Shepard Fitz-Randolph has returned from a stay in Maine.

P. R. Apgar is recovering from his severe illness.

PLAINS AND FANWOOD

The Democratic caucus meeting to be held tomorrow night in the Bucket and Engine Company rooms promises to be equally as harmonious as the Republican caucus. Thomas J. Nicholl will probably be the nominee for Township Committeeman to succeed himself and John Z. Hetfield as collector and Charles H. French as assessor, will no doubt be renominated. No opposition is talked of and as all have filled the offices to the satisfaction of their party and the taxpayers in general, they are entitled to a renomination.

The marriage of Herbert Mooney, son of Mrs. Charles M. Mooney, of Valley road, and Miss Elizabeth Emedly Woodruff, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry M. Woodruff, of Seminary avenue, Rahway, took place at the home of the bride's parents at 7:30 last night. The nuptial event was attended by a number from here.

The local ball team will find the Greenville A. C. team, who play here Saturday afternoon, one of the best teams they have played this season, as they are considered one of the fastest of the Jersey City amateur teams.

Miss Eleanor Imhoff, who has been visiting Miss Daisy Wade, has returned to her home in Jersey City.

Miss Marjorie Brown, who has been visiting friends in town, has returned to her home in Elizabeth.

Lynus Walpole, Jr., has returned from a stay of several days with friends in New York.

The Township Committee meets tomorrow night in the town rooms.

The enrollment for the opening day of school yesterday was 217.

Mrs. William Sharp is entertaining relatives from out of town.

JUDGE FINDS HE MAY BE VIOLATING THE LAW.

Question:—Can An Inn Be Legally So Called When Is Owner Takes Out No License?

Vice Chancellor Pitney, when hearing a suit in Newark, Tuesday, brought by Edmund Busch, of Metuchen, to restrain William Gross, of the same place, from calling his place "Metuchen Inn," was enlightened as to the law on inns. Busch was formerly a lessee of the Metuchen Inn, and when he left it he started a temperance place or boarding house, calling it "Metuchen Inn." Gross succeeded Busch in the old place and retained the old name of "Metuchen Inn." Busch set up the claim of a proprietary right in the name, and through John A. Coan applied for a restraining order against Gross.

John W. Beekman, counsel for Gross, contended that the complainant had no right to call his place an "inn," because it was not licensed.

"Do you allege that a man hasn't the legal right to conduct a temperance inn without a license?" the Vice Chancellor asked of Mr. Beekman, who answered in the affirmative.

"Well, if that is so," continued the Vice Chancellor, "I am breaking the law indirectly myself. I own a hotel in Morristown, and the present lessee has changed the name from Colonial Hotel to Morristown Inn. He pays his rent, but does not have a license."

Mr. Beekman answered, in reply to an inquiry from the Vice Chancellor as to whether any penalty was provided in the law, by explaining that an innkeeper has to give a bond and is obliged to take in everybody, while a boarding house keeper is not thus bound.

Decision was reserved in the suit.

John P. Mosher, of Rochester, N. Y., is visiting his daughter, Mrs. George Homan, of Plainfield avenue.

FOR A SUCCASUNNA HOME.

New York Man Purchaser of Oak Hill Villa.

Flanders, Sept. 13.—The largest deal in real estate in point of value in this section in some time is the sale of "Oak Hill Villa," Succasunna, by the agent, Warren D. Gardner, of that place, to Jules v. d. Oudermeuler, of New York city. The latter has been spending the last few summers at Lake Hopatcong.

The purchase includes about ten acres of land, and the house, which has seventeen large rooms, was built some fifty years ago and was for several years the home of Rev. Caleb A. Lippincott. Later the estate was purchased by Franklin Pettit, of New York city, who spent several thousand dollars on it in improvements. The last owner was William F. Bridge, of New York city. The price at which the property was sold is not given out, but is said to be between $12,000 and $15,000.

A Picturesque and Reasonable Outing.

The most picturesque town in America is only a hundred and twenty miles from New York. Mauch Chunk, in a narrow pass between the Lehigh river and the overhanging mountains, rises on the slopes like a quaint Swiss village. Historically the locality is known in connection with the discovery of anthracite coal. This discovery led to the construction of a bit of railroad which is the oldest in the country. Originally the track was laid to convey the coal to the river, but now it is maintained solely for recreation purposes. The cars are first hauled up a high hill, and from that point they travel by their own gravity around a circuit of nearly enighteen miles. As one ascends the steep slope the buildings below, the town and the nearer landmarks drop away in perspective with kaleidescopic suddenness, and the doubling valley of the Lehigh spreads out in a tnrilling panorama. Sights of great interest abound along the route. Old Indian trails over tre hills are pointed out, the primeval forest envelopes the track for long stretches, and glimpses of old mining settlements are caught in the valleys. At Summit Mountain a ralt is made and opportunity is given to visit the mines. The burning mine which is situated here has been smouldering since 1832 in spite of elaborate and costly undertakings to extinguish the fire. Returning from Summit Mountain the car attains great speed, and, as the visitor always thinks, the inspiring ride is over all too soon. The New Jersey Central will operate one of its popular excursions to Mauch Chunk on September 16, 1906. Round trip $1.50, and special train leaves Plainfield at 9:20 a. m. 9 12 td

Weds Red Bank Newspaper Girl.

New York, Sept. 13.—Gene Carr, newspaper illustrator, yesterday announced the fact that on August 22 he married Helen Stillwell, who, under the name of Betty Vincent, gives advice to the lovelorn in newspapers. They have known each other for two years, during which time they have worked in the same office. None of their friends knew anything of it until the bridegroom made the announcement. Mrs. Carr's parents live in Red Bank, N. J., and will be informed of the marriage today.

Mrs. Arthur Stryker, of West Fifth street, has returned from her summer outing.

LOCAL AMUSEMENTS

Hap Ward in a new musical melange entitled, "Not Yet But Soon," in the attraction underlined for the New Plainfield theatre tomorrow night. Mr. Ward's felicitous, rapid-fire style of humor is well known to theatre-goers, and it is claimed that in his present offering Mr. Ward has a part giving him wider scope for the exercise of his talents as a laugh producer than any previous for some seasons. As Bill Nerve, an incorrigibly lazy man, the comedian has a character which fits him like a glove, and Manager E. D. Stair has surrounded his star with every accessory in the way of strong support, handsome scenery and dainty costumes. Prominent in the cast of "Not Yet But Soon" will be found the names of Lucy Daly, Fred Wykoff, Robert Evans, Matt Woodward, Dick Barry, John C. Hart, Charles Sandy Chapman, Fred Parrent, Carrie Merrilees, Jennie Palmer, Marian Merrill and Helen Clark.

Peck's Bad Boy is coming to town again and he is all dressed up, with everything new. He will be at the New Plainfield theatre next Saturday afternoon and night. Always a welcome visitor, he will be even more so this time for he is bringing with him a larger and better company than he ever had. He has new scenery, costumes, songs, dances and specialties galore.

In "The Squaw Man" which comes to the New Plainfield theatre next Monday night one finds a play of the West, and with a spice of novelty that is far too infrequent upon the stage. Strangely enough, for a drama that touches on the teeming strenuousity of the Wyoming territory, there is little of the swash-buckling element in the play. While there is a bad man and a sheriff, and several cow punchers, one misses the rip-roaring terrifying clash of personalities that is expected in a Western play. In fact there is no hint of course ruffianism so often to be found in plays of this description, and while the emotions are stirred by many moving climaxes, these are safely side-tracked in an artistic manner by the dramatist until they satisfy the senses without shocking the nerves.

booked for the New Plainfield theatre next Tuesday night, is laid in the "Children's Play Room." A birthday party is in progress. The children of Steve Carley are revelling in ice-cream and cake and other goodies appropriate to a birthday feast, and between mouthfuls discuss in a typical childish way everything from their aunties' beaux to the left over croquettes with which their repast has been padded. The relationship between their favorite auntie and their mamma was a hard puzzle and "because Aunt Georgiana had a different mamma." "And the same papa?" the oracle is asked. "Not all the time—she had a different papa first. I guess that makes mamma and Aunt Georgy sort of divorced sisters." The production is made by Jules Murry. Miss Sylvia Lynden plays the role of Georgiana.

As no college day is complete without its quota of music, it was the first thought of the producers of the new college play, "At Yale," which with Paul Gilmore in the leading role of Dick Seeley is to be seen at the New Plainfield theatre next Wednesday night to saturate the scenes with true college music. To this end studies were made of the best college songs and the best college singers and both were collected for this production. Music plays so vital a part in the doings of these young men and women that enough has been introduced into "At Yale" to make it almost a college opera. Chief among the songs, of course, are the college glees. Those who love "Old Eli" will love the allusions to her in the songs by the glee club. Those who love any other college will be attracted in like manner to these songs of jolly good fellowship. And those who have no personal college affiliation will hum the songs softly to themselves because they tell so true a tale of life and good cheer. The production of this new college play is made under the management of Jules Murry.

May Irwin in her new play, "Mrs. Wilson, That's All," will be the attraction at the New Plainfield theatre on Friday night, Sept. 21. The new comedy is of the farcical order in character something like the others in which she has been seen and was written for her by George V. Hobart who it will be remembered is also the author of other comedians in which she has appeared. In "Mrs. Wilson, That's All," Miss Irwin is said to have a role that is much to her liking, of the kind which means a laugh every minute that she is on the stage. The play has numerous complications other than those mentioned and is a succession of laughs. Miss Irwin will of course have many new songs which are to be interpolated during the action of the comedy and a first class company has been engaged for her support.

COME NOW FOR PARLOR SUITS

Here Are Fine Ones One-third to One-half Less Than Usual.

Every now and then the furniture makers who are most progressive cut some styles from their catlogue and create new ones to take their place, and while the new ones are not necessarily any better than those that have been discarded, it still keeps their stock fresh and enables the dealers to present different patterns from year to year. When a store carries such a tremendous variety as this store does we are compelled to keep step with the makers and rid ourselves of the discarded patterns because we prefer to carry styles which can be duplicated.

We find ourselves today with a considerable number of Parlor Suites in excellent patterns, but such as the makers have decided to discontinue, and there are others which for no good reason at all have not sold as readily as we had a right to expect and we have listed all of them and cut the prices tremendously, some of them squarely in two, in order to effect immediate sales.

In style, in stability and in beauty these suites are not excelled by any, but for the very good reasons we have given we will sell them so much under price that no one desiring a new Parlor Suite would think of missing this opportunity to buy one.

We don't do things by half in the Furniture Store as will be seen by these pricings:

Pursuant to a resolution adopted by the Common Council of the City of Plainfield, New Jersey, at a regular meeting held Tuesday, September 4, 1906, notice is hereby given that the Common Council will meet on Monday, October first, 1906, at 8 o'clock p. m., at the Council Chamber, No. 149 North Avenue, in the City of Plainfield, at which time and place said Common Council will receive sealed proposals for doing the work and furnishing the materials for the construction of the sewers contemplated in the ordinance entitled "An Ordinance to provide separate sewers or drains to carry off the surface water in a portion of Richmond Street," approved August 7, 1906, as provided for in the plans and specifications adopted by the Common Council June 12, 1906, and September 4, 1906, and filed in the office of the City Clerk, No. 151 North Avenue, Plainfield, N. J.

Upon receipt of the bids or proposals, the Common Council will immediately proceed to unseal the same and publicly announce the contents in the presence of the parties bidding or their agents, provided said parties or agents choose to be then and there present; and also make proper record of the prices and terms upon the minutes of the Council.

Each proposal must be accompanied by a certified check for $200, payable to the Treasurer of the City of Plainfield.

The Engineer's approximate estimate of the quantities of material required, and the work to be done is as follows:

280 ft. 33 in. sewer.
54 ft. 15 in. inlet connections.
167 ft. 12 in. inlet connections.
6 Branches.
180 ft. 4 in. cast iron house connections.
1 Manhole, Sec. "C."
1 Manhole, Sec. "D."
6 Inlets, Standard.
2 Inlets, Special.

Duplicate plans may be examined, and forms of proposals, specifications, contract and bond, may be obtained at the office of the Engineer, 151 North Avenue, Plainfield, N. J.

The right to reject any or all bids is expressly reserved by the Common Council.

Proposals should be endorsed "Proposals for Sewers."

JAMES T. MacMURRAY,
City Clerk.

ANDREW J. GAVETT,
City Surveyor.

TORONTO PREPARES FOR ODD FELLOWS.

Sovereign Grand Lodge Will Convene in Ontario Parliament Building.

Toronto, Sept. 13.—Everything is now ready for the eighty-second annual convention of the Sovereign Grand Lodge, Independent Order of Odd Fellows, to convene in the Ontario Parliament building, this city, next Monday.

For months local committee have been at work perfecting the details of a programme for the entertainment of the visitors who will come from every section of Canada and the United States and from several of the countries of Europe.

The citizens of this city have joined with the local Odd Fellows in preparing to give the Sovereign Grand Lodge a royal Canadian welcome.

Most of the officers of the supreme body reached this city yesterday for the purpose of establishing headquarters and to prepare for the meeting.

Grand Secretary John B. Goodwin reports that the present membership of the order is 1,600,712, of whom 1,278,065 are men and 322,647 belong to the order's auxiliary known as Daughters of Rebekah. The net increase for the year 1905 has been 60,920 in the men's branch and 19,171 in the auxiliary, making a total of 80,091.

TRAINED MULES.

Conway's Wonderful Troupe To Be Seen Here.

The erroneous idea, it is said, which has always existed regarding the stubborness of mules and the impossibility of training them, is dispelled by the performance of W. H. Conway's troupe of Texas spotted mules given at the Willow Lake ranch of Mrs. Percy von Ohl, where they have been in the pasture and where they have been taught many new and original tricks previous to their departure on the road for the winter engagements.

These intelligent animals have all been trained on the famous "101 Ranch" in Oklahoma. The work has been in progress during the past two years. Their owner and trainer, feeling that the public has become tired of trained ponies and horses, began his task of training mules, with great success. The animals were carefully selected throughout the different sections of Texas and Oklahoma and taken to the ranch early in 1904. There are fourteen in number and each animal is trained to do some wonderful and interesting trick. They start their performance with a complete military drill, marching by twos around the ring, then form a double circle and march single file and do many other difficult feats.

Mr. Conway will give exhibitions at the carnival grounds for one week, beginning Saturday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock. The performance is good, clean, moral and educational, demonstrating what kind and human treatment will accomplish, as their trainer has never been known to use a whip or line upon them during their training.

ACCEPT PARKER SCHOOL.

Piscataway Board of Education Decide Against Protests.

The Piscataway Board of Education accepted the Parker school house at Dewey Park yesterday afternoon, in spite of the reiterated protests of Theodore Pettit, who led dissatisfied residents in a charge of imperfect construction against the structure last week.

The board met at the school, and after going over the building again, they voted to receive it.

George Wiegand, the contractor, spoke in defence of his work. He declared emphatically that the work would stand all tests applied to such structures, and offered to forfeit any amount if it didn't.

The new school will be opened to pupils the first of next week.

Strong for Commission.

With the names of eighty voters attached, the borough's petition for the abolishment of Somerset's Board of Freeholders was forwarded to Senator Frelinghuysen today. The petitioners include some of the largest tax payers in North Plainfield and they expressed themselves last night as being heartily in favor of the movement. One of them declared that he had been wishing for a long time for some one to start just such an agitation and he would do everything possible to secure the commission in place of the board.

Quietly Wedded.

A quiet home wedding was performed, last night, by Rev. G. B. Shaw, pastor of the Seventh-Day Baptist chrch, when Miss Madeline Casady, of Chicago, became the bride of Ira H. Case. Mr. Case is the president of a company formed to manufacture and market an invention of his own. Mr. and Mrs. Case will reside in this city.

Many Want to Become Citizens.

Thus far 200 persons have received their naturalization papers from Judge Atwater in the Union County Court, and there are about 200 more who will receive them before the new naturalization laws go in effect on Saturday.

By Tom Muir.

John Rafferty, advertising agent at the New Plainfield theatre last season, has joined Gus Hill's forces and is now on the road managing "A Night Owl" company. The show is at Birmingham, Ala., this week and next week goes into New Orleans for a stay. Though out only a short time, "Jack" has been making good and his friends are certain he will quit the season a "regular" showman.

"The Prince of Pilsen," which Henry W. Savage sent upon its fifth tour of the United States and Canada, opening at the Tremont theatre, Boston, August 29, holds the long distance record for travel as well as the long term record for performances among Americal musical comedies. Its total score of performances attained during four seasons of presentation is 1,765. During one season in this period two distinct organizations made extended tours, their combined itineraries covering every section of the country.

Manager Counihan yesterday signed contracts for the appearance of Blanche Ring at his playhouse on September 28. She will be seen in "Miss Dolly Dollars," the play that has a big Broadway run to its credit.

Upton Sinclair's widely read novel, "The Jungle," has been dramatized and will be given its first presentation in November. Miss Josie Sadler has been engaged for the leading role.

"The Squaw Man," which comes to the New Plainfield next Monday night, will be the second most pretentious dramatic offering of the present season. It is considered by some critics even better than "The Lion and the Mouse" and has a record of seven months in New York. With one or two exceptions the cast remains the same as in the original production.

THE FORUM.

Answers Mr. Harding.

Editor, The Daily Press:

One cannot help being amused at the conceit of the "Missouri" gentleman, Edward J. Harding, as he appears in your issue of the 12th inst. in an attempt to hoodwink intelligent citizens and voters by the manner of his sycophant patronage of department officials. How far removed from the leven that levens the local political lump these servants of the taxpayers may be does not solve the galling question of individual bosses in intruding upon the constitutional sovereignty of the people. It is patent originally they were slated candidates of the machine and party in power; and in the recent department trial of a chief the published evidence respecting a councilman-elect, who was approached and interrogated as to his credentials from "the man higher up," who would make him a "good councilman," uncovers the lid sufficient to make it quite clear the administration regime is levened with the leven of understanding. And how could they be there if they did not toe the line? Where is Bullock and Lee? Of course facts so hidden under cover is like x that stands for an unsolved problem and to be discovered through metyphisical solution. Yet b stands for bossism, and its meaning has to be exposed by parable and inference and there is no use trying to hoodwink the intelligent people by sycophant whitewash. It isn't a question of good government, but intrusion upon constitutional privileges of the people.

LACAWANNA'S NEW PLAN.

Will Dispense With Telegraphers for Signal Purposes.

Hoboken, Sept. 13.—Steps have been taken by the Lackawana Railroad Company, which will soon result in dispensing with the services of telegraphers for signaling, in order that the movement of trains may be controlled by automatic block signals and additional telephone facilities. This change will affect the entire line from Hoboken to Buffalo, as well as all the branches.

It will be the first railroad in America to make such a change, and it is the most sweeping change that any railroad has heretofore attempted in any one department.

Trains will be controlled under rules practised in England, where train dispatchers are unknown. General Superintendent Clarke, of the Lackawanna Railroad, has authorized the statement that his company is preparing to adopt a new method, which embraces the simultaneous use of one wire for both telegraph and telephone, in connection with a new type of switchboard.

Murder Case Goes Over.

New Brunswick, Sept. 13.—The grand jury drawn at the April term of court, which is still in session, met yesterday to take up the case of John Petruny, charged with the murder of George Sabak, at Perth Amboy, but because one of the members of the grand jury, I. S. Bennett, is over sixty-five years old, beyond the legal age limit, the case was laid over for the September grand jury.

RESULT IN ESSEX COUNTY WILL DETERMINE SENATORSHIP

Politicians' Prediction of Results in Various Counties in the State.

Trenton, Sept. 13.—A little group of men who have for years been noted for the accuracy of their predictions around election times was gathered in one of the corridors yesterday, watching ideas as to the probable outcome of the primaries and elections this year. A composite expression of their views resulted about as follows:

Hudson—Fagan would carry the Republican primaries; the Democrats would carry the county in November.

Essex—Dryden would carry the Republican primaries. Doubt as to election.

Passaic—Colbyites would carry primaries. Democrats would carry the election.

Middlesex—Strong, the machine leader, would pull Jackson, for State Senator, through, against Fordyce.

Monmouth—Machine Republicans would carry the primaries. Democrats would carry the county.

Union—Machine would carry the Republican primaries. Republicans would carry the election.

Bergen—Colbyites would carry the primaries. Republicans would carry the election.

Hunterdon, Warren and Sussex would be carried by the Democrats.

All the South Jersey counties would be carried by the machine at the primaries and by the Republicans at the election.

Next Legislature—House of Assembly: Democrats, 26; Republicans, 23; doubtful (Essex), 11.

Senate—Republicans, 14; Democrats, 7.

According to this estimate the result at the election in Essex in November will determine the United States Senatorship.

Sweet Potatoes in New Providence.

New Providence, Sept. 13.—Probably the only sweet potatoes that were ever raised in this vicinity were grown on the Potter farm this summer by Frank Toten. It is unusual to see these vegetables raised any farther North than southern New Jersey, because they are susceptible to the cold weather. As last spring was mild, however, Totten decided that he would try and grow them. He planted the seed late in June, cultivated them carefully, and dug them just before the recent cold spell set in. They had not quite obtained their full growth, but Totten declares that their taste is far superior to those sent here from the South.

PRINCESS FIT IS POSER FOR JUDGE.

Woman Tries On Skirt in Court to Prove That Dressmaker Made a Botch.

A princess fit was described and illustrated yesterday in the Orange District Court when the suit of Mrs. Adeline C. Lewis, of Roseville, against Miss Vera A. Ogden, of No. 122 Roseville avenue, Newark, came up for hearing. Mrs. Lewis claimed that Miss Ogden had ruined a princess skirt she had ordered and asked for damages for loss of time and the mental anguish she had suffered.

The intricacies of the princess skirt were too much for Judge Jones and the attaches of the court, and at the conclusion of the case, Judge Jones decided that an equitable solution would be to award Mrs. Lewis the cost of the material, $11.05, and to let Miss Ogden keep the skirt.

"I cannot appraise your mental anguish and the time you lost," he explained to Mrs. Lewis.

To prove her assertion that Miss Ogden had ruined the skirt in making it, Mrs. Lewis consented to put the garment on. Fire Chief James W. Hodgkinson gallantly consented to let her use his room, which adjoins the court. Scornfully Mrs. Lewis paraded back into court with the princess skirt on.

Judge Jones has been married a year, and he looked critically at the skirt. C. B. Taylor, a buyer for a Newark store, gave a dissertation on princess skirts. He said the principal beauty of a princess skirt is that it fits. With Mrs. Lewis as his model, he criticised the skirt, while Miss Ogden looked daggers at him. He said the difference between store skirts and skirts made by dressmakers was that the stores used as little material as possible, while dressmakers use as much as they can get. Miss Ogden sniffed. The men looked wise.

The conseisus of opinion was that a princess skirt should fit snugly about the hips, and Mrs. Lewis' witnesses tried to show that the skirt under discussion was too tight.

Dryden's Stinging Rebuke.

Trenton, Sept. 13.—The prevailing subject of discussion yesterday here was the reply of Senator Dryden to Everett Colby's intimation that tne Senator had ordered a stenographic report of the Colby-Hillery debate, in which it was said Colby had made unpleasant reflections upon Senator Ackerman, of Union county. It was generally conceded that Mr. Dryden had administered a severe rebuke to the young man from Essex, which would tend to stop the personal charges so common and often made on slender evidence.

DUNELLEN DEMOCRATS.

Primary Leads to a Ticket for Contest on September 25.

The Dunellen Democrats held their caucus for primary nominations last niht, and decided on a ticket that will give the voters some choice as to collector and councilmanic nominees.

Recorder D. S. Campbell and John Moynihan were put up for collector. Campbell is said to be the strongest man. His supporters claim a walkover already.

Four names for the two councilmanic nominations were suggested: John Hunt, Charles Starker, G. S. Smith and John Rinehart. Assessor John H. L. Peters was unanimously endorsed for renomination.

Mr. Peters and James Y. Wilson were named for congressional convention delegates, and Lewis Schneider for county convention.

Mrs. Thomas McInerney, of West Fifth street, is very ill.

Mrs. Ann Howes, of Brooklyn, is visiting her cousin, Mrs. W. G. Hockridge, of Watchung avenue.

SNAP SHOTS.

A woman on East Fifth street, who lives near enough to Watchung avenue to hear the cars creak around the curve, spoiled the snowy whiteness of a newly washed duck skirt one day this week in a funny way. She had been making ketchup, and set a big preserving kettle full of the red mixture in the laundry to cool. A little later she went down into the laundry to sprinkle some clothes.

The pieces were laid out flat in a pile on the tubs, as careful housewives always lay them, waiting for the softening process of little drops of water. On the top stretched a beautiful duck skirt, crinkled and unyielding, but bearing promise of starched splendor. Mrs. X. put a pan of water beside the pile.

Then she rolled up her sleeves and prepared for the important rite of sprinkling. Gazing admiringly on the snowy expanse of white duck, she dipped her hand into the vessel beside her, and—. Of course, you guessed it the first time. It was a full-sized handful of ketchup, and it went all over the skirt.

Mrs. X. has since recovered but her doctor has forbidden the family to put ketchup on the table, for fear of a relapse.

NATURALIZATION LAW.

No Certificate to Be Issued Within 30 Days of Election.

Washington, Sept. 13.—Fewer newly-naturalized citizens will vote at the coming elections than at any time in many years. Under the new naturalization law, which will become effective on September 27, the issuance of certificates of naturalization is prohibited within thirty days of the holding of any general election. The new law is more discriminating in its selection of courts designated to naturalize. Inferior courts are no longer permitted to perform the function of conferring citizenship upon aliens.

Judging from inquiries being received at the bureau of naturalization there appears to be a misunderstanding as to what is required of State courts under the new naturalization law. Such courts are not required to naturalize aliens. It is left discretionary with the presiding judges. Many clerks of State courts are evidently proceeding on the theory that they are compelled to attend to naturalization business.

It is understood that the government will be perfectly satisfied if State courts in certain sections refuse to take up the work of naturalizing aliens. This will permit more efficient administration.

Eugene M. Laing, of the firm of Leifke & Laing, is detained at his home at Truell Court by illness.

Avoid alum and alum phosphate baking powders. The label law requires that all the ingredients be named on the labels. Look out for the alum compounds.

NOTE.—Safety lies in buying only Royal Baking Powder, which is a pure, cream of tartar baking powder, and the best that can be made.

GOVERNOR NEEDS REST.

Ill From Over-exertion—Talk of Special Session.

Trenton, Sept. 13.—It was quite an interesting day yesterday around the State House, despite the fact that the Governor was not there. The Governor is really quite a sick man, although it is thought there is nothing serious in his condition. He went to his cottage at Sea Girt last night with orders from his physicians to go to bed and get a long rest. The trouble with the Governor, according to his physicians, is overwork and the attendant nervous and physical ills. A good, long rest will, it is believed, restore him to health and permit him to resume work.

It is known that the Governor has been anxious of late to have the question of a special, or, more correctly, an extra session of the Legislature settled, and it is hoped the matter may be definitely determined by the representatives of Newark and Paterson within a few days. It is now believed an extra session will be ordered shortly, but the date will not be fixed until after the holding of the primaries, on September 26.

Machinist Loses a Thumb.

Edward Johnson, of New Market, employed in one of the local shops as a machinist, caught the thumb on his left hand in a gear, while at work, yesterday afternoon, receiving a painful injury. He went to the hospital, where it was found necessary to amputate the thumb. Mr. Johnson went home afterwards.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR.

Prayer Meeting Topic For the Week Beginning Sept. 16.

By REV. S. H. DOYLE.

Topic.—Christ's Life IV. How Christ met His enemies and how we should meet ours.—Luke iv, 28-30; xi, 37-44; xxiii, 33, 34.

One of the glories of Christianity is its teachings upon the subject of enmity. The natural disposition of man is to hate his enemies and to do all possible to their hurt and detriment in life—at least to exact from them the payment for the injury done to us. The natural heart, as the old law, demands "an eye for an eye and a tooth for a tooth." And this feeling is so strong that on many occasions men will not even wait for the human law to exact recompense, but take the law into their own hands. But Christ took much higher ground than this, teaching that we should love our enemies, bless them that curse us, do good to them that hate us and pray for them that despitefully use us and persecute us—high ground indeed, and yet the command of Christ to all who are Christians.

Not only in His teaching, but also in His life, Christ set forth the proper attitude of Christians toward their enemies.

1. Christ passed by His enemies. When He had preached at Nazareth, His former home, the people "were filled with wrath and rose up and thrust Him out of the city" and would have cast Him from the brow of a hill, "but He, passing through the midst of them, went His way." On this occasion He simply ignored His enemies and, leaving them to their own devices, went about the performance of His own life's work. There was no hatred in His heart for them. Had the opportunity arisen He would undoubtedly have befriended them, but the situation demanded that He go on regardless of them. Christians ofttimes have enemies who must be treated in exactly the same way. They will accept no offers of friendship. It is impossible to live in peace with them, and the only thing to do is to let them alone and to go about our work as if they did not exist. Our lives should be peaceable, and when we cannot live together with men peaceably we should live peaceably apart from them. Christian people must often dwell apart in unity. For them to dwell together in unity is much more beautiful and preferable, but when they cannot they should dwell apart. Better apart in peace than together in enmity and strife and bitterness.

2. Christ denounced His enemies. His enemies on this occasion were the Pharisees. He was invited by a certain Pharisee to dinner and sat down to eat without observing the formal custom of washing. The Pharisees marveled, whereupon Jesus denounced their inward uncleanness, although they were so particular about outward cleanliness. In this instance we should be careful about following the example of Christ. Religious teachers must denounce the sins of the enemies of God, but the individual must be exceedingly careful even about denouncing the sins of his enemies, who may also be the enemies of God. There is "righteous indignation" and perhaps "righteous denunciation," but both must be exercised with the greatest care lest they become unrighteous instead of righteous, personal instead of representative.

3. Christ forgave His enemies. On the cross He prayed, "Father, forgive them, for they know not what they do." This is the most sublime illustration of forgiveness that the world has ever seen. We should forgive our enemies. There is no question here as to the duty of our following Christ's example, and in forgiving our enemies we come nearest to Christlikeness. "To err is human; to forgive is divine."

BIBLE READINGS.

Matt. v, 43-48; Luke vi, 27-35; Acts vii, 60; Rom. xii, 14-20; I. Cor. iv, 12-14; I. Pet. ii, 19-25; iii, 8-11.

Done In X's.

The editor of the Australian Christian Endeavor Link asked the various state presidents of that country to send a greeting for the columns of the paper. Rev. L. L. Wirt, president of the Queensland union, sent greeting in the words of the following:

DECALOGUE.

I.—Keep the X commandments.

II.—Give a Xth of your income to the Lord.

III.—There were X virgins with lamps. How about your oil supply?

IV.—Forget not the grace of gratitude. There were X cleansed. Where were the nine?

V.—The Lord has given you five talents. Don't bury them; make them X.

VI.—Neither stop nor be discouraged, O lookout committee, until you have secured that X per cent increase.

VII.—One society of sixteen members reports £X for missions last year. Go thou and do likewise.

VIII.—There should not be a boy or girl in your church, even X years of age, who is not an Endeavorer.

IX.—Lord Tennyson makes Sir Galahad to say, "My strength is as the strength of X because my heart is pure."

X.—On your knees with God X minutes before beginning the day will give you courage and confidence for anything.

British Union Enrollment.

During the past twelve months the British Christian Endeavor union enrolled 454 new societies. Eighty-four of these were Baptist, seventy-seven Congregational, sixty-six Primitive Methodist, sixty-four Presbyterian, forty United Methodist Free churches, and a number of other denominations were represented. Three hundred and twenty-three of the societies were English, sixty-one Scottish, twenty-seven Irish and forty-three Welsh.

In Russia.

Christian Endeavor prayer meetings are still prohibited in Russia here and there, being held by certain officials to be political meetings.

EPWORTH LEAGUE.

Sept. 16 (American Bible Society, Bible Study Sunday): "Our Debt to the Knowledge of God's Word."

By REV. WALTER J. YATES, D. D.

For the blessing of righteousness.—Ps. cxix, 1-18.

Some one has well said, "There is no pleasure comparable to that of standing on the vantage ground of truth." Phillips Brooks used to say, "There is a great central shaft of truth running through this whole universe, and all good and all progress are belted off from that."

There are many different ways of declaring this same fact. The form of the expression is not important, but it is vastly important that we come to a realization of the nature of righteousness, its place in this world, and finally that we come to actual possession of it in as large measure as possible to us.

The force of supreme value to men is not physical, either in the form of bodily health and vigor or control of the powers of the natural world in various forms of wealth and invention.

Nor is it to be found in intellectual grasp of the problems of life in the forms of thought. Some of the worst failures in life have been made by men gifted with greatest genius.

The ultimate worth of all personal existence can be expressed only in terms of the soul.

The final source and ground of all existence lie in One who is all wise, all good and all rightness. He has made all creaturehood and all worlds in accord with His own nature. So far as we are in agreement with Him and His purposes regarding us we become increasingly capable of knowing truth, His truth, which is the controlling element in all the world. His truth, when made known to us in thought, becomes the rule of right for action. If followed, it brings most perfect beauty in all being and supreme satisfaction of heart. The blessing of being right and the satisfaction of knowing oneself to be right and at peace inside, and with God over all and in all, exceed all other gain life holds in store. This blessing of righteousness is nowhere else in literature so fully and clearly set forth as in the Bible. Search all the world's writings and you will come back to this, "the book," for direction on this subject. Consider, then, the value of the Bible to us in this regard.

This truth of righteousness has been expressed in rules for life as moral law. Do you wish to find the fountain head of this knowledge? You must go to the Bible for it. Read Mark x, 17-19; Heb. i, 1.

More than commands for obedience, it comes to us a promise of renovation and perfection of nature possible for all to attain. This is the gospel of Jesus Christ. Read again John xx, 30; Luke i, 1-4.

Still more, those who receive and do the truth and attain righteousness are united and make the church of which Jesus Christ is head. For guidance of His church the Bible is specially helpful (Jas. ii, 1-4; iii, 1; v, 13; I. Tim. iii, 14, 15).

In searching the Scriptures we get a wisdom unto salvation nowhere else to be had. It is not mechanical, but ethical and open to conscious enjoyment (II. Tim. iii, 15; Prov. i, 7).

How important becomes the study of the Bible when we fully realize that it is the repository of this most important of all knowledge for us! Especially is it needful for our young Christians in the league to acquire habits of systematic Bible study. Occasional reading of scraps will not do. If you want to know algebra you must study text book and perform the problems. If you want to know righteousness you must study "the book," and practice its teachings.

Place also emphasis on the work of the American Bible society in publishing and distributing in all lands this word of God.

Holiness.

Holiness is power. It utilizes ability, fertilizes the soul and energizes the whole man. It is the fire and water in the engine, bringing out to its fullest capacity the strength of all the parts of the machinery, so that the greatest amount of spiritual power may be expended in rolling back a revolted world to God. Holiness is God's power to man and man's power with God. Thus they become coworkers. Every man who dwelleth in God and God in him in an accommodated sense is God's man, which makes him a positive power against all evil and for all good—to pluck careless souls from the incoming flood and storm of wrath, lifting them up into the sweet serenity and protection of the Rock of Ages. Without holiness we are weaker than a bruised reed; with it we are like an impregnable and well garrisoned fort which will stand unharmed the hottest siege, at the same time raining like a hailstorm redhot balls from the magazine of the gospel on an armed world against Christ.—Rev. W. H. Wilson.

Now.

If you have a kind word, say it;
Throbbing hearts soon sink to rest.
If you owe a kindness, pay it;
Life's sun hurries to the west.

Can you do a kind deed? Do it
From despair some soul to save.
Bless each day as you pass through it
Marching onward to the grave.

If some grand thing for the morrow
You are planning, do it now.
From the future do not borrow;
Frost soon gathers on the brow.

Speak thy word, perform thy duty;
Night is coming deep with rest;
Stars will gleam with fadeless beauty,
Grasses whisper o'er their breast.

Days for deeds are few, my brother;
Then today fulfill thy vow.
If you mean to help another,
Do not dream it; do it now.

—Selected.

Lavender Creighton's Lovers

By OLIVIA B. STROHM

(Copyright, 1905, by Olivia B. Strohm).

With a smile of greeting Lavender asked: "You left Col. Boone, and is he safe?"

"He is safe—at home," the Indian responded.

Then, with an inscrutable look and gesture toward the covered wagon, he added: "And the white maid is safe—now."

Without further explanation, he passed on down the road.

By this time the procession was halted near the tavern, and the crowd dispersed—mostly within the hostelry. The octoroon had only time for a hearty word for Charles, when she hurried within where her duties as hostess were eagerly sought by the thirsty travelers.

Meanwhile, to Lavender's surprise, there was a constraint, a sadness in the response which Winslow and the preacher made to her congratulations. Charles bent so low that his breath swept her hand, and in his eyes was a fond greeting, but he glanced uneasily toward the covered wagon, where Rev. Ballinger stood with lowered eyes, holding the curtains close, as if on guard over something within.

Nobody spoke, and the silence filled Lavender with a vague alarm. She had noted the absence of Gonzaga. A sharp suspicion seized her. "Is somebody inside the wagon?" she demanded.

Sudden, shrill from behind the curtains came the answer: "I am waiting. Where is she?"

The voice, familiar, yet so weak, so unlike its natural tone of command, made her numb with dread. But pity was stronger, and she rushed to the wagon, and pulled aside the curtain. Then over the dying man she bent with a face pale, but more than ever beautiful in compassion.

Distrust and unfaith and all hardness passed forever at sight of him stretched helpless there.

He opened his eyes. "I knew you would come," he murmured.

He tried to raise his hand. She took it in hers, repressing the shudder with which her healthy frame shrank from the cold, prophetic moisture in his palm.

She whispered some sweet, pitying words, and her voice was music to his ears.

From the open door of the tavern not far away came sounds of merriment, but all was quiet near by.

Ballinger and Winslow stood with heads bowed while the girl leaned just within the parted curtains, half supporting the dying man. Occasionally he gasped a few words of which they could distinguish only her name. His voice grew fainter—scarcely heard above the sobbing of her whose arm now pillowed his heavy head.

A bird's song from a tree near roused him, and with an effort he opened his eyes, which, if they had power to see, beheld not the things of earth. Even her dear face was blurred and his gaze wandered, and he put up one hand feebly, as if to guide his erring vision.

There was a rattling sound in his throat. At the first note of this fatal herald, the preacher raised one hand, and the words of prayer rose, full, sonorous, a ladder of faith whereon the stumbling soul might climb.

But Gonzaga seemed not to hear: "Kiss me," he said.

She obeyed, and he sank back with a last, long sigh of content. It almost seemed in that one kiss there lay more power than that of bell or book to shrive his passing soul.

CHAPTER XXIX.

It was evening of a few days later when the Creighton family, Gerald excepted, sat about the hearth where a few fagots burned. It was still midsummer, but for the invalid the night wind blew cool. Their talk was chiefly of the letter just received from Mrs. Blennerhasset, who, an exile in the south, awaited the issue of Burr's trial, and her husband's fate.

"I will hear ill of neither," she wrote, "and faith in the loyalty of both shall ever abide with me."

Mrs. Creighton closed the letter with a sad smile and doubting shake of the head.

"Why, mother, dearest," cried Lavender. "You do not doubt? You are not of the idle majority—the masses, ever ready to crucify the fallen?"

Mrs. Creighton replied with the calm judicial manner that seemed to fit the brow, massive beyond her sex: "We have no means of knowing the truth, daughter. I doubt if even history will solve this riddle which lies hidden in the hearts of a few. There are great and good in power who are, as you say, ready to crucify him. It seems, therefore, as though we, between two fires, had better keep as cool as possible."

But this view met with no sympathy from the young partisan. She appealed to her father: "Dad, do you think Aaron Burr a martyr, as I do?"

The elder Creighton smiled. "Hardly that; he may come out of this trial with flying colors; in that case, be sure he will find no lack of friends—of reparation. If he does not—well, I am too much of a patriot to think he will be convicted unless he deserves it. Let us abide the issue."

But Lavender was unconvinced. "It is audacious, I know, to hold opinions where two such wise heads dare to form none. All the same, I believe that Aaron Burr is a much persecuted man!"

"Encore, encore, I quite agree with you," and at the door stood Winslow, smiling and clapping his hands.

Lavender glided to meet him; then on a stool at her mother's feet she sat, with eyes on the fire, quiet and happy.

They talked of the trial, although as yet only meager news had reached them.

"So Aaron Burr has but one champion in this assembly," and Winslow, laughing, turned to Lavender.

"It seems so," Mr. Creighton assented. "Women are, as a rule, on his side. That is why I marvel at my wife's impartiality."

Winslow took a letter from his pocket. "I have here word from a friend who is summoned as a witness in the trial. He is now in St. Louis. He urges me to accompany him back to Richmond, and I may go." He finished with an involuntary glance at Lavender.

She sat within the radius of the fire, her face suffused less by its glow than by the throbbing of her heart at the news.

Mrs. Creighton was the first to speak. "But this is not a sudden determination? You had planned to go soon?" and she glanced at Lavender, and back at him.

Winslow was perplexed by her manner, full of a fond meaning. Here was another loose end of the tangled thread which had begun its aimless spinning with the mother's words: "You, whom she loves."

But, puzzled, he replied, without hesitation: "No, I had not intended going at all this year. I had decided upon remaining for the school work, but now there will be business matters in connection with the claim I have taken, and—and my plans are incomplete." He finished, vaguely.

A mystified silence fell, but in a flash the situation was clear to Lavender, when her mother said, coldly: "When I was ill, one day, you said you were going back east, and—and—well, you held out other hopes. You have, then, changed your mind?"

"I am afraid there is some mistake, Mrs. Creighton; until very lately I had no means, no hope of going. I am quite sure I have mentioned none."

LITERARY NOTES.

There is an admirable variety in the make-up of the September "Atlantic." Amongst such an array of attractive articles, it would be difficult to name the most important; but the leading place has been given to the presentation of "A Manufacturer's Point of View," by J. T. Lincoln. The author, who has large interests in Fall River mills, has long been an energtic and practical student of labor conditions; and his article goes straight to the heart of the present problem. Hon. Chester Holcombe, well-known for his diplomatic services in China, discusses the actual status of the missionary movement in that country; Hollis Godfrey presents the modern solution of the sanitation problem in "City Water and City Waste;" and an anonymous college professor indulges in some engaging "Confessions" which depict the teacher's life in an unusually optimistic light. "The Autobiography of a Southerner,"—"the most signifieant documcnt in the magazine literature of the day,"—reaches its third installment in this number.

With the September number of their periodical Ellery Sedgwick and The Colver Publishing House retire from the conduct of The American Magazine. With the October number, John S. Phillips, the new editor, begins his work. Following are the names of his associate editors: Ida M. Tarbell, William Allen White, F. P. Dunne ("Mr. Dooley"), Lincoln Steffens, Ray Stannard Baker, Albert A. Boyden, John M. Siddall. This new administration—the Phillips Publishing Company—promises many interesting features in its first number, the October number. This is the first hint of what these features are to be. "Mr. Dooley" will be in the number with an article on "The Power of the Press." William Allen White will write on "The Partnership of Society." Lincoln Steffens will break away from work on serious articles long enough to tell a New York police story. Steffens was for years a New York police reporter. There are to be ceatures by Samuel Hopkins Adams, Leonard Keene Hirschberg, Frances Benjamin Johnston, and others.

After provoking a storm of discussion by the publication of Maxim Gorky's brilliant reprisal on his American critics in its August issue, Appleton's Magazine is likely to add further fuel to the fires of discussion with its September issue. In this no less a person that John Philip Sousa makes a violent onslaught on "mechanical music." He includes in his indictment all the piano-players and talking-machines, and accuses them of debasing public taste, discouraging personal cultivation of music, denying the composer his due royalties, and robbing him of the fruits of his genius. Souso also exposes the almost incredible fact that under our copyright system any man's compositions may be reproduced automatically without his permission and without the payment of any royalty. In another article of importance, Allan L. Benson declares that "the people of Michigan have permitted actually one-sixth of their splendid State to be abandoned to waste, a literal reversion to the wilderness." The article combines a scathing exposure of petty graft and outrageous indifference with a very comforting account of how one good and powerful man, Carl E. Schmidt, has set himself to rectifying the evil and reclaiming the wilderness.

Mrs. D. J. Yerkes, of Grove street, has returned from her summer vacation.

Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Pray, of East Sixth street, are home from their summer outing at Asbury Park.

Martin Stutsman, of East Sixth street, has returned from a delightful trip to the Thousand Islands.

Caspar Waglow, of East Third street, has returned from a week's visit with Kenneth Shupp in Pennsylvania.

Mr. and Mrs. T. F. Budlong, of Madison avenue, who spent the summer in Hunterdon county, have returned to Plainfield.

Hazleton Reynolds and daughter, Miss Ethel Reynolds, of Summit avenue, will return today from a week's outing at Point Pleasant.

John Chandler, of East Fifth street, continues to improve from a paralytic stroke. He is now able to sit up and can talk in a whisper. He has lost control of his right side, but is practically free from pain.

The Officers and Directors of the Plainfield Trust Company extend a cordial invitation to the public to be present at the formal opening of their new building, on Saturday, September the fifteenth, Nineteen hundred and six, from three to six in the afternoon and from eight to ten in the evening.

Lou Wiltse, of this city, has agreed to pitch four games for the Rockville, (Conn.) team in its series with Milford, for $100 per game.

Although the Jersey City Eastern League team has won two straight games from the fast-stepping Rochester aggregation, there are many who believe that Baltimore will finish in second place.

Not a single player in the Eastern League who has been in the game since the beginning of the season has an average as high as .300. Jake Gettman, of Buffalo, the leader of the "regulars," has a mark of .297 for 128 games. Infielder Grant, of Jersey City, has a mark of .316 for seventy-four games.

Pitcher Bill Carrick, of the Newark Eastern League team, is out for a perfect fielding record this season. To date he has accepted 87 chances without an error. He is the only "regular" in the Eastern League with an average of 1,000.

In Stanage the Newark Eastern League team has a fine catcher, who can not only play his position, but hits the ball consistently.

"Youst," of Baltimore, is travelling under his right name, Starr, since Manager Burnham, of Newark, made a protest.

The Highlanders are gradually increasing their lead in the American League race. On Tuesday they trounced Boston, while Chicago dropped another game to St. Louis.

Pittsburg and Cincinnati played fifteen innings on Tuesday without scoring a run. A remarkable record considering the heavy hitters on both teams.

Laporte, formerly of the Buffalo League team, is putting up a very fast game for the Highlanders. On Tuesday he made a home run, two triples and a single, which is going some.

Morris Brokaw, of West Front street, is playing a fine game for the Garwood A. C. team.

Holy Team's Record.

The Holy Cross choir team closed the season by defeating the Monarchs in two games; score 7-1, 9-7. The team enjoys the unusual distinction of having won every game played this season. Twenty-two games in all were playaed, four of the contests being against grown men. The closest game was the return game played at Orange; score 5-4. The easiest victory was scored against The Stars, Shushan, N. Y., team; score 18-1. The boys are now getting in line for a football eleven. A strong team made up of choir boys and members of the boys' club will be formed. The line-up will be announced next week. Dates to play may be secured through the manager.

Newark News Won.

The Newark News nine defeated the Elizabeth Journal team yesterday afternoon, 16 to 2. The Journal didn't get a look in until the ninth. The News banged two pitchers out of the box, and that with eight men. Jack McGowan played a great game at second for the Journal.

GOLF.

During a severe thunderstorm which swept over St. Louis a few days ago Edward Maginn, a caddy, was struck by lightning and instantly killed on the Glen Echo Golf Club course, where the final round for the Western golf championship was in progress.

Jerome D. Travers, the Metropolitan golf champion, is still at the top of his game. A few days ago he made the lowest score of the day, a 74 in the qualifying round for the championship of the Montclair Golf Club.

"Marty" O'Loughlin still continues to improve in approaching and putting and he is very accurate in his work on the greens. As a driver he has few equals in the Metropolitan district.

An innovation in the method of conducting an open golf championship will probably be tried this fall by the Eastern Professional Golfers' Association. At an informal gathering this week the plan of offering two sets of prizes was suggested. In the past the complaint has aways been that all the money has been won by a certain few. The remedy proposed by the Eastern body is to have one set of prizes open only to those who have not finished in the money in an open event this year. No attempt will be made to classify the "pros," the idea merely being to make the tournament attractive to as many as possible. As regards a place for the championship it may be said that two courses are under consideration. An unofficial offer of $300 has been received from the Forest Hill Golf Club and a purse of $150 has been guaranteed by the Apawamis Golf Club. A meeting of the association will be held in New York the latter part of the month, when the selection of a date and the links will be made. The association which has money in its treasury, is quite likely to add to the funds donated, although this might be found unnecessary if an entrance fee is charged.

Herbert Strong, the Apawamis Golf Club professional, is playing well these days. He made a remarkable 68 at the Century Golf Club a few days ago. Strong did this in a round with Peter Clark, the club's professional. The former went out in 35, getting a two at the fourth hole. He had another two at the fifteenth hole and came home in 33. The former record was 76.

The Philadelphia Cricket Club has announced its second annual invitation golf tournament to be played over the links at St. Martin's on September 27, 28 and 29. It is open to all members of clubs in the United States Golf Association.

The next championship tournament of the East Jersey Golf League will be held over the links of the Deal Golf Club, September 28 and 29. This was officially decided upon at a meeting of the tournament committee this week. The tournament will begin with an eighteen-hole medal play qualifying round, the best eight to qualify.

The Baltusrol Golf Club has decided to increase the annual dues $10 on all classes of membership beginning October 1. As the organization has a membership of nearly 750, this change will increase the annual revenue more than $7,000. It is the intention to expend most of this on improvements to the clubhouse and course.

A return four-ball match will be played the latter part of the month at Glen Ridge between Fred Baldwin and Alec Cunningham, of that club, and J. Campbell Cory, a former Forest Hill champion, and George Pearson, the club's professional. Recently, the former pair won a match at Forest Hill.

TENNIS.

The boys' singles tennis championship tournament at the Plainfield Country Club which was scheduled for Tuesday, has been postponed. The women's singles will be started today.

Approaching Wedding.

Invitations have been issued by David C. Carr, of Newark, to the marriage of his daughter, Miss Mary Etta Carr, anad Harry Dunbar Williams, son of Mrs. Kate Williams, formerly a resident of West End avenue, this city, but now of Roselle Park. The marriage will take place at the home of the bride's father, 13 Nichols street, Newark, on Wednesday night, September 26, at 8 o'clock, and the couple will be "at home" at 217 Chestnut street, Roselle Park, after October 14. Miss Carr is a niece of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Leifke, of West Front street. The groom holds an excellent position in one of the departments of the Standard Oil Company at the New York offices.

Mrs. Henry B. Wells and her daughter, Miss Evelyn Wells, of Washington avenue, have gone out of town for a few weeks' vacation.

CHRISTIAN FIELD.

Commencing October 1, the Brotherhood of the First M. E. church will resume its meetings for the fall and winter.

Rev. J. W. Musson, of West Front street, who has returned from his vacation, has again taken up his pastoral work at Faith chapel.

Rev. Dr. J. A. Chambliss, who has been abroad during the past few weeks, will occupy his pulpit at the First Baptist church on Sunday.

The quartette choir of the First Presbyterian church has returned after a month's vacation. There are no changes and Clifford S. Braider, the organist, has resumed his place after a vacation.

The regular communion service will be held at the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian church, Sunday morning. Rev. J. O. McKelvey, of Warren chapel, will officiate, in the absence of the pastor.

The Christian Endeavor Society of Faith chapel held its monthly business meeting last night. Only routine matters were considered. At the next business meeting in October officers will be elected.

Services will be held at St. Peter's Lutheran church on Sunday, which will be in charge of the pastor, Rev. J. Duerschner. The morning service at 10:30 will be in German. Sunday-school at 9:30, catechetical instruction at 4:30, and the evening services at 8 o'clock in Swedish.

CLOSED PORTALS.

Somerset Council, Jr. O. U. A. M., will have initiation at its meeting tomorrow night.

Plainfield Council, Jr. O. U. A. M., will meet Monday night and receive several applications for membership.

Court Plainfield, No. 1144, Independent Order Foresters, at the meeting tomorrow night, will initiate several candidates and the amendments to the by-laws will come up for final reading and action. These changes are of importance to every member and a good attendance is desired.

OBITUARY.

Anna Florence Geary.

Anna Florence Geary, the thirteen-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Morris Geary, of South Plainfield, died yesterday afternoon after a brief illness with diphtheria. A private funeral service was held this afternoon and interment was in St. Mary's cemetery.

Israel Brown.

Israel Brown, the nine-months-old son of Leander and Carrie Brown, of West Third street, died this morning. The funeral will be held tomorrow afternoon at 1 o'clock.

ASTHMA SUFFERER DIES SITTING IN CHAIR.

End Came to George Keeney While Seeking Relief From Chronic Complaint.

George M. Keeney, who recently came from Jersey City to live for a short time with his sister, Mrs. Clay, of East Front street, died suddenly yesterday morning. He had been afflicted with an asthmatic trouble and sat up in a chair Tuesday night in the hope of securing some relief. He was found sitting bolt upright by Mrs. Clay fully two hours after life had fled.

Mr. Keeney was in his fifty-sixth year and formerly lived in Plainfield. He leaves a widow and three daughters, all of whom live in Jersey City with the exception of one daughter, who resides here.

The funeral will be held at his late home tomorrow morning at 11 o'clock and interment will be in New York Bay cemetery.

WRECK REPORT DWINDLES.

Turns Out to Be Only a Man With a Broken Leg.

Elizabeth, Sept. 13.—Much excitement was caused here yesterday morning by a report that a disastrous wreck had occurred near Elizabeth, on the Jersey Central Railroad, in which four men and a boy were killed. The fact that the ambulances from the two Elizabeth hospitals were seen hurrying west, while the Central wreck train passed through the city, going in the same direction, gave an air of truth to the story, and a crowd soon gathered at the railroad station. The perplexed officials there, however, could not vertify the tale. It turned out later that Theodore Gerlach, a boss painter, of the firm of Miller & Gerlach, of 40 William street, Roselle Park, had tumbled from a ladder while painting a new building at 571 Westfield avenue, Roselle Park, and sustained a fractured leg. Both Elizabeth ambulances were called, but the General Hospital vehicle got there first and took charge of the injured man. He is thirty years old and married. The wreck train, it was learned, had only gone out to the main line of the Central to gather up scrap iron.

Matinee Meet.

Another free matinee race meet will be held at the Driving Park Saturday afternoon. Horses from Woodbridge, Somerville, Westfield and this city will take part, and three good events are on the card.

George Ulrich, of East Fifth street, is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Ulrich, of East Fifth street.

PERSONAL.

Miss Marion Schuyler, of Belvidere avenue, left yesterday for Convent Station to attend school.

Miss Ida Yerkes, of Grove street, is visiting her sister, Mrs. H. Worthington Page, of Oneonta, N. Y.

Miss Hackett, of Salem, N. J., is visiting at the home of her sister, Mrs. Reuben Knox, of Rockview avenue.

Mrs. Christian Frederickson, of Netherwood, has returned home from a visit to her daughter in Rutherford.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles D. Denny, of West Fourth street, have returned from a sojourn at Cooperstown, N. Y.

Mr. and Mrs. Lafayette Rosenstiehl, of Somerset street, will leave Sunday for Niagara Falls to spend a short time in sightseeing.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Bird, of the borough, returned home last night from Lake Hopatcong, where they had been camping since last July.

Mr. and Mrs. Julius J. Stahl, of Somerset street, left last night for Milwaukee, Wis., to visit relatives. They will be away about two weeks.

Automobilists who have recently gone from this place to Bernardsville are Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Fowler, R. F. Reggio, the Misses Helen, Florence and Ethel Fowler and H. S. Fowler in a part. Mr. and Mrs. George D. Hallock, of Mercer avenue, also visited Somerset Inn at that place. The guests at that famous hostelry from Fanwood include Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Seaman, Mrs. King and Miss Gladys Bassett.

TEST SUIT BY RAILROADS.

Appeals Against Assessments on Class Property Are Withdrawn.

Trenton, Sept. 13.—Counsel for the various railroads that are taxed in New Jersey appeared Monday before the State Board of Equalization of Taxes and withdrew several hundred appeals against assessments made upon the companies' second class railroad property in New Jersey last year. These assessments were made under the so-called Duffield law, providing for the taxation of such property at local rates. There was one petition not withdrawn. In that case the State Board dismissed the appeal, and this will provide a test case to carry the matter through the courts. The railroads assert that the second class properties and that the Duffield law is unconstitutional.

Infant Killed by a Fall.

New Brunswick, Sept. 13.—Ralph Cutter, son of Mr. and Mrs. David Cutter, of 51 Baldwin street, a little over a year old, was killed Monday afternoon by falling from a second-story window. The boy had climbed up on a sewing machine near an open window and rolled out. He died within half an hour after the fall.

PLOT AGAINST PERKINS?

Attempt to Steal Assemblyman's Letters Ends in An Arrest.

A BOY CONFESSES

Youthful Detective Declares He Was Engaged by Westfield Man to Learn What He Could.

Sensational developments are expected in connection with the arrest yesterday in Jersey City of a beardless boy detective, who says he is Charles O'Byrne, eighteen years old, of No. 31 Schenectady avenue, Brooklyn.

The boy's accuser is Mayor Randolph Perkins, of Westfield. Mr. Perkins is the Republican leader on the floor of the New Jersey Assembly. He is also a partner of Judge John A. Blair and former Judge Otto Crouse. Their law offices are in the Commercial Trust Building, No. 15 Exchange place. Morning and evening Mr. Perkins makes the trip between Westfield and Jersey City in an $10,000 automobile, which figured yesterday in the arrest of the boy detective.

The automobile was used in transporting him from the Commercial Trust Building to the City Hall, where police headquarters is located. After he confessed and was booked on a charge of being an accessory to the larceny of a packet of letters, O'Byrne was given an automobile ride to the Seventh street station, where he spent the night meditating on the trials and troubles of a boy detective.

Last Wednesday Joseph Autenreith, fourteen years old, of No. 782 Newark avenue, who is employed as an office boy by Charles E. Hendrickson, Jr., a son of Supreme Court Justice Charles E. Hendrickson, was accosted by O'Byrne in front of the Commercial Trust Building, and asked if he wanted to make "some easy money." Young Autenreith replied: "Sure, Mike. What's your game?"

The office boy alleges that O'Byrne asked him to stroll into the office of Blair & Perkins, engage the office boy or typewriter in conversation and take any letters he could get hold of. Autenreith consented to steal Mr. Perkins' letters, and he promised to meet O'Byrne in front of the building yesterday afternoon at fifteen minutes to five.

Autenreith, instead of attempting to steal the letters, informed his employer, Mr. Hendrickson, who summoned Mr. Perkins and Judge Blair. After listening to the boy's story the Judge and lawyers decided to lay a trap for the detective, and Police Chief Murphy was asked to detail two officers to make the arrest.

Detective Sergeants Frank Bennett and Clay Keenan were stationed in front of the Commercial Trust Building yesterday afternoon; Mr. Perkins' automobile was at the curb. Mayor Perkins arranged two packet of old letters and handed them to young Autenreith, who found O'Byrne waiting on the sidewalk. O'Byrne jammed the letters into his coat pockets, and at the same moment Bennett and Keenan arrested him and pushed him into the automobile.

Mr. Perkins, who had witnessed the arrest, jumped into the vehicle and the party went to Police Headquarters, where Chief Murphy and Inspector Archibold were waiting for them. O'Byrne was badly frightened by the unexpected ending of his first detective job in New Jersey, and he confessed that he had been employed by a resident of Westfield to "find out all he could about Mayor Perkins."

O'Byrne revealed the name of his employer to Mr. Perkins and the police officials, but Chief Murphy declined to give the name out for publication "for police reasons."

In his search for information about Mr. Perkins the Brooklyn youth asked the boy who is in attendance at the cigar stand in the Commercial Trust Building if Mr. Perkins had gold teeth, how many cigars he smoked every day, what was his favorite brand, and wanted to know the number of the Mayor's automobile. It is 4,411.

O'Byrne confessed that he visited Westfield on Wednesday and drew a diagram of Mayor Perkins' home. Mr. Perkins and Chief Murphy tried to induce O'Byrne immediately after his arrest to take the letters to Westfield and deliver them to his employer, but the boy detective scornfully replied:

"No, I would rather go to State's prison than do that. He doesn't know I was after Mr. Perkins' letters. I thought of that myself."

Late last night Chief Murphy was notified by telephone from Westfield that a lawyer would be in the First Criminal Court today to defend O'Byrne.

ICE SUPPLY CUT OFF FROM LAKE HOPATCONG

NATURAL ICE COMPANY LOOKING ELSEWHERE FOR THE COMMODITY.

That the Natural Ice Company, the wholesale concern here, will not be able to obtain another pound of ice from Lake Hopatcong this season, was announced by Andrew Wilson this morning. Mr. Wilson is a member of the concern and he is now in Philadelphia, his mission being to get a supply from that place. If he fails he will make another attempt at Harrisburg, Pa.

The last carload of ice from Lake Hopatcong arrived this morning. Ever since the local supply was exhausted some time ago, the Natural Ice Company has been getting two carloads a day from the lake. Notice has now been given for it not to expect any more shipments. At once efforts were made to obtain a temporary supply from some nearby point but they failed.

Mr. Wilson states that the wholesale concern here is making no profit from its own wholesale customers at present. The only profit made at all he declares is from the small consumers, principally the householders. Ice is selling at much higher prices in other places than it is in Plainfield according to his statement.

John Morton is also endeavoring to get a supply for his customers.

CART-TAIL MEETING FOR REFORM TONIGHT

JUDGE RUNYON WILL SPEAK AT PARK AVENUE AND FRONT STREET.

Judge Runyon will open his cart-tail campaign for reform tonight, at Park avenue and Front street. He will speak there from a wagon.

He did not know this forenoon whether or not other speakers would assist him. It is the intention of the Colbyites to use young enthusiasts in the cart-tail campaign, however, and some of the budding orators may be given a try-out tonight.

Noonday shop meetings, another part of the plan of campaign, have not been inaugurated here yet. Arrangements for them are, however, being made, and the gospel of reform will soon be carried to the doors of the big plants in the city. Judge Runyon spoke at a shop meeting in Garwood yesterday.

Plans for the big La Follette meeting at Concert Park September 19 are being made. Judge Runyon did not know this forenoon who else would speak with La Follette, and had not yet completed arrangements to have a band there.

Birthday Anniversary.

In honor of the seventh anniversary of his birthday, Mrs. LeRoy J. Ellis, of Park avenue, arranged a children's party for her son, James Ellis, yesterday afternoon. There were about a dozen young people present and they all had a jolly good time playing various games and dancing. Prizes were offered the winners of the games, and Miss Dorothy Thompson, who was the belle of the party, won first honors. Miss Gladys Glover won the second price, Miss Elsie Palmer third. A delightful feature of the affair was the violin selections by Miss Edith Rains, who, with her sister, Miss Rains, a well-known artist, of Chattanooga, has been visiting Mr. and Mrs. Ellis, after spending the summer at Gloucester, Mass., and who are now on their way home. Miss Rains was accompanied on the piano by Mrs. Eldredge. Another feature was the recitations given by Miss Dorothy Ellis. After the musical programme and games, the young folks adjourned to the dining-room where refreshments were served. The table was prettily decorated with orange colored ribbons and sunflowers. Each guest received a pleasing favor. James Ellis was well remembered, receiving a number of useful gifts. Several guests present were from Fanwood, where Mr. and Mrs. Ellis formerly resided.

Borough Tax Sale.

Collector George F. Brown conducted a sale of borough property yesterday, on which taxes had not been paid. Eleven pieces were put up, nine of which were bought in by the borough and two by Henry DeMott. The amount realized was about $250. This clears the delinquent realty tax list for 1905.

Odd Fellows Off for Canada.

About twenty-five members of Hope Canton, Odd Fellows, of this city, will leave tomorrow night over the Lehigh Valley Railroad for Toronto, Can., where they will attend the session of the Sovereign Grand Lodge. The Plainfielders will board the special at Bound Brook, leaving here at 8:08 o'clock.

DEMOCRATS WILL NOT HINT AS TO CANDIDATE

W. L. HETFIELD, SR., DECLINES NOMINATION FOR MAYORALTY.

On the eve of the last day allowed for filing nominations, the choice of the Democrats for ward offices, committees, and delegates is wrapped in mystery. None of the leaders would make a statement as to probable candidates this morning.

Walter L. Hetfield, Sr., who is now regarded as the leader of the Plainfield Democracy, said he could not, at this time, hazard an opinion as to candidates.

"Who the candidate for the mayoralty will be none of us can forecast," he said, "and the councilmanic candidates are all in the 'prospective' stage. The names will be filled in tonight, but I cannot say who they will be before that time."

Several other men prominent in the fold were asked about candidates, but they say no more than Mr. Hetfield. The latter has been mentioned as the choice for the mayoralty, but he said positively, when questioned as to his candidacy, that he would not consider the office.

"I am not a candidate for anything," he declared.

LAST BAND CONCERT.

Rossis' Famous Band Will Play, Followed by Display of Fireworks.

The last band concert and display of fireworks of the season will be held at Concert Park, tonight. The concert, which will start promptly at 8 o'clock, will be given by Rossis' celebrated Italian band, of New York, composed of many of Creatores men. They gave a street parade and concert today and demonstrated their ability to render fine music.

Rossis will have charge of the concert tonight, but Ben. LaVere will direct the band for the singers, William Redmond, Jack Elliott and Eddie Weston. It is also possible that Reed and Ball may sing. The handsome display of fireworks will follow the concert. The concert is given for the purpose of meeting a deficit on the season's concerts and a large crowd and liberal patronage is expected. The free list will be entirely suspended. Admission to the grandstand will be twenty-five cents.

KING SEEKS PROTECTION.

Asks to Have Mrs. Vanderveer Placed Under Bonds.

An echo of the King—VanNess—Vanderveer affair in the borough two weeks ago, was heard in Justice Mosher's court this morning, when Abraham King sought to have Mrs. Vanderveer placed under bonds, charging that she had threatened to kill him and also that she had used profane and indecent language. The plaintiff was represented by William G. DeMeza and the defendant by S. S. Swackenhamer.

Mrs. Vanderveer admitted striking King with an umbrella but denied using improper language. The testimony taking took up all the morning and it was after the noon hour before it was all in. At the close the justice announced that he would reserve his decision until Monday morning.

Mr. Waldron a Candidate.

Barzilla R. Waldron, of Codington avenue, has been endorsed by the necessary number of signers for a North Plainfield Councilmanic nomination. He will take the place of Councilman Charles A. Lee, who was endorsed at the Republican conference but whose absence from the city prevents his signing his consent, which must be filed by tomorrow night. J. E. McClintock, who was mentioned for the place, declined to be a candidate for the nomination.

School Girl's Narrow Escape.

Several children were playing about Park avenue and Fourth street, on their way to school, this morning, when E. S. F. Randolph, of Grant avenue, in his auto, made a quick turn from Fourth street into Park avenue. All of the children, but one, whose name is unknown, got out of the way of the auto. Whether the auto struck her or she slipped on the muddy crosswalk is not clear. The girl was not injured.

4th Congressional Date.

The Republican Congressional committee for the Fourth New Jersey district, which includes Somerset county, has decided to hold the convention at Flemington on October 2.

From the Borough Police Blotter.

George Larrey, of Somerset street, was arrested by Marshal Pope, of the borough force, last night, for abusing his wife. He gave bail to secure his release until tonight.

—Delays are dangerous, so don't fail to make your pick from 400 baskets of fancy peaches that Neuman Brothers will put on sale tomorrow. Your choice of white or yellow fruit at 85c, $1 and $1.25 a basket.

RIVAL CAB HORSES RACE

Charley Barry's Steed Shows Clean Pair of Heels to "Pete" Seader's Pacer.

BIG CROWD ON HAND

Several Hundred Dollars Wagered on the Result—Stake Spent on a "Blow-Out."

With a cavalcade of forty of more rigs of all sizes, ages and descriptions bringing up the rear, "Pete" Seader and Charles Barry, two rival hackmen at the North avenue station, adjourned to Mountain avenue yesterday afternoon for the purpose of testing the speed merits of their respective horses. Seader has been openly declaring that his nag could outrun any cab animal in the city and the boast was cornered by Barry, who put up a side bet of $10 that his steed could make Seader's look like thirty cents half spent. The whole "yard," as the hackmen's space opposite the depot is styled, was interested in the discussion and when the owners moved away to verify their claims, several hundred dollars had been wagered on the contest. Naturally the bettors wanted to see the race and when the string of rigs went down Watchung avenue, the residents were thrown into a high state of excitement as to what it all meant.

The course was from the Watchung School to the "white" bridge near Scotch Plains, a distance of about two miles. The odds were on Seader's outfit but Barry took the lead almost as soon as the starting pistol was fired. He had confided to some friends that if he didn't win, he was going to knock the head off his horse with an axe and one of them must has tipped the animal off. At any rate, it flew down Mountain avenue like the proverbial greased lightning and though Seader yelled, gesticulated and held out promises of extra oats, his entry was unable to overcome the gap.

The entire collection of vehicles joined in and the clatter that ensued served to spur on the racers and they developed speed that would have made Sheepshead favorites turn green with envy. Barry was so confident of success that he almost stopped to pick up a passenger on the way and it gave Seader an opportunity to get nearer to him. Yells from "Bob" Evans and several others, who had large sums, $12 in all, bet on the result, caused him to realize the peril and he used his persuasive powers with such good effect that he pulled over the finish line a good 200 yards before his opponent.

The result was greeted with resounding cheers and while Seader and his animal turned back toward North avenue, Barry and his backers hot-footed it to Scotch Plains. There the $20 stake and some small change was spent by the victor in buying soda water, ice cream and peanuts for the crowd.

Seader and his supporters have openly declared that there were conditions that did not give the losing animal a fair show and they are anxious for another try. Barry is fully satisfied, however, and has declined to get into a second match.

NAME GRAND OFFICERS.

Unity Lodge Select Candidates to Be Voted Upon Later.

Unity Lodge, No. 102, K. of P., met last night and nominated the following Grand Lodge officers to be voted upon at the meeting in December:

Grand chancellor, W. T. Hillard, of Salem; grand vice-chancellor, Abram Klenert, of Paterson; grand prelate, H. A. Heinrich, of Paterson; grand keeper of records and seals, Elmer E. Margerum, of Trenton; grand master of exchequer, John Patrick, of Rutherford; grand master at arms, A. L. Drucker, of Elizabeth; grand inner guard, H. C. Keeler, of Newark; grand outside guard, W. D. Quick, of Somerville; supreme representatives, Walter F. Hayhurst, of Lambertville; Dewitt C. Cobb, of Atlantic Highlands.

Each lodge throughout the State is privileged to select its own ticket and at the first meeting in December a vote will be taken by each lodge and the result is forwarded to Trenton to be taken up at the annual session of the Grand Lodge of New Jersey.

Victim of an Assault.

Thomas Peterson, colored, of Brooklyn, was found in Eighth avenue, New York, early yesterday morning in an unconscious condition. His skull had been fractured but he refused to tell the police the name of his assailant. It is said that he will die. The victim is a brother of Henry Peterson and a nephew of Louis Peterson, both of whom live in this city, where he formerly resided.

POURED OIL IN STOVE; THE SAME OLD STORY

MRS. COWPERTHWAIT LOSES SOME HAIR—HOUSE IS DAMAGED.

In attempting to fill an oil stove at her home on Martine avenue at 6:40 this morning, Mrs. Allen Cowperthwait was severely burned and the house was set on fire, causing damage estimated at $400.

Mrs. Cowperthwait thought the stove flame was out but it was not and the kerosene ignited. The blaze enveloped her and she lost part of her hair and eyebrows, beside getting painfully burned about the face and hands. The blaze spread about the room and in a short time had reached dangerous proportions.

Fire headquarters was notified by 'phone and the apparatus was quickly on the scene, with Acting Chief Jennings in charge. A hydrant stream and the chemical engine were used in quelling the flames.

The damage is evenly divided on the house and contents. The building is owned by J. W. Sanford, of West Seventh street.

FREE SCHOLARSHIP.

International Association Makes a Formal Offer.

The International Free Scholarship Association, of New York city, which is under the direction of the International Sunshine Society, have several annual tuitions to give this year to deserving students who can afford the expense of living and books, at Alfred University. Some time ago an entertainment was given here for the benefit of this enterprise, but Mrs. Harriet I. Macdonald, president of the association, learned that the New York work demanded practically all her time. Since then over 200 young people have been given special opportunities.

The money raised here was sent to Alfred University, and applied on the scholarship fund and through that and other smaller sums, there is now an opportunity for several boys to get their tuition absolutely free for a limited time. Anyone wishing to accept this opportunity should communicate with the association at 32 Union Square, New York city. For those who can live in New York there are unlimited chances for higher education along all lines. The association stands ready and willing to help young people who have special talent in any direction. All inquiries addressed to the president of the association will be promptly answered.

MOWRY'S DREAM.

Bergen Point Man With a Delusion Rescued From Train by Officer.

Barefooted and collarless, Charles A. Mowry, of Bergen Point, was arrested by Office Keefe for riding on a Central freight train last night. Mowry told a queer story of being used as a tool by a blackmailing gang of toughs known as the "Foggy Dues," and a hurried flight from his home to escape arrest at the hands of Bergen Point policemen. Sergeant Frederickson telephoned to Bergen Point, and information came back that Charles A. Mowry was wanted, not for connection with the Foggy Dues, but because he was subject to notions that had no foundation in fact. He fled from his home last night, under the blackmailing society delusion.

Mowry was remanded by Judge Runyon this morning to await the coming of friends or an officer from Bayonne. Clothing will be brought him. Mowry was quite willing to enter into the arrangement.

Will Play for Championship.

The Clinton Avenues and the All-Americans, colored, will play the deciding game tomorrow afternoon at 3:30 o'clock on the Clinton Avenue grounds for the local championship. Both teams are playing fast ball and tomorrow's contest should be an exciting one. The Clinton Avenues won the first game by a score of 11 to 4, the All-Americans the second by a score of 9 to 8. Both teams will be strengthened for the deciding game. Whitely, Scott and O'Loughlin will be in the points for the Clinton Avenues and Garner, Brokaw and McLane for the colored team. The All-Americans say that they ar still waiting to hear from Scotch Plains.

Shafts Drop; Runaway Follows.

Frightened by the sudden dropping of the shafts, a horse belonging to Hughes Fawcett, of Rockview avenue, and driven by his son, ran away on Prospect place yesterday morning. With Mr. Fawcett in the carriage was a young woman and both remained in their seats until Grove street was reached, when the annimal was unable to make the turn and the vehicle was thrown over on the sidewalk. Both occupants escaped with a shaking up and torn clothing, but the carriage was badly smashed. The horse was finally caught by Edward Smalley.

MURRAY REQUESTS THE VOTERS TO ACT

TAX COLLECTOR TO BE NOMINATED AT THE REPUBLICAN PRIMARIES.

John W. Murray, Jr., has requested Corporation Counsel Craig A. Marsh to notify City Clerk MacMurray to include the office of tax collector, which he now holds, in the arrangements for the election. Mr. Marsh has promised to do so. While it is the general opinion that Mr. Murray's term does not expire until 1909, some one has raised a question about it, holding that his term expires on January 1 next.

It is not supposed that there will be any objection to Mr. Murray on the part of either Colbyites or regulars. He has not been politically active since assuming his office and he is exceptionally popular with both the regulars and the "new idea" people. Consequently he is likely to be the only candidate for the nomination at the Republican city convention.

In speaking of his request made to the corporation counsel, today, Tax Collector Murray said: "So long as there is the least doubt about the matter, I think the people ought to settle it at the polls. An election won't do any harm and it may save the city a good deal of expense, especially when it may be possible that some one may raise the issue later on. I do not know of any opposition to me; if there is, it is up to the voters to decide."

SHELLABARGER NAMED AS TYLER'S OPPONENT

HE ACCEPTS ENDORSEMENT OF THE 3D WARD REPUBLICAN CAUCUS.

Joseph M. Shellabarger will be Councilman William S. Tyler's opponent for the councilmanic nomination of the Third ward at the Republican primary. He was chosen last night at a ward meeting called to complete the ticket that will be opposed to the Colbyites ballot. He has accepted.

Candidates for the committees were chosen as follows: City committee, C. J. Fisk, former Sheriff B. F. Coriell, Charles Foster; county committee, C. J. Fisk, former Sheriff William T. Kirk.

Candidates for convention delegations were chosen as follows: First district — Congressional convention, C. J. Fisk, D. E. Titsworth, F. J. Hubbard, G. F. Schoonmaker; county convention, J. C. Gilbert, J. B. Dumont, O. T. Waring, B. F. Coriell; city convention, William C. Kinney, George S. Ring, John Gallagher, E. H. Ladd, Jr.; Second district—Congressional convention, L. W. Serrell, George J. Tobin; county convention, Robert Rushmore, Harry McDonald; city convention, Leslie M. Daniel, Charles Foster.

Friends of Mr. Tyler urged his claims for renomination at the meeting, but it was the sense of the meeting that Mr. Shellabarger was the right man for the place.

A GOLDRENROD WEDDING.

Ceremony United Herbert Mooney and Rahway Young Woman.

Herbert Foster Mooney, of Scotch Plains, and Miss Elsie Woodruff, of Rahway, were married at the latter's home, Wednesday night. Rev. Dr. J. O. Boyd, of Princeton, a cousin of the bride, performed the ceremony, assisted by Rev. C. F. Shaw, of Rahway.

Miss Mary Neafsey, of Elizabeth, was bridesmaid and Edmund, brother of the groom, was best man. The ribbon girls were the Misses Laura Wright, of Newark; Evelyn Bower, of Elizabeth; Florence Brown and Elizabeth McKenzie, of Metuchen; Eva Ekinner, of Orange; Adele Hock, of Brooklyn; Edna Brown, of Woodbridge, and Esther McMaster, of Elizabeth. It was a "goldenrod" wedding, this flower predominating in the decorations.

Following a wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs. Mooney will reside at Scotch Plains. The groom is employed in New York.

Not a Campaign Story.

A party of Plainfielders dropped lines in Princess Bay and off Gifford's, yesterday, and hauled in a total of 215 weaks and blues. The lucky anglers were Harry Dreier, Charles Maltby, F. C. Langhorne, William Towney, Warren Townley and James R. Blair.

Miss Steele Engaged.

The engagement has been announced of Joseph C. Borden, of South Orange, to Miss Ruth W. Steele, daughter of the Rev. Dr. J. Nevett Steele, vicar of Trinity church, New York. Miss Steele is a sister of Mrs. Leon Moran, of Grove street.

HOWARD TRACY OBJECTS

Colbyite Chairman Displeased Over Publication of Political Gossip.

HE WRITES A LETTER

Says Hibbard's Friends Would Not Consent to His Withdrawal—Says Story Is Offensive.

Howard C. Tracy's displeasure over the report that Mr. Hall was being considered as a compromise councilmanic nominee in the Second ward has caused him to make a reply to the news item. Mr. Tracy is chairman of the Second ward branch of the Colbyite League and therefore speaks in an official capacity. His letter follows:

1331 Prospect Ave.,
Plainfield, N. J.,
Sept. 13, 1906.

Editor, The Daily Press:

As chairman of the Second Ward Branch of the Union County Republican League for Equal Taxation, I desire to deny most emphatically the report printed in your issue of today that an effort will be made to have Henry D. Hibbard withdraw as a candidate for councilman, and to substitute Henry L. Hall in his place. I had occasion last week to ask Mr. Hall whether he would accept a nomination as delegate to the Congressional convention, and in stating his inability to accept even so temporary an office on account of the pressure of business engagements, he took occasion to say that he could not accept any nomination whatever at this time. When I spoke to him again yesterday concerning the report printed in your issue of Tuesday last, he repeated the same statements, and I did not deem that report worthy of any public notice.

Your report of tonight, however, seems to suggest the possibility of a "deal" between this league and the so-called "regulars," whereby both parties should join in nominating another candidate in place of Mr. Hibbard, and requires immediate and emphatic repudiation.

Nothing could be further from the truth than the report which you publish. The Second Ward Branch of this league considers Mr. Hibbard a councilman of irreproachable record, whose independent attitude during his past service has been of inestimable value to the city, and it knows of no good reason which can be advanced for nominating a candidate in opposition to him. Mr. Hibbard is honored by the desire of the "regulars" to have some one substituted for him on our ticket, and not only do we not desire him to withdraw, but we should never willingly consent to it.

I have no doubt that the implication in your report of today is as offensive to Mr. Hall as it is to this league, and I trust that all persons who sympathize with the purposes of this league will treat any further reports of a similar nature which may emanate from the same source with the indifference which they deserve.

I shall esteem it a favor if you will give this letter equal prominence with your report of today.

HOWARD C. TRACY,
Chairman Second Ward Branch Union County Republican League for Equal Taxation.

(The news item which appears to have nettled Mr. Tracy is this:

"One report has it that an effort will be made to have Councilman Henry D. Hibbard, who has been endorsed by the Colbyites, withdraw. In his place according to the story current Mr. Hall is to be named, it being reported that his petition would be signed by five Colbyites and five regulars. Mr. Hall would not confirm the story this morning, neither would he deny it. Mr. Hall is a Colbyite in state and county politics, but is not affiliated with the movement in municipal affairs. An attempt has been made by some of his friends in the organization to have stand as the regular candidate but he declined."

It is to be regretted that a publication of political gossip current about town should be so offensive to the gentleman, who seems to imagine that it emanated from enemies of the "New Idea" movement. For his benefit, it is only necessary to say that City Judge Runyon, head of the "New Idea" movement in Union county and one of its leaders in Mr. Tracy's own ward can furnish full corroboration of the report, which was obtained by this paper from one with whom Mr. Tracy is politically affiliated in the present campaign. We doubt very much Mr. Tracy's authority to speak for Mr. Hall and we question his statement that this particular item or any other to be found in the columns of the Daily Press is distasteful to Mr. Hall for whom we have the highest regard.—Editor.)

Mr. and Mrs. Robert G. Herdstrom, of Manning avenue, have returned home from Delewanna, where they spent the summer.

NEWS IN THE SUBURBS.

DUNELLEN AND VICINITY

A business meeting and sociable will be held by the Presbyterian C. E. Society tonight, at the Manse. Miss Holloway, of the Crescent Avenue church, Plainfield, will read a report on the recent conference at Silver Bay, Lake George, N. Y.

Paul Brakeley is a candidate for end on the P. H. S. football team. Mr. Brakeley has been asked to coach the Holy Cross church eleven, of Plainfield, but he has been compelled to refuse on account of lack of time.

The borough nine will play the Port Reading team tomorrow. Russell will be with the team again, after an absence of several weeks. He has been spending his vacation in Michigan.

Constable R. L. Pierce will hold a constable's sale at East Bound Brook this afternoon in the suit of George Cliswold against J. L. Seveigartl.

Dr. Brakeley has arranged to put a new cigar case in his store. It will add much to the increased attractiveness of the interior.

Ed. Johnson lost a thumb in an accident at his work in Aldene Wednesday. He was attended to at the hospital.

While playing on Wednesday, Willie Ryan sprained his wrist severely. The sprain is near an old break.

Miss Rita Meeker, of Plainfield, is spending a few days with her brother, Ogden Meeker.

The borough tax rate will be fixed by Assessor Peters before the end of next week.

A Bible reading will be a feature of the prayer meeting at the Baptist church tonight.

Constable Robert L. Pierce was on duty in court at New Brunswick yesterday.

The registry list, so far, contains just one name more than last year—410.

The slate roof of the new school at New Market has been completed.

Fifteen borough young people are at the Plainfield High School.

George Apgar is detained from work by illness.

PLAINS AND FANWOOD

The best game of the season is promised by the local ball team for tomorrow afternoon. The Greenville A. C. team has been playing a fast game all season and is coming to the 'Plains to lower the locals' colors. The home team will line-up as follows: Vanderbilt, rf; Reick, lf; J. Alberts, 2b; Baldwin, ss; G. Frentz, 1b; H. Alberts, c; Schreinbeck, 3b; Eller, cf; A. Frentz, p.

The final band concert of the season will be held tonight at Concert Park. The musical programme will be rendered by an Italian band from New York. Besides this there will be a grand display of fireworks.

Charles Adair, a former well-known resident here, but for several years past a resident of Newark, has been visiting relatives and friends in town.

The Township Committee meets tonight in the town rooms. The annual recommendations of the appropriations will probably be made.

The contract case of Bohren vs. Schwalbach, which was adjourned in Justice Clark's court last week, will be tried tomorrow morning.

Rev. T. Moore-Smith, who is enjoying his annual vacation, left today for a visit of two weeks with his brother in West Virginia.

Mr. and Mrs. George A. Clark have returned from a visit with Mr. Clark's sister, Mrs. Peter Smith, at Lincoln.

The weekly prayer and praise meeting tonight at the Baptist church will be led by B. F. Hadley, of Netherwood.

Emil Jahn, who has been enjoying camp life in the Adirondack Mountains for several weeks, has returned home.

The water company is laying pipes on Farlee avenue, between Front street, to Second street.

The Democratic caucus will be held tonight in the rooms of Bucket and Engine Company.

LOCAL AMUSEMENTS

A carefully chosen company of fifty performers assist Hap Ward in the production of "Not Yet But Soon," which will be at the New Plainfield theatre tonight, and Manager E. D. Stair is emphatic in the assertion that the chorus can really sing, as well as look stunning. Among the principals will be seen Lucy Daly, Fred Wykoff, Robert Evans, Matt Woodward, Dick Barry, John C. Hart, Fred Parrent, Charles Sandy Chapman, Carrie Merrilees, Jennie Palmer, Marian Merrill and Helen Clark.

The world is full of ups and downs, of sunshine and shadows. It is a duty you owe yourself to struggle for the ups and seek the sunshine. If you are in the shadow and meet with one of the downs go to the New Plainfield theatre on either Saturday afternoon or night and see "Peck's Bad Boy." He will lighten the one and make you forget the other. He has a full stock of new and funny things for you, that cannot fail to make you think for the time at least that life is all sunshine.

During the run of "The Squaw Man" in New York last season, when it remained seven months at Wallacks theatre, a party of Ute chiefs on their way to Washington to see President Roosevelt, were taken to see the play. Their astonishment at seeing the actor who portrayed Tabywana speaking their own language was almost ludicrous, and it was necessary to take them back of the stage to convince them that he was really a white man. Their only comment when they saw the grease paint being removed was: "Heap big medicine." "The Squaw Man" will be at the New Plainfield theatre next Monday night.

Oftentimes it is the side issues, the secondary thought in the drama that gives it its chief charm. To many this is true in the case of Clyde Fitch's greatest play, "Her Own Way," which will be seen at the New Plainfield theatre next Tuesday night under the management of Jules Murry. The side issue which has dominated the strong love feature of the play has been caused by the introduction of a number of children who dominate the entire first act. Those who are not lovers of children had best plan their evening to reach the theatre in time for the second act, for in the first act is Philip's birthday party. The children he has gathered around him are perfect types of healthy youngsters, all of whom make comments on the goodies spread before them, of their host and hostess and of their grown-up friends with the sang froid of the little men and women of the nursery. No one is free from the penetrating eyes and caustic tones of Elaine, Christopher and Toots and neither can they excuse their grandmother, Mrs. Carley for her make up, nor the infatuation of Moles the footman for the maid Lizzie. In short they are natural and wholesome children as loyal to their friends as they are eager to detect the weakness of those who are antagonistic to them. The children's truest friend is their "Aunt Georgiana," the part played by Miss Sylvia Lynden, Jules Murry's new star.

Paul Gilmore, who will be seen at the New Plainfield theatre next Wednesday night in the new college play "At Yale," under the management of Jules Murry, is one of the best dressers on the American stage. This, his new play, offers him every opportunity to wear the most modish of garments, and he has taken every advantage of the opportunity. Mr. Gilmore's first costume is a suit of white cheviot and a third is of fawn color. The new coats have lap cuffs on the sleeves fastened with one small button. These take the place of the former cut cuffs with three buttons. The pockets of one suit are cut on the bias—called the "cross pocket." Another has large patch pockets. The lapels are made to roll instead of being pressed flat. A new evening coat has a velvet collar and velvet cuffs. The cuffs have three buttons. On the coat with velvet cuffs and collar the tails are cut square—on all others (evening coats) the tails are cut pointed as before. Another novelty is a frock coat of grey. With this is worn a waistcoat of moire silk embroidered with violet silk. Some of the other waistcoats are white, one of which has a blue silk cord sewed on in a zig-zag pattern. These white waistcoats are all high cut and single breasted. The new white waistcoats for evening wear are cut with long points open at the bottom—all single breasted—with four little white buttons close together. Mr. Gilmore's ties and handkerchiefs, his hose and gloves match the costumes with which they are worn.

Arthur Dunn, the clever comedian and hit of several New York successes, will be seen here next Thursday night at the head of his own big company in an elaborate production of Herbert Hall Winslow's musical comedy, "The Little Joker." This piece, written expressly for Mr. Dunn, promises to become one of the successes of the season, and will be seen in New York shortly after the first of the year.

May Irwin, the funniest woman on the American stage, who was called by one newspaper writer "the laugh genius," is to be seen at the New Plainfield theatre next Friday night in a new play by George V. Hobart called "Mrs. Wilson, That's All." Miss Irwin's latest offering is planned something on the order of her previous successes, and in it she is said to have a part exactly to her liking. The comedienne's role is that of Mrs. Wilson, a society woman, who, believing herself to be a widow, marries a second time; but just after the ceremony she learns, or believes she learns, that her first husband is still alive.

At last Blanche Ring seems to have come into her own. For several seasons past this jolly lady has been making herself famous by popularizing such songs as "Bedelia," "The Good Old Summer Time," "My Irish Mollie O," and dozens of others, to say nothing of "Waltz Me Around Again, Willie." Her success in this sort of work has been so great and she has been in such demand in New York, Chicago and Philadelphia, that she has done less traveling, perhaps, than any other well known theatrical star in existence. Now she is under the astute management of Charles Dillingham, whose name seems to be accepted as a standard of competence and completeness, and he has substituted her for Lulu Glaser in Harry B. Smith and Victor Herbert's masterpiece of musical comedy, "Miss Dolly Dollars." Both author and composer practically reconstructed the play in order that Miss Ring might give full vent to her merriment. It will be at the New Plainfield theatre Friday night, September 28.

CONSTIPATION CURSE OF MANKIND

Dr. Oidman's Liv-r-oids never fail to cure Constipation, Billiousness and all Liver Complaints. They destroy the germs and thus remove the cause.

You May Try a Full-Sized Bottle Free.

Constipation is the starting point of all kinds of dangerous and distressing diseases, such as Appendicitis, Piles, Billiousness, Sick Headaches, Dyspepsia Female Troubles and scores of others. If your bowels are strong and healthy they will act properly and disease cannot enter or remain in the system. A sound Stomach means sound lasting health.

The true way to cure constipation, Billiousness, Sick Headache and all those diseases arising from a Torpid Liver, has been discovered by Dr. Oidman, and his prescription is known as Liv-r-oids. We ourselves know that Liv-r-oids will cure the worst forms of constipation and all the dangerous diseases of the Bowels and Liver, which are such a great menace to life. If you have never tried Liv-r-oids before, we will send absolutely free to every one sending name and address, a 25 cent bottle of this great remedy. Liv-r-oids make you feel right, and make you look on the bright side of life. Liv-r-oids are not a patent medicine but an eminent physicians prescription in tablet form (formula on bottle). There is no element of doubt in the curing power of Liv-r-oids. They are not a miracle, but only science working along on natural lines assisting nature. We want you to try Liv-r-oids to-day, they sell at 25c. a bottle, but if you have not tried them before, send your name and address and you will receive a full-sized bottle free—no obligations—nothing to pay—merely recommend them to your friends if they do what we claim. These Pretty White Waists

Should Go Like Wildfire at These Prices

Just because a manufacturer secured an immense lot of embroideries for very much less than usual cost, he was enabled to make up several thousand pretty waists and sell them at a price that made them go like hot cakes on a November morning. A few of the biggest houses in the country shared in the cutting of this plum pudding—this store getting a goodly share.

So tomorrow, new and beautiful White Waists—in several very attractive models that will please everyone, made of dainty Persian Lawns, richly embellished and insertions of delicate laces; open front or open back styles as you wish; three-quarter or full-length sleeves; all sizes of course; and handsome Tailored Shirt Waists of Madras and Fine Lawn with groups of tucks and plaits; all wanted sizes up to 46; and this is how we sell them:

$2 Waists will be sold at $1.

$3 Waists will be sold at $2.

Sale of Women's Shoes.

We will continue tomorrow our sale of the big lot of Women's Fine Shoes, including such celebrated makes as the Gainsborough, Mayfair, Minerva and others equally good, and embracing practically every fall style and including all the popular leathers—shoes that have been carefully made and ought to sell at $2.50, $3 and $3.50, here, during this sale, at only $1.95

Plainfield, N. J., Sept. 14, 1906.

Just why Howard Tracy should be aggrieved over the publication of political gossip, as he does regarding the talk of both sides endorsing Henry L. Hall as a compromise councilmanic candidate, is hard to cipher out. Mr. Hall is an admitted exponent of good government and is allied with the Colbyites in both State and county causes. That the regulars object to Mr. Hibbard is quite well known. As a compromise they were willing to endorse one of the Colbyites' own men. Mr. Hall, to whom no objection could be offered by the "New Idea" advocates. If the Colbyites in that ward are in favor of good government and the end could be accomplished by the selection of such a man as Mr. Hall, why should they want to continue the fight? The sincerity of the reformers is not to be questioned but the idea of keeping up a fight just for the sake of a fight may be considered of doubtful propriety. Be as it may, the battle will now be fought to a finish between the friends of R. A. Meeker and H. D. Hibbard. May the best man win.

The McCardell-MacMurray ring in Plainfield calls a gathering at which 111 votes were cast "a mass convention of the Republican voters of Plainfield." Where were the 2,001 other Republican voters who one year ago cast their ballots for Ackerman in that city?—Newark News.

If the Casino conference was not a mass meeting of Republicans will the News kindly explain why it was not? The fact that there were only about 111 voting has no bearing on the case at all for the Colbyites and regulars made every effort to procure the attendance of their friends. Just to show how inconsistent the News is one has only to glance at the same issue when in referring to the Eleventh ward of Elizabeth it calls it "a veritable hotbed of Colbyites and reformers." As a matter of fact there was one less than the "skidoo" number voting that the Colbyites meeting in question in that ward.

The friends of Joseph Shellabarger, who has been named for councilman in the Third ward, naturally feels much elated over his acceptance of an endorsement. Mr. Shellabarger, like his opponent, Mr. Tyler, is in no sense a machine man, his friends and supporters being counted within the ranks of both regulars and Colbyites.

THE FORUM.

Denies Being a Picket.

Editor the Press:

Will you allow me space in your paper to take exception to S. B. Krom's naming me as one of the men who picketed his shop. I have had nothing to do with the trouble at his shop and emphatically deny that I was a picket at any time. I am employed in a factory at Aldene and Mr. Krom's hasty action in bringing me into the controversy is likely to place me in a false light before my employers.

Very truly yours,
WILLIAM M'CONNELL.

EDWIN S. HOOLEY BROKER FOR GOULDS

PLAINFIELDER TO LOOK AFTER THEIR VAST INTERESTS IN WALL STREET.

Edwin S. Hooley, of North Plainfield, has become the Goulds' broker for their stocks and Wall street is commenting upon the change, which went into effect this week. For several years past, whenever, anything was going in the Gould securities, it was always said that "George P. Butler was at work in them."

Coincident with a new market movement in Missouri Pacific stock, which has taken it once more to par, it became known yesterday that Edwin S. Hooley, of the brokerage firm of Hooley, Learned & Co., is now in charge of the Gould market movements and has replaced George P Butler. Mr. Hooley is known as one of the most daring operators in Wall street. But three years ago, in the great crash which carried down Talbot J. Taylor & Co., his firm, at that time E. S. Hooley & Co., also went under with one or two other Stock Exchange houses.

His failure was up in the millions and was caused by an attempt to carry, through a period of market stress, an enormous quantity of Evansville and Terre Haute stock. Mr. Hooley, however, managed to make settlements which permitted him to resume business. Recently he paid dollar for dollar out of his own pocket although he was not legally obliged to do so. He became celebrated for his trading in Amalgamated Copper, and was credited with conducting for Thomas W. Lawson some of the sensation movements in that stock.

Wall street is now guessing as to the cause for what would appear to have been a rather sudden change in the Gould brokers. George J. Gould got back from Europe this week and there were stories in Wall street yesterday that he had expressed himself as not satisfied with the stock market operations of the past year in the securities in which he is vitally interested.

Mr. Hooley, when seen at his office in the Mills building, yesterday, tacitly admitted that he was now in charge of the Gould stocks. He would not discuss the matter except to say:

"There is always going to be a market on the floor of the exchange in the future for the Gould shares. You are not going to see any more sudden smashes between sales of 1 to 2 points in them."

PERSONAL.

Collector and Mrs. George F. Brown have returned from a stay of five weeks at Mt. Pocono.

Prof. Walter Burke and his wife, of Providence, R. I., are spending a few weeks with W. H. P. Miner, of West Front street.

Dan Teller, a former boroughite, has returned from New Brunswick and taken a position with Frank Neidig, of Somerset street.

Mrs. S. A. Ginna, Mr. and Mrs. D. Ginna and Miss Ginna arrived in their automobile at the Elton House, Waterbury, Conn., on Wednesday.

Joseph Flack, who was acting chief of the borough police during George Weiss' absence, is now enjoying his vacation. He is spending it in trips to the nearby mountain and shore resorts.

John P. Reynolds, of East Seventh street, Netherwood, is about to change his residence to Westervelt avenue. Mr. Henriques, a son-in-law of William Barlow, of Prospect place, will occupy the house vacated by Mr. Reynolds.

Mr. and Mrs. Bourgeois and their daughter, Miss Marie Bourgeois, of East Front street, are planning to take up their residence soon in Mexico, where Miss Julia Bourgeois has a thriving English school. Miss Linda D. Butler, of East Front street, will accompany them.

Miss Rains and Miss Edith Rains, of Chattanooga, Tenn., who have been spending the summer at Gloucester, Mass., and who have been visiting Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy J. Ellis, of Park avenue, left for home this morning. Miss Rains, who is an artist of note, being a pupil of William Chase, devoted much of her time this season to sketching. Miss Edith Rains is a talented violinist.

Township Democrats Nominate.

A meeting of the Democratic voters of North Plainfield township was held last night in Maul's Washingtonville Hotel and all sections of the township were well represented. The purpose of this meeting was to select candidates for the coming campaign. The candidates selected were Francis E. Bodin, for delegate to the Congressional convention; William M. Demler, Freeholder; Theo. Leurssen and Albert Brokaw, township committee; Francis E. Bodin, tax collector; John Mobus and Ralph Smith, surveyors of highway; M. J. Duffy, overseer of the poor; Owen Gavin, constable; T. McGann and Conrad Cramer, pound keepers; M. J. Duffy, delegate to the county convention. Appropriation for roads, $2,000; poor fund, $600; township committee's salary, $50.

FOES FEAZE THE FAYS

Tricks of the Mind Reading Pair Revealed in a New York Court.

A TELEPHONE USED

Charcoal Sheets Inserted in Pads Upon Which Questions Are Written, It Is Said.

Undertaking to "expose" what they called the trickery of "the Marvelous Fays," John T. and Eva N., who have twice appeared in Plainfield, and telling of secret telephone wires as aids to mind reading, Herbert Lambourne and Louis Granat, in Justice Newburger's part of the Supreme Court, Special Term, in New York, yesterday defended stoutly an injunction proceeding begun against them by those performers. The Fays asserted that Lambourne and Granat had used their names to advertise a burlesque on their show, which the respondents gave on the New York Roof Garden stage. Furthermore, they said Lambourne, when he was their employee, had entered their rooms in the Hotel Flanders and taken therefrom certain stage properties used in connection with the original show, and which Lambourne, they said, in connection with Granat, employed in the burlesque.

The Fays' specialty is called "Thaumaturgy." Lambourne and Granat called their burlesque "The Flamaturgists—a Faze," and in their posters said, "There's a Phase to Faze the Fays." The Fays asked Justice Newburger to enjoin the respondents from using their names in any way.

Lambourne quoted the Fays' programme as saying their acts were done by "perfectly natural means," and that Mrs. Fay was "a skilled and scientific manipulator of the arts or art of the East Indian yogi and famed mahatmas, being a daughter of India." He said Mrs. Fay told him privately she was born near St. Louis. The respondents denied using the Fays' names improperly, adding, "We do not say we are the Fays, but we do say we will expose the Fays." Lambourne and Granat said petitioners advertised themselves as "The Marvelous Fays—Adepts Mystic," and that "in the opening of the performance it is insinuated on the part of the plaintiffs, while not directly claimed, that the feats of Mrs. Fay are due to mind reading or some other occult art or mysticism; while in truth of fact, such performance is a trick, fraud and device to obtain the confidence of audiences, for the purpose of indusing them to purchase a certain publication of the plaintiffs', designated as 'Mrs. Eva Fay's Thaumaturgy Dream Book,' which pretends to explain dreams." The alleged former stage manager said the Fays in their performance or book dragged in the names of Napoleon Bonaparte and Alton B. Parker, to say nothing of the ancient Egyptians.

"Mrs. Fay," said Lambourne, "pretending to be in some imaginary state of mesmerism or mind reading, calls upon the audience to write questions upon papers, sign them with their names and keep their mind upon the matter inquired about, with the promise that the questions will be correctly stated by her and correct answers given.

"The answers are written upon pads, which are ostensibly plain sheets of paper, but which are so prepared that when one sheet is torn off the writing can be shown by the use of charcoal powder upon a sheet underneath. These sheets are developed by confederates in the audience, correct answers are obtained from the questioners, and while Mrs. Fay appears on the stage ostensibly in a trance, and is covered by a veil, she uses a telephone, and the correct answers are conveyed through tubes from the audience to the basement below the stage, and from there telephoned to Mrs. Fay."

DELAYS HEARING.

Rahway to Take No Action on Charges Until Sept. 21.

Rahway, Sept. 14.—The Common Council voted Tuesday night to give the firemen $350 toward their parade of October 9. Three councilmen held out for $500, but Mayor J. B. Furber said he would not sign the ordinance if it passed, as the city hadn't the money to spare. Charges preferred against Councilman Bernhard were read, alleging wrongdoing on his part in acting as counsel in two separate cases for parties being sued by the city, and one where the party was bringing suit against the city involving $1,000 and interest, while he was a member of the City Council. The hearing will be held Friday evening, September 21.

At the meeting of the firemen's parade committee Tuesday night an invitation was sent to and accepted by the Common Council members, to attend, as guests, the firemen's parade. The reviewing stand is to be done away with, and the parade will be viewed from coaches. A carnival is to be held in Lower Rahway, an open air concert in the upper part of the city on the night of the parade, while Cherry street, for the central section, will be cleared of everything and turned over to the guests and others for a sort of mardi gras. A band has been engaged to play until midnight. Twenty bands are now expected to be in the line of march.

The following additional committees have been appointed: Music, C. B. Holmes, W. T. Weber; invitations and to look out for guests, Mayor J. B. Furber, Peter Tillman, F. C. Hyer; reviewing, Sidney Harris, Charles Post and Robert Keyes; parade, George D. Wilson, John Loughlin and E. F. David; decorations, W. H. Wright, H. L. Moore and W. H. Randolph; to visit Mayor Furber and ask that the day may be made a holiday, C. B. Holmes and W. H. Wright.

SNAP SHOTS.

The Times Publishing Co., which owns and publishes the New Brunswick Daily Times, the only Democratic daily in the Third Congressional District, has passed into new hands, after being for fourteen years owned by a syndicate of men prominent in Democratic politics in Middlesex county. Francis W. Daire, who has been editor and manager of the paper since 1901, has purchased ninety-eight per cent. of the stock of the company, and the old owners have sold out all their holdings, so that Mr. Daire becomes practically the individual owner of the paper, only enough stock being held in other hands to preserve the corporation.

'40 Chicks Roasted to Death.

Frank Putnam and Forester Hartpence were walking along East Second street, about 11:30 o'clock last night, returning home from a session of Franklin Council, No. 41, Jr. O. U. A. M., when Mr. Putnam saw a fire in the rear of J. D. Loizeaux's residence. Both he and Mr. Hartpence rushed into the yard and discovered Mr. Loizeaux's incubator all ablaze. They upset the lamp and sought for an opening to let the chicks out, but being unacquainted with the workings of the incubator they did not succeed. Mr. Loizeaux was then awakened and when he arrived he found the entire brood, about forty chicks, roasted to death. He thanked Mr. Putnam and Mr. Hartpence for their help, adding that it was a case of the chicks being roasted a little too soon. The incubator was destroyed.

No Beauty Show.

There will be no beauty show at Hackensack, N. J., and Messrs. Pofahl and Henderson, who paid $25 for a silver cup to be given to the prettiest girl who attended their "Harvest Moon" dance, probably will have to return the prize to the jeweller from whom they bought it.

Meeker Endorsed.

Robert A. Meeker will be the candidate of the regulars in the Second ward for Common Council. He has signed the necessary acceptance of endorsement. His opponent will be Henry D. Hibbard, the Colbyite choice.

Leal's School Reopening.

John Leal's School for Boys will reopen on Monday for the fall and winter term. The enrollment will be as large as last year.

Be wise and buy a home; the old-time lease gives you nothing but rent receipts.

The annual offering for the New Jersey Baptist Education Society will be received at the First Baptist church Sunday morning. The society aims to train young men for the Gospel ministry.

Commencing October 1 the Epworth League, of the First M. E. church, will resume its regular meetings on Friday night. The social committee is planning several entertainments for the winter.

Rev. L. R. Howard, of Hope chapel, gave the preparatory lecture at the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian church, last night. There was a meeting of the Session afterwards to receive any who wish to join the church at the communion service to be held Sunday morning.

A Picturesque and Reasonable Outing.

The most picturesque town in America is only a hundred and twenty miles from New York. Mauch Chunk, in a narrow pass between the Lehigh river and the overhanging mountains, rises on the slopes like a quaint Swiss village. Historically the locality is known in connection with the discovery of anthracite coal. This discovery led to the construction of a bit of railroad which is the oldest in the country. Originally the track was laid to convey the coal to the river, but now it is maintained solely for recreation purposes. The cars are first hauled up a high hill, and from that point they travel by their own gravity around a circuit of nearly enighteen miles. As one ascends the steep slope the buildings below, the town and the nearer landmarks drop away in perspective with kaleidescopic suddenness, and the doubling valley of the Lehigh spreads out in a thrilling panorama. Sights of great interest abound along the route. Old Indian trails over tre hills are pointed out, the primeval forest envelopes the track for long stretches, and glimpses of old mining settlements are caught in the valleys. At Summit Mountain a ralt is made and opportunity is given to visit the mines. The burning mine which is situated here has been smouldering since 1832 in spite of elaborate and costly undertakings to extinguish the fire. Returning from Summit Mountain the car attains great speed, and, as the visitor always thinks, the inspiring ride is over all too soon. The New Jersey Central will operate one of its popular excursions to Mauch Chunk on September 16, 1906. Round trip $1.50, and special train leaves Plainfield at 9:20 a. m. 9 12 td

Toronto and Return $10.50.

The Lehigh Valley Railroad will sell tickets to Toronto and return at above rate Sept. 13, 14, 15 and 16, return limit Sept. 24. Good going and returning on all trains except the Black Diamond Express within prescribed limit. See Lehigh Valley ticket agent, 218 West Front street, for particulars. 9 19 td

GOT HIS HAIR BACK.

Was Perfectly Bald When He Started to Use Newbro's Herpicide.

Frederick Manuell, Maryland block, Butte, Montana, bought a bottle of Newbro's Herpicide, April 6, '99, and began to use it for entire baldness. The hair follicles in his scalp were not dead and in 20 days he had hair all over his head. On July 2 he writes, "and today my hair is as thick and luxuriant as any one could wish." Newbro's Herpicide works on an old principle and with a new discovery—destroy the cause and you remove the effect. Herpicide destroys the germ that causes dandruff, falling hair, and finally baldness, so that with the cause gone the effect cannot remain. Stops falling hair at once and a new growth starts. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

Lavender Creighton's Lovers

By OLIVIA B. STROHM

(Copyright, 1905, by Olivia B. Strohm).

In silent wonder the mother listened, but before she could speak, Lavender whispered: "Say no more, dearest, I think I understand," and the talk was of other things.

But constraint lay upon the little company, and it was a relief when America came in and insisted that the invalid go to bed. Lavender walked out of doors with the guest, and together they leaned over the garden hedge. The tall trees hemmed them close as in a cage over which the stars peeped curiously.

Winslow was first to break the long silence: I am distressed at your mother's coldness to-night. I cannot understand it."

"I think I can," she said.

He bent nearer, trying to see her face, but she kept it from him, her eyes on the mock orange she was idly fingering.

"You understand it? Then please let me into the secret."

With an effort she met his eyes. "She is hurt because, well, because she thinks you are forgetting a promise."

"I? A promise? Surely I never promised her anything I would not gladly fulfill!" and he seemed mystified.

She paused to gain courage, listlessly twirling the fragrant fruit. "The promise was made by another," she said, "but—but in your character—whether intentionally or not, we shall never know."

"No, it would never be clear," she sighed to herself, "and it need never be. It was a part of the hopes and fears, the sins and sorrows of the dead; a part of the final tragedy in which they all lay buried beneath the new-piled turf within the tiny churchyard."

From this short, sorrowful reverie she roused herself to say: "During mother's illness she did not always recognize those with whom she talked. She once had a conversation with—with one whom she supposed was you; it is all clear to me now."

"But it is not clear to me," Winslow returned, gravely, "and, pardon me, it is only simple justice that you make it so. If I am to be held responsible for the promise of another, have not I the right to know who that other is, and what the promise?"

His manner was so masterful as to make obedience easy, and she answered, frankly: "Of course you have—every right. But I, too, am puzzled—or was until to-night. I have believed that mother knew of my engagement to marry Senor Gonzaga."

TOGETHER THEY LEANED OVER THE GARDEN HEDGE.

Lavender said this bravely, boldly. In spite of the effort it cost her, she would not repudiate him now; she must not deny the dead. But her eyes drooped before the gaze which darkened the eyes of the living.

Nervously, rapidly, she talked: "But when she heard the news of Senor Gonzaga's death, and received it as concerning a stranger, with only the ordinary humane regret, I realized that there was something unexplained. It then occurred to me that her interview with him had been blotted out—lost to her memory along with other dreams of delirium. I was glad it could do no good to remind her. But, since her words to-night I am sure that she remembers all—all except the—the one who made the promise."

"And what was that promise?"

She said nothing, only lifting one hand in an embarrassed, deprecating way.

He took it in his, and held it tightly, while he said: "Tell me everything. Have I not told you how I love you? Let that make your part easy."

She shook her head. "No; it makes it all the harder."

Then, with tears and smiles she said low: "He asked her consent to marry me, and promised to take her back with—us," and Lavender faltered over the pronoun, "to our old Virginia home."

"And she gave her consent?"

Lavender bowed until he could see only the satin shine of her brown head.

"And your consent he had already?" He dropped her hand as he asked the question.

"No," she said, with involuntary promptness, and with a touch of defiance.

Then more gently: "No, he first made clear to me what was my mother's wish, and then—then I gave mine."

"Because it was her wish?"

She bowed, still silent.

"Then you only consented to marry him for her sake? You did not love him?"

To the eagerness of his tone, the touch of triumph in his smile, she responded, with gentle rebuke: "It does not matter now."

He stood abashed for a moment, then more gently: "And your mother supposed it was I to whom she was granting so much? To me she was giving so high an honor?"

Her silence answered him.

"But you were not deceived? You knew who made the promise?"

She murmured: "Yes," so low he could scarcely hear.

A tempest stirred within him at this revelation. He felt sure now that she loved him. But had she not vowed that love to another upon whose coffin the ring of clods yet sounded?

So he controlled his passionate impulse, and said, only: "I have much to ask you—I, too, have a promise to offer,

"YOU ARE GOING BACK—GOING HOME WITH HIM—AND ME."

but—but I will not trespass now—not to-night. Good-by."

WILL PLAY TRENTON COPPERS AFTER ALL

CHIEF GIVES CONSENT TO GAME ON RECEIPT OF NICE LETTERS.

Soothed by a nice letter from the manager of the Trenton team, Chief of Police Kiely changed his decision, this morning, regarding the baseball game between his men and the bluecoats of the State Capital. After the lemon came the way of the local cops the day of the game last week, the Chief was very sore and refused to consider any proposition for another date, but his heart softened when he received the following letter from Hamilton L. Crisp, the Trenton manager, this morning:

"We are living in hopes that you will soon reconsider your decision of a few days ago relative to a baseball game. You have every reason for being angry with us, and we do not blame you in the least for such conduct; it is a most unfortunate circumstance.

"You can readily see this misunderstanding was not premeditated by us, or we would not be after you for a game at this time, but would be glad of a chance to let the matter drop. I believe that every man here is feeling as badly over the matter as yourself. They cannot offer anything more by way of excuse than has already been told, except that no word was given since the game was arranged by me and turned over to Deck after that. They say they heard nothing from Plainfield. We are deeply sorry. We can say no more. We will do our part to effect a reconciliation if you will come half way. Surely, this is not an unpardonable sin. Come; let us play and be friends."

The game will be played on Crescent Oval, next Tuesday afternoon. The local cops will go after the victory as a matter of poetic justice.

WOMEN'S TOURNAMENT.

First and Second Rounds Completed at Country Club.

The women's singles tennis tournament was begun at the Plainfield Country Club courts, yesterday afternoon, when the first and second rounds were played with the following result:

Miss Harriet Goddard drew a bye, Mrs. Boardman defeated Mrs. W. B. Tyler, 6-3, 6-1; Miss Elsie Goddard defeated Miss Alice Ross, 6-4, 6-2; Miss Edith Mellick defeated Miss Barclay, 6-4, 1-6, 6-4; Miss Adelaide Ball defeated Miss Florence Stewart, 6-0, 6-3; Miss Constance Patton defeated Mrs. Fullerton Weaver, 3-6, 6-1, 6-3; Miss Barbara Fleming defeated Miss Nellie Valiant, 6-1, 6-2; and Mrs. J. R. Blake defeated Miss Merrill, 5-7, 6-3, 6-2.

In the second round Mrs. Boardman defeated Miss Harriet Goddard, 6-0, 6-0; Miss Elsie Goddard defeated Miss Edith Mellick, 10-8, 7-5. Miss Adelaide Ball and Miss Patton and Miss Barbara Fleming and Mrs. J. R. Blake will play today and the winners of these matches will conclude the tournament tomorrow.

WOMEN'S LINE-UP.

Chicago Girls' Team To Play Here Tomorrow.

There promises to be a large attendance of fans at Crescent Oval tomorrow afternoon at 3:15 o'clock, when the Chicago women's team will line-up against the Independent A. C. team, of which Charles Nicholas is the manager. The women defeated the Palmers, of Elizabeth, on Labor Day by a score of 8 to 7, the latter having "Flick" Luyster in the box. Another attraction will be the wrestling match between John Wolf and William Miller, the best two out of three falls. Mr. Wolf has a standing challenge of $50 to any man in the county at 150 pounds.

The women will line-up as follows:

Miss D. Shadder, 1b; Miss J. Bradley, 2b; Miss H. West, 3b; Miss N. Baker, p; Miss D. Faust, lf; Miss A. Tiell, rf; Miss M. Scholes, ss; Miss J. Parks, cf; Miss A. Dietrich, c.

The Independent A. C. line-up:

Pace, lf; Close, 2b; Hill, c; Grosby, ss; Troder, 3b; Mundrane, cf; Goodwill, p; Orrs, 1b; Conover, rf.

Women's Championship at Scarsdale.

In the second round of the women's championship at Scarsdale, yesterday, the best match was between Mrs. C. R. Caskey and Miss M. Washburn, which went to an extra hole. Mrs. Caskey won. In the semi-finals Mrs. Caskey will meet Miss Sherman and Miss M. Barlett plays Mrs. Smith.

Alis III Meeting.

Alis III will have an eleven in the field this fall. A meeting of the candidates has been called for tomorrow night at Y. M. C. A. All those interested will be welcomed at the meeting.

—Here's your chance to get peaches. Neuman Brothers have 400 baskets of carefully selected white and yellow fruit coming in tomorrow. Don't delay getting a supply for canning or table use.

Appointment of Delegates.

There will be at total of 140 delegates in the convention of the Union county Republicans in the Lyceum theatre, Elizabeth, on Thursday afternoon, September 27. Elizabeth will have 62 delegates; Plainfield, 27; Rahway, 11; Summit, 8; Cranford 5; Westfield, 8; Union township, 3; Clark township, 1; Fanwood township, 2; Linden township, 1; Springfield township, 1; Fanwood borough, 1; Garwood borough, 1; Linden borough, 1; Mountainside borough, 1; New Providence borough, 1; Roselle borough, 3, and Roselle Park borough, 2.

Formed Another Association.

Former members of the Hope Y. M. A. and others connected with the chapel, met Wednesday night and formed what is to be known as the West End Athletic Association. The following officers were elected: President,, David Bowden; secretary Harold Sarrow; treasurer, J. Fred Wharton; captain, Stuart Turner. The club will promote various forms of athletic sport and will specialize association football. A tentative team has already been formed and practice will be held Saturday.

Men's Meeting Speaker.

Rev. John W. Musson will address the open air meeting to be held under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A. in Band Concert Park on Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock. The Jenkins' Orphan Pickaninny Band and Jubilee Concert Co., of Charleston, S. C., will furnish music. The meeting will be held in the Y. M. C. A hall if the weather is unfavorable.

To Endorse Candidates.

At the meeting of the Democratic voters to be held in Spencer's Hall tonight, candidates for the position of delegates to the congressional and county conventions; also for the positions of councilmen and justice of the peace will be endorsed. The call was given by D. J. Carney and L. D. Townley, members of the county committee.

Bringing Results.

"Please, ma'am," pleaded the ragged little beggar, "gimme a penny?"

"Gracious, child!" exclaimed Mrs. Goodart, producing a nickel, "are those the best shoes you've got?"

"Sure!" he replied, with professional pride. "Dey're de best I could git fur my business. Dey won't do a thing but bring de nickels out."

Says He Stole Her Watch.

Isaac Downing, colored, an employee of Spencer Conway, whose home is in Morristown, was arrested last night on complaint of Rose Lanson, also colored, who accuses him of stealing a silver watch from her rooms on West Third street. He was held for the Grand Jury by Justice Mosher this morning.

CHAS. N. FOWLER TO RUN

Declares He Will Feel Honored to Be Candidate Again.

HIS ATTITUDE TO LABOR

Roosevelt Must Have Republican Congress—Bryan's Speech Weak Compared to Taft's.

Congressman Charles N. Fowler, when asked whether he would again be a candidate for Congress from the Fifth district, said to a reporter:

"I have never been a so-called candidate in my life. I have never sought delegates, nor asked any man for his vote, nor made a pledge. It is too late for me to begin now."

In an answer to a question whether he would accept the nomination if it were offered, he replied:

"I have always considered it a great compliment—a great honor, indeed—to be selected by the people of this district. The matter lies entirely in their hands. In previous years when they tendered me the nomination I have not said no."

"Do you mean that you will not say no this time?"

"Yes."

Congressman Fowler did not look upon the result of the Maine election as a fair expression of opinion as to President Roosevelt's administration. Local social questions played a large part. The majorities of the representatives in Vermont were as great as in 1904.

"I believe," he said, "that the number of Republican congressmen returned will be about the same as in 1904. The Democrats as well as the Republicans want to support Roosevelt. They realize that he is a President of all the people. But he must have a Republican Congress to uphold him. Were there a Democratic majority in Congress the President would be tied hand and foot. He could do nothing. The Democrats would then play politics in order to create a situation that would secure them the Presidency in 1908."

The reporter mentioned to Congressman Fowler that recently the Union County Trades Council wrote to the American Federation of Labor regarding his record on labor bills in Congress.

"I have always been a true friend of labor," said Mr. Fowler. "No man goes before me in that. The men who earn, the men who produce, they are the ones who make up the basis of civilization. They are the mainstay of the country. My sympathies are entirely with them. I am one of them myself. I am in favor of equal opportunities to all men under the operation of absolutely just laws."

Upon the subject of Bryan Congressman Fowler was quite free and outspoken.

"There has never been an economic question that has come up upon which Bryan has not thought wrong," said the congressman, "and he has expressed himself on practically all of them. Some of his friends, to allay alarm, like to call him the Great Conservative. But I confidently believe that conservative Democrats are opposed to him. He has proved the greatest disaster that could have happened to the Democratic party this fall. It is not only the subject of government ownership of railroads that has offended the conservative Democrats, but the general political character of the man. There may be a certain degree of sensation and splurge created by an enthusiastic welcome, but when time to reflect comes there follows a more sober conclusion. And I think that when the average citizen sits down to ponder over that Madison Square Garden speech he will find it a very mediocre affair, indeed a lamentably weak appeal when compared to the speech of Secretary Taft in Maine. The chief safeguard of the country against such men as Bryan is the great common sense and thorough honesty of our people. Give them a chance to learn the facts, think the matter over and come to a deliberate conclusion and the republic will be safe. This was demonstrated in 1896."

The congressional convention of the Fifth district will be held on September 28, in Elizabeth. No other strong candidate is spoken of except Congressman Fowler, and it looks as if he will receive again the unanimous approval of the convention.

"Hap" Ward Renews Acquaintances.

"Hap" Ward, of the former team of Ward and Vokes, renewed old acquaintances at the New Plainfield theatre last night and added to his reputation as a comedian of the first water. He was backed up by a cast and chorus in "Not Yet But Soon" that are certain to make it one of the best known musical shows on the road. The costumes were superb and caused a visible flutter among the feminine portion of teh audience.

WANTED—SMALL BOY WHO STOLE FALSE TEETH

MAN WHO DROPPED THEM IS HAVING A HARD TIME.

Somewhere in the city or borough there is a small boy who has in his possession a set of false teeth that are wanted very much by a well-known local man who attended the band concert last night. The boy does not need the artificial molars, having first class grinders of his own, but the man is drinking milk today and wondering how he is going to get the food-crunchers that have been so cruelly taken from him.

The owner of the teeth secured a seat on the topmost row of the grandstand to hear Signor Bossis' harmonists dispense operatic airs but his pleasure was marred by a continual racket from below the structure. Small boys who regard the concerts as a time and place to play tag and exercise their lungs, were having a hilarious time and Mr. Man leaned over to make protest. As he did, his store teeth slipped their hold and dropped directly in front of one of the noisy urchins. The latter thought he had a prize package of some sort and grabbing the molars he did a disappearing act in the darkness.

The owner streaked it for the nearest cop but in his excitement and the contracted position of his mouth, he emitted a jargon of sounds that were unintelligible. The bluecoat thought he was protesting about the style of music and gently but firmly advised him to make his kick to Ben LaVere. When the tangle was straightened out all trace of the boy was lost and so were the teeth.

If the "kid" who took them will send or take them to borough police headquarters all will be forgiven and he will confer a lasting favor on a toothless individual who is today transacting business with the aid of a pad and pencil.

ENDORSED BY LABOR.

Union County Trades Council Approves of Freeholder.

The Union County Trades Council held a special meeting to take action on a report of the Political Advancement Committee, which is formulating a line of political action for the trades unions in this county. George J. Reiss, one of the members of the committee, said yesterday morning that one of the first things decided upon was to keep the doings of the council secret for a while. He refused to give any information. But in spite of the rule of secrecy some information leaked out.

Freeholder Dennis Murphy was endorsed for the Assembly on the Republican ticket after a contest. At a previous meeting James Desmond had been endorsed on the Democratic ticket.

A committee of six, consisting of three Republicans and three Democrats, was appointed to wait on the chairman of the Republican County Committee and also on the chairman of the Democratic County Committee.

Will Lecture at N. Y. Y. C.

J. Cortier, of Central avenue, and Mrs. J. B. Dumont, of Stelle avenue.

High Class Artists.

At the Casino on next Monday night, for one concert only, Anita Milanie, late with Imperial Opera Company, Naples, Sigmonte Milanie has appeared before all the crowned heads of Europe and is pronounced by all to be one of the best sopranos on the concert stage. Anna Julian, contralto; Ernest Goldes, famous boy tenor, and Arthur Ford. Professor Warren Walker, the accompanist, is one of the best in America.

More Trouble for Learch.

George Learch, who was arrested on a charge of abusing his wife, had sentence suspended when arraigned before Mayor Smalaley last night. Immediately afterward, Mrs. Leonard Young, who resides in the same building as Learch, preferred a charge aagainst him before Justice Mundy, alleging that he had struck her. He gave bail for a hearing Tuesday night.

Wasn't Used to the Brand.

Freda Jefferson, colored, of Westfield, imbibed a quantity of borough tanglefoot, last night, and was badly effected by it. She was cutting up high jinks on Watchung avenue and was doing a skirt dance when Marshal Reinmann took her in charge. She is being held for appearance tonight.

ROSH HASHNO NEXT WEEK

Hebrew New Year Begins Tuesday Night With Blowing of Shofar.

A GREAT FESTIVAL

Services In the Local Synagogue—A Judgment Day for Jewish People.

Rosh Hashno, the Jewish New Year, will be celebrated next week in the local synagogue with the various ceremonials which tradition has prescribed for the observance of this most important of Jewish holidays. It will begin Tuesday night with the blowing of the shofar, the ram's horn and the chanting of the fine-voiced cantors Wednesday, the services in the temples will be of a solemn character, for Rosh Hashno is a festival of grave import, when all Jews pass before the Creator for judgment, as sheep before the shepherd.

The orthodox Hebrews continue the celebration until the next day, Thursday, but the reformed Jews observe only the one day.

Three books of account are opened, wherein the fate of the wicked, the righteous and those not utterly bad are recorded. The names of the righteous are at once recorded and they are sealed "to live;" those of the intermediary class have ten days —until Yom Kippur—to atone for their sins. The wicked are "blotted out of the book of the living," according to Psalms lxix., 28.

Yom Kippur, the Hebrew day of atonement, will follow ten days later. It will begin immediately after darkness overcomes the light, September 28, and is the most religious and important holiday in the Hebrew calendar, extending until darkness on the evening of the next day. This holiday brings with it a number of interesting customs and observances.

Yom Kippur is not an anniversary of any historic event, for it recalls the doings, not of the national world without, but of the moral world within. It is supposed to be the day when the life of human record, which decides life, death and accidents, is sealed, hence the children of Israel gather in the synagogues, fasting and praying for forgiveness of their sins and for the mercy of God.

Every Hebrew, no matter how often he visits a synagogue during the year, is to be found there on Yom Kippur, fasting and praying. The children of the orthodox congregation hold service in the synagogue all day, but the progressive and reformed congregations observe only a half day.

In the orthodox synagogues the ark, pulpit and scrolls, which at other times are covered with velvet of purple, blue, or some other color, have white coverings on this day. On the pulpit stands three large candles. The rabbis and old men wear white gowns over which they have a Talith, a white woolen shawl with eight woolen strings about three inches long, knotted at the top, and attached to each of the four corners. The services begin about 6 o'clock, when the children can be seen flocking to the synagogue. Nearly all carry Sidurs or Bibles under their arms.

After many have assembled the chasen, or chantor, holds services by singing with the help of a quartet of men, the mournful melodies which are said to have been sung in the days of King Solomon. He goes to the Beamah, or pulpit, and there holds service for about two hours. In the morning, the services begin about 6 o'clock. Three chantors sing on this day, one for the morning service, one for afternoon service and one for the evening service. The most elaborate ceremony, however, is conducted in the afternoon, when it is the last chance to ask God to forgive their sins and enroll their names on the list to live another year. For this the chantor is required to have a well-trained voice, and to be able to sing in such a manner as to impress the congregation.

In the smaller cities, where the congregations are too small to support a chantor all the year around, they engage one for New Year's and Yom Kippur, in all about fifteen hours' singing, and pay him liberally. With his back towards the congregation, he begins the chant, his voice rising and falling in mournful tones, while his listeners, rocking their bodies back and forth, fervently, answer the response. After singing thus for about four hours, he rests and the Thorah or scrolls are taken from the ark and short chapters from the laws of Moses are sold at auction by the beadle. It is considered a good deed and a great honor to buy one of these chapters.

Miss Booss Arrives.

Mr. and Mrs. B. Frank Booss, of 230 Grant avenue, are rejoicing over the arrival of a young daughter, who brightened their home on Thursday.

DEMOCRATS SEE BIG CHANCE TO WIN ELECTION

COUNTING ON THE SOREHEAD VOTE FROM FACTIONAL DIFFERENCES.

The Democrats were still unable to give out the names of probable candidates on the ward tickets this forenoon. It was expected yesterday that the men who were tendered the nominations would all have accepted by last night, but W. L. Hetfield, Sr., the party leader, said this morning that the petitions were still incomplete. He preferred to make no statement as to nominees until the acceptances were all definitely settled.

There are not likely to be any contests. The Democrats feel that now, above all other times, they must hang together and put up the strongest candidates they can get to stand still long enough to be tied to the standard. It is their fond hope that enough bitterness will be engendered in the Republican ranks by the reform agitation to split the party after the primaries and turn a lot of voters in their direction.

"It isn't in human nature for a political faction that has been licked to take the victors to their hearts and hustle for the election of their—the victor's—favorite sons," said one of the Democratic captains this morning. "Whether Colbyites or regulars win, there are going to be a lot of sore people in the rank and file of the other side. That means a lot of promise for us. That figuring applies all over the county —not merely in Plainfield. Yes, and all over the State. This looks to me like the dawning of Democracy's renaissance in New Jersey. The State was never meant to be Republican, and sooner or later it must go back to sanity and Democracy."

NO COUNCILMEN NAMED BY BOROUGH DEMOCRATS

MATTER WILL BE ATTENDED TO TODAY BY COMMITTEE ON VANCANCIES.

The faithful of the borough Democrats met in Spencer's hall last night and transacted the business necessary to give them represetation at the coming primaries and the county and congressional conventions. The meeting was called to order by David J. Carney and H. M. Cook was made secretary.

Delegates were named as follows: County convention, First district, Frank Schenck and Michael Koller; Second district, John Emmons and Thomas F. Gough; congressional convention, First district, Jacob Voehl and Charles R. Thiers; Second district, Frank Mobus and L. D. Townley.

Though the time limit for filing candidates for nomination at the primaries expires today, no one was endorsed for council. Several names were mentioned but the men themselves were not present tnd it was decided to see them before taking any definite stand. L. D. Townley and Levi Kline were appointed a committee to fill vacancies and they will look after the councilmanic matter today. David D. Smalley was endorsed for justice of the peace. He was elected last year but failed to qualify.

No members of the county executive committee were named as this is done by the delegates at the county convention.

Elks' Outing Today.

Plainfield Lodge, No. 885, B. P. O. E., is holding its third annual outing on the grounds of the Watchung Spring Company, on Mountain avenue, today. The programme began with the serving of breakfast at 10 o'clock and the members have since been busy with baseball and quoits. At 3 o'clock this afternoon a bake will be served by an experienced chef and it is expected that several hundred Elks and their friends will sit at the tables. The guests are being taken to the grounds in wagonnettes which leave from in front of the theatre building every half hour.

Trust Company Reception.

There will be an informal opening of The Plainfield Trust Company's new building at Park avenue and Second street, this afternoon from 3 to 6 and tonight from 8 to 10, affording the friends and patrons of this enterprising company an opportunity to inspect the handsome and well-equipped banking institution. The officers and directors of the company will receive those who call during the hours of the reception. This evening there will be full illumination of the interior. All persons interested are invited to call.

Mr. and Mrs. S. St. John McCutchen, of North Plainfield, are expected home today from their trip abroad, where they visited their son, William McCutchen.

OPPORTUNITY FOR CITY

Plainfield Should Share in the Next Boom That Hits New Jersey.

E. M. FRENCH TALKS

Urges That Municipality and Utility Corporations Should Spend More Money.

Elston M. French, the real estate operator, argues that both the city government and the local utility corporations should take more interest in developing and improving Plainfield. He takes the position that it has a great future before it as a suburban community and that now is the time to take advantage of conditions.

In an interview with a reporter, Mr. French said today:

"The announcement of the completion of the new tunnel from New York to New Jersey will call the attention of New Yorkers to the attractions of New Jersey as a place of residence, and I venture to predict that the next great boom in real estate will take place in the territory near New York will be in Essex, Bergen, Hudson and Union counties.

"As Plainfield is one of the most attractive cities in this section it should receive a fair proportion of the increase in real estate development. Every citizen of 'Greater Plainfield' should have the interest of the city at heart, and become a boomer of real estate. Why not emulate the citizens of western towns that are growing so rapidly because every citizen, whether at home or abroad, is eternally preaching the advantages of his home town? Let the officials of both city and borough become more liberal in extending improvements to those portions of the city that would be built up rapidly if streets and sewers were built.

"We have been too lax in spending money for these purposes, which not only bring the city good returns in taxes but the outlay on the part of the city is very small. It can borrow money at four per cent., and the unpaid assessments for improvements draw interest at six per cent. What better investment can the city make?

"Let the Public Service Corporation extend its gas mains and wires, and the water company its mains to supply the extensions to the city that are now being improved. They will reap good returns for their enterprise, and they will be doing more toward the development of the city than can be done in any other way. In other words, let them be more progressive. We have the nucleus for a great suburban city. Let every resident be a boomer of values as well as of the advantages we possess.

"There never was a time when so few houses were vacant as at present, and a little enterprise on the part of the builders is sadly needed. Don't let them plead that materials are too high, as they are no cheaper anywhere else than in this section of the country, and they are not likely to be any lower.

"Remember that people must find houses to live in and it is impossible to find enough modern dwellings for the people who want to locate here. This means that property will bring higher figures and rents are going up. This will make real estate investments more profitable.

"The prices of land and rents are cheaper here than in any other city in the State of its size and possessing its advantages."

MR. PERKINS SAYS THE CASE IS ENDED.

Will Not Prosecute the Brooklyn Youth Who Took His Letters.

Showing the results of the restless night he had spent in a cell in the Seventh Street Police Station, Jersey City, Charles F. O'Byrne, the tall, fair-haired youth from Brooklyn, who was arrested Wednesday evening while carrying out a plan for obtaining possession of letters and papers belonging to Mayor Randolph Perkins, of Westfield, leader of the last Assembly and candidate for re-election to the Legislature from Union county, was arraigned before Judge Frank J. Higgins in the First Criminal Court yesterday morning. As soon as the case was called Mr. Perkins asked Judge Higgins for a postponement and requested that the defendant be paroled in the custody of Chief of Police Benjamin Murphy. He gave no reason for his request and without asking any questions the judge granted it.

As soon as O'Byrne and Chief Murphy reached the street the boy was advised to get to Brooklyn as quickly as he could and he lost no time in following the advice. Subsequently Mr. Perkins said that he would drop the matter and as far as he was concerned there would be no further proceeding in the case.

T. J. NICHOLL WON'T ACCEPT RENOMINATION

FANWOOD TOWNSHIP COMMITTEE'S CHAIRMAN WANTS TO RETIRE.

The Fanwood township Democratic caucus to nominate candidates for the primary to be held September 25, was held last night in Bucket and Engine Company's rooms, chairman, Theodore Bruchman, secretary, Charles H. French. The meeting was a harmonious one, the several candidates nominated being elected unanimously.

One of the surprises of the caucus was the refusal of Thomas J. Nicholl to accept a renomination as candidate for the past twelve years, and for has been a member of the committee for teh past twelve years, and for the past ten years chairman of the committee. During that time the town has undergone a number of changes. Electric light, water, gas and other improvements have been adopted. Besides this a number of franchises have been granted, but in granting them the township has always been fully protected by the guiding hand of the chairman of the committee.

For several years past Mr. Nicholl has desired to withdraw from active politics but his party has prevailed upon him each year to accept a renomination. Three years ago he told them that his acceptance of the nomination would mean that he positively would not be a candidate to succeed himself as other business cares occupied his time. The announcement last night of his positive refusal to allow his name to go before the primary left the caucus without a nominee, so the place was left vacant until the night of the primary.

John Z. Hetfield was renominated as collector, as was Charles H. French as assessor.

Horace G. Pangborn received the nomination as constable; surveyor highways, Samuel Lee and George Scudder. Charles H. French was named as the delegate to the Congressional, county and freeholders conventions.

The appropriations named were: Police, $200; fire, $100; street, $2,250; sidewalks, $200; poor, $400.

The refusal of Thomas P. Nicholl to be a candidate for renomination as a member of the township committee came as a surprise to many of his friends. Irrespective of politics, Mr. Nicholl services as a member of the committee will be missed as his experience and interest taken in Fanwood township made him a valuable official and one the town can ill afford to lose.

BRADY CONCERN CONFIRMS LOCAL ICE CO.'S STATEMENT.

No More Ice From Lake Hopatcong for Plainfield This Season.

In view of the reported serious condition of the ice question in Plainfield, Manager Andrew Wilson, of the Natural Ice Company, having stated that his concern received its last car of ice from Lake Hopatcong yesterday and that future orders have been refused the local dealers, inquiry was made today at the offices of Thomas Brady, president of the Bayonne Ice Company, which controls the output at Lake Hopatcong.

Mr. Brady was not in his office, but one of his assistants speaking for him, said that practically all of the ice now stored in the ice houses at the lake is sold under season contracts and that the Plainfield Natural Ice Company has no such contract for ice fro mthat source. He said that the local wholesale company had been receiving ice from the lake and that the company controlling that supply would do what it could toward sending ice to Plainfield, but could not promise to send any specified quantity.

The Bayonne representative said that if his company could not furnish Plainfield with ice, the local company would undoubtedly have to seek elsewhere. He also said that it is very difficult to get ice just now and he thought that the Plainfield dealers would have trouble in getting an adequate supply for its needs.

Plainfielders Off for Canada.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Nischwitz, of the borough, and Mr. and Mrs. Perry, of Westfield, left this morning over the Lehigh Valley Railroad for Toronto, Can., where they will attend the festivities of the Sovereign Grand Lodge of Odd Fellows. A large delegation of Plainfielders will leave by special train tonight over the Lehigh Valley for Toronto. Mr. and Mrs. Nischwitz expect to visit the Thousand Islands befort they return.

Vincento Popco Arrested.

Vincento Popco was arrested this morning on a charge of disorderly conduct, preferred by George Becker. He is charged with disturbing the peace and calling complainant names that are not nice. The hearing was put off until September 22.

TALKS FROM "CART-TAIL"

"New Idea" Explained to Good Crowd by Mr. Runyon and Mr. Moy.

TO DOWN BOSSISM

Colbyite Assembly Candidate Names Six Republican Czars—He Is Unpledged.

Judge William N. Runyon last night inaugurated a series of "cart-tail" meetings which will be made a feature of the Colby campaign here next week. He spoke in Front street at the intersection of Park avenue. George W. V. Moy opened the meeting and he was followed by the Judge who made a ringing speech for reform, dwelling on the condition of politics in the State.

Before the speaking began a crowd of 200 people gathered within a few minutes, and by the time the speech of Mr. Moy, who spoke first, was well under way, the crowd—in the street before the speakers and on the opposite walks—numbered twice that.

In opening, Mr. Moy, who spoke very briefly, said the Colby movement inside the Republican party, to make for independence within the party. He dwelt on Mayor Mark Fagan's statement that the average citizen attended to his private business solely 365 days in the year, while the politician made the public business his business for 365 days.

Bossism developed from the inertia of the voters, Mr. Moy continued. If the voters would get out and vote at the primaries the occupation of the bosses would be taken from them. Mr. Moy spoke for the equal taxation of corporation properties, and said the purpose of the Colbyites was to put men in the legislature who were not buyable and would work consistently to put laws for the benefit of the people on the books.

Judge Runyon was greeted with warm applause. An enthusiastic colored reformer said "Amen!" fervently as the Judge climbed to the barrel top; he repeated it frequently through the speech, and urged the rest of the crowd to join him.

Judge Runyon said he spoke as a machine man—as one who, up to this year, had always voted the one ticket prepared for the voters. For ten years he had worked faithfully, doing the bidding of the machine at all times, until he realized he was serving the wrong master. He had seen the power to make up the tickets taken from the people and given over into the hands of a very few men. (Applause.) It was the object of the Colby movement to restore the right to where it properly belonged. (Applause.)

The Colby movement, the speaker continued, was gaining ground steadily, no matter what was said. And it was good that the movement should gain, because it was founded on principles of eternal right and truth. The speaker told of the battles fought by Fagan and Colby, and urged his hearers to follow the example set by them. Union county had not come, perhaps, to as bad a pass as had Essex and Hudson, but the trail of bossism and of repression of the voters was over it. The power of the Republican party in the State might be checked off in six names—Kean in Union county, Lentz, Dickinson, Briggs, C. Asa Francis and Davy Baird Strong.

The citizens who felt stirred over that condition of affairs, were to ask themselves how much their indifference had caused it. If they desired a change they would have to come out at the primaries and vote their candidates on the ticket. (Applause.) The speaker said he felt himself as good a Republican as any machine man; he was just as regular. The fight would be kept up until 9 o'clock on the night of September 25, and at one minute after 9 he would be ready to turn to and help elect the ticket.

The speaker reiterated his advocacy of equal taxation and of the taxation of franchises. (Applause.) He spoke earnestly for the enactment of a law enabling the people to declare their choice for U. S. Senator. The present Senators, he declared, represented nothing but their money bags. They were sent to the Senate because they had been well supplied with the sinews of campaigns and had been liberal in giving.

If he went to the Assembly, the Judge said at the end of his speech, he would go absolutely unpledged. He could say that he was not pledged to him or any man. He would go to the Legislature to do what he honestly believed to be for the good of the people. He would not go to Trenton prejudiced against corporations. They were entitled to fair treatment, but where they proved to be unfair he would stand firmly for the rights of the citizenry.

The speaker closed his address with an appeal to the patriotism of his hearers as loyal Jerseymen.

GOTHAM'S AMUSEMENTS

"The Girl of the Golden West," the California play by David Belasco, which continues to be the attraction at Mr. Belasco's home theatre in New York, with Blanche Bates as the star, makes a strong appeal to Western visitors who are more or less familiar with life in mining camps. After witnessing a performance of the play last week, a prominent citizen of San Francisco who was a victim of the recent earthquake, sought an introduction to the author, and holding his hand affectionately in his, said: "Mr. Belasco, I can't tell you what recollections your play revived in me tonight. As one who was a part of that life in boyhood, I want to say that the scenes in the Polka saloon, the girl's cabin in the mountains, and the miners at school in the third act, are to me the most characteristic of the California mining regions I have ever seen realized in a theatre. In my opinion no other writer, except Bert Harte, has so successfully caught the spirit, the romance and humor of that life and period. You are, of course, too young a man to have seen the early days of the California gold excitement, and it is to me marvelous how you have bridged a half century of time and brought so realistic a picture down to our own days, doing for the theatre what Bert Harte has done for the novel. But such is genius, I suppose. It was all so like the real thing tnat I felt like a boy again, living in a log cabin in the edge of a ditch on a grub-stake with my father."

The inauguration of the Astor theatre, New York's prettiest and newest play house, has been postponed until Monday night. The Astor theatre has attracted the attention of architects and artists throughout all America, as being a radical departure in the building of theatres. It is said to mark a new era, and it is prophesyed that it will long be known as "the first theatre in the land." The postponement of the opening was found necessary because Managers Wagenhals and Kemper refused to open the theatre to the public until it is complete in every detail. On September 17 it will be positively be inaugurated by Annie Russell, who will appear as Puck for the first time, in a beautiful production of Shakespere's "A Midsummer Night's Dream." There will be 100 people in the cast, the more prominent members being Edwin Mordaunt, Atkins Lawrence, Oswald Yorke, Lionel Adams, Edward Longman, Thomas Coffin Cooke, William Gilmore, John Bunny, Richard Lee, Wilmer Dame, Hubert Osborne, Lovell Taylor, Catherine Proctor, Lansing Rowan, James Young, Ina Brooks, Bessie Shrednecky, Leon Straus, Vinnie Burns, Wm. Brown, Bertram Straus, Belle Fairchild, Jennie Urwin, Elizabeth Doddridge, Dortea DeVeney, and Puck, Annie Russell. Attendants, Amazons, fairies, goblins and elves.

The Rogers Brothers in "The Rogers Brothers in Ireland," are in their last week at the New York theatre, and next Monday evening, the 17th inst., "Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch," one of the most successful dramatic productions made in the past four years, will begin an engagement of three weeks at this house. This play is a dramatization by Anne Crawford Flexner of the two popular novels by Mrs. Alice Hegan Rice, "Mrs. Wiggs" and "Lovey Mary," which have established a record for humor and pathos unequalled in contemporaneous literature. The quaint and homely story of the optimistic "Mrs. Wiggs," translated to the stage, is one that has never failed to touch the heart of audiences. The title role, as in past seasons, will be played by Mrs. Madge Carr Cook, who has made the greatest achivement of her long career on the stage in this part. The selection of characters to tell the story is made from the two books and includes Lovey Mary, Little Tommy, Chris Hazy, Billy Wiggs, Mr. Stubbins, Miss Hazy, the Christmas Lady, Mr. Bob, and Europeana, Asia and Australia. These characters will also have with them Cuby, the famous "fit horse" of the play. The cast is practically the same as that which attracted so much attention during the long run of this piece at the Savoy theatre in New York two years ago. Through an arrangement with Liebler & Co., Mrs. Cook is to continue to play the character of Mrs. Wiggs as long as she remains on the stage. The great success of the piece indicates that it can be safely assumed that Mrs. Cook will never be seen in any other part during her stage career.

That old maxim, that "clothes do not make the man" was lost sight of at the Manhattan theatre this week, where Miss Grace George achieved the success of her career in a new American play by Messrs. Avery Hopwood and Channing Pollock, entitled "Clothes." There are a few minute flaws in the piece, but its lines are so strong, its action so rapid and its ring so true that these slight defects were lost sight of as the play swept on to the success it deserved. The authors have written of conditions in the realm of social climbers, who live in the world where dress is king and false ambition queen, and whose throne is the drawing and ball rooms. "Clothes" is not a satire on genteel society; it is a sermon against those mistaken mortals who form the "fringe" and who peer only into the future and shrug their shoulders at the past. With no exception the cast was a capital one, and the work of Messrs.

Mr. and Mrs. Fowler Vail left for a trip to Niagara Falls on Wednesday.

PLAINS AND FANWOOD

Plainfield closed the band concert season last night with a blow of trumpet and fine display of fireworks. The weekly treats have been attended by many from here and they will be missed.

The local ball team should rope off the third base and first base line, on the ball diamond. This is the only way to keep the excited rooter from crowding in on the diamond when the game gets interesting.

William B. Noble and William Van Volkenberg, who have been attending the State convention of the Firemen's Relieg Association, have returned home.

Miss Lena Bruchman, of North Carolina, is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Bruchman, of Mountain avenue.

The ball fans have a good game for this afternoon, the visitors being the Greenville A. C. team, of Jersey City.

The removal of the fence about the Baptist church lawns has made a decided improvement in the property.

Willie Dugan opens his roller skating rink tonight in the pavilion in the rear of the hotel.

Rev. William Pringle, of Ireland, will occupy the pulpit tomorrow at the Baptist church.

Rev. A. H. Cook leads the weekly prayer meeting tonight at the Methodist church.

Miss Marion Goodwin has returned from a week's visit with friends at Madison.

PERSONAL.

Harry Cuming, of Putnam avenue, is home from his annual vacation.

Miss Clara Long, of Park avenue, is home from her summer vacation.

Abram VanCleef, of Elm street, has returned from a visit in Hunterdon county.

Rev. E. V. Stevenson, of Grace church, has returned from his summer vacation.

Mrs. William McCarthy and children, of this city, have been visiting Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Brutcher, of Raritan.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Powlison, of the borough, have returned from a visit with Mrs. J. L. Dolliver, of Pluckemin.

Miss Anna Gallagher and niece, Mary, of Raritan, have returned home after spending several days here.

Mr. and Mrs. David T. Kenney, of North Plainfield, have returned home from their summer outing at the seashore.

Mrs. T. S. Davis, of Park avenue, is much improved from an illness that has detained her at home during the past week.

Miss Marion Herr, of Flemington, has returned home after a visit with Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Edgar, of East Front street.

Rev. E. M. Rodman and daughter, Miss May Rodman, of East Seventh street, will return home next week from Saunderstown, R. I.

J. D. Macnab, the instructor in the commercial department of the Plainfield High School, has recovered sufficiently to be removed from the hospital to his home. He hopes to be able to resume his work in the near future.

Frank Wotrhing, Robert T. Haines, A. H. Stuart, Miss Louise Closser and Jennie A. Eustace in their respective roles, was quite the best any of these capable players have done in many seasons. William A. Brady, who produced the play, has mounted it lavishly, yet in excellent taste, and Miss George and the authors owe the uroducer a share of the applause they received throughout the evening. New York has suffered an overdose of plays satorizing, burlesqueing and analyzing ultra fashionable society, but the young authors of "Clothes," with the able assistance of Miss George and her company, have come forward and held the mirror up to nature in the realms of "near" society, where gentility is acquired and where clothes are the barometers of those who wear them.

ery and costumes. He will also have an entirely new play, new songs, new dances, and new and novel specialties. Ducts, trios and quartettes from the popular operas will be well sung and properly and handsomely dressed. It is not the same old play we have seen for years, but is brand new from start to finish.

Coming direct to Plainfield from its remarkaable run of over six months at Wallack's theatre in New York, Liebler & Co.'s most recent and successful play will be given a hearing at the New Plainfield theatre next Monday night. The title of the new vehicle is "The Squaw Man," and as it indicates, it tells the life story of a man who has married an Indian woman. The scenes are laid in England and Wyoming, and the whole is most artistically mounted.

Sylvia Lynden, Jules Murry's leading lady, who plays the part of Georgiana in Clyde Fitch's great play, "Her Own Way," to be presented at the New Plainfield theatre next Tuesday night, has had experiences that come to but few as young as she is. When she was 19 she was called upon to take Miss Olga Nethersole's place and play her roles for the balance of the season, 15 weeks. The summons came on Wednesday morning. On that afternoon she was to play her first role, Sapho. Fortunately she had learned the part, but in a different version of the play. However, the opportunity was there, and she felt that she must take it, so jumping into a cab she drove across the bridge to the Brooklyn theatre, ran over the part hastily with the stage manager, put on her first act costume and began.

Miss Sylvia Lynden, Jules Murry's new star, recently had a full page picture in one of the prominent New York Sunday journals. In the picture she is smiling and smiling broadly. Not long after the picture was published two rival concerns wrote to the lady asking if they could use her portrait to advertise their tooth powders. One of the letters winds up with this sentence: "A celebrated poet once said that the Lord undoubtedly could make a better berry than the strawberry but that He never had. The Lord no doubt could make a more perfect set of teeth—but I doubt if He ever has." Miss Lynden replied to both letters declining the honor of having her "Sozodonts" used in any such way.

The heroine of the new college play "At Yale," which is to be produced at the New Plainfield theatre next Wednesday night with Paul Gilmore at the head of a large company is an ideal college boy's sweetheart, pretty, with engaging manners, a girl who loves a manly fellow and follows all athletic sports and one who has been kept posted on college matters because she has a brother at college, who is loved and respected by all of his classmates. As soon as she appears on the stage one never blames Dick Seeley for loving her. She has a charm of a girlhood of every land and most of all this land of ours. Her form is willowy. She has masses of silken hair and bright glancing eyes. Her skin is fair with the fineness of texture that denotes good care. A typical American, she never thinks of doubting her capacity for correct conclusions upon data which she has gathered with her own experience of eye and ear. In body she belongs to a people which has rather increased than spent its physical force; built up rather than depleted its vitality. Her slight svelte figure is as straight as an arrow. She is never awkward in movement and has a marvelously delicate, brilliant, fine grained face. Scrupulously brought up she is a girl who never by chance falls into vulgarity of slang speech for she loves pure and clean usage of her facile English language. Euripides had never met Dorothy Randall in "At Yale."

Republican Fifth Congressional District Convention.

The Republican voters of the Fifth Congressional District of the State of New Jersey composing the Counties of Morris, Union and Warren, are requested to elect delegates at Primary Elections to be held according to the provisions of the statute of the State of New Jersey, on Tuesday, the twenty-fifth day of September, A. D. nineteen hundred and six, to the Congressional Convention to be held in Jacobs' Theatre in the City of Elizabeth, Union County, New Jersey, on Friday, the twenty-eighth day of September, A. D. nineteen hundred and six, at twelve o'clock noon for the purpose of nominating a member of the House of Representatives to be supported at the ensuing election. The basis of the representation of each election district of each of the townships, wards or boroughs under this call is regulated by Chapter 227 of the laws of New Jersey, Session 1906, page 505, viz.: One delegate for every one hundred votes cast by the Republican party for its candidate for Governor at the last Gubernatorial Election, viz.: Election 1904, and one delegate for each fraction thereof over forty, but every election district in each of the townships, boroughs or wards which at the last Gubernatorial Election cast less than one hundred votes shall be entitled to cast one vote in this Convention.

By order of the Fifth Congressional Executive Committee.

The popular little comedian, Arthur Dunn, and his big company of merry makers, will be the attraction at the New Plainfield theatre next Thursday night in a new and original musical absurdity, rightly named "The Little Joker." The comedy has been written expressly for Mr. Dunn and is said to abound with innumerable opportunities for the display of the many different styles of fun making which this clever artist introduces, while before the audiences. The plot of the piece, and there is a plot, is told in two acts, and revolves around the antics of a rich young man by the name of "Punch Swift," who is celebrated for his aability to spend his large fortune on all those persons who can be persuaded to listen to his jokes. This leads to many funny complications when "The Little Joker" falls in love seriously and is unable to make anybody believe it. Of course there are girls, pretty girls galore and songs that will be whistled all over town. The author has also introduced several unique characters to act as foils for "Punch" and the parts will be portrayed by a number of the best artists obtainable. The costuming and mounting of the production will be an attraction in itself and, taken as a whole, "The Little Joker" promises to furnish one of the few yearly surprises in the way of theatrical novelties.

May Irwin's new play, "Mrs. Wilson, That's All," which is to be seen at the New Plainfield theatre next Friday night, is by George V. Hobart, who is also responsible for "Mrs. Black is Back," the piece in which the comedienne has appeared for the past two seasons. It is said that Mr. Hobart has fitted Miss Irwin most admirably in the new vehicle and given her a character in the title role of the sort in which she revels. An amusing feature of the play will be the introduction of a game of bridge whist in which Miss Irwin, in the part of Mrs. Wilson, participates together with her society friends. May Irwin is one of the most popular actresses before the public and a new play by her is always worthy of attention.

"Miss Dolly Dollars," the masterwork of Harry B. Smith and Victor Herbert, as presented last season, was a somewhat sober and sedate musical comedy with the burden of fun on the shoulders of two of the principals, incidentally it was one of the big solid successes of the season. This year "Dolly Dollars" appears in a new garb, the story and the music being retained but the interpretation being laid along farcical lines. Both author and composer lending their skill to this end, while Manager Chaarles Dillingham has placed in the stellar role no less a singer and fun-maker than Blanche Ring, the greatest song-singer the American stage has yet produced. Likewise "Miss Dolly Dollars" this season may be regarded as easily at the very head and front of dancing shows. That wizard with his feet, Pot Rooney, was given the instruction of the entire company in dancing and for several weeks they were in his masterly hands. The famous originial English pony ballet, the highest salaried group of dancers ever brought to America; Ida Crispi, the greatest eccentric danseuse that London has produced; Harry Clark, a young American dancer, who singularly enough, is a grand-nephew of Edwin Booth, are all members of the dancing contingent, and altogether there is twinkling of feet that arouses the enthusiasm of the audiences to the highest pitch. Miss Ring will be seen here, together with all her dancers at the New Plainfield theatre September 28.

REV. G. K. NEWELL MAY GO TO WEST ORANGE

CONGREGATION OF ST. CLOUD CHURCH WILL PROBABLY EXTEND CALL.

Rev. G. Kennedy Newell, who was Hope chapel's first pastor and who is now in charge of the Central church, a mission of the First Presbyterian church, Brooklyn, will in all probability be called tomorrow as pastor of the St. Cloud Presbyterian church, West Orange. The pulpit has been vacant since last spring when Rev. Robert Gardner McGregor resigned to go to New Rochelle, N. Y. Mr. Newell has been recommended as his successor and it has been decided to call him unless he announces that he does not care to leave Brooklyn.

Mr. Newell is a graduate of Union Theological Seminary. Hope chapel was his first charge and much of its substantial growth is ascribed to his untiring work. He remained in the West End until four years ago when he left to go to Brooklyn.

The St. Cloud church is a large and flourishing congregation and numbers many prominent people. One of the original members was General George B. McClellan, father of the present mayor of New York, and a tablet to his memory is on the church walls.

Another tablet is in memory of the Rev. Dr. William Adams, who preached at the organization of the church, and whose daughter, Mrs. John Crosby Brown, is now a member.

PERSONAL.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Lowe, of Park avenue, are expected home today from their trip abroad.

Miss Nellie Everett, of Lambertville, is visiting Mrs. M. E. Messersmith, of East Fifth street.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Forbes, of West Front street, have gone to St. Catherines, Ont., to visit relatives.

Miss Etta Raybert, of East Second street, has returned from a visit with Mrs. Kirch at Tarrytown, N. Y.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Staats, of the Hotel Kensington, have returned from a week's outing in Morris county.

Willard Case, formerly of this city, but now of Camden, is spending a few days with his brothers in this city.

Mrs. L. E. Cole, of West Front street, has returned from a visit with her daughter, Mrs. William Cadmus, of Brooklyn.

S. T. Sarson, of Watchung avenue, was called home suddenly yesterday by the death of his sister, Mrs. Geo. Herte, of Ithaca, N. Y.

William A. Mackillop, formerly of this city, visited relatives in town yesterday, and today he left to enter upon the duties of his position with the Canadian Foundry Co., of Toronto, Ont.

Society notes from Newport, R. I., give an account of a luncheon given at Morningside, the summer home of Mrs. William B. Rogers, when the guest of honor was Mrs. Julia Ward Howe, who also has a summer home at Newport. The added statement that Mrs. Howe's health is excellent will give pleasure to many friends in this place, and her daughter, Mrs. Florence Howe Hall, of Madison avenue.

By Tom Muir.

Arthur Dunn, the undersized comedian who scored a great hit in "The Runaways," is coming to the New Plainfield theatre next Thursday night in his own production, "The Little Joker." He is to be supported by a company of forty people.

Miss May Irwin, who is coming to the New Plainfield theatre next week, is the only woman star in America who is strictly under her own management. All through the maze of syndicates and anti-syndicates, and centralization generally, she has been the one star to remain strictly independent. This season she is to be seen in a new play written for her by George V. Hobart called "Mrs. Wilson, That's All," in which she will appear in the character of a society woman with a fondness for bridge whist.

The famous original English Pony Ballet, now appearing with Blanche Ring in "Miss Dolly Dollars," are undoubtedly the greatest favorites among dancers that have ever appeared before the public of this country. They are graduates of the John Tiller Dancing School of London, where beginners over the age of ten years are not accepted, and this exacting master requires five years study of dancing before his dancers are graduated. It is only such life long application that could produce the almost superhuman agility and abandon of this famous group of dancers. They will be seen here with Miss Ring on September 28.

Paul Gilmore, who will hold the boards at the local playhouse next Wednesday night in "At Yale," is great at telling "kid" stories and this is one he got off recently: "Two boys who managed to be rather unruly at school were held by the teacher after hours, and as punishment they were to write their names one thousand times each. They plunged into the task. Some fifteen minutes later one of them grew uneasy and began watching his companion in disgrace. Suddenly the first one burst out sobbing, and when the teacher asked him what the trouble was, he replied: 'Taint fair, mum! His name's Bush and mine is Schluttermeyer.'"

THE FORUM.

Mrs. Vanderveer's Denial.

Editor, The Daily Press:

I wish to inform you that L. C. VanNest was not present or knew anything about that I had hit Abe King with an umbrella until after it had occurred. I hit Abe King with an umbrella for calling me names and making insulting remarks. He claimed that David VanBuskirk told him to say these things and he could prove it.

Number of Democratic Delegates.

The township clerks throughout Somerset county have been notified concerning the number of delegates they are entitled to at the Democratic county and congressional conventions. North Plainfield borough is entitled to two delegates and the township to one. All delegates from a township must be voted for in each election district of that township.

Injured By Fall Downstairs.

Miss Alme A. Weber, of Liberty street, a trained nurse, was quite badly hurt yesterday, at the home of A. B. Rose on Manning avenue, where she has been engaged. She tripped at the head of the stairs and fell down, sustaining a broken arm and numerous severe bruises. Medical attendance was summoned after which she was taken home.

Mrs. Frank Newman, of Boston, is visiting Mr. and Mrs. H. O. Newman, of West Fifth street.

"Randolph's Quinine and Glycerine" Hair Tonic.

The proper treatment and care for the hair is very important. The tendency to baldness seems to be on the increase, but there is no need to be bald if you give your hair the proper attention and use "Randolph's Compound Quinine and Glycerine" Hair Tonic.

By imparting vitality to the roots of the hair, it stops it from falling out, irradicates dandruff, assures the continued growth and prevents baldness and final loss. It is richly perfumed and is an elegant dressing for the hair. Prepared either with or without oil—oil for dry hair and without oil for oily hair.

NEWS IN THE SUBURBS

SOUTH PLAINFIELD.

Rev. C. W. F. Attlee will be in his pulpit both tomorrow morning and evening. Morning subject, "The World and the Church," beginning a series of seven sermons on this subject. Those who are not in touch with church life, are urgently requested to attend, for the opening of this series. Evening subject, "Christ's Abiding Words." Christian Endeavor at 7 p. m., topic, "How Christ Met His Enemies," led by Mrs. Oscar Thorne.

Children who attend school in Plainfield are discouraged because no trolley is here to convey them back and forth during the long cold winter months. They are obliged to ride their wheels and face all kinds of weather. Are we ever to have the long promised trolley for which consents have been gotten so many times?

Boating and sailing on the lake is still enjoyed by parties owning boats and there are several boats to let upon application.

Mrs. Alexander Ganigue has gone to Somerville to visit her sister, Mrs. Vantin.e

Mrs. Grigg, who is critically ill, grows weaker every day.

(Additional suburban news on page 2).

CHRISTIAN FIELD.

Rev. E. E. Roberson, pastor of the Monroe Avenue M. E. church, will preach the first of two special sermons tomorrow night, the subject being "The Battle of Spirits and Sweeping Victory." These services will be made attractive by special music and will introduce a campaign of special religious work in this church.

Rev. J. O. McKelvey, of Warren chapel, will have charge of the communion service at the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian church tomorrow morning. There will also be the reception of new members.

Rev. A. C. McCrea, pastor, will occupy his pulpit at the First M. E. church tomorrow. His evening discourse will be "A Cure for Doubt."

CLOSED PORTALS.

Court Plainfield, No. 1144, Independent Order Foresters, met last night and passed all the amendments to the by-laws and in the good and welfare planned for the fall and winter work. Ice cream and cake were served and there were several vocal solos.

FOR THE GENTLER SEX

SEEN IN THE SHOPS.

The window of a well-known shop is rendered dazzling by the display of bright colored silk petticoats. These skirts are stylishly made with a circular flounce finished with a dozen or more tiny ruffles. The popular shades are apple green, violet, pale blue, pink, black and white.

Roman stripe ribbon belts with gilt buckles, are the latest fad of the girls and women with slender waist lines.

The new light weight broadcloths shown this season are exceedingly beautiful. They are fifty inches wide and not so expensive as broadcloths usually are. The most favored shade is hyacinth.

Irish lace is to be the popular lace this winter as it was last, and many of the shops are showing a new and complete assortment at reasonable prices.

New walking skirts in several smart models are very much in evidence. These separate skirts are indispensable and are made of materials having excellent wearing qualities.

Among the "readymades," are attractive and satisfactory serge suits for the school girl of from four to fourteen years of age. There are sailor suits and Russian blouses prettily trimmed with braid.

Door panels of real Renaissance or Arabian lace are marked down until they are within the reach of everyone. Nothing adds so much to the appearance of a vestibule as one of these dainty sqpares.

An exquisite china dinner set of a hundred pieces with delicate gold and tinted decorations may be had for a small sum.

FEMININE FADS AND FANCIES.

Yellow has apparently taken the world of fashion by storm and is being worn in all shades.

Everything seems to point to the excessive popularity of waists of black net, lace trimmed or combined with velvet ribbon. Black taffeta waists with yokes of net are also much worn.

White coats of broadcloth, serge and Rajah silk, are very much in vogue. They are usually made in the three-quarter length, and many of them have collars and cuffs of some bright tint, while others are embroidered with colored thread.

Glove garters are in the height of their glory. The latest innovation is a chain bracelet of flexible gold. It is strapped round the wrist or at the top of the arm, to keep the glove in its place.

Connemara tweeds from Ireland give promise to be foremost among the materials for winter wear.

Apple green is to be one of the leading colors for the coming season.

The newest belts are made of pin seal and have silver gilt buckles studded delicately with jewels. These belts are slightly shaped and come in all the new tones, including grays. They are rather expensive.

Persian lamb and chinchilla will be the popular furs this season among those who can indulge in such luxuries.

FASHION TIPS.

Women are wearing costly stockings of changeable silk.

Most of the summer morning frocks have chemisettes of lace or mull.

Dotted foulards are all the rage at the smart watering places.

White china has become the craze, and is used in complete sets.

Nothing makes a better duster than a piece of old silk.

The correct belt for morning wears is of leather and matches the shoes.

Long, slender, slinging styles prevail in the gowns to come.

The little glove handkerchief is one of the season's novelties, and is not over six inches square snuggled away in the palm of the hand.

Some odd and new style shoes are seen made to imitate birch bark.

Stripes will be seen the coming season, both in hair line and wider effects.

Accordion pleated effects are holding their own, and few styles are quite so dainty for dancing and evening frocks.

HOUSEHOLD HELPS.

If a little boiling water is added to the sweet milk used in making biscuits it will be found that less shortening is necessary and the result just as good.

Every kitchen outfit should have a measuring glass that is marked to measure teaspoonfuls, tablespoonfuls and grills, as well as halves, thirds and quarters.

Water in which rice has been boiled may be used for starching old lace, choice handkerchiefs, etc. It gives a soft and dainty stiffness which adds a charm to their appearance.

When you are short of oil in your lamps pour water in to fill. The oil will float on top of the water and may be burned as long as there is any left. Put some salt in the bottom of your lamps. The light will be much brighter.

Cotton or linen goods in delicate colors, no matter how fast the color, will look faded after a few washings, but it can be made to look like new by using a solution of dye of the same color as the garment, just as you use bluing. By getting an assortment of colors—red, blue, orange

IT IS FOR LADIES, TOO.

They Can Stop Their Hair Falling Out With Herpicide.

Ladies who have thin hair and whose hair is falling out, can prevent the hair falling out, and thicken the growth, with Newbro's "Herpicide." Besides, Herpicide is one of the most agreeable hair dressings there is. Herpicide kills the dandruff germ that eats the hair off at the root. After the germ is destroyed, the root will shoot up, and the hair grow long as ever. Even a sample will convince any lady that Newbro's Herpicide is an indispensable toilet requisite. It contains no oil or grease, it will not stain or dye. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

—dissolving them and putting them away in bottles, tightly corked, they will be always ready for use. Few or many drops of red will make delicate champagne to buff, and by judicious mixing you can get other colors, as red and blue will make lavender and other shades. Try it. Cotton laces can be dyed beautifully in this way to match any shade.

When finely chopped nuts are needed for salads, or sandwiches, run the nuts through the meat chopper.

Have a pair of sharp scissors handy in the kitchen for trimming bacon and ham rinds, skinning fowls and trimming green vegetables for salads.

Alcohol will remove candle grease.

THE VOICE BEAUTIFUL.

A beautiful voice is always even in tone, whether low and modulated or loud and strong.

It is necessary that the lips be mobile and flexible in order to form a tone correctly. A simple set of exercises for the lips is the pronounciation of the vowels sounds, "ah-oh," "Ah-oh-ee," "ah-oh-ee-oo."

In the treatment of the defective voice the first consideration is the general health.

An excellent practise sentence given at one of our famous schools for vocal culture is "Most men want poise and more royal margin."

The rasping nasal tone that is so common in many voices is often due to catarrhal trouble. This is caused by our climate, with its sudden changes of temperature.

No voice in itself is harsh; the quality of the voice depends upon the management of it.
